

THE KANSAS AGGIE.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

Vol. XVIII. Semi-Weekly.

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, APRIL 2, 1913

Wednesday

NUMBER 49

TO ELECT NEXT WEEK

OFFICERS OF THE KANSAS AGGIE WILL BE CHOSEN.

PETITIONS ARE DUE TOMORROW

Business Manager, Managing Editor, Assistant Business Manager, and Circulation Manager Are Open.

The stockholders of The Kansas Aggie, successor to the Students' Herald, will choose next week several important offices. The election will be April 10, Thursday. Candidates must present to the editor at least one week before the election petitions signed by at least fifty stockholders in the new paper, and the candidates will then be announced in the paper in the issue following the filing. At the coming election offices of business manager, assistant business manager, circulation manager and associate, or managing editor, are to be filled.

Student Subscribers Will Choose.

With the change in the paper of this college comes new life. Under the old plan 150 persons held the stock and had the voting power. Under the new plan, all subscribers who are resident students of the college may have a vote in the coming election. In the future, student subscribers who have paid one dollar will have a vote and will receive the paper whether in college or not.

Good-bye, Sixteen to One!

There are many changes in the new order of things. The most important one is that the paper will be put upon a sounder financial basis. More students will subscribe and in the time between now and the election a subscription campaign will be waged. Purchasers of one dollar subscriptions will, of course, be entitled to vote and will receive the paper until a year from date. The new plan is expected to do away with the business of sixteen persons reading one paper. It makes the paper more truly representative to allow all the subscribers to vote in the elections.

The Why of "The Kansas Aggie".

The name of the paper as changed to The Kansas Aggie for several reasons. It is not meant as a criticism on those who started the paper away back yonder and made it a mighty interesting paper. But the name "The Kansas Aggie", stamps the paper with an identity that will make it known wherever it is seen. The Kansas Aggie is an expressive term. It expresses a big school and premier athletic teams. There can be no hesitation as to where the paper comes from. Besides, the name has the "pep".

DON'T STEP ON THE COUNCIL!

Student Governing Body Arises to Defend the Grass.

If you are one of the many who make a practice of cutting across the grass on the campus, the council will get yuh if yuh don't watch out. For the student governing body has come to the aid of Professor Dickens as a defender of the appearance of the campus and if people do not quit cutting across the grass the council is going to take adverse action. Just how adverse that action will be depends on the how bad a punishment the council members can decide upon. There are a few places where walks are needed badly and here it is not so bad to cut across, but those places are few and the best way to keep out of the fiendish clutches of the council is not to commit the unpardonable sin of stamping out the grass.

The department of printing not only does first class work, but passes the good things around. One of the late favors of the department is a college telephone directory, cut to fit over the speaking tube.

FOUR MEN ENTER FIELD.

Candidates File Petitions for Kansas Aggie Offices.

Four men have announced candidacies for the offices of The Kansas Aggie that are to be filled Thursday of next week by vote of subscriber-stockholders. These petitions, signed by the required number of subscriber-stockholders, have been filed: Russel Williamson, candidate for business manager; Jay Stratton, candidate for assistant business manager; A. P. Davidson, candidate for circulation manager; W. A. Sumner, candidate for managing editor. Petitions must be filed by tomorrow night if candidates are to be considered at the next election.

PURSUIT OF EDUCATION LAGS.

UNWILLING STUDENTS COME SLOWLY BACK TO WORK.

Never Has Registration Been So Slow—Late Yesterday Afternoon 698 Had Paid Fees.

Spring fever played havoc with the registration for spring term. At five o'clock yesterday afternoon 698 money changers and takers in the secretary's office. Never were people so slow about registering. Of the 698 who paid the required fees, only 236 paid the athletic fee, a woeful percentage. Perhaps the loyal ones waited until the last.

Registration began Monday morning and a few registered at the first opportunity. Tuesday morning the clerks in the secretary's office were kept busy, but not hurried. Tuesday afternoon a crowd waited in line. But the rush lasted only a little while.

Many of the new students this year are teachers from country districts where the school terms have ended. These teachers are taking the chance to learn more of the vocational education so important nowadays in the work of the country schools.

But they'll all be here, in time. The enrollment will not reach that of the winter term because of the many short course students who were here this year. The total count is expected to be more than 2,250.

COSTS $2 AT THE GATE

SAVE 50c BY PAYING ATHLETIC FEE.

JUST ONE PLACE TO PAY TAX

Don't Walk Up to the Ticket Office Friday With $1.50—Make It $2.00.

"The students are not responding to the call for the payment of the athletic fees the way they should," says Coach Lowman. "One reason is that many think that they can wait until the last minute and then come down to the ticket office the afternoon of the first game, Friday, and buy a season ticket. They can do this all right, but that does not come under the student fee and we sell those tickets for $2.00. The people in the office of the financial secretary are authorized to receive the athletic fee and give the receipts and these receipts can then be exchanged for the coupon books. But those who come to the gate must pay two dollars for the season tickets. We don't know the difference between them and the other people who cannot be accommodated under the athletic fee system. We need 1,100 tickets and good gate receipts to pay out this year."

One Place to Pay Fees.

This provision concerns all college people. Under the provisions of the athletic tax as passed by the students, students and members of the board of instruction may pay their fees of $1.50 and have admission to all the intercollegiate athletic contests here in which the Aggies contest. But if members of the faculty and students wish to buy the coupon books good for the contests of the season at the gate Friday, it will cost fifty cents additional.

For Faculty Members—$1.50.

There has been a misunderstanding regarding the sale of the season tickets. It was the same price to all persons for the basketball season, $1.50, students, faculty and townspeople. The spring term, all college people who pay the tax at the office of the financial secretary come under the $1.50 ruling. Others will pay $2 to see the Aggies win the string of victories.

Aztex Camp Out.

The Aztex took their third annual pow-wow following the closing of the winter term finals and went out to Deep Creep for the festivities. They camped there until Monday morning, nine miles southeast of Manhattan. Secretary McLean accompanied the crowd.

Miss Goldie Eagles, '11, is teaching domestic science in the high school at Aberdeen, Wash. She has a good place and likes the work and the country. She went to Aberdeen from Colorado, where she had been teaching before she took the place in Washington at a higher salary. Her address is 205 Third street.

L. M. Rendy has joined the K. S. A. C. crowd, here.

Solid gold "K" pins, Varsity Shop.

PUT FIELD IN SHAPE.

Athletic Grounds Will Rival the Best Soon.

The field will be in good shape for the opening of the baseball season Friday afternoon unless heavy rains spoil things. A light rain would do the field good. Coach Lowman has had the field covered with a good layer of clay. The bleachers and backstop have been put in shape. A fence is being built along Anderson avenue the length of the field and inside the gate, wire fences put up to keep motor cars off the running track, and everything put in the best shape.

"Cap" Bryan has been busy on the track and has made a big improvement for the cinder trotters.

Entertain Vacation Guests.

The Aztex entertained at their chapter house last Saturday night with cards and music. A special show at the Wareham was a feature. Following this, refreshments were served at the Manhattan Candy Kitchen. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Walker chaperoned.

The Aztex also entertained at dinner Sunday for their matron, Mrs. Hancock. The guests were: Misses Halleck, Morris, Halsabeck, McKee, Helfenstine, Sweet and Lint.

Washburn Gets New Building.

Washburn has a new home for the law school. Formerly the law school was on the third floor of a rented building. Now the college owns the new building in which to train students for the legal profession.

AGGIES WIN FIRST DEBATE

KANSAS WESLEYANS LOSE TO K. S. A. C. REPRESENTATIVES.

Judges Decide Unanimously—Next Is the Tri-State Contest Friday Night.

The Aggies won the first debate of the season by giving the unanimous decision over the Kansas Wesleyans here Friday night. The debate was in the Auditorium. The Aggie team—Blanche Burt, William Curry and Glen Hamilton—successfully defended the negative of the question: Resolved, That judges should be subject to the recall. The Wesleyan team was George Swift, Floyd Edwards and William Tow. Dean McEachron of Washburn college, Senator J. W. Howe of Abilene, and Senator Trott of Junction City, judged. Prof. R. R. Price presided.

The second debate comes Friday night, when the debaters of the Oklahoma A. and M. will defend the negative of the question of the recall of judicial decisions here. The same night Tom Harris and M. D. Collins will debate with the Colorado Aggies at Fort Collins, Colo., on the same question. Professor Kammeyer will accompany them.

Kansans Start Spring Practice.

Spring football practice has begun at the University of Kansas. The call was issued for candidates to report to Coach Mosse today.

OPEN WITH THE C.O.F.E.

BASEBALL IS SLATED TO BEGIN FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

EMPORIA DOPED AS FAST CROWD

Coach Lowman Will Have a Chance to Try Out the New Material in First Game.

The Aggie baseball season opens Friday afternoon on the college field with the College of Emporia. The Aggies walloped the Emporians last season in one of the early games, 6 to 2. The Hargess nine has practically the same team that played last year and is said to be going good. The calibre of the Aggie nine is unknown.

Plenty of classy material is at hand for the 1913 aggregation and a winning team should be the result. The late coming of spring forced the Aggies to workout as best they could indoors. The men are all in good shape and should the Emporians fall an easy prey to the Aggies, Coach Lowman will undoubtedly try out as many of the new men as possible.

New Ones in the Infield.

The infield will sport many new faces in Friday's contest. "Red" Young, captain of the 1912 team, Roy Myers, second baseman, and Billings, third baseman and catcher, will be missing. Forsberg and Knaus have been working at first base. Dryden, Stahl, and E. Wilson are the applicants for the second base vacancy. Coach Lowman has been using Agnew at the short position and is likely to start him there in Friday's fray. Denman and Beaman have been alternating at third sack in the workouts. Scanlon and Briney have been alternating with Captain Fosberg behind the bat.

A Chance to Gauge Pitchers.

The pitching staff looks good. Pollock and Bailey are going good and the new men are pushing them hard. Sullivan and Ferrier seem to have it on the other recruits. Rhodes is doing good work and is expected to show up well this season. The deep gardeners will line up about the same as last year, Dresser and Cleland are safe bets with the remaining position a toss up.

The College of Emporia team is lining up strong this year. Coach Hargiss has a good bunch of veterans to pick from and will put a strong team on the field. Schabinger, Altman and Granger, three of last season's Emporia stars, are playing. Coburn, a new man, is giving remarkable exhibitions of playing.

A Revival Meeting.

Evangelistic services at the Methodist church began last Sunday and are attracting wide attention. The Rev. Martin Armstrong is the evangelist, a solid preacher and far from sensational.

Prof. and Mrs. B. C. Montgomery lead the singing. Both have fine voices. Services are held at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. every day but Saturday. A large chorus choir is a feature of the meeting.

L. B. Wolcott, '12, spent Easter Sunday with Owen Williams, '11, in Washington, D. C. Mr. Wolcott is now working in the biological laboratories of the H. K. Mulford Co., in Philadelphia. Mr. Williams is working for the Department of Agriculture, at Washington.

P. E. Schauer has left college for the spring term and expects to work in Kansas City this summer.

Glenn Buckman has left college for his home in Conway, where he will stay until Commencement week.

Floyd Hawkins went to his home in Marysville for the week end vacation.

EDITORIAL

A CRISIS.

Good days are ahead for the college paper here. It has been put upon a representative standing, with a good future ahead. If you are not a subscriber of the paper, take out a dollar subscription in the next week and then use your voting power. The Kansas Aggie is not making a plea for subscriptions on the ground of poverty. Not at all. This is a business proposition with the students of the college. If you are not a subscriber, have you any right to expect to have any say-so in the management? Is it fair that you should criticize what you have a chance to make or unmake, but refuse it? In the next week the Kansas Aggie will conduct a campaign for subscriptions as a business proposition with the paper and with the school. That does not mean that the paper has a big string of debts. The paper is paying out. But it ought to be put upon a better basis and it is going to be.

YOUR CHOICES.

It is important to this school who will be elected at the meeting of the subscriber-stockholders of The Kansas Aggie next week. It is a matter for deliberation. A business manager, an assistant business manager, a circulation manager, and a managing editor will be chosen. Look over the field carefully and then select the man who is capable of handling the job. Don't vote for a man because he's your friend. Vote for him because you think that he's capable of doing the work. The only persons who have any business in newspaper work are those who know something about it and like the work. There will be candidates and a plenty for these offices. Pick the best ones by reason of your good sense and their ability.

HAVE YOU SHARED UP?

Have you shared up with the other students the responsibility for the financial success of the athletic events for the spring term? In other words, have you paid your athletic fee of $1.50 and received a receipt that will buy you $4.75 worth of athletic contests? Have you made your investment that returns a bigger profit than the man who invented interest ever thought of?

If you have not, pay the fee at the office of the financial secretary. It gives you admission without further charge to all the intercollegiate athletic contests in which Aggies contest here for the remainder of the college year.

ABOUT PETITIONS.

Petitions for the offices of The Kansas Aggie are due today or tomorrow. If you are circulating your own papers, Mr. Candidate, or having your friends do it for you, get busy with them and have the petitions filed at once. The new constitution provides that the petitions must be filed a least one week before the election. The election is Thursday, April 10, just one week from tomorrow. Some member of the staff will be in the office all day today and Thursday to accept the petitions. The candidacies will then be published in the next issue.

THE EMPORIANS AS HOSTS.

The college editors of the state and the staff members who attended the meeting at Emporia last week, appreciated the knowledge that the Emporians have of entertaining visitors and the way they used that knowledge to make the newspaper crowd enjoy the time spent there. Perhaps there was a special dispensation made for the editors and staff members; if there wasn't, it is a wonder that the Emporia people do not get all the college conventions that are held in the state.

Calvin Lambert, editor of College Life, published by the College of Emporia, made the arrangements for the meeting. The Kansas College Press Association convened at the Hotel Mt Way Tuesday morning for a short business session and a program. An informal luncheon followed. In the afternoon a program was given at the college of Emporia.

The visitors were the guests of College Life at an elaborate banquet served at the Hotel Whitley Tuesday evening. The state oratorical contest followed. The College of Emporia, represented by Danile Lockwood, won first place. The Wesleyan orator, Z. W. Gunckle, was second. There always will be a warm feeling toward Emporia for their cordial hospitality.

GET A GOOD START.

Get a right start on the term's work. Last term you put off the start until most of the term was over, didn't you, and the rest of us were about like you. This term and spring term always is the hardest one to supply that concentration that we hear about, why not get the start the first week? It isn't nearly so hard to hold the pace if you set it right in the first place. But it is a hard business to patch up all your note books just before the finals and then cram for a bunch of quizzes. Get away from the post in good style and the rest will be easy.

Even As You and I

The Simp, was from Kansas City. What he didn't know about the little old town—according to him—was of no importance whatever. He wore the latest thing in English, dam fool clothes, owned a stick and called a fellow's girl, "your lady friend."

"Where are you going tonight, old pal?" he cordially inquired, as the Busy Man wiped the remaining lather from his face.

"Got a date," curtly replied the person addressed, quickly collecting his shaving materials and placing them in the cabinet.

"Oh, Heck!" sputtered the Simp, with a sort of aggravated laugh that sounded like a discouraged gas engine trying to start. "All you fellows have dates. Everyone in the house has a date but me. Gee, I wish I had my lady friend from Kansas City down here. I'd like to see any of these frat men take her away from me. I'm going to give her a ring when I go back home. She's sure strong for me. She's smarter than I am, I'll have to admit that, but then—" and the Simp tried to look sentimental and dreamy. He really looked like a sick pup. "—I always feel like a better man when I'm with her. She brings out the good points in me. Huh? Ain't that what you say, huh? when your with a girl you think lots of? Huh?—"

The B. M. had to laugh, so he dashed out into the hall before the Simp could see him. "Come in, Simp" he called a moment later. "We'll have some fun with you."

"Hello, old man!" the Simp exclaimed as he sighted the B. M.'s Room Mate lying across the bed. "Whatcha doing tonight?"

"Oh, got a little dance on, tonight," yawned that lengthy person.

The Simp exploded again, and then began to abuse the world in aggrieved tones. "Gee, I wish I had a lady friend here, because you know, old man, there is one thing I can do."

The two men sat up abruptly. "Shoot, Simp," cried the Room Mate. "We can stand the shock. What is it?"

The Simp in all seriousness came over and whispered, "Dance." He accompanied this revelation by cavorting a few steps in front of them, evidently intended to convince them of his terpsichorean ability beyond a doubt. Then he squared around with his hands jammed in his tight-fitting trousers and surveyed his audience with a greasy grin.

"Some class, eh?" he inquired. "Don't you think I could make them sit up and take notice, around here, huh?"

The two men could do nothing but roll on the bed and roar. "Where did you learn that, Simp?" inquired the Room Mate.

"Oh that's just a little step in the Bunny Hug." They dance that all the time in K. C. Say, you fellows ought to come up to K. C. when I'm there I'd show you some new wrinkles, 'cause, believe me' I know."

When the Busy Man was able to control his laughter, he seriously inquired: "I say, Simp, did you ever do the Tangleworm Wiggle?" Neither of the two room mates had ever heard of such a dance, but the Simp had.

"Oh, yes," he replied with easy assurance. "We dance that at home all the time. Yes, great dance, ain't it? Huh? Where did you ever see it?"

The Busy Man and the Room Mate were putting on their overcoats.

"We never heard of it before," replied the Busy Man. "But we were certain you had. So long, Simp. If you ever discover anything in this little burg that you haven't got in Kansas City, let us know. We'll have it framed."

Edna Danner, a student last year, has entered college for the spring term.

A professor at the University of Denver is telling the students "Why You Flunked." Could anyone here tell us about it?

Haskell Leads 1914 Cornhuskers. Ross Haskell has been elected captain of the 1914 basketball team at the University of Nebraska.

LEAVES NEW YORK CITY JULY 2

Sail in Peary's Ship—K. S. A. C. Man Has Charge of Botany and Zoology.

Ordinarily, Kansas scarcely would be the place to look for North Pole explorers, but the Crocker and Expedition, which is to leave New York July 2, has just chosen as a member of the party Dr. M. C. Tanquary of the department of entomology in the Kansas Agricultural college. The expedition is to use the "Roosevelt", the ship that Peary used in his last northern trip.

Four scientists led by Dr. Donald B. Macmillan, who was with Peary on his most famous journey to the Far North, will be in the exploring party. Ensign Fitzhugh Green of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, will have charge of the mapping; Walter E. Eckblaw, of the University of Illinois, will care for the work in geology, biology and related sciences, and Dr. M. C. Tanquary, of the Kansas Agricultural college, will be in charge of zoology and botany. In addition to these there will be a field assistant, a cook and camp keeper, a doctor and an operator for the wireless. Food and supplies for three years will be taken. Thirty Eskimos and 200 dogs will be added later.

The Crocker Land Expedition has three purposes: to determine the existence or non-existence of Crocker land; to establish the configuration of the polar continental shelf, and the scientific exploration and survey of Elsmere-land, Grant-land, Axel-land, Grinnell-land, and Greenland. Colonel Roosevelt, Admiral Peary, General Thomas Hubbard and Paul B. Morgan are backing the expedition.

THE KANSAS AGGIE.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

Vol. XVIII. Semi-Weekly.

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, APRIL 4, 1913

Saturday

NUMBER 50

K. S. A. C. TO THE NORTH

DR. TANQUARY TAKES AGGIE COLORS ON POLAR EXPEDITION.

TO SEARCH FOR CROCKER-LAND

Scientists Will Hunt for Undiscovered Continent, Or An Archipelago—Leave July 2.

"And if there we find Crocker-Land, there by the side of the colors of my Alma Mater I will place the pennant of this college."

Dr. M. C. Tanquary was concluding his farewell address to the teachers and students here. He will leave some time next week for New York City, and will sail from there July 2 in search of Crocker-Land, thousands of miles to the far northland of ice and snow.

Peary Saw Birds Fly to South.

Robert E. Peary, when in search for the north pole, saw birds flying from the north. The birds were of the sort that live on land in the north, and this led the explorer to think that land exists in the direction from which the birds came. This supposed land he named Crocker-Land. Now an expedition will be commanded by Dr. Donald B. MacMillan to determine the existence or non-existence of Crocker-Land. If it does exist, then a scientific study of the place will be made. Dr. Tanquary is one of the four scientists to make the trip. He will have charge of the botany and zoology work.

Take Food for Three Years.

"We shall leave New York July 2," said Dr. Tanquary. "The first stop will be at Boston, where we will load the food for three years that is being prepared for us. We will stop next at Sidney, Cape Briton Island, and then go around Labrador, through Davis Strait, west to the west coast of Greenland, through Baffin Bay, Smith's Sound, and Kane Basin, to Flagler's Fjord, on the coast of Elsmere-Land. Here will be headquarters."

A Personell of Brave Men.

"In the spring he will start out with sledges and go across Elsmere-Land to Cape Thomas Hubbard, then push out to the northwest across the ice and snow of the Arctic Sea to Crocker-Land, we hope. The men with whom I shall be on this expedition are brave men, educated and cultured, strong, virile men, the sort of men you feel would give their lives to save the party if that should be necessary."

Those Letters From Home.

Dr. Tanquary referred to the time he has been at this college, and was glad, he said, that he had formed so many life-long friendships here. "My address from now on will be 'The American Museum of Natural History, New York City,'" he said. "I am going to repeat that, for I want my friends to know it so that I can hear from them. You may be sure that we shall hear so seldom from home, and the magazines that we take on our trip will be read through many times in those long nights in the frozen north, that we wish all the letters from home that we can get."

TO HOLD 2-DAY SESSION HERE.

Rural Workers Convene Next Thursday Morning.

The rural department of the Y. M. C. A. will convene in Manhattan next week, beginning Thursday morning, April 10, and ending Friday night, April 11. This conference is for county Y. M. C. A. workers, pastors, Sunday school superintendents, leaders of boys' classes and all others who are interested in country life in Kansas. The morning and afternoon sessions will be held in Fairchild and the other sessions in the Manhattan churches.

The program will include a banquet Friday evening. The principal speakers at this time will be Henry Wallace, of Wallace's Farmer; A. E. Roberts, international secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and Warren H. Wilson, of the Presbyterian board of home missions. A limited number of plates is open to students upon application to Secretary McLean of the local branch.

'WARE OF THAT SOUP!

Seniors Begin to Dine Out Monday Noon.

The seniors drawn in the first lot by Chairman Bonnett, of the food committee, will take their noonday meals at the Domestic Science and Art Hall five days a week for the next two weeks, beginning Monday. At every table will be a hostess, who will be a member of the teaching force of the department, one senior girl and two senior boys. Instruction will be by observation only. Eleven tables will be set, and the junior girls will cook and serve.

M. F. Ahearn, of the hort. department, is at Haskell Institute overseeing landscape work.

PAY THE CHAIRMAN SALARY?

JUNIORS MAY CHANGE CLASS BOOK PLAN.

Head Of 1914 Committee May Receive Recompense For Labor And Responsibility.

If a proposed plan is adopted by the junior class, the chairman on the committee of Royal Purple, Vol. VI will be paid a salary, to be decided upon at the beginning of the year. This plan is favored by President Waters. It will be placed before the members of the junior class at a regular meeting soon. It is probable that President Waters will outline the plan. Tom Harris is the chairman. At present the chairman of the class book committee receives no salary, and has a great deal of work and a whole lot of responsibility. The chairmanship is the job with the most responsibility in a monetary way of any student office. About $5000 are in charge of the head of the class book enterprise. If the chairman should show up at the close of the year, short, the class would stand back of him—maybe. Other colleges are beginning to wake up to the fact that the class book chairman should have a salary paid him and ensure a more businesslike administration of the funds.

COEDS SWEEP THE FIELD

SENIOR GIRLS SCORE A LANDSLIDE THURSDAY.

CHOOSE REVA LINT PRESIDENT

Juniors Follow Natural Order and Elect Tom Harris to the Head—Other Results.

The senior co-eds had a winning ticket at the class election Thursday morning at the election for the spring term. They filled the first five offices on the list with co-eds, overlooking the jobs of marshal, assistant marshal and athletic manager. Some of the results of the elections:

Seniors.
President, Reva Lint.
Vice-President, Claire Hoaglin.
Secretary, Madge Rowley.
Assistant Secretary, Mildred Barr.
Treasurer, Florence Carvin.
Marshal, E. H. Martin.
Assistant Marshal, Carl Ipsen.
Athletic Manager, W. A. Buck.
Juniors.
President, Tom Harris.
Vice-President, Alma Halbower.
Secretary, Bessie Walsh.
Treasurer, Herman Tagge.
Marshal, William Curry.
Assistant Marshal, William Cusic.
Athletic Manager, W. A. Buck.
Members Students' Council, June Jilner, W. A. Sumner, William Sweet.

CHANGE DATES FOR 3 GAMES.

Aggies Play Tigers At Columbia April 28 and 29.

The baseball schedule has been changed slightly. The Aggies will go to Columbia, Mo., to meet the Tiger team April 28 and 29 instead of April 18 and 19, as was first announced. The Aggies start on a trip April 15, playing at Lawrence two games and one at Warrensburg, Mo. They were scheduled to meet Missouri the two days following but that would keep the team away from college for a week, hence the change in the schedule. The date of the St. Marys game at Manhattan has been changed from May 1 to May 2.

ENGINEERS PLAN HIGH JINKS.

Association Will Entertain Itself Monday Night.
The engineers will hold high was-sail Monday night in the Carnegie library. The Engineering Association plans to have a smoker there that night. Mr. Hoyt, an architect from Kansas City, Mo., will be here to make an address to the engineers on some interesting subject of the profession. Other talks will be made by members of the engineering faculty. E. H. Keith, Professor Conrad and Raymond Kerr are arranging the affair. Officers of the association will be elected.

Warrensburg Comes Next.

The Aggies will tangle with the Warrensburg Normal baseball artists here next Monday afternoon. The game will be called at three-thirty. The game was scheduled for Tuesday, but the Normals requested the change owing to the re-arrangement of their schedule.

Prof. E. P. Johnston has been asked to make the commencement address at La Harpe, Kas., May 17.

PROMISE CONCERT APRIL 10

COLLEGE BAND APPEARS NEXT WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Forty Musicians Take Part in Annual Event—Better Than Ever, Says Ozment.

"The band is better than it ever has been," says Burr H. Ozment, the leader of the college band.

That is a strong assertion, but Mr. Ozment makes it without any qualifying clauses. Every year the college band has been made better and has never failed to please. Now comes their leader to say that the band has a better treat than ever in store for Manhattan people next Wednesday night, when the band will give a concert in the Auditorium.

The concert is not given as a money making enterprise but to show the students and townspeople what the band can do. An admission fee of twenty-five cents, which is smaller than for most of the entertainments, will be charged to cover expenses and pay for music.

The forty members of the band are of the opinion that many college people do not know just how good musicians the organization possesses. Many who do not get to chapel when the band plays haven't much idea of the worth of a concert.

MAY FORM TENNIS CLUB

K. S. A. C. SPORTSMEN TALK OF AN ASSOCIATION.

WILL HOLD A MEETING SOON

Payment Of A Small Fee Would Ensure Courts Being Well Cared For.

Tennis enthusiasts are talking of forming some sort of an association to further the interests of the sport here this spring. The two tennis courts that the college now has are inadequate to satisfy the desires of many players. The college courts are needed during the tennis season for the practice work of the team, and those not so fortunate have to fill in at odd hours, hunt courts somewhere else, or play in the street. It is proposed that tennis people pay a small fee and with this fee extra courts might be added or the present courts kept in the best shape. Coach Lowman will call the tennis men together soon to talk over the matter. The meeting probably will be held some night, as the coach has little time during the day for conferences.

The two courts were kept busy last year and will not supply the demand this year. If some sort of organization is perfected, players will take more care of the courts and see that no one scrambles about on the chalk lines, digging up the sod with street shoes.

TRACK MEN SLIGHT WORK.

Aggie Athletes Slack Up on the Eve of Hard Meets.

Coach Bryan says that the track men are not reporting regularly for work. Not all of the men come under this complaint but many do and should whip up for the Aggies probably will tangle on the cinder path with the Washburn track men the middle of this month. Unless every track man reports regularly for a winning track team can not be made. The running track is in shape and the field events have been well arranged for. The north side of the athletic field has been plowed over and leveled.

The sprinters are running in great form. Hancock and Chang seem to have the edge on the other short distance men. Gates is traveling over the short routes in good time, too. The hurdles are still a barrier that the coach has found impossible to overcome satisfactorily. Stone gave promise of developing into a fast hurdler indoors but has not been clearing the sticks out of doors. Frank Root, guard on the 1913 basketball team, clears the hurdler in good time but has not been persuaded to come out for track.

High jumpers are rare specimens. None of the lot has cleared five-five consistently yet. Hodgson was going good indoors but has not reported for outdoor work. The distance events will be well taken care of this spring. Schneider is out for the team and will make good on the mile and two-mile runs. Stone is making good marks with the discus and should annex points for the Aggies in every meet.

GET READY FOR A SWIM.

Gym Pool Has Been Scrubbed Out Nice and Clean.

The janitor force spent the vacation renovating the gymnasium and getting it in shape for the spring athletics. All of the rooms were thoroughly scrubbed out and disinfected. The pool has been scrubbed and polished and now awaits the man with the pipe wrench and the permission to turn on the water. Owing to the shortage of power throughout the winter term, the pool was not filled.

The Dramatic club is hard at work on "The Time of His Life," which will be given soon.

EDITORIAL

A story from Cambridge, Mass., says that wit is to be taught at Harvard. Several around here ought to apply for professional jobs.

Chicago men are now carrying handbags because the style is to do that. That puts the Aggie engineers in the front rank.

You are all allowed six guesses as to who writes this "Even as You and I" copy. None of the staff in writing it, so guess the special correspondent. Only one limitation is made on that column. No beauty hints are allowed.

The unpardonable sin for a college paper is to conduct an exchange colloquy, to inform one paper that it is poorly edited, and another, that the slang is outrageous, or that the paper is not interesting. Dark ages, friends.

A ROOTERS' CLUB CHANCE.

The next thing for the Rooters' club to do is to present Dr. Tanquary with an Aggie pennant to take with him on his trip to the north. Here is a fine chance for the Rooters' club to repay loyalty in its own kind.

A MODEL FOR LOYALISTS.

No finer touch of loyalty could have been given than was shown by Dr. Tanquary, when in his farewell talk Wednesday morning he told of his hope to place the colors of K. S. A. C. beside the colors of his own Alma Mater, the University of Illinois, far off to the north, if Crocker-Land proves to be Crocker-Land in truth, a continent or an archipelago. It was just the sort of touch that made perfect the straightforward talk that told of the expedition of scientists who will brave the rigors and dangers of a journey in search of undiscovered lands.

The best wishes of the whole school go with Dr. Tanquary and his companions, with the hope that Crocker-Land be a reality, and that all possible success attend the venture and bring them back with success added to bravery and determination.

PAY THE CHAIRMAN.

The proposal to put the chairmanship of the class book committee on a salary basis is a good one. The juniors should adopt it. The chairman of the class book enterprise has a responsible work, and ought to receive just recompense for his labor. Directing the gathering of the money and the expenditures, making contracts, deciding on the style to be followed throughout the publication, hurrying the copy along to the printers, being on the job whenever anything exciting happens, getting the pictures in on time, the proofs read and the countless mistakes eliminated—all these things take a great deal of time and hard work. The chairman gets: Expenses. And it depends on the chairman what is included in the expense account.

The proposal to allot a salary to the chairman was not made as a criticism of the administration of class book enterprises at any time. This college has been singularly fortunate in the selection of men to head the annual committees. But putting the recompense of the chairman on a salary basis relieves the chairman from much unjust criticism, as well as making the financial part a business proposition. A business manager who is responsible to the class for an itemized account of all expenditures and who receives a proper recompense for his work will be more careful to make efficiency the guiding light of his work. The juniors should adopt this measure.

At many other colleges the chairman either receives a salary or will next year. Trouble has arisen at other places; but that is not the need for a change in the plans here. It is only to give the chairman what he deserves.

LITTLE HELP, PLEASE.

Get behind the team. How many times that has been said, and how many times the answer has been that the team does not need it. You're wrong; the team does need all the support that it can get. The Aggies have a hard season before them and they need the help of all loyal Aggies.

Kansas History Seventh Hour.

A class in Kansas history will be taught this term, Tuesdays and Thursdays, the seventh hour, in F 59. Raymond G. Taylor is the instructor. The schedule lists the class for the sixth hour but this has been changed.

Registration Drops to 1565.

The registration has fallen several hundred below the high mark set last term. At noon Friday 565 had paid incidental fees. Of these, 700 paid the athletic fee.

Even As You and I

"If a girl should happen to like you, you are not going very far out of your way to please her," said the only girl as she discreetly pulled her skirt down around her pretty ankles.

"Oh, I don't know," replied the Independent Man, who was sitting on the third step, absent-mindedly punching the porch full of holes with his knife. "And besides, how am I to know whether anyone likes me? Foolish question. I know, but I mean, how might I tell whether a girl really likes me better than all the rest of the men who are nice to her and take her places and spend their money on her?"

"I should hope she would tell you if she didn't," the girl retorted.

"Well, they haven't," he candidly replied.

"Conceit."

"Thank you. However, if you'll give the question a moment's consideration, you'll agree with me that there are very few persons, of your acquaintance and I, who would be so rude. Most persons are too polite and considerate of another's tender feelings."

"Well, then," said the girl, "take it the other way. I suppose there are some girls who would be foolish enough to tell you that they liked you, and others might be so enamoured of your fatal beauty that they would tell everyone else."

"And there are others—" continued the Man, "who would not admit the slightest interest in me—and still others who can tell the most plausible and beautiful lies."

"Is that so?" The air was growing chilly, but the M. was enjoying himself.

"All the girls I have met, in my checkered career" he continued, "are for the most part, the biggest bunch of fibbers I ever heard of. Now with a man, his object, most of the time is to tell the truth. It's more comfortable. But a girl is so used to prevaricating more or less, that when she is moved to impart a little of the "unvarnished" she must have slow music, dim lights, and utter numerous precautions, such as, "honest to goodness!" "Cross my heart!" Now this is the truth," and so on. And even then, sometimes, she is merely putting over a particularly large and important "whopper."

"If I were not such a sweet tempered child," said the Girl, with a laugh, "You would be sitting here by yourself at this moment."

"Oh, don't feel that way about it," he admonished, patting her hand assuringly.

"Now who's handling the truth carelessly?" she questioned.

"Not me," he said, very seriously, "I wouldn't make you angry for a box seat in heaven."

"Prevarication, number two," she demurely replied.

The Independent Man closed his knife and arose. "Let's go down town. If we stay here any longer we'll not be on friendly terms."

While they were sipping their "cokes" the I. M. smiled at the girl, and said: "There is just one thing that is worrying me."

"What?" asked the Girl without removing the straw from her mouth.

"That is, how I am going to make you believe me when I propose to you."

"Oh, that won't be hard." She rattled the ice in the bottom of the glass. "You're not as good a liar as you think you are."

CONTEST FOR 1 OFFICE

INTEREST CENTERS IN ELECTION OF BUSINESS MANAGER.

CHOOSE MEN FOR FOUR PLACES

The Kansas Aggie Stockholders Meet Tomorrow Afternoon in the Old Chapel at 3:30.

THE CANDIDATES.

W. A. Sumner, for managing editor.
A. P. Davidson, for circulation manager.
Russel Williamson, for business manager.
Jay Stratton, for assistant business manager.
Glenn Lawyer, for business manager.

The first election under the constitution of The Kansas Aggie will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 in the Old Chapel. The offices of managing editor, business manager, assistant business manager and circulation manager will be filled at that time. These offices are highly important to the paper and the college, and it is hoped that the students will attend this first meeting.

Able Men Seek the Offices.

The only contest is for the office of business manager, a very important place. Russel Williamson and Glenn Lawyer are candidates for the place. Friends of both candidates have been busy in behalf of their men. Williamson is a junior architect and is known to many Manhattan people. Lawyer, in the absence of G. C. Van Neste, has been rustling the ads with unusual success.

W. A. Sumner, the only candidate for managing editor, is a junior. A. P. Davidson and Jay Stratton will have a sweep for their offices.

Subscribe, and Then Vote.

The campaign for subscriptions will be continued until the election time tomorrow afternoon. Many have subscribed to have a vote in the election. In the reorganization resident student subscribers became stockholders. The officers elected tomorrow will serve until December of this year, when the regular election will be held and all officers of the paper elected. Only signed proxies will be accepted tomorrow.

George Barnard of Alma spent Sunday in Manhattan.

HARBINGER OF A NEW DAY.

"T. S. T." Says Herald Reorganization Is Just That.

The Kansas Aggie comes to us as a harbinger of a new day. It is an emblem of progress. If college is the right place to train leaders—and it is—then the K. S. A. C. is right up to the standard. When reformers are agitating such reforms as the recall, and initiative and referendum, and practically every progressive citizen is desiring them, then the students of the K. A. C. step forward and adopt a proposition embodying every one of these essentials of complete democracy. In politics a reform is the result of the yielding of tradition to the public demand. The case of the college paper, reform was different. A small per centage of the students met together and deliberately gave up the power lawfully theirs into the hands of the entire student body. The whole thing spells unselfishness progress—a spirit undefiled with prejudice.

A valuable opportunity for the students was thus created. The better they support the paper, just in that measure will the paper be made stronger and it must be remembered that a strong college paper will bind the students of an institution together as no other force. Trace again the process of reasoning given above and you will realize the importance of giving your support to the Aggies. If the students just decide to have it so, The Kansas Aggie will find a place for itself prominent among the leading student publications not only Kansas, but America—equal to the Journals of Yale, Harvard and Princeton. Let "From possibility to reality" be the motto and make The Kansas Aggie big.

T. S. J.

SENIORS START PROPER EATING.

Junior Girls Serve Eleven Tables Five Times a Week.

The seniors began their "eating tests" yesterday at noon. Eleven tables are served Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays by junior girls of the domestic science course. At every table is a senior girl, who acts as hostess, a domestic science teacher and two senior boys. R. K. Bonnett is chairman of the committee on arrangements. The valiant ones who make the first try are: Lula Alberts, R. L. Barnum, Lucile Berry, Neva Colville, Laura Fate, Olive Hartwell, S. A. Krehbiel, Clyde Ludington, A. S. Newkirk, Dale Perrill, Bert Whitlock, Roy Appleton, W. C. Baxter, W. A. Buck, Adelle Conrow, H. H. Fenton, Claire Hoaglin, Thomas Leadley, A. H. Montford, Raymond Olinger, Gay Perry, Helen Haines, R. R. Baird, W. H. Beauchamp, Hattie Burnham, Florence Dietz, Raymond Fink, Carl Ipsen, Reva Lint, E. B. Myers, H. Otto Parker, W. L. Rucker, Gerald Wyland. Every senior who joins the crowd pays $2.50 for the series.

MOVIES TELL OF K. S. A. C.

PREPARE FILMS HERE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

Denver Film Company Will Picture College Activities—Show Films Here First Time.

Movies of K. S. A. C. will be shown in the theaters of the country. Dean Miller, of the extension division, has made arrangements with the Scenic Film company of Denver, Colo., to take the pictures here Friday and Saturday of this week. Students in various classes, points of interest about the college and the prize stock will appear in the pictures. The faculty of the college was the guest of H. P. Wareham at a special show last Friday night to see movies of the Oklahoma A. and M. and their recommendation was hearty. The films will be shown in the Auditorium for the first time a couple of weeks after the pictures are taken. The admission fees from this go to the company as a guarantee.

After the films are shown here they will be sent to the picture shows of the state, without cost to the college. Dean Miller is certain that this will be one of the best advertisements of the college possible. Every one is urged to get in the pictures Friday and Saturday. There is no penalty for "repeating."

Yes, It Pays.

An ad in The Kansas Aggie recently concerning rooms to rent brought results in short time, and the owner of the house called up the other day and said to "Take that ad out, there is a regular stampede up and down our front walk and haven't got more than a couple of hundred rooms, you know."

TONIGHT DECIDES IT

BIG ATTENDANCE ASSURES BAND CONCERTS FOR EVENINGS.

MUSICIANS MAKE ANNUAL BOW

College Organization Will Give Evening Entertainments on the Campus if Supported.

If the people support the band the way the members desire—by coming to the concert in the Auditorium tonight—the band will give concerts on the campus one night a week this spring. This announcement is expected to crowd the house tonight. The concerts given by the college band last year were enjoyable, and attended by many townspeople as well as students. But it all depends on the people.

No Postponement This Year.

"The money from this entertainment the band will use in the best way possible," says B. H. Ozment, the leader. "We hope to have a large crowd out. Last year bad weather handicapped us. This year we will give the concert at the scheduled time in spite of all weather. The spring concerts are uncertain, but if we are supported right we will give them."

Classical and Popular Pieces.

The concert this year has been chosen with especial care to please everyone. Few of the pieces are "heavy," and those that are never fail to please. The selections from "The Quaker Maid," a recent comic opera, are new to Manhattan people. The rest of the program will please. The first number will be played at 8 o'clock.

SENIORS ORDER THEIR BIDS.

Sale of Commencement Invitations Begins.

Orders were taken last Saturday and this week for the announcement of the graduating exercises of the seniors this spring. One style of announcement is of paper and the other of leather. Both are attractive, with the name of the college, the year and the official seal of raised impression work. About 1000 had been ordered yesterday.

SAD NEWS FOR COACH BRYAN.

Track Mentor's Mother Dies At Zanesville, Ohio.

Coach Bryan received a telegram Sunday from Zanesville, Ohio, the home of his youth, informing him of the death of his mother. The funeral was held Monday. Mrs. Bryan's death was caused from excitement following the recent floods in the Ohio. Captain Bryan did not go to Ohio as the telegram came too late for him to reach Zanesville for the funeral.

DRIVER GOES TO SOUTH.

Washburn Director Will Be at Mississippi U.

W. L. Driver, coach at Washburn, will be the director of athletics at the University of Mississippi beginning next September. He will be in charge of all sports there. The school is about the size of Washburn. Coach Driver has had indifferent success at Topeka. His trouble has been in keeping on friendly terms with his men. Glenn C. Gray, of Oberlin, is the new director of athletics at Washburn.

TROT CROSS COUNTRY FRIDAY.

First Run for Hamilton Cup Is Now Scheduled.

The first cross country run for the Hamilton medal will be held Friday afternoon. This race is an annual affair, the runners competing for a gold medal offered by Professor Hamilton. The race is run off in three heats. The first run is over a two-mile course; the second, three and a half; the third, five miles. Heretofore the race has been held during the fall term, but owing to the change in coaching policy last fall it was postponed until this spring.

The start of the race Friday will be the running track on the athletic field, the runners making the first and last laps of the two miles around the dirt track. There are several excellent men in training for this event and the going should prove exciting. Teeters, the freshman wonder, and Hutto will no doubt be the men that will bear watching.

RURAL WORKERS MEET HERE

HENRY WALLACE WILL ATTEND Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION.

Day Sessions Will Be in Fairchild Hall—Banquet Friday Night Closes Meeting.

The conference of the rural departments of the Y. M. C. A. of the state begins tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. It is expected that more than 200 will attend. Marshall county expects to send a special train of more than a hundred to see the college. Prominent speakers are on the program. The first session will be held in the library. Henry Wallace, of Wallace's Farmer, will speak on the "Challenge of the Country." Following a short business session M. H. N. Malott will speak on "Kansas Bankers and Rural Progress."

The evening meeting will be at the Baptist church at 7:15. The addresses: "The Church of the Open Country," by Warren H. Wilson, of the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions; "The Leadership of Jesus," by Dr. Frank K. Sanders. The session Friday morning, in Fairchild hall, begins at 9 o'clock. The addresses: "The Place of County Work in Rural Reconstruction," Albert E. Roberts; "The Modern Man's Opportunity," A. A. Hyde; "Measuring Up," John E. Manley.

Group conferences will be held by ministers and laymen. In the afternoon President Waters will speak on "Possibilities of Co-operation, K. S. A. C. and County Work." The visitors will see the college and will have a banquet at the Y. M. C. A. building at 7 in the evening.

Mr. C. C. Carter of Kansas City has taken the position of linotype operator for the Nationalist.

Miss Marla Story has returned to her school after spending Sunday in Manhattan.

WIN FROM TWO STATES

COLORADO AND OKLAHOMA DEBATORS LOST TO K. S. A. C.

CELEBRATE TRI-STATE ENTRANCE

Debate Fairmount Next Friday In Dual Contest—Three Victories, No Defeats.

The Aggies took both ends of a dual debate with the agricultural colleges of Oklahoma and Colorado last Friday night. This question was used in both debates: Resolved—That the constitutions of the various states should be so amended as to provide for recall of judicial decisions by popular vote. Here in the Auditorium, W. A. Sumner and James Bond successfully upheld the affirmative side of the question against the Oklahoma team, Lewis E. Walker and Jeff Campbell. Tom Harris and M. D. Collins, with Prof. J. E. Kammeyer rooting on the side lines, shattered the Colorado defense at Fort Collins, Colo., and won the negative side the decision. The decision was unanimous here. This makes three victories without a defeat this year.

Two Speeches Featured.

The winning features of the debate here were the main speeches of Bond and Sumner's rebuttal. Both were above the average and brought the victory. Both Walker and Campbell spoke well, but Walker's argument lacked fire and forcible delivery because the speaker was handicapped by a severe cold. Professor R. R. Price was the chairman. Prof. John Lofty, superintendent of the city schools of Salina; Superintendent Stacey, of the Abilene city schools; and L. W. Mayberry, superintendent of the city schools of Wichita, judged. Music was furnished by Wellington Brink, flute; W. G. Hamilton, piano; A. W. Bellomy, violin.

Use "Pep" Team Here.

The next debate is a dual affair with Fairmount. The Aggie team at Wichita will be: W. E. Grimes, L. Swingle, and W. G. Hamilton, speaking the order named. Grimes will give the rebuttal. The Aggies will have the negative at Wichita, and Professor Ostrum says that any affirmative team that wins from the Aggie negative team on this question will be entitled to long and loud adoration. At home, Coach Ostrum will send his "pep" team against the Fairmount debaters. The trio of C. Mattson, W. H. Sweet and Floyd Hawkins has more fire in argument and more than earnestness in debate than any other team on the squad. Fairmount sends its best team here.

Orchestra Engaged For Friday.

The debaters have the promise of the full college orchestra for Friday night. Not all the judges have been picked at last reports. At Manhattan, Professor Jewell, of the State Normal, and Mr. Kelly, an attorney of Topeka, will be two of the judges. At Wichita, Professor Ritchie, of the State Normal, Supt. Spindler and Principal Butcher will judge.

OFFER PRIZES FOR ESSAYS.

Writers of Berkshires Can Win Money Rewards.

The American Berkshire association is offering prizes that should attract students of agricultural colleges who can write good essays. The association offers prizes of $50, $25, $15 and $10 for the best essays on "The Berkshire, on the Farm, in the Ring and on the Block." The contest closes June 1, and all essays should be sent to Frank Springer, secretary of the association, at Indianapolis, Ind., before that time. The contest is open only to students at agricultural colleges and experiment stations.

All Out for Spring Practice!

Spring practice for football men will be started in earnest next Saturday afternoon under the direction of Elmer Stahl, end on the squad that copped the state r.g.

EDITORIAL

YOUR VOTE COUNTS.

Every student subscriber should be at the election tomorrow. Sending your proxy is not enough. The student-subscriber who does not attend such an election is on a par with the man who saves the country when sitting around the fire on winter nights, and declares that politics is rotten, but who neglects to register or who is too busy making ten dollars on a horse trade when the election day comes around. This is your chance to lend your moral support to the building up of a strong college paper here. Come out and vote.

PLAIN BUSINESS.

Being a subscriber to The Kansas Aggie is up to the students as a matter of business. Every college weekly in the state gets one dollar a year as subscription. The Kansas Aggie is published twice a week, with extras once in awhile as splurge. The price is the same as that charged by college weeklies. It is a business proposition to the students that they buy their own papers and not depend on waiting on Friend Bill or Kate before they can read the news. Buy a subscription and then name your choices in the election tomorrow.

CHAPEL'S CONTINUAL JOKE.

Just one thing that mars a good chapel speech, and puts an end to a good one—that platform bell that rings so loudly and resists all efforts of the chairman's heels to shut off the noise. Why not cut the bell out all together and let the chairman decide when the program shall end? Or, if there must be a bell, have it placed in the center of the house, and so arranged that when a speech pleases, the bell remains silent. Have it turned up so that frequent applause puts on the muffler and no applause strengthens the rings.

THE MEN YOU VOTE FOR.

When you who are resident student subscribers to The Kansas Aggie mark your ballots tomorrow, vote for the men who will best do the work of the paper. The contest simmers down to the vote on the business manager, an office that much be filled by a good man. Both of the candidates are capable men. But remember this: Vote for the man who you think has the most ability for this a friend of yours. Above all things, work and forget whether or not he's vote for somebody.

Minor Smokes Are Costly.

Two students who were at the ball game Friday afternoon, were enjoying the pastime, and pipes, also. Sheriff Schermerhorn pounced upon them, discovered that they were minors, and took them to the county attorney. Sheriff Schermerhorn says that the law in regard to minors smoking will be enforced strictly.

H. Umberger, '04, has been offered the position as demonstration agent for the extension department in his home county, Chase, but will be compelled to refuse owing to his interests.

Dwight Miller, a student here last year, was in town Sunday for a visit with his parents, Dean and Mrs. J. H. Miller, and friends.

Speed Up Football Men.

Coach Lowman intends to put several of his football players under Coach Bryan's care this spring in order that said players may work up a little speed. Marble is working out on track and is a mighty speedy heavyweight. Several of the line men will be sent out to the running track in the near future to assimilate a little speed.

Flowers For The Kansas Aggie.

Many comments, all favorable, have been made on the change of the Students' Herald to the Kansas Aggie.

"I like that name, Kansas Aggie," says E. N. Rodell, acting superintendent of printing.

"That new name is fine," says Harlan Smith, assistant in printing.

"See that you have changed the name of the paper," says Prof. E. L. Holton. That's all right, and it sounds good.

"That's good doings," says Prof. Dickens, without thought that the slang might be quoted.

S. D. President Visits Here.

President Schlagel, of the South Dakota Agricultural College, visited here last Saturday. He is making a tour of agricultural colleges. He was the guest of the College Club at dinner Saturday evening.

Mrs. W. S. McCollough, of Longford, Kansas, was visiting about college last week. Mrs. McCollough formerly was Miss Grace Golding and attended college here the fall and winter terms.

Prof. J. O. Hamilton was called to his home in Illinois Friday by the death of his mother.

Even As You and I

"Well, George," said the Simp as he caressed his upper lip with his finger, "I guess the fellows haven't noticed it, have they, huh? (Like to show you his smirk and grin at this point, but it wouldn't pass the board of censorship.)

The person addressed as George only laughed. George took care of the Simp. But the Gink and the Boob and the Pessimist lying on the bed sat up and glared.

"Noticed what?" demanded the Boob. "I say, Simp, why don't you wash your face?"

"That's not dirt," retorted the Simp.

"Don't let them tease you, honey," said the Pessimist. "Just tell them you're from Kansas City and that will close them up. These guys from the country don't know it's the style to wear your lip dirty."

The Simp grinned, swallowed it all, and extended a fat hand to his champion. The Simp shook hands on everything he did or said. "Have a cigar, old pal," he said, offering a ten-center.

But in the meantime the Boob and the Gink and George had dug up a microscope, a pocket flashlight and pounced upon the Simp. He struggled and sputtered and kicked, but the inspection went calmly on while the Pessimist smoked the cigar and furnished the words and music.

"What is it, me good men?" anxiously inquired the Pessimist.

"Nothing discovered yet but real estate," panted the Boob with the glass, "but we're on the trail of something. Here, Gink, give me the light on this side."

"Aw fellows, quit your kiddin! That's not dirt—that's a mustache."

The Pessimist sank despairingly into a chair. "Oh, my son," he moaned, rocking from side to side with grief. "That it should come to this—I never supposed—I didn't know—ah, how could you deceive me!"

"Aha! I have it!" cried the Boob. "It's on this side! My trusty corn knife, quick, before 'tis too late. We will beard the lion—"

But the Simp escaped.

And now the little fat, dirty lip is clean. But the Simp still passes ten-cent cigars out to the Pessimist, whom he regards as his savior in his hour of need.

"All the rest of the fellows picked on me, but you," he confided one day, through a cloud of ten-cent cigar smoke. I appreciate that." And out came the customary hand.

SEATTLE ALUMNI MEET.

Good Things Served by a "Mother Kedzie" Girl.

Alumni and former students and teachers who live in or near Seattle, Wash., were invited recently by Sadie (Moore) Foster to meet at the home of the Fosters, 314 Melrose avenue, in honor of Miss Lorena Clemons, former secretary of the college and at present the guest of Mrs. Foster. The guests included: Professor and Mrs. E. M. Shelton, Nellie (Little) Hobbs and daughters, Jean and Charlotte, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rokes, Mrs. F. M. Jeffrey and children, Myrtle and Charles; M. R. Alleman, Lulu Case, Ora Davis Steele and husband, Mrs. Walter Mitchell and daughter, Lucile; Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Moore, Charles J. Dobbs, Marie (Senn) Heath, Grant Arnold, Walter Mitchell expected to be present but could not attend.

The evening was spent with reminiscences, games, music and a talk by Professor Shelton. Professor Shelton was at this college in the early days when the value of the scientific study of agriculture was not appreciated as it is now. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Foster, one of "Mother Kedzie's" girls, and younger daughters of the domestic science department.

ABOUT WORKING.

To The Kansas Aggie:

Some time ago, January 22, an article was published in the Herald which was headed, "He Worked His Way." The writer was not radical, but perfectly just in all his statements, probably as far as this experience was limited. However, two or three points seemed to indicate poorness in quality of the work of the student who worked his way. It is these points that should be made clear.

The fellow who depends upon himself for financial support, spends little time in speculating as to whether "Dad" is a peanut or something else. "Dad" either has ideas all his own as to the utter worthlessness of a college education, is financially educated, or has made his exit from this world. So that leaves "Dad" out of the question and the student dependent upon himself only.

He must be economical with his summer's wages and with what he earns, "rush his way." If he really values the advantages which are offered him at college—and he surely does or he would not be here working, studying, when he might be depositing money in the bank—you would expect him to spend much time in trying to gain favor with an instructor. He wishes to be friendly with his instructors the same as the other students. He is here for a different purpose—to learn, and he does it from a practical standpoint. He is making it his business to study.

The fellow who is working his way, if he be half way honest with himself can only see the situation in one light. He is here to gain practical knowledge of some science or art. If he makes a poor grade, his time is lost. Whether that grade be F or P it is all the same. He must "make good," for when the last days of college are over, he must face the world with a capital whose stock is completely invested in education. He realizes that the more he "sinks" in G and E bonds at par, the bigger coupons he can tear off in after years. He must "make good."

With that idea in mind he puts most of his spare time on his books. It is true that the student who puts so much time on work and lessons combined has less time for social affairs. That does not necessarily mean, however, that he completely neglects them. When you are at a lyceum number, do not form a picture of the student who works his way in a 3x9 bed-room working college algebra on a shingle a la Lincoln. If you know them you would see many of them there. But you will find as many drones who think that a complete, total education rests upon the shelves of the College Book Store among the students who are well-to-do as you will among the students who work their way.

But how much better would it be if he borrowed money? When college was over, he would not only have to face the future with the uncertainty of a position, but a debt of several hundred dollars. The glory of having accomplished something worth while would not be associated with his thoughts of the future to give him strength to hurl the stones out of his path.

The Aggies who were at Fort Collins, Colo., are warm in their praise of the college and townspeople there. The Kansans were treated well and shown every courtesy. As guests of the Commercial club of Fort Collins, they were taken on a motor trip up the mountains on a pleasure trip and were entertained at dinner Friday night. Prof. J. E. Kammeyer, Tom Harris and M. D. Collins made the trip. The Kansas crowd will have much to repay the Coloradoans for their courtesy when they come here.

AGGIES WON IN TENTH

PASSED BALL LOSES WARRENSBURG THE GAME, 8 TO 9.

KNAUS SCORES WITH THREE ON

Pitcher Miller Threw Poorly To Briney And The Lowman Team Scored the Run.

The Aggies won the first two games of the baseball season. The first game was won from the College of Emporia last Friday in easy style, 19 to 3. The second contest went ten innings Monday before the Aggies compelled the Warrensburg Normals to take the count in a 9 to 8 game. The second contest, despite the dark day and a muddy field, was a real ball game, filled with thrills that kept the crowd on the bleachers, freezing to see the finish of the game. The first game was scheduled as a ball game but was a poor exhibition, the Aggies scoring at will on the Hargiss team.

Bases Full When Game Ended.

A passed ball in the tenth inning, with two men down, Kansas, McCallum and Dresser on bases, and Briney at bat, allowed Kansas to score the winning run. The Warrensburg team hit Bailey hard, but the Aggie pitcher kept plugging away, and some good fielding stunts behind him, various and continual erring by the visitors and hits when needed gave him a win. The Aggies looked good the way they performed Monday.

Warrensburg started the attack in the first, when a base on balls to the first man up, a muffed fly by Cleland and two two base hits in succession gave the visitors two runs. Warrensburg counted two more in the third, one in the fifth and two in the seventh. The Aggies' first score came in the third. A string of errors added to a two-base crack by Enns and a single by Knaus, brought five runs across. In the eighth Forsberg got on through an error. Agnew got a base on balls, and both were boosted around for unearned runs. That tied the score.

Briney Doubled In Vain.

Neither team scored in the ninth, although Briney, sent in to hit for Davidson, poled a long one that barely dropped inside the left foul line, and two others were on bases at different times. In their half of the tenth the best that Warrensburg could do was to get one man on when Miller singled to right. In the Aggies' half, Knaus hit one to center for two bases. Bailey fanned. McCallum walked. Beeman singled to right, choking the bases. Briney was up. Pitcher Miller heaved a low one to the catcher, and Knaus came home with the run that counted. Every indication points to a corking good ball club when some of the rough places are ironed out. The score:

WALK AWAY FROM EMPORIA.

Aggies Take 19 To 3 Game Friday From Hargiss Team.

The first game was featured by excessive scoring and poor all-around work. It was the first of the season, and that is excuse enough. Sullivan, Blake and Pollom had workouts. This was Sullivan's first appearance in varsity games and he showed up well. After the game had progressed to the Aggies' advantage, Coach Lowman sent in the Yannigans to finish the contest. ## WILL ELECTION STAND?

QUESTION OF PROXY VOTE CAUSES TROUBLE.

REFUSED AT THURSDAY SESSION

Williamson Won Over Lawyer in Race for Business Manager—Much Pep Shown.

*****
THE VOTE.
* For Business Manager.
* Williamson, 123.
* Lawyer, 64.
* For Managing Editor.
* Sumner; no opposition.
* For Assistant Bus. Manager.
* Stratton; no opposition.
* For Circulation Manager.
* Davidson; no opposition.
*****

If I decide that voting by proxy is legal, then I shall declare the election illegal and call a new one. If I decide that the voting by proxy is not allowable, then the election will stand.—President Gray, after the election Thursday.

At the election of officers of The Kansas Aggie held in C 26 Thursday afternoon, a question of constitutionality as to the voting of proxies was not settled to the satisfaction of all concerned. Previous to the election both candidates for business manager had obtained proxies. At the election it was proposed that no proxies should be allowed. Although it was an election and not a meeting, President Gray allowed the motion, as proposed and passed, to stand, and ballots were issued only in person to those who were certified student subscribers. Lawyer's friends had a number of proxies that they were unable to vote and asked that the motion be set aside as this was an election and not a business meeting at which motions should be considered. President Gray ruled that no objections had been made when the motion was proposed and the voting went on. Now the question as to the constitutionality of proxies is causing trouble. President Gray is undecided about the question and says that if he decides that the use of proxies is legal, a new election will be called. It is very probable that the election will stand.

Constitution Doesn't Say.

The constitution of The Kansas Aggie makes no ruling as to proxies. If voting by proxies should not be allowed, even if not specifically provided for, then the election should stand. If proxies are allowable, as long as the use of proxies is not specifically denied, then the election will be illegal, and there is nothing to do but call a new election. The matter is to be referred to a member of the history faculty, versed in parliamentary law. If the election was illegal, it will be so announced by President Gray.

Used the Telephones.

Unusual interest was shown in the election, and when it was learned that voting by proxies was not possible, both sides kept the telephones busy hurrying lazy voters to the polls. Friends of Williamson went to the election primed to put through the motion to disregard proxies, and succeeded.

The election board consisted of President Gray, Ralph Messer and Herman Tagge. The voting lasted from 3:30 to 5:30, and the votes were then counted.

FRESH TRACK MEN APPEAR.

Fine Material in This Branch of Athletics.

The freshmen track athletes have been called out and should prove formidable foes to the other class track athletes in this year's interclass meet. Many of the best track men now in school are freshmen and are unable weight. Refreshments were served to compete for the varsity colors. The date for the interclass meet has not been set but probably will be held some time in May.

Teeters, winner of the mile event in last year's Fifth congressional district meet, is the mainstay of the freshmen in the distance events. Colth will be strong in the weights and the quarter. Lobdell, Hurst, Shelly, St. John and Vandenburg are crack sprinters. Vandenburg and St. John are classy in the hurdle events. Frizzell is a fast timber topper. The high jump will be well cared for by Frizzell and Adams, the two best leapers in school. Cunningham is a good shotputter. Edwards, individual point winner at the Topeka state meet last season, is eligible to compete for the freshmen. With hard and careful training Edwards should make a good man.

LIBRARY RECEIVES $800 GIFT

CARNEGIE INSTITUTION SENDS VALUABLE PUBLICATIONS.

Trained Assistants and Raising Entrance Requirements Helped Put K. S. A. C. on the List.

The college library has received a gift of the full set of publications of the Carnegie institution of Washington. It also will receive the future volumes published by this institution. The volumes just received aggregate in value $800 at publication prices.

This is probably the most important single acquisition that the library has ever received. The most notable research work in this country is being done by the aid of this institution. These studies embrace a wide variety of subjects—biology, zoology, geology, entomology, linguistics, history, literature, astronomy, economics and bibliography. Nearly every field of university study is represented.

This institution is quite conservative in the free distribution of its publications, placing only the best institutions and those with efficient library organizations on its "Omnia List." Two years ago this college was refused these publications, but with the recent raising of the standard of entrance requirements and the appointment of trained assistants in the library the objections have been withdrawn and the college honored with the grant.

A Correction.

In a recent report of the election of officers of the junior class, Raymond Schafer should have been named as manager of athletics.

INSPECT CORPS APR. 22

CAPTAIN RAYMOND WILL "LOOK OVER" THE ROOKIES.

A SHAKEUP AMONG THE OFFICERS

Appointments Made to Fill Resignations of Three Captains—"Signing the Pledge."

With the annual inspection of the cadet corps by an officer detailed by the department of war only a short time distant, April 22, and the battalion changed from six to four companies and with new captains for some of the companies, the cadets will have strenuous work ahead to be in shape for the inspection. Captain M. H. Raymond of the general staff will make the inspection, coming here from Oklahoma A. and M.

Guarded Against Resignations.

There has been a shake-up among the officers of the cadet corps. Lieutenant Hill wished the commissioned officers to sign an agreement that they would not resign during the present college year unless in case of absolute necessity and then only when approved by the commandant of cadets. Two of the captains did not wish to sign, and so resigned. Although the agreement seems hardly necessary, Lieutenant Hill says that he wished to guard against any resignations at inopportune times and for insufficient reasons. Commissioned officers in the cadet corps are juniors and seniors and take office with the understanding that they will serve the year. The major and one other captain have resigned because of other college work.

The Appointments.

The new appointments are: Cadet Lieutenant Linn to be captain of Company B; Cadet Lieutenant Lillard to be captain of Company D; Lieutenant Fellows assigned to Company C.

ENGINEERS SMOKE UP.

Kansas City Architect Talks to Association.

The Engineering Association met for a social time Monday night in the Carnegie library. H. F. Holt, an architect of Kansas City, talked of the relation of architecture to the other engineering professions. Mr. Holt is a classmate of Dean McCormick and has been successful in his work. Short talks were made by Dean McCormick and Professor Walters. The cigars, one engineer said, were as strong as steel trusses, and some of the pros had trouble sustaining the

DISCUSS RURAL QUESTIONS.

Y. M. C. A. Workers Hold Two-Day Session.

The conference of rural workers of the Y. M. C. A. began Thursday afternoon in the Old Chapel. Henry Wallace, of nation-wide reputation as the editor of Wallace's Farmer, spoke on the "Challenge of the Country." An address was given by A. H. Mallott of Abilene. A full account of the convention cannot be given in this issue, but will follow later. The conference adjourned last night.

Miss Jessie Kaiser, formerly of K. S. A. C., and Edwin Granfield, '11, were married last week. Mr. and Mrs. Granfield left here immediately for Howard Lake, Minn., where Mr. Granfield is teaching in the high school.

ANNUAL CONCERT PLEASES

COLLEGE MUSICIANS PLAY TO APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE.

A Crowd That Should Have Been Larger Enjoys a Good Program.

A score of times as large a crowd should have heard the annual concert of the college band as did. But it was a satisfied audience that listened to excellent music Wednesday night in the Auditorium. From the opening number to the close of the program there was nothing to mar the enjoyment of the evening. A program of proper length, well played, with unusually good solo work, thoroughly enjoyable, it was a treat that too many missed. For two successive years bad weather has cut down the crowd at the concerts. The appreciation has been untouched.

One number that especially pleased was the first, "Patriotic Airs of Two Continents." The piece was rather long, but the interest stood the test. "William Tell" always pleases. S. L. Reeves played a baritone solo, "The Old Home Down on the Farm," that was unusually well done, and an encore was demanded, and given. A cornet duet, "The Two Little Bulfinches," struck the crowd's fancy and was warmly applauded.

Burr H. Ozment, the leader, has been here two years and in that time has succeeded in producing bands above the average of college organizations. Much of the ability of these musicians is due to him as well as to the members of the organization who give their time and talent to the work.

MAY PLAY IT MONDAY

POSTPONED NORMAL CONTEST MAY BE THEN.

WET GROUNDS HINDER PRACTICE

Friday's Battle May Not Come Until After May 1—Chinese Team Is Next.

Owing to wet grounds, the Kansas State Normal-Aggie baseball game, which was to have been played yesterday, was postponed indefinitely. Yesterday morning Coach Lowman said that he had suggested to Coach Crispen that the game be played on Monday afternoon. The Emporia team is scheduled to play two games on the trip, the first with the Aggies and the second with Quigley's St. Marys team. If arrangements can be made with Quigley to play his team on Tuesday, the Crispen nine will probably face the Aggies on Monday, if the weather permits. The coach is of the opinion that the Normals will not be met until some time in May.

Field Drains Slowly.

All of the outdoor sports have been completely demoralized by the bad weather of the past week. The athletic field is in bad shape. The field is drained by gravity instead of tilling and the result is that the grounds are unfit for use for many days following a heavy rain. If the money that has been spent from time to time on the field had been spent in putting the grounds into first class shape at the start, much would have been saved and the athletes would have had a better opportunity to keep in condition.

Chinese Come Tuesday.

Coach Lowman has dismissed practice for the week and has been working out the battery men only. Lester Pollom has been troubled with a sore pitching arm but is improving slowly. Bailey, Ferrier, Sullivan and Rhodes have been working out every night in preparation for next week's games. The Chinese University of Honolulu comes Tuesday to meet the Aggies. This team has been playing a number of teams in this section and is reputed to be some ball playing crowd.

SET "THE TIME" FOR APRIL 21.

The Dramatic Club will present "The Time of His Life" April 21. The cast is hard at work, using the supper hour for rehearsals. The play is suitable for production by college people and adapted to please college audiences.

Prof. E. P. Johnson is drilling the cast.

CONCERNING PROXIES.

At the election Thursday the question of voting by proxy caused a lot of trouble. The constitution does not specify any procedure as to the use of proxies. Many thought that proxies were allowable. In fact, friends of both candidates for the office sent out proxies to subscribers, with places for signatures. As a result, many who could not conveniently be present sent proxies that could not be voted, according to the motion that was passed. Considerable complaint ensued.

The question as to whether or not it was a meeting or just an election is not the fundamental question. If proxies are legal, then a new election must be called. If they are not, then the election stands. President Gray has said that he does not know what should be the decision on this, despite the willingness of many to advise him. The question will be given fair consideration and decided on its merits. It is doubtful if the result would have been essentially different had proxies been allowed.

In the old elections of The Students' Herald proxies were used, and usually a hatful of proxies was necessary for the transaction of the business of the meeting.

Under the new plan, plenty turn out to vote, and with a large noise. What then, to do with the question? The constitution does not specify, and that is eliminated.

President Gray has given his promise that the question will be decided fairly, and with this assertion both sides should be satisfied. When the decision is announced, there is only one thing to do: Accept it in the right spirit and not allow any grudges to get in the way of a clear and sane view of the question.

It would be a whole lot better if there were not voting by proxy and no need of it. But is it legal or not? That's the question. What's the answer?

TO CORRECT AN ERROR.

The statement was made in the recent campaign for the election of officers of The Kansas Aggie that the business manager and subscription manager refused to allow a candidate to see the subscription list. The statement was made with a misunderstanding. The subscription manager did not have a revised typewritten copy, but a card-indexed system, of the subscribers, and informed the candidate that he could obtain the list at the office of The Daily Nationalist. Upon application at The Nationalist, because the candidate did not have a written order from the circulation manager, The Nationalist office informed him that it was impossible for him to show the list. They were not informed as to the matter. The candidate could have secured the necessary permission from the circulation manager of The Kansas Aggie. The refusal of the Nationalist to show the subscription list was proper and they had not been informed as to the matter. The statement that the circulation manager had been unfair was unjust and unmerited.

ANYBODY SEEN THE MOVIES?

Films Were to Be Prepared Here Today.

Has anybody seen the movie people who were to be here Friday and Saturday to prepare films of the college? The arrangements were concluded last week but at noon yesterday no word had been received from the Denver Film company, who were to take care of the work. The arrangements were made by Dean Miller, who has been out of town this week.

Freshmen Lose to '18 Team Tuesday.

The final game of the series tournament will be played Monday afternoon at 3:30, the sophomores meeting the seniors for the championship. Admission is by invitation ticket only.

The senior-freshmen contest proved to be a case of too much Goheen. Goheen scored 17 points for the seniors. Meldrum starred for the freshmen, showing remarkable cleverness on the floor and drawing applause with her one-handed shots. The summary:

TWO BOARDS ARE HERE

ADMINISTRATORS, PRESENT AND FUTURE, ARE HERE NOW.

STUDYING CONDITIONS AND NEEDS

Two Former Regents Were Reappointed, Edward Taylor and W. E. Blackburn—The New Ones.

The board of regents of the college and the members of the educational administration board are meeting here this week. The present board of regents, appointed by Governor Hodges, holds office until July 1, when the administration board takes the place of the regents of the university, agricultural college and normal school. Until that time the members of the newly created board are visiting the various institutions that will be under their control, with the view of learning the needs and conditions of the institutions. The college faculty has planned a reception in honor of the guests for Thursday night.

The New Regents.

Two members of the former board of regents were reappointed. Edward Taylor, president of the board, was reappointed by Governor Hodges, as was W. E. Blackburn of Anthony, Kan. The other members of the board are:

Sen. William W. Price, Madison; A. J. Morris, Hill City; C. W. Carson, Ashland; Abe Giltner, jr., Wamego.

About the Administration Board.

Mrs. Cora G. Lewis, one of the three members of the administration board, is an able woman. She is the wife of J. W. Lewis of the Kinsley Graphic. E. W. Hoch of Marion was governor of Kansas from 1905 to 1909. He established the Marion Record in 1874 and until a few years ago was editor of that paper. Mr. Hackney, the other member of the board, is a graduate of K. U. of the class of '95. He has practiced law at Wellington for some years.

The boards will be here most of this week. Members of the two boards will be chapel speakers from time to time. All students are urged to be present at the chapel exercises of the week.

SPRING SQUAD NUMBERS 30.

Football Men Have Warm Weather Workouts Under Stahl.

Thirty men have responded to Coach Lowman's call for spring football training and are working out daily in the city park under the leadership of Elmer Stahl, 1912 All-Kansas end. Many new men are out for the work and the coach is well satisfied with the outlook. The veterans are taking to the work well and many men from the freshman and class team squads are running through the limbering up work each day. Suits have been, and will be, issued to all eligibles for the 1913 varsity. The following men are at work: Baker, Sharp, Stahl, H. A. Wagner, H. O. Wagner, Norby, Fletcher, Micheals, Sidorfsky, Weygandt, Haucke, Richards, Dickenson, Busenbark, Coxen, Hartwig, Jones, Carver, Croyle, Burtes, Schafer, Boyer, Wehrle, Cusic, F. Root, Burkholder and Wright.

WEARIN' O' TH' GREEN.

Green-Hatted Freshies Come Charging Up the Hill.

Freshman hats appeared for the first time Tuesday morning, when more than an hundred members of the '16 class came marching up the hill with gay millinery. The hats are of felt, fitting closely over the head and with short brims. The first order was for 110, but more probably will be ordered to meet the demand. The colors are in sections of cream and green. When the chapel bell rang Tuesday morning the freshmen "ganged" together and went over to the exercises with a loud noise.

The class voted to wear the hats without compulsion on the part of the upper classes. The girls of the class are wearing them also. No one is compelled to wear the hats, but the members seem to be pleased with the idea.

The wearing of the hats occasioned considerable comment. "Oh! You Freshman," was heard everywhere a freshee with his loud top knot appeared.

ROYAL PURPLE RANKS HIGH.

Bureau of Engraving Says Class Book Is Sure to Please.

A letter from the Bureau of Engraving, the firm that is doing work for the Royal Purple this year, says that the annual will be a top-notch in every respect. Compared with the annual of Cornell, Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and other colleges, Royal Purple will take its place well to the front in uniformity of design, construction and high grade engraving and printing.

K. S. A. C. CALENDAR.

April 25—Debate Kansas Normals at Emporia.

May 17—State high school track meet here.

June 18—Spring term closes.

June 19—Commencement day. Summer session starts.

Chairman Jones left for Kansas City Tuesday with the last manuscript for the Royal Purple. He says the volume will be out about the first of June.

NEEDS HELP FOR H. S. MEET

HOLLOWAY, '07, WILL PILOT SPECIAL TRAIN HERE.

An Excursion Leaves Blue Rapids Friday Morning for a Visit to K. S. A. C.

A. D. Holloway, '07, has the right spirit. He will have charge of a special train that will come to Manhattan Friday of this week from Marshall county to visit the college. Mr. Holloway is the secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Marshall county, with headquarters at Blue Rapids. The special will be run over the Blue Valley branch of the Union Pacific, starting from Blue Rapids Friday morning.

Mr. Holloway was in Manhattan last week to attend the rural conference. In speaking of the proposed trip, he said: "We expected to bring the special with us for this conference but the arrangements could not be made. But we expect to have more than a hundred come down Friday. The excursion will not be limited to students, but many others from the county will take this chance to see the college. No special program has been prepared for us, but we will all go to the ball game in the afternoon between the Aggies and Nebraska."

Many of those who will come here are high school students and will take this chance to look the college over, get catalogues and prepare to enroll next fall. The Marshall county club here is making plans to show the visitors over the campus and make the stay pleasant for them.

AGGIE ELECTION STANDS

PRES. GRAY DECIDES AGAINST VOTING BY PROXY.

NEW OFFICERS WILL BEGIN WORK

Prof. R. R. Price Hands Down a Decision of Constitutionality—There Will Be No Contest.

George Gray, president of The Kansas Aggie, has decided that the voting by proxy in the election of officers of the company is not legal and that the election of Thursday of last week is legal. The vote stands. The officers elected at that time take office at once. They are: Russel Williamson, business manager; W. A. Sumner, managing editor; A. P. Davidson, circulation manager; Jay Stratton, assistant business manager.

Prof. R. R. Price was consulted about voting by proxy, and gave as his opinion that the proxies could not be used unless the constitution specifically provided for it, which it does not. To make sure, he talked with Mr. Evans and Mr. Hessin, Manhattan attorneys, and they agreed with him that proxies could not be used unless specifically provided for in the constitution.

TAKE THE MOVIES TOMORROW.

Denver Company Makes Delayed Films Here.

The movies will be prepared here Thursday and Friday. The time has at last been definitely decided upon. The movie men were expected here Friday and Saturday of last week, but were in Texas and busy with pictures of Texas lands and Texas towns. Texas is on a boom, you know.

A representative of the Denver Film Company, which will prepare the films, will be here tonight to plan the battle. Thursday the firing begins. Lining up for chapel, laboratory classes and other gatherings will appear in the films. The films will be shown here about two weeks from Saturday. That is the present plan. They will be in the Auditorium.

INTERCLASS MEET APRIL 21.

Varsity Men May Compete, but Scores Don't Count.

The annual interclass meet will be held on the college field April 21. Representatives of the four upper classes will participate. Many good men are working out for this meet and the competition will be keen.

The varsity men will be allowed to run in the events for the sake of the competition, but their points will not count on the final scores toward the interclass championship. Each class will be permitted to enter four men and start two in each event. The meet will start at 2:30 sharp and no admission will be charged.

HAMPS WIN FROM WEBS.

Saturday's Game Was Contested—Scores Were Mixed.

The Hamp-Web baseball game, played in the city park last Saturday afternoon, terminated in a battle royal between the various scorers and was finally settled in favor of the Hamps, the final score standing 10 to 9. In the first three innings the Webster batters found the Hamp twirlers for seven runs. In the fifth and sixth the Hamps retaliated and gained a one run lead. Then it was that the scorers erred and great tact on the part of the spectators finally ironed out the difficulty.

MORAL: DON'T BE A THESPIAN.

Dramatic Club Cast Spends Long Hours in Rehearsals.

The way of a Thespian is hard, very hard. Members of the Dramatic Club have as their hard lot much work, long rehearsals and a lunch served while waiting for cues. The Dramatic Club is to present "The Time of His Life" April 21 in the Auditorium. A lunch is brought up to the hungry Thespians at 6 o'clock and then they mix lines with bites of ham sandwiches. The cast includes: Tom Harris, Alma Halbower, E. H. Smiles, Edna Colth, Gail Tatman, Robert Hood, Clarence Hildebrand, J. D. Reeves, Ralph Musser. Prof. E. P. Johnston has charge of the training.

The Antex entertained at dinner Sunday Mrs. Van Zile, Miss Hemmlein, Miss Addie Root, Miss Lynne Hillsbeck, Miss Drusilla Halleck and Miss Madge Reilly of Emporia.

Karl B. Musser, '12, who won the Holstein Friesen scholarship at the International Dairy Show in 1912, is taking post-graduate work at the University of Missouri. He has been granted a fellowship in the department of Dairy Husbandry.

MARSHALL RUNS A SPECIAL

COACH LOWMAN PREPARES FOR THE STATE MEET.

President Waters Grants Half-Holiday—A Committee of Students From All Districts.

The state high school track meet is to be held here May 17. President Waters has made the announcement of a half-holiday for the meet. Coach Lowman desires to have ready for the visitors an entertainment committee of students, some from each congressional district. This committee will have charge of inviting and entertaining the visitors. So show up around the coach's office, as he desires to make his plans and have them announced so that the meet will be a success in every way.

This meet will be the wind-up of a series of elimination contests being held in the various congressional districts now. Winners of the first two places in these meets are eligible for competition here. The meet was held at Topeka last year, but was transferred here by the wish of the State High School Athletic Association.

Many prizes are to be given at this meet. Arthur Capper, former regent of this college and the owner of the Capper publications, is the donor.

This "Novelty" Pleased A. B's. At the Alpha Beta society Saturday night, Miss Doris McKee, who was on the program for a "novelty" number, invited the society to her home, 920 Moro, next Friday night.

WIN THE DUAL DEBATE

FAIRMOUNT LOSES TWO CONTESTS TO AGGIE DEBATERS.

MAKES FIVE STRAIGHT VICTORIES

Ostrum Squad Kills Judicial Decisions at Wichita, Saves Them Here Friday Night.

The Aggies' debaters made it five straight by winning a dual contest from Fairmount last Friday night on the question of the recall of judicial decisions. The decisions, both here and at Wichita, were two to one in favor of the Aggies. The Fairmount team here was Miss Maloney, Marjorie MacMahon and John Scott. The Aggie team here was Carl Mattson, W. L. Sweet and Floyd Hawkins, speaking in order named. The rebuttals were given by Scott and Hawkins. Hawkins' rebuttal was a feature and was a big factor in the decision. The judges here were Professor Jewell of the Kansas State Normal; Principal Ed Stanley of the Topeka schools; and J. W. Kelley, secretary of the Topeka Commercial Club. Prof. J. E. Kammeyer presided.

Victors Took Negative.

In both cases the visiting team took the negative side. The K. S. A. C. team at Wichita was Glen Hamilton, Leonhart Swingle and W. E. Grimes. This makes five victories without a defeat. The Aggie debaters have won successive contests with the Kansas Wesleyans, Oklahoma A. and M., Colorado and Fairmount. This is the first dual debate, although the debate with Oklahoma and Colorado might be considered one as they came the same night as contests of the tri-state league.

These Coaches Helped.

Much of the success of the present season is due to efficient coaching as well as to the debaters who have shown their worth. Professor Ostrum has had direct charge of the squad and has given much time and personal attention to the work. Professor Searson has aided in thought and composition and brought into play his experience of many contests. Professor Kammeyer and Professor Johnston have coached the debaters in delivery and this has helped them much in the presentation of their arguments.

CONFERENCE CLOSES FRIDAY.

Rural Y. M. C. A. Workers Hold Successful Two-Day Session.

The conference of the county Young Men's Christian Association of the state closed Friday night with a banquet at the association building. Sessions were held at the college Thursday afternoon, Friday morning and afternoon, at the Baptist church Thursday night and at the association building Friday night. Ninety attended the banquet. The conference was an inspiration to those who attended. The date for the next meeting was not set. The convention adopted resolutions thanking the college, the churches of Manhattan and all others who helped to make the conference a success.

Many prominent speakers were here. Among these were: Uncle Henry Wallace, of Iowa; Warren H. Wilson, of the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions; Dr. Frank K. Sanders, of Washburn College; A. A. Hyde of Wichita; C. A. Richards, of Goff; Prof. W. A. McKeever; M. H. Malott; Prof. E. L. Holton; A. D. Holloway, secretary of the association of the association of Marshall county; A. E. Roberts, international county secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; Guy T. Gebhardt, secretary of Republic county Y. M. C. A.

Harvest item—Az Endacott's gon-tee continues to grow.

The Kansas Aggie wishes to thank Professor Price for his help in deciding the constitutionality of the proxy question. It settled the noise.

Manhattan will have no high school graduating class for two years. The course has been changed to four years instead of two, as it was heretofore.

If a senior who dines at the domestic science hall nowadays wishes to get in bad, the easiest way is to eat the lettuce. It is the custom of the cooks to cut down expenses by washing the lettuce after every meal. A good substantial piece of lettuce can be made to last six or seven meals if properly cared for.

The Bureau of Engraving tells us that Royal Purple will "fairly glow with the spirit of of higher education and every section of the book will have a touch of local color." Which, we take it, is a guarantee that all the cartoons and pictures turned in will be used. Look out when the storm breaks!

A PROGRESSIVE LIBRARY.

What would a college be without a library? The recent gift of the Carnegie Institution of Washington to this college of $800 in publications of that institution and the promise of all publications in the future is a proof that the efficient work done here under the direction of A. B. Smith is recognized elsewhere. The library here is, although hampered by lack of funds, is doing a very valuable work in helping the progress of this school. At the same time it is being built up to a higher standard. Even if people do get called down for whispering, and even if date-makers do find it hard to have to break off just as She is ready to say "Yes," the library is filling a very important place in the advancement of the college.

AN ALL-VICTORIOUS TEAM.

With only one hurdle left to take in the debating race, and that without timers or judges, the debating squad enters into the coveted circle of all-victorious teams. The debaters are to be congratulated on the successful season. Successive victories have been won over the Kansas Wesleyans, Colorado Aggies and Oklahoma Aggies in the tri-state league, and the Fairmount expounders humbled twice in one swoop. The college has never known a more successful season since intercollegiate debating was established.

This success is due to three things: The ability of the debaters; their earnest, persevering work; the efficient coaching they have received from Professors Ostrum, Searson, Kammeyer and Johnston. Here is one team, and it is unique in that respect, that has won a string of victories with little help from those on the sidelines, because there have been few on the sidelines. The student body gets credit for debating victories without helping out the way it should.

Interest in debate has been sadly lacking. Other college activities have almost shoved debate off the map in the matter of interest to the students at large. Next year some means will be provided to make the attendance larger. Professor Searson is working on such a plan. But it will take something that is a revival of interest among the students before best results in a financial way are obtained.

Even As You and I

"Fellows," said the Simp, as he entered the room where the Gink and the Pessimist were putting on the latest version of the Dance of the Seven Vells, "I wish you wouldn't make so much noise."

"What's the matter, Simp?" inquired the Pessimist.

"Oh, I feel awful! My mind is far away," he moaned. "My mind and heart are in the city where She is! Ah—this is a sad and empty world when you're far away from the one you love."

"Why, Simp," cried the Gink, in accents wild, "are you ill, or has the rain leaked through your shingles?"

"Don't joke with me, fellows. I'm desperate, I am. I feel as if I could maul someone."

"Start in on me, Simp," cordially invited the Pessimist. "I know of nothing that I would enjoy more."

It might be well to explain here that when the Simp returned from The Only Town on Earth he spent the greater part of his waking hours in exhibiting a sorority pin which he wore upon his proudly palpitating bosom. In fact, the Simp has been all out of shape for the past week, due to the contortions he has subjected his frail corpus to in advertising this inoffensive emblem of affection.

When he entered the Pessimist's room for the first time since his return he pointed to the pin and said:

"See that? Huh? Do you know what that means? Huh? Huh, kid? Know what that means? Huh?"

"I can't imagine," blankly answered the Pessimist.

The Simp was disappointed at this seeming lack of knowledge on the part of the Pessimist, but he was not abashed.

"I'm engaged!" After which announcement he proceeded to laugh hysterically and punch the Pessimist in the ribs, all of which filled that gentleman with an unholy desire to laugh, swear, yell, and most of all to take the small bunch of fat nonentity and smear it around over the floor. He did not yield to these temptations, however, and for the first time in his life he was at a loss for words. He was dumb. Meanwhile the Simp continued to dance and prance around him and sputter like an animated ketchup bottle.

If the Independent Man had not entered a moment later, it is probable that the Pessimist would have been asphyxiated.

The Independent Man had been engaged to a perfectly nice girl at home, for several years. The Simp knew this and he greeted him thusly:

"Well, old man, all the rest of these fellows have dates, but you and I. Of course, you and I are just the same as gone, anyway, so they don't care for us. We'll have to chum together now, I guess, huh? Ain't that what you say, huh?"

The Independent Man dropped into a chair and howled. The Pessimist fainted. Later, the Independent Man suggested lunch.

"Oh, I guess I won't go to lunch. I ain't got no appetite nowadays," said the Simp with a sick calf look in his eyes. "I ain't got no appetite since I left her." He gazed pathetically at the Independent Man, whom he insisted on treating as a brother-in-sorrow. "I sympathize with you, old pal, I sympathize with you."

On the way to lunch the Pessimist snorted:

"What gets me is how in the devil he got that sorority pin."

IT WAS A ROTTEN GAME

AGGIES LOSE TO NORMALS MONDAY, 10 TO 8.

POOR INFIELD WORK LOST IT

Visitors Added Successive Boneheads to Stolen Bases and Occasional Hits—The Score:

Successive boots and boneheads by the Aggie infield dropped Monday afternoon's game to the Kansas Normals, 10 to 8. The Aggies erred at critical times and the Crispen crew ran wild on the bases. That tells the tale. Sullivan was not hit hard at any time, but the miserable support he received allowed run after run to cross the pan. Pollom worked well in the final innings, with the same result as Sullivan.

Aggies Broke Into Last Column.

Four errors in the opening round gave the Normals two runs. The Aggies scored two in their own half of the first. Beaman and Dresser got on by errors and scored when McCallum doubled to left. The Aggies broke the tie in the third by counting two on a walk, an error and a single by Cleland.

Those Last Two Innings.

The Normals counted once in the fifth and two in the sixth. The Aggies marked in the sixth. Then came the seventh with heavy hitting and incomparable boneheads. The Emporia team scored four times. Lowman's team annexed three runs, leaving the Normals still in the lead. In the eighth, Agnew singled to center, Knaus flew out. Pollom went out, pitcher to first. Briney, who qualified as hero pinch hitter in the previous inning, came up and the bug "hollered" for a long clout. Briney went out with a grounder to third. In the final session, Beaman struck out. Dresser flew out to short and Cleland grounded out, third to first. One long groan and the crowd went home. The score:

SUMMARY.

Two-base hits—Pierson, 2; McConnell, Briney, 2; McCallum. Struck out—By Sullivan, 3; by Crosswhite, 2; by Miller, 2; by Pollom, 3. Double play—Beaman to Agnew to Knaus. Umpire, Moore, Kansas State League.

NOTES OF MONDAY'S GAME.

Occasional Brilliant Plays Helped Toward Redemption.

The game was not without its redeeming features, even from the Aggies' standpoint. Briney won a home in the seventh, when he was sent in to hit for Vadakin. He drove a long one down the third base line for two sacks. He went to third on Beaman's single to right, and came home when Dresser hit.

Pollom has been nursing a sore arm and shoulder and taking treatment in the hope of getting in the game. He went in to work the last three innings of the game Monday and although he held himself in, showed that he still has the stuff. He will be in shape for Friday's game, unless the trouble grows worse.

Hill, the Normal center fielder, made a pretty catch of Sullivan's smash in the fourth.

The Normals ran wild on the bases and even "Swud's" shotgun peg could not check the thieving. But the Aggie pitchers had windups that took as long as cranking a car on a winter's morning. Sullivan winds up slowly and Pollom lacked his usual alacrity in getting rid of the ball with men on.

Agnew surprised the crowd by musing a few of the grounders Monday.

GOSSIP OF COLLEGE CIRCLES.

Bits of News From Other Campus Crowds.

George Dalton, former Baker football star, and counted upon to wear the Crimson and Blue at K. U. next fall, has left the university. He was the man who kicked Baker to victory over the Aggies in 1911.

"Grip" Gray, who will be director of athletics at Washburn next fall, has a good record to go on. He is at present coach at Oberlin College, Ohio.

Girls at the University of Nebraska may win their N's for playing on class basketball teams, for winning first, second or third place in a track event, and for receiving E's for work in physical education. The plan has been adopted at Iowa and Wisconsin also.

Specials Must Drill, Is the Order.

Special men students are being held for drill. That is the announcement that has gone out. ## SET DATE OF MAY FETE

Y. W. AND Y. M. CHOOSE SIXTEENTH FOR ANNUAL FESTIVAL.

OFFER TWO PRIZES FOR STUNTS

A Senior Girl Will Be Chosen Queen of the May—Some New Features.

The annual May Festival promoted by the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. will be May 16. Plans have been started well and college organizations have pledged their support. The organizations have been notified of the program and notice of all stunts must be turned in not later than tonight to Miss Laura Fate, Miss Margaret Huston or Miss Clara Hoaglin. The Queen of the May will be elected, following the custom of former years, though the method of election has not been settled. Voting may be by all college people, or only those who buy tickets before the festival. But the queen must be chosen from the senior class. Two prizes are offered, $25 and $15. The organization winning either prize may choose a representative to attend the annual association conference in Colorado, the amount of the prize to apply on the expenses of the trip. But that is the only way in which the prizes may be used. Roy Jaccard is business manager of the festival.

Stage It East Of Auditorium.

The festival will be staged east of the Auditorium, as heretofore. The procession preceding the crowning of the May Queen will start at 3:30 in the afternoon. The events will last all afternoon and well into the evening. Supper will be served on the campus. Various organizations will have refreshment booths. The Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. furnish the booths and the refreshments and the members of the organizations will do the "spieling" and money changing. Several new features are promised. Beside the customary drill there will be moonlight drills, the managers say. A band concert after supper will hold the crowd also.

Lend Money To Students.

Admission to the campus will be charged the afternoon of the festival. With the proceeds of the day, many students, who could not otherwise go may attend the annual conference of the Y. W. C. A. at Cascade, Colo., or that of the Y. M. C. A. Estes Park in the same state. The money that the associations obtain above expenses will be loaned to students who wish to attend the conference. The money is to be paid back following graduation or leaving college.

ADOPT ROYAL PURPLE PLAN?

K. U. Juniors Will Change the Jayhawker System.

The junior class at K. U. probably will adopt the same plan for publishing the Jayhawker of next year as is used here. The university people have had hard times of late years with their annuals in the matter of management. The editor and a few others have had too much of a financial responsibility while not all the members of the class have had their share. The plan is to make the assessment the same as here, $10 on every senior.

PICK TENNIS MEN MONDAY.

Aggies Play Southwestern Here Next Week.

The tennis men met Tuesday night to plan for the coming season. Coach Lowman made a talk and announced that the first meet would be held with Southwestern here April 25 or 26. The date has not been set definitely. So the preliminary tournament will have to be held at once. Some of the singles will be played this week and the doubles Monday of next week. "Spin" Young was chosen tennis manager and is handling the bracket for the preliminaries. These will be held on various courts around town in round robin style. All entries should be handed to Young at once. So far the tournament has not attracted many.

The meet with Southwestern will be played in the city park. Washburn will send a team to meet the Aggies May 16.

CAN SENIORS BUY THE LIGHTS?

Financial Stringency Hampers the Memorial Prospects.

Will the seniors be able to leave any memorial this year? Will the class have any money left to buy a memorial? These questions are worrying the members of the committee that was appointed to get prices for the memorial the class decided upon: lights. At present the class has not enough money to buy the lights and install them. The only prospects seem to be the money left over after the publishing of the Royal Purple and the possible receipts of the class play. The lamps as planned would cost about $400. The plan is to have the lights about the same as last year. The bases are to be of Bedford rock, and the class numerals cut on the bases. The lights are to be placed in front of the gymnasium—perhaps.

Appoint Whitlock Treasurer.

Bert Whitlock has been chosen treasurer of the Royal Purple committee to take the place of George Kirkpatrick, who is not in college.

BOARD ELECTS WATERS

ADMINISTRATORS REAPPOINT PRESENT EXECUTIVE.

ANNOUNCEMENT WAS A SURPRISE

Board Did Not Wait Until July 1 to Choose the President of the College.

The board of administration, while at the college this week, unanimously re-elected H. J. Waters president of this college. The announcement was a surprise, as it was thought that the board would not consider the matter of faculty appointments until after July 1. But the board evidently did not think it necessary to wait until then and unanimously chose President Waters to again fill the executive position of this college. The members of the board of administration, Mrs. Cora Lewis, Ed Hackney and E. W. Hoch, were here this week and met in joint session with Regents Price, Carson and Taylor. The regents and the board were given a reception at the domestic science hall Thursday night by the faculty of the college.

Gone Hat-Mad.

The college people have the millinery craze hard. Friday the girls of the senior class bedecked themselves with white hats, according to the custom of former years. Then the junior girls made themselves paper hats with the class numerals inked in and went to chapel. They outshone the freshmen with their loud headgear.

Here's the Hamp Officers.

The officers of the Hamilton Literary Society for the spring term, elected at a recent meeting, are: President, J. B. Sweet; vice president, Doris L. McKee; secretary, Edith M. Batchelor; treasurer, Wilbur W. Wright; marshal, John Linn; assistant marshal, Paul D. Buchanan; class historian, Sadie Harris; member Students' Council, Oscar Davis; baseball manager, W. G. Bruce.

FRESHMEN DOPED TO WIN.

Interclass Track Meet Comes Monday Afternoon—It's Free.

The annual interclass outdoor track meet will be held next Monday afternoon on the college field. The first event will be called at 2:30. No admission will be charged. The four upper classes will tangle for the class championship, and judging from the number of men that are working on the athletic field each day, the meet will be fast. The varsity men will be allowed to enter the meet, but their points will not count in the final summation toward the class championship.

The freshmen seem likely winners in the going. Teeters is fast in the distances. St. John, Vanuenerg and Shelly are speedy dash men. Vandenberg is a clever hurdler. Edwards is fast over the low and high barriers and is also good in the high and broad leaps, and when through with these is still good for a place in the pole vault. Cunningham and Shelly will enter the weight events.

The three upper classes have shown but little enthusiasm over the meet and very few men are working out under the colors of these classes. Helt promises to be a bear in the sprints and the broad jump for the sophomore class and Colth, of the same class, should win points in the weights and the sprints.

STRONGEST LYCEUM COURSE.

That's the Assertion of a Bureau Representative.

The Kansas Agricultural College has the strongest lyceum course in the country, according to Mr. Good, a representative of the Mutual Lyceum Bureau, who was here Tuesday night to meet with the lyceum committee. The committee is planning the course for next year. Three numbers have been selected from a list of 100. Representatives of three other bureaus will be met before all the numbers of the course will be decided upon. Alfred Clapp is the committee chairman.

LET THE CURTAIN RISE

DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS A COMEDY MONDAY NIGHT.

PROCEEDS TO EQUIP THE STAGE

College Cast to Appear in "The Time of His Life" in the Auditorium.

The fifth annual play of the Dramatic Club, "The Time of His Life," will be given Monday evening in the Auditorium. The play is a comedy. The cast contains some of the best talent on the campus. No problems of state or society will be presented, neither will there be any protracted love struggles to the gone through. The play gives opportunity for skillful character acting. The proceeds will be used to equip the stage in the Auditorium.

Who'll Be the Butler?

The story hinges about the disappearance of Uncle Tom, the family butler, just when company comes to visit the Greys. Tom Carter, brother of Mrs. Grey, agrees to be Uncle Tom and it is about his troubles in the character of butler that "The Time of His Life" is had. Further interest is added to the impersonation because Tom Carter is engaged, secretly, to Dorothy Landon. Dorothy's father, a peppery person, has his share in the fun.

DEBATE NORMALS FRIDAY NIGHT

Aggies Close Season by First Contest With Emporians.

The last debate of the season will be at Emporia with the Normals next Friday night. The question is: "Resolved—That the constitution of the state of Kansas should be amended to provide for the initiative and referendum. The debate will be unusual in that there will be no judges. W. E. Grimes and W. G. Hamilton will make the trip and maintain the negative. The debating squad has won every debate this year and expects to win from the Normals. This is the first debate between these two schools.

PRIMPING WAS ALL IN VAIN.

Movie Men Moved On to Nebraska—Return in May.

The slow-moving movies have moved far away. They are now in Lincoln, Neb. The second plan, after the first visit here was postponed, was that the films should be prepared here Thursday and Friday of this week. The movie men came all right, but the college was not ready this time. Because of the events of the week and the visit of the regents of the college and the members of the educational administration board, President Waters was busy and could not make the arrangements. The movie men will return here in May, probably the week beginning May 12.

EDITORIAL

You'll have to give it to the band. People who will don the heavy suits and play on the parade ground for an hour and then come over to the ball game with the sun beating down as hot as it was Tuesday and play for a crowd of ball-crazy bleacherites deserve a whole lot of credit.

CROWDING TO THE FENCE.

What's the use in this ninth-inning, rush-to-the-fence business? It does not win ball games, and hurts the chances of an Aggie victory just as much by getting on the nerves of the Aggie batters as it does by rattling the opposing pitchers. It is not the kind of support that the team needs and has a right to expect. It is "small town stuff," nothing else. It has no place in college baseball. It's different from good, honest rooting.

It's all right to stand up in the bleachers in the "lucky seventh" or any other time, but this business of crowding down around the wires in the last of the ninth with the idea of grabbing a game with a mighty shout is all out of date and position. The majority of the bleachers crowd did not stage the fence rush. It does no good and only leaves a bad taste when the results show that it is no good. Stick with the team all the way through, cut out the yelling about the use of baskets, and the team will get on its feet and start off on the course in good style.

WRITE TO THE HIGH SCHOOLS.

Write to the high schools in your district, and urge them to send as many men to the state high school track and field meet here May 17 as they can enter. Every student should make some effort to swell the crowd here for that met. Write to the high schools and the high school friends in your home town and get them to attend. Even if they do not enter the meet, get them down here to see the meet and then show them that we have the best college in the world. Here is a golden chance for the students of the college to swell the attendance next fall. There will be a lot of good fellows and good football and baseball and track men here for that meet. Help out all you can. It means something.

SPECIAL TRAIN BROUGHT 200.

Marshall County Visitors Were Here Yesterday.

The Marshall county special came in yesterday morning and the Marshall county people, more than 200 strong, came up to the college at once. Members of the Marshall County Club of the college had planned a program for the day. The members of the club divided the visitors into squads and escorted them over the campus. The morning was spent at the domestic science hall and the north part of the campus. Lunch of coffee and sandwiches was served to the visitors in Main hall at noon by the Y. W. girls. In the afternoon the visitors saw the green houses and the printing plant and other things of interest. They were the guests of the athletic department at the ball game yesterday afternoon between the Aggies and the University of Nebraska. The special returned last night over the Blue Valley to Blue Rapids. A. D. Holloway, '07, promoted the excursion.

ARE YOU A WISE ONE?

They lounge in the shade o' th' stady stand,

With a palm leaf wagged by a lazy hand;

We work out heads off out in the hot sun,

By th' sweat of our brow to earn each run;

They nibble th' goober an' sip th' pop,

We run th' bags till we're ready to drop;

They loaf and laugh, we fight and fuss,

But it's them that knows th' game, not us.

We worry an' welter, stew an' swear,

To win them geezers a piker bet;

For nine long innings of strife and strain,

We bat an' battle with brawn and brain;

We hit th' ground with a lusty whack

That loosens our slats an' breaks our back;

Then ridin' home on th' trolley car

We learn what a bunch of dubs we are.

Oh! it's easy pickin' for Willie Wise,

An' Clever Clarence an' all them guys,

To take the game when it's all been played,

And show where every mistake was made;

An' tell how "Mac" could a-ketched thet fly,

An' how poor Agnew let that fling get by,

An' gist how easy we had 'em skun,

Two hours after the game is done.

No use talking; it sure beats all

How clever them guys kin jedge a ball,

Never a minute the hull game through,

But they knowed jest what to do;

Never a point would they overlook,

For they knowed th' game like an open book,

But say, gink, I wonder how they'd perform

Out in front of Lowman in a uniform?

With apologies to G. S. Applegarth.

Even As You and I

The Nice Girl had been up the night before, and she was sleepy when she climbed on the car at 9 o'clock one morning, for school. A all, rather angular looking young man was already on the car when she entered. He smiled at her when she at down, though not noticing particular whom she saw, she smiled at him. Then he came back and sat down by her and 'hey talked of many things.

The meanwhile, the Girl was searching her mind to remember who the man could be and where she had met him. She was certain that she knew him and had been introduced to him somewhere, but recall the circumstances she could not. But one meets many persons in college whose names escape one's memory, but this singularly attractive young man seemed to know her so well that she was very annoyed at not being able to recall who he was.

"What course are you taking?" she inquired during the conversation. She felt that perhaps he might be betrayed into speaking his name, or in some way reminding her who he was. "Mechanical engineering," he replied.

"Didn't you have a sister in school here last year?" she ventured.

"No, I didn't," he reluctantly admitted. "My sister is at K. U."

"It seems to me that I've met her somewhere. Isn't her name Louise?"

"No," he replied, somewhat wonderingly, "her name is Margaret."

Several other similar attempts to discover his identity failed. She disliked to admit that she had forgotten his name, but when they left the car and were walking toward the Auditorium, she said:

"Where was it that I met you? I know you, of course, but where it was that I met you I can't remember."

"I am sure I don't know," he said with a short apologetic laugh. "Perhaps I have met you somewhere, but—" he stopped in embarrassment, and then continued, "—but, I don't remember where it was, myself."

"Well—!" she stopped speaking with her mouth wide open.

"Now you're shocked, aren't you?"

There was a tone of regret in his voice. "Somehow, I fancied you would not mind my breaking over conventions to speak to you. You know, when I want to know a person, I don't believe in letting an introduction stand in my way. Are you angry?"

She murmured something about it being all right. She felt that to some extent she was to blame, for misleading him.

"No, I'm not angry," she smiled.

"May I go to chapel with you?" he asked as he might have asked a girl to marry him.

"I'm afraid not," she hastily answered. "I never go to chapel. And I don't believe in chapel dates." She wanted to get away.

Ten minutes later, when all heads were bowed in prayer, the Girl turned around in her seat in chapel and looked squarely into the eyes of the man who would not wait for an introduction. His face was serious and his eyes sad. But when she smiled, they brightened.

LOSE TO CHINA, 7 TO 3

AGGIES WERE OUTCLASSED IN TUESDAY'S GAME.

NEEDED HITS FAILED TO COME

Chinese University Took An Easy Game — Errors at Critical Times Helped Visitors.

The Chinese University of Honolulu baseball team defeated the Aggie team Tuesday afternoon by a score of 7 to 4. The Chinese played great ball all the way while the Aggies pulled bad plays in the pinches and failed to connect with Luck Yee's curves and alley balls when hits meant scores. The heady playing of the Chinese overwhelmed the Aggies, although the box score shows that the Orientals erred more times than did the Lowman crew. Pollom started in the box for the Aggies and was relieved by Bailey in the first of the sixth. Pollom has been troubled with a sore shoulder. Bailey held the visitors scoreless for the remainder of the game.

How The Scores Came.

The Chinese batters were retired in order in the opening chapter. McCallum, first up for the Aggies, lashed out a three-bagger to center field. Beaman flew out and Dresser singled to left, scoring McCallum. Dresser expired at the plate and Cleland was tossed out at third. The Chinks took two in the second, one in the third, and two each in the fourth and fifth. Bailey relieved Pollom in the first of the sixth and the worm turned. The Lowman crew pulled their second tally in the third inning when Dresser, Cleland and Agnew singled, Dresser scoring on Agnew's drive. In the sixth Agnew got a life through a dropped fly in the center garden. Agnew slipped around to third and scored on Bailey's sacrifice. This ended the scoring on both sides, the remainder of the game being marked by clean fast playing.

SUMMARY.

Left on bases—Aggies 9, Chinese 6. Wild pitch, Pollom. Two base hits—Ayan, Mark. Three base hits—Lee, McCallum. Struck out by Pollom, 3, by Bailey, 2, by Luck Yee, 5. Umpire—Moore, C. K. League.

NOTES ON THE GAME.

Umpire Fred Moore says that Luck Yee was putting 'em "down the old alley" for the majority of the game. Evenat that, it seemed that the Oriental had several of the Aggies "on his hip."

In the eighth, Briney, first up for the Aggies in that session, laced one out to the running track in left field, but Akana was waiting and Briney walked back to the bench.

McCallum slammed out a terrific three bagger in the first inning that might have been good for the fourth path had not the coacher held him up at the third sack. The way that the inning turned out proved that it worked out all right in the end.

The Orientals traveled the paths faster than any other team has that has played the Aggies this season. "Swud" Forsberg pegged one out at wooden rim of the running track. He could not get a good hold on the ball and fell back with his left ankle twisted and spained. He was about on crutches Tuesday and expects to be in shape to play again soon. Cle-second in the fourth and the Chink didn't quite understand how it all happened.

Juniors Will Hike.

After much discussion, the juniors have decided to take their proposed hike Monday afternoon. They will meet at the Auditorium at 1:30 Monday afternoon.

The college play is coached by Prof. Johnston. That means that if there is anything in the play it will be brought out. And there is a great deal in it, too. It is a live one you will see April 21.

HUTTO BREAKS RECORD

AGGIE CAPTAIN CLIPS 22 SECONDS OFF CROSS-COUNTRY.

FIRST OF THE TWO MILE RACES

Teeters Finished Second—McNall Set Former Mark in 1910—Track Squad Improves.

Louis Hutto, captain of the 1913 track team, won the first race of the annual cross country run for the Hamilton medal last Tuesday afternoon, covering the two miles in 22 seconds less than the record made by "Pete" McNall in 1910. Captain Hutto was not pushed hard at any stage of the race, Teeters, the Wamego wonder, finishing 100 yards in the rear. The remainder of the field was totally outclassed. The date for the second race has not been set. The former record was 10:17. Hutto made it in 9:55.

Washburn Drops Kansas Next.

Washburn has disappointed the Aggie track athletes again, which was expected. This time the Washburn management has called off the outdoor meet for which the Bryan squad was preparing. This is a keen disappointment to the Aggies as they have been working hard and each man is trained to the minute. The outdoor dual tangle with the Kansas cinder path enthusiasts is the next event in which the Aggies will participate. This is scheduled May 2 in Lawrence.

Squad Improves Rapidly.

Track work is booming along in great style. Hancock is running the sprints in good form, and overcoming the handicaps the coach places on him with great ease. Gates is proving to be a regular speed merchant. His work on the quarter promises to be a feature of each meet in which he enters. Young is clearing the bar nicely in the pole vault and doing creditable heights each night. "Mickie" Welch is the find in the low hurdles. His form over the low barriers is excellent. The rest of the squad is performing well.

Plenty of fun at the Dramatic Club play—no gloom—except for one or two of the actors.

Mr. Bonnett, of Howard, visited his son, Robert Monday.

WIN BY SEVEN POINTS

FRESHMEN COUNT 52½ POINTS IN INTERCLASS MEET.

SOPHS CAME SECOND WITH 45 1-2

No Records Broken, but Good Time Made—Varsity Men Played by Themselves.

The freshmen won the annual interclass track meet Monday afternoon on the college field. The first year men piled up a score of 52½ points. The sophs pulled second place with 45½ points to their credit, and the juniors nosed the seniors out by three points, 16 to 13. No records were broken. Considering the weather, the men made creditable showings in all of the events. The high jump proved the best event of the meet, Frizzell leaping 5 feet 7 inches to win.

Helt Had a Good Day.

Helt, the speedy sophomore, had little opposition in the dashes, winning the 100 and the 220 as he pleased. Stone braced against the strong wind and made the 440 in 54 2-5 seconds. Sutton jumped to the pole on the half and maintained that position throughout the race, winning easily in 2:07. Stone did well with the discus and Coith easily outdistanced his competitors in the shotput. Washington, sophomore, was not pushed and won the pole vault at 10 feet. Helt became individual point winner by winning the broad jump with a pretty leap of 20 feet 10 inches.

The varsity men did not compete in the meet. A tryout for these will be held next Saturday afternoon. Captain Hutto "warmed up" and as a workout ran the mile in 4:43. Hutto has been nursing a slightly sprained ankle the last week but will be in condition by the time the date for the Kansas meet rolls around.

WILL GIVE FOREIGN PAGEANT.

Y. W. Prepares Interesting Program for Thursday Night.

The Young Woman's Christian Association will meet at the Congregational church Thursday evening at 7:30. About 50 girls are to give the Foreign Association Pageant in four acts, showing the work of the association in China, India, South America and Japan. The girls will be dressed in the native costume and a chorus will sing the native songs, ending in a procession. This is the most elaborate program of its kind that has ever been given and all girls of the college are invited. An admission of 10 cents will be charged to cover costuming expenses.

ROOT CONSISTENTLY, SAYS V.E.M.

Roar That Greets Pinch Hitter Is Wrong, Says Fan.

To The Kansas Aggie:
May I register another kick against the rooters at the ball games? If so, here goes:

"What's the use" is being pretty well over-worked, but—"what's the use of this 'delirious' rooting when a pinch-hitter comes up to bat?" Consistent rooting is the thing, but when the rooting dies down to a murmur, to suddenly burst into a roar when a "pinch-hitter" walks up to the plate, only harm is done. It puts the other fellows "next" and you'll notice that they always "tighten up," just when they should be taken unawares. Either root consistently, or keep "mum" until the left-fielder climbs the west fence after a "pinch-hit."

GETS HARRISON FELLOWSHIP

A $700 HONOR TO PROF. ED D. McDONALD.

Associate Professor of English Literature Will Do Research Work at U. of Penn.

Professor Ed D. McDonald, of the department of English literature, has been offered, and has accepted, a $700 Harrison fellowship, to be applied at the University of Pennsylvania. He will attend the university next fall. The fellowship is one of the highest that can be obtained in this country. Twenty Harrison fellowships are given every year, but only two of these are in English work. Columbia and Harvard are the only two universities where fellowships of the standard of the Harrison fellowships are given.

Professor McDonald came to this college last fall to become associate professor of English literature. He will do research work in the English of the age of Chaucer, and will major in nineteenth century English literature. Professor McDonald has many friends who congratulate him on attaining the fellowship but regret that the college is to lose a member of the faculty who has found an enviable place in the work of his department and of the college and with the members of his classes.

PLAY TO LARGE HOUSE

DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS "THE TIME OF HIS LIFE."

PARTS WERE WELL CARRIED OUT

College Thespians Carried Tom Carter Through Mishaps to a Happy Climax.

He who missed the fifth annual college play missed "The Time of His Life." It was an all-star cast, each one playing his part exceptionally well.

Miss Halbower was more than good in the leading part. Miss Coith bore her domestic afflictions with great fortitude. Miss Tatman was an engaging girl. It was a question who made a better Uncle Tom, Mr. Reeves or Mr. Musser. E. H. Smiles in his part was clever. Hunt, Harris and Hildebrandt were equally good.

A large audience appreciated the fact that the cast was well trained by Professor Johnston.

The story builds itself about the absence of Uncle Tom, butler for the Greys, and the effort of Tom Carter to act as butler and not fall from grace in the eyes of Mr. Landon, father of Dorothy Landon, the girl to whom Tom is engaged. Tom finally comes out of the fray victorious, gets Dorothy and the blessings of the Landons.

Some of the boys will be disappointed as there are more boys than girls, and if the boys don't get busy and see that they have a date they will be left.

HAMP. HEN BREAKS RECORD.

Ios Will Be Guests at Egg Roast on Saturday

The Hamilton hen has again broken the record. Disregarding union hours and hot weather, the hen has laid enough eggs for the annual Hamp-Io egg roasts, which is given every spring term. The eggs have been kept carefully in cold storage and will be in the best of condition. The roast is scheduled for the afternoon and evening of Saturday, May 26. The roasting will take place at Cedar Bend.

PLAY FIRST MATCH SATURDAY

SOUTHWESTERN TENNIS TEAM COMES HERE THEN.

Aggie Entries Are Not Picked—Rexroad Sweeps All for Singles—Doubles Uncertain.

The finals for the tennis meet with the team of Southwestern College, Winfield, are being played this week. The Southwestern team will be here Saturday for a tourney with the Aggie players. The team has not been picked for certain. In the singles, Rexroad is certain to be one of the men. It is probable that Young, Hickok and Wolcott also will meet the visitors. Rexroad won from all comers in the singles. The pick for the doubles has not been decided. Two of the men will play the doubles and two singles, as that is the arrangement made with Southwestern for this match.

Rexroad defeated Davidson, 6-3, 6-0. Rexroad won from Hickok 6-2, 6-2. Rexroad sprung a surprise by winning from Young, 6-2, 2-6, 6-2. J. Davidson won from Wolcott, 6-2, 2-6, 12-10.

Only one match in the doubles had been played up to Tuesday noon. Hickok and Wellington won from Young and Steuwe, 6-1, 2-6, 6-2. The double men will be picked from Hickok, Young, Wolcott and Rexroad.

The Missouri U. baseball team will play the Aggies on the college field this afternoon at 4. Missouri has played two conference games this season, both with Ames. The Tigers proved better than the Ames Aggies by taking both contests by scores of 3 to 0 and 13 to 12. "Cy" Helm pitched wonderful ball in the first contest, striking out 16 Ames players and allowing only two hits. The Tigers scored every time they got on the bases and made three errors. Ames played bonehead ball at times and made five errors. The second game was an alternating slugfest, each team grabbing a run or more an inning.

Won Two From M. U. a Year Ago.

The Aggies opened the 1912 season with Missouri and succeeded in trimming the Tigers twice. The Brewer contingent hung the defeat sign on the Lowman crew at Columbia. Missouri has practically the same line-up as last season. All the pitchers are going good and all are good for the full route. The team is supporting the twirlers in great style and the Columbia fans are predicting a good season for their team.

SO THE ROOKIES MAY GO.

Students' Council Will Request Early Drill On Ball Days.

The Students' Council has come to the aid of the rookies who wish to see the ball game. The council at its last meeting appointed a committee to see the commandant about dismissing the rookies from drill at four o'clock on the days when ball games are scheduled. A number of the games come on drill days and the cadets are able to attend few of them because the contest is well started when the corps is turned loose. The rookies would like to hear "his umps" shout "De Batteries;" as often as is consistent with efficiency in drill.

The officers of the Students' Council for the spring term are: President, W. L. Sweet; vice-president, Elmer Bird; secretary, Florence Justin.

ENGINEERS PLAN A DAY.

The Engineers' Association is preparing for Engineers' Day some time this term. At the meeting Monday a committee of Jackson, Jones, Hutchinson, Smith, Professors Conrad and Potter was appointed to arrange the features.

COKEs AND SMOKEs.

The W. C. T. U. at the Kansas Wesleyan University is warning the students of that college against the use of Coca-Cola because the "cokes," they say, contain the poison, caffeine, and this is dangerous. And this calls to mind something about the mild habits of Wesleyan folk. There are several stores out near the Wesleyan college at Salina, but at none of them can tobacco be bought. The stores do not keep it, that is all, and many a person on the way out to a ball game or for a motor ride stops in those stores and then comes out with a disgusted expression. The reason is that the school authorities of the Wesleyan have a real, lively prejudice against the use of tobacco by students, and the prejudice is so strong there that a boycott would result if some Wesleyan storekeeper should put in a line of "Tux" and cigars. Besides, it's a good ad for the college, the people say. The unhappy studees who smoke must go up town, and it is a couple of miles, to buy tobacco.

WIN AND LOSE 1 EACH

AGGIES BREAK EVEN IN 2-GAME NEBRASKA SERIES.

SCORES: NEBRASKA 5-4; AGGIES 4-6

Lowman Team Redeems Itself By Complete Reversal Of Form In Second Contest.

The Aggies broke even with Nebraska on the two-game series here last Friday and Saturday, losing the first, 5 to 4, and taking the Cornhuskers into camp in the second, 6 to 4. The Aggies ran the bases poorly in the opening stages of the game Friday and failed to hit in the pinches. The Saturday game showed a complete reversal of form. The base running of the Aggies was above par and they fielded in great style behind Pollom. They hit when hits meant runs and the game. In the second game the Nebraskans outhit the Lowman team, but they were unable to bunch hits in any inning except the sixth, when four hits and a walk gave as many runs. A fast double play by the Aggies, Beaman to Agnew to Knaus, retired the side and after that the best the Nebraskans could do was to push one man around in the ninth. In that inning Rodman, first up, hit. Towle flew out to Dresser on a long one to the running track. Frank struck out, but Haskell hit a shoestring popup to Enns in right that Enns could not handle and Rodman went to third. A passed ball scored him. Flory hit one to McCallum and it was all over.

First Game a Sad Story.

In the first game, Nebraska failed to count in their half of the first. The Aggies repeated. In the second session Flory hit, but died on third. The Aggies, in their half, registered three hits, but ran the bases in poor style and failed to score. In the third, with two out, Towle hit to left and swiped second. He scored when Frank drove a safe one to center, Frank going to second on the throw-in. Haskell got a life on Beaman's error. Flory hit to left to the space across the running track and Frank and Haskell counted. Forsberg nailed a ground ball for the third out.

Mac Made the Circuit.

In the fifth, Towle's single, Haskell's two-base crack and singles by Flory and Jones netted two runs. The Aggies failed to cross home until the sixth, when McCallum drove a long one between right and center and made the circuit. Again, in the eight, Bailey singled to left, Mac got on through Jamison's bobble, but Beaman flew out to third. Dresser cracked out one for two bases to the fence, scoring Bailey and Mac. Briney and Enns were easy outs. In the ninth, Scanlon went out, short to first. Forsberg waited for four bad ones. Vadakin went in to run for Forsberg and stole second. Agnew grounded out. Bailey hit, scoring Vadakin. Bailey started for second on the throw in from center to home, but was caught when he overran the bag, making the third out.

THE SECOND GAME.

Timely hitting brought the Aggies the ribbon in the second game. The Aggies erred only once, in the eighth. Jones was on first when May hit a grounder to Knaus, who attempted to cut Jones off at second, but made a bad peg, and all hands went safe. The rest of the game the Aggies gave Pollom great support and binged the ball right merrily in the innings that counted in the run-getting.

Beaman's Drive Counted.

Nobody scored until the third, when Knaus looked 'em over for a base on balls and stole second. Pollom whiffed. McCallum hit to left, sending Knaus to third. Beaman hit a line drive to right that was good for three bases, Knaus and McCallum counting. Dresser went safe on a dropped third strike. Briney whiffed. Enns flew out.

Two in Fourth, One in Sixth.

The Aggies added two more in the fourth. Agnew lived on an error, stole and rested on third when Knaus hit. Pollom sent a high one to left out of fielding reach and slow fielding allowed him to stretch it into a two-base hit, Agnew and Knaus scoring. The Aggies made their final score in the sixth, when Agnew drew a base, went to third on Knaus' slow nfield hit to second, and came home with a hop, skip and jump when Mac hit one to second that Jamison did not field in time to cut Agnew off at the plate.

Pulled a Fast Double.

Nebraska could not find Pollom with scoring regularity until the sixth. Haskell walked. Flory singled, scoring three. Harte hit a grounder to Bailey and Bailey cut May off at third for the first out. With one on first and second, Rodman hit to Beaman, who fielded it cleanly to Agnew at second, who completed a double with a quick throw to Knaus, retiring the Cornhuskers. In the ninth, two hits and a passed ball gave Nebraska their last run.

PICKUPS OF FRIDAY'S GAME.

In the first inning, Towle was on third and Haskell at bat. Haskell hit a grounder to Bailey and Bailey threw home, nipping Towle neatly. Haskell had rounded first and tried to go to second on the play, but "Bill" Scanlon was wise to the attempt and heaved Haskell out at the second station.

In the first, McCallum was on second when Beaman grounded to third. The ball was muffed by Haskell and Mac tried to sneak third on the play but was caught off the sack some six feet or more.

WIN AND LOSE 1 EACH. (Continued from Page 3.)

One thing about Umps Moore. He keeps the game rolling all the time.

Bailey fields his position with any pitcher.

In the sixth, Mac hit to center for a homer and cross the plate in time to get the ball thrown in and fielded it back to the pitcher's box.

In the first game the Nebraska outfielders got neither putouts nor assists.

Jones, the Nebraska first baseman, plays his position in veteran style. In both games he took some hard throws from the infielders and kept glued to the bag for some balls far from the sack. He handled 21 putouts with one error.

Scanlon was called out on a close decision at first in the last of the seventh.

Three long clouts sailed over Dresser's head in the first game. In the second contest he hung back for them with good results.

Haskell speeds up on hard hit ground balls, but the slow ones down the line he fields slowly and allowed a couple of hits on plays of that sort.

In the ninth, with two out and one gone, Bailey pitched out of a hole. Flory flew to Dresser and Bailey struck out the third man. In the fifth Bailey was credited with three strikeouts.

SATURDAY'S FOUL TIPS.

Briney fields nicely. In the second Jones hit one that bounced badly near third. Briney made a good stab and throw to first for the out.

Agnew pulled off a good fielding stunt in the second that was lucky as well as well executed. May was on first and started to steal second. Agnew hung near the sack and was just there on the spot to get in the way of a hard drive by Harte that would have been good for a single easily had Agnew not been close to the base.

Towle was on second. Haskell hit to Briney and Steve would have thrown to first had not Towle bumped into the Aggie third sacker. Steve had no choice but to bump Towle in the ribs with the ball.

Agnew slid well to home in the sixth when McCallum hit a slow grounder into second base territory. Agnew counting on the play.

Dresser climbed the high bank out in left after Harte's fly in the eighth stanza and registered a putout.

H. H. Haymaker was elected captain of the junior base ball team. Raymond Shafer is athletic manager and has the bunch out in the park every afternoon.

DRILL 6 TERMS?

THAT IS THE RECOMMENDATION OF THE FACULTY TO BOARD OF ADMINISTRATION.

CLASS WILL NOT COUNT

ENTERING AS JUNIOR, STUDENT MUST DRILL SIX TERMS.

ATHLETES COULD ONLY POSTPONE

No Substitutions Go—College Credit for The Kansas Aggie, Orchestra, Glee Club, Debate, Oratory, Physical Training, Drill and Band.

*****
Whether or not the new plan is adopted depends on the board of administration and its action on the recommendation of the faculty. If the board approves, the new system will go into effect next fall.
*****

If the board of administration adopts the recommendation of the faculty of this college, the number of days for drill will be changed from four to three a week. The faculty at its last meeting recommended to the board that this be done. It was planned some time ago to require only one year of drill and allow a student to elect physical training. But it was found that this did not meet the requirements of the Department of War. Under the proposed plan, which does meet the requirements of the Department of War, every male student will, unless physically unable, be required to drill six terms, whether he enters as a freshman, sophomore or junior. Anyone entering as a senior will not, of course, be required to drill more than the one year while he is in residence here.

Athletes Must Drill.

Under the new plan, drill will count one credit toward graduation. At present, drill does not mean any more credits on the punch card. There will be no substitute to offer for drill. Orchestra and glee club will not be considered sufficient reason to excuse one from drill. Nor will athletic participation in intercollegiate athletics give a credit for drill or an excuse from it. It will mean simply postponement of drill.

Credits for "Extra Work."

The band will be considered a part of the military work the same as at present and the credits given for that work. Members of the orchestra will be given one credit a term. The faculty has prepared a list of activities known as "extra work." Not more than twelve credit hours will be allowed to count toward graduation, and not more than two credits a term of extra work can be carried. At present debating is the only one of these activities listed under "extra work" for which credit is given. Two credits are given the debaters now. Work on The Kansas Aggie will count one credit a term, and this college by that lines up with practically every other college in the state on the question of credit for work on the college paper. The list of subjects listed as extra work is given below. In the first column following the name of the subject is given the number of credits given a term; in the second column is given the total number of credits in that work that a student may count toward graduation.

The Subjects and Credits Allowed.
The Kansas Aggie.....	1 6
Physical Training.....	1 6
Orchestra.....	1 6
Band.....	1 6
Glee Club.....	1 6
Debate.....	2 6
Oratorical.....	2 6

Could Substitute if Necessary.

The credits earned in this way may be used as electives. Where a course has no electives these credits may be used to make substitutions. This means that a student may play in the orchestra for six terms and receive one college credit a term for it. If he plays in the orchestra more than six terms, he receives no college credit for each additional term.

This Is the Recommendation.

The new ruling about drill would not have effect on those who have complied with the present regulations and have acquired better than sophomore standing or otherwise fulfilled the drill requirements. The recommendation, in full, as adopted by the faculty and presented to the board of administration, is:

Moved: That we recommend to the board of administration that military drill be required of all young men in the college courses three hours per week for two years, subject to reduction only on account of credit for military work done in other institutions, or in the school of agriculture, under the instruction of an officer detailed by the War Department of the United States, and that a student entering as a junior or above be held for not more than the time necessary to complete the remainder of his college course.

That students physically unable to perform any kind of military duty be assigned to an equivalent amount of some other college work.

That one credit unit toward graduation be allowed for each term of military drill.

That men in the college teams and college freshman teams be permitted to postpone drill, but that they be held for the full two years before graduation.

PLAN SUMMER CONFERENCE

Y. W. C. A. GIVES ANNUAL BANQUET MONDAY EVENING.

Speakers at Y. M. C. A. Tell of Estes Park To Accomplishment Of Slides.

The annual conference banquet of the Y. W. C. A. will take place Monday evening at six o'clock in the gymnasium at the Y. M. C. A. building. The banquet is given every year to arouse interest in the summer conference of the association. Some of the speakers at the banquet will be: Miss Nash, of Denver, Colo.; the Rev. Dr. Holt; Miss Estella Boot. The Cascade Club, led by Prof. J. W. Searson will present an original stunt. A set of slides, views of the conference grounds, cottages, drives, walks, tents and other places of interest in Estes Park, will be shown. Every girl will desire to hear about the good times of the conference and the plans for this year.

The conference of the association will, in the future, be held at Estes park instead of at Cascade. This summer the meeting will be longer than ever as the college associations of twelve states will be included. For a number of years the K. S. A. C. delegation has been the largest and the local association hopes to retain the record.

PICK BANQUET TALKERS

PLANS FOR JUNIOR-SENIOR MAY 23 PROGRESS.

T. J. HARRIS TO BE TOASTMASTER

Date Committee Reports Surprises in Store for Some "Sure" Men—Pay Up.

The speakers for the junior-senior annual have been chosen by the committee in charge. Tom Harris, the Honorable T. J., will be toastmaster. The address of welcome will be given by Miss Alma Halbower, vice president of the junior class. The response will be given by Miss Reva Lint, president of the senior class. Toasts will be made by W. E. Grimes and Carl Ipsen, seniors; Raymond Schafer and Karl Knaus, juniors.

The ceremony of the Shepherd's Crook will be duly impressive. The crook will be given to W. L. Sweet. E. O. Graper is guardian of the crook at present.

Only a Third Pay Up.

Only a third of the juniors have paid their $3 assessment. The date committee is ready for business but it is not rushed with work. Many of the college "steadies" fail to see the need of hurrying with their dates, but the committee that is recording the dates says that already some of the "steadies" have been picked, and there will be grief when Mr. Man who is so sure of his date comes to the recording clerk and finds out that she is down for a date.

Assigns Dates After May 10.

Junior boys will not have to pay the assessment for junior girls, if they take them. It is up to the treasurer of the committee to get the money.

The date committee is: W. E. Grimes and Ruth Allen, seniors; I. L. Fowler, W. D. Cusic, Bess Walsh, Beulah Wingfield, W. A. Sumner, juniors. After May 10 the committee will assign dates, but the fellow who cannot make a date either with a junior or senior girl needs help.

A CHANCE TO MAKE DATES.

If Sophs Don't Respond, Committee Does.

The sophomores will give an outdoor party some time soon. Dating will be left to the members of the class and the dates reported. All who have not been dated up by a certain time will be scheduled for partners by a committee appointed for that purpose. It is believed that this plan will be more successful than dating by lottery.

TWO M. U. MEN AT PENN MEET

Appendicitis Takes Chapman, Crack Miller Out of Running.

Missouri University will be represented at the University of Pennsylvania relay meet this afternoon, by John P. Nicholson and L. E. Thatcher. Nicholson was a member of the American Olympic team last summer and is a co-holder of the American intercollegiate record for the high hurdles. Thatcher was chosen All-American discus thrower by James E. Sullivan and has a record of 142 feet in this event. In practice Thatcher has been doing around the 135-foot mark with the Greek missile and is expected to place in the relay games today. J. W. Chapman, Missouri's crack miler was taken to Kansas City last Tuesday where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. He will be unable to run again this season. The loss of Chapman to the Missouri team will be keenly felt as he was a sturdy miler.

PLAY SIX GAMES FOR RAG.

Honorary Frats Arrange Baseball Schedule.

The honorary fraternities have organized a baseball league and will play six games for the championship. The schedule is:

May 3—Sigma Tau vs. Alpha Zeta.
May 10—Alpha Psi vs. Sigma Tau.
May 24—Alpha Psi vs. Alpha Zeta.
June 2—Sigma Tau vs. Alpha Zeta.
June 7—Sigma Tau vs. Alpha Psi.
June 9—Alpha Zeta vs. Alpha Psi.

Bench Cut His Foot.

While A. D. Cook was dressing after a class workout in Nichols gym Thursday afternoon, a bench in the locker-room was overturned and fell on Cook's left foot. His foot was crushed and cut severely. A physician was called to dress the foot.

Baseball Today.

FRIDAY—Taking chances on the weather, the Aggies are due to play the Manhattan State leaguers Saturday on the college field.

PERMIT FRESHMEN PLEDGING

GREEKS MAY SPIKE THEM AFTER THREE WEEKS HERE.

Faculty Committee Raises The Ban—Scholarship Standing For Three Weeks The Test.

The faculty committee on student affairs has raised the ban on freshmen pledging. Heretofore fraternities and sororities have not been allowed to look in the ranks of freshmen for pledges, since no one was eligible who had not the standing of a sophomore or better. The Pan-Hellenic council petitioned the faculty committee to allow freshmen pledging. The committee took the matter under advisement and after consideration decided to allow freshmen pledging, provided that the candidate can show the necessary scholarship ranking for the first three weeks in residence at the college.

The fact that the entrance requirements next fall will be fifteen units, the standard of graduation from an accredited high school, helped to pass the matter.

Since the new ruling was made the pledges have been announced: Mary Wahlen, by the Lambda Lambda Thetas; Ruth Hoffman, by the Eta Beta PIs; Eva Lawson and Corinne Myers by the Phi Kappa PIs. It is probable that the fraternities will announce pledges when the faculty committee rules on the standing in scholarship of candidates.

TAKE MOVIES AT FESTIVAL.

May Day Was Advanced Two Days for That.

The date of the May Festival has been changed from May 16 to May 14 for the benefit of the movies. The latest plan of the film men is to come to Manhattan for the pictures of the college the middle of the week beginning May 12. For that reason the date of the big festival was advanced two days. The same week the Knights Templar are meeting in Manhattan and a parade of the Knights probably will be a feature.

"We hope to have them in the pictures also, says Dean Miller, who has charge of the proposition. "For that reason the festival will be on Wednesday. We thought that as long as the festival was to be on a school day that it might as well be Wednesday, and we desire to have the doings of that day in the movies. It will add much interest. The Knights Templar are having a convention in Manhattan that week and in all probability we can induce them to join us in the reels. We could get the pictures of the Templars Tuesday morning and of the various things of the college—the laboratory classes, the prize stock, and other things—in the afternoon. Then Wednesday we can get the films of the festival."

Continue Study of Inheritance.

The class in "Eugenics" will continue the discussion of inheritance at the Congregational church Sunday morning at 9:15. This is the third of a series of lectures by Professor McKeever. Mr. Goldsmith is giving a series of studies in the "Parables of Jesus" at the church Sunday mornings at 11:45.

M. F. Ahearn will go to Marysville to referee a county track meet this week. These track meets are being held all over the state as preliminaries to the state high school meet that will be held here next month.

EDITORIAL

The eldest woman student has been found. She is 81 years old and is attending Wisconsin U.

Liberal education is going to the common school part of the time and selling Saturday Evening Posts the rest of the time.

This one comes from the Orange and Black, Oklahoma A. and M.: A woman recently remarked that she had a son here taking pharmacy, and that she was glad, for he always seemed so fond of the farm.

The Forest Club, an organization composed of students in forestry at the University of Nebraska, put out an edition of the Daily Nebraskan, printed it on green paper, and filled it with woody news. The style of the makeup was unchanged.

The University Missourian is a paper that offers splendid laboratory practice for the students of journalism at the university. Telegraph news of the United Press service is handled, as well as the town news of Columbia, so that the reporters are not limited to college news alone. If any college paper in the country can get up a better newspaper, in newspaper style and well-written stories, we'd like to see it.

KILL THE YELLOW PERIL.

Why not have a dandelion day here? A day when students, and faculty also, mind you, would go out on the campus with knives and buckets and dig out the yellow perils. The college might declare war on the dandelions for a couple of hours some morning and clean the campus of the pest. President Waters would agree to it, surely, and he could be induced to cut the first dandelion from a campus whose appearance is impaired by the millions of dandelions that are flourishing. They're everywhere. Kedzie Hall is banked with a superb growth. The chem building has a yellow reflection on it from the bountiful yellow field in front. And they are everywhere else. The probability of the college janitor force retrieving the campus from the yellow peril is settled. The force is not large enough and it has not the time. Why not have a dandelion day and clean up the campus? It is done elsewhere. Why not here?

DOWN BY THE GATE.

The following clipping from the Daily Nebraskan is applicable to this college and "the alley:"

I love to cut a morning's grind, to leave both Prof and class behind, and hie me to the gate; to fill my pipe with a mild old blend I borrowed from a passing friend, my fortunes to await. Sometimes I'll talk of politics and how a leader can be fixed, when it comes time to vote. Or how to dance the latest fad and whether it is really bad to wear a purple coat. And when outside these gates I stand, that roll of sheepskin in my hand, I'll grab my dirty clay; and load her up for a final puff with friends so hearty, hale and bluff at the parting of the way. And when with life all's done and said, and

I've smoked her down to the final shred, I'll ask for my "jimmie" pipe. While some would die with the taste of food and others cry for ale well brewed, I'll take me briar pipe. And when I near the Pearly Gates I hope to see my old schoolmates, three deep in a smoky haze. Before old Pete undoes the latch they'll ask me twice for the loan of a match and how I'd passed my days. For the sweetest strains of the golden lyre and the quiet of heaven would quickly tire, and become a palsied joke, if we couldn't skip the seraph's call and make a break for the outer wall to steal a minute's smoke.—Fuzz.

CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE.

Placing the work of The Kansas Aggie on a basis of college credit is a good thing and a just thing. It will give an added impetus to work on the staff and add to the slight recompense that the work at present offers. In giving credit this college will be among the last in the state and in the west to give credit for the work of the college paper. It is right. Long may it live.

The question has been raised that, as the college has no part in determining the work of the people on the paper, obviously no credit for the work should be given. At the same time the people are working for the paper of the college and the more credit, financial or college credit, the more efficient will be the service performed. The rest of the activities contained in the list given out by the faculty deserves credit in college work also, but none more than that of the college paper. It means a whole lot for the future of The Kansas Aggie.

BOOST THE HIGH SCHOOL MEET.

The state high school meet should bring 150 high school athletes to Manhattan. There should be many visitors from the high schools of the state also. And there will be if the college people here cooperate with the athletic management of the high schools and with Coach Lowman in making the meet a success. Perhaps there are some high school people out over the state that would come to Manhattan to attend that meet if they received a personal letter from some one here from the home county. It will be a big chance for the Aggies to bring to the college a large number of the high school people of the state. And when they get here, they can't help liking the place. So send out a good word to the high schools of your districts and ask them to come down here for the meet May 17, several hundred strong, for a good meet and a good time. Your part is easy, and necessary.

Coach Lowman is planning an entertainment committee composed of several students from every congressional district. Students should report to him and talk it over. The entertainment committee will meet the visitors, show them about the college and help in entertaining them while they are in Manhattan. Although the meet is May 17, there is much planning to be done before then and your help is needed. The same applies to members of the teaching staff. You can help also.

AND THE ROOKIES VOTED NO.

Cadets Don't Care for Saturday and Monday Drill.

The rookies would like to see the ball game. But the drill hours conflict. Lieutenant Hill offered a question to the cadets Wednesday for a vote. He offered to allow the cadets to be excused from drill half an hour early on days when games are scheduled if the cadets would make up the drill time on Mondays and Saturdays. Few cadets voted in favor of the motion. But another solution has been offered. Hereafter the games will be played at 4:15, and that will allow the cadets to get to the game after the first inning or so and root for the Aggies.

HIGH SCHOOLS HERE MAY 17.

More Than 200 Athletes Are Coming to Manhattan Then.

May 17 will be high school day for K. S. A. C. On that date the state high school meet will be held on the college field. Representatives of the largest high schools in the state will meet here to contest their skill in track and field athletics. The congressional district and county meets which are being held all over the state will serve as tryout meets for the meet here May 17. Winners of first and second places in any of these tryout meets will be invited to Manhattan to compete in the meet for the state championship. Arthur Capper is the donor of the prizes.

ARTHUR CAPPER.
Former Regent Gives Prizes for State H. S. Meet.

Medals will be awarded to the placers in each event. A large loving cup will go to the school winning the meet. A gold medal goes to the individual point winner. K. S. A. C. gives a loving cup for the relay.

The state meet was held at Topeka last season and the committee voted to hold it in Manhattan this season. The management anticipates a larger attendance this year than ever before. Such high schools as Topeka, Wichita, Hutchinson, Salina, Marion, Mankato and Abilene will compete. More than 200 contestants are expected to compete.

Even As You and I

"Come out to meet the May," or words to that effect. The words don't matter, the effect is the same. Violets are ripe nowadays and college folk are getting up in the early morn to chase the moon over the hills and search for violets. Landladies are busy preparing lunches built for two. For a five-mile jaunt before breakfast on a school morning calls for a lunch before it's over. But the violets are ripe. Come out and pick them.

"How about a date for the big junior-senior banquet?" said the First Man to the Girl.

"Oh, that is three months away," said the Girl. But she smiled.

So the First Man thought he had a date and he so reported to the date committee for the big affair.

Time, three months later. The Second Man reports to the date committee that he has asked the Girl to go to the banquet, with complete success. Enter the First Man. Confusion. Conversation. Explanations. The Second Man has the legal title. Exit First Man. Be sure you make a date—don't take it for granted.

BUY A TICKET TO VOTE

THAT'S THE WAY MAY QUEEN WILL BE CHOSEN.

DISCARD PLAN OF LAST YEAR

Twenty-Five Cent Cardboard Gives a Ballot and Admission to the Festival.

The date of the festival will be
May 14.

You will have to buy a ticket if you wish to vote for the May Queen this year. The ticket will, of course, admit you to the festival no the afternoon of May 15. The May Queen, who must be from the senior class,
will be chosen before that day.

Election places will be prepared in the main corridor of Anderson hall.
Tickets may be bought there or from student agents. There will be no names on the ballots, so that the unexpected may happen in this election.

Two Stunts Bring Prizes.

Last year the ballots were mailed to college people and the voting aroused a lot of interest. It is doubtful if the plan this year will be productive of as much "pep." Last year the friends of Emma Kammeyer sent out campaign literature that helped Miss Kammeyer to be chosen.

The management hopes this year to obtain a guarantee before all expenses are made. If students support the plan the way the management hopes, the interest will not lag.
It will be an added inducement for everyone to buy tickets early and insure the success of the festival. Admission fees will be twenty-five cents for adults, ten cents for children. No list of professors and dressy students and the like will be voted on as last year.

Two prizes, $25 and $15, will be given to the organization staging the two best stunts. The organization having booths are allowed $2 for decorations.

The Order Of Events.

This is the way the events of the afternoon will come:

- Faculty-Senior track meet.
- Grand Procession.
- Crowning of May Queen.
- Stunts.
- May Pole dance.
- Judges' decisions.
- Drill by Miss Enyart's girls.
- Band Concert.

Debaters Of 3 Schools Settle His

The question for the tri-state de-three states will debate the question of Philippine Independence. Profesmorning of the votes at the other other colleges.

Three questions were submitted.
The Kansas college proposed for the question the recall of judges. South for its own question.

The date for the tri-state debates with Dakota and Iowa has been set for November 14. K. S. A. C. sends and Iowa sends one here.

A Mill Tax for N. U.

The University of Nebraska is to go forward. The last act of the state legislature was to vote a three-quarter mill levy for the upbuilding of the university, with the question of removal to be decided by the people by popular vote. The removal question is the proposition to remove the university to the state farm, where there is more room. The university is crowded in its present quarters.
The buildings are located in Lincoln and they are crowded together in a small space. The state farm is just outside Lincoln. The students of the Cornhusker institution are rejoicing over the "greater N. U."

Announce June Wedding.

Miss Annie Logan gave a surprise party to a number of her friends Friday night of last week. At the party every guest was given an apparently blank heart which, when held to the light, gave forth the information that Miss Anna Logan was to be married to George Kernohan June 19, 1913. Miss Logan is a member of this year's graduating class and Mr.
Kernohan is a member of the class of 1912. Among those present were:
Misses Bessie Hardman, Irene, Gertrude and Agnes McElroy, Jessie Sage, Marjorie Berryman, Blanche Burt, Frieda Stuewe, Gourney Prier and Meta Buck.

Sooners Discuss Honor System.

The University of Oklahoma is considering the adoption of the honor system. A set of rules has been drawn up and offered to the students for a vote. If the plan is adopted, all students must sign a pledge, following an examination, that they have "neither given nor received aid during the examination." The Students' Council would have power to deal with offenders, with the chance of the offender appealing to the faculty. Members of the three upper classes who should be caught violating the honor system would be expelled from college. Freshmen would be suspended for a term.

A Scandal 'Mongst the Hamps.

There's a scandal 'mongst the Hamps. A committee is investigating. The Hamps confine their membership to men of college. But it was reported recently that a list of officers given in The Kansas Aggie were the executive force of the Hamilton society. It caused a big commotion in the society, but it was all peaceful when the explanation was made.
A careless bit of copy reading and a careless head caused the trouble.
The Kansas Aggie takes this chance of quieting the scandal.

Licenses Wireless Operators.

It is interesting to note that the United States bureau of navigation has issued 3,407 licenses to wireless operators since December 13, 1912.
The first grade licenses number 1-
278; second grade, 186; amateurs,
1,185. Forty-six American ship stations and 18 coast stations have been licensed. In the last four months the wireless apparatus on 1,500 sailings has been inspected.

Hort Starts Spring Cleaning.

The greenhouses were fumigated last week for white fly. Spring weather hatches out the eggs of the white fly and necessitates fumigating. The fumigating also destroys the red spider.

Give Council the Control?

A proposal is being considered at Washburn College to put the control of athletics in the hands of the student council.

State Meet to Winfield.

On May 9 the inter-collegiate tennis tournament will be held in Winfield under the auspices of Southwestern. Delegates will be present from practically every college in the state and a big time is expected. The tennis team composed of Herbert Vaughan, Frank Fisher and Merb Warren will start on a conquest of the northland some time the fore part of next week. Games have already been scheduled with Baker, Ottawa and K. S. A. C. Arrangements are being made for meets with the State Normal and K. U.—The Southwestern Collegian.

Did He Flee Militant "Suffs?"

A professor from an English university is at the university at Lawrence studying the system of fellowship research work. University Daily Kansas says:

We wonder what would happen if someone should shout "Votes for Women!" behind that visiting professor from the University of London.

Write Essays For A Prize.

The English department offered recently a prize for the best essay on "How Something is Done" written by a student in the city schools of Manhattan. Superintendent Edgerton informs the members of the English department that the students are showing much interest in the competition.

Pity The Poor Managers.

The senior cotillion at Nebraska this year was some affair, but it cost more money than the class had on hand and the manager of the big affair had a deficit to account for. So far the manager has had to pay the debts, with possibility if the senior class repaying him later.

BEGIN EXPERIMENT SOON

College Will Prove the Value of Hog Cholera Serum.

There won't be any doubt about the value of serum in fighting hog cholera if the Kansas Agricultural college is successful in an experiment to begin soon. It is proposed by the veterinarians at the college to select certain definite sections in various parts of the state in which it will be shown that cholera can be controlled and finally eradicated by the use of serum. One hundred and fifty farmers in a section about seven miles long and four miles wide near Silver Lake are the first to offer to co-operate in making these tests. Another section of similar size in Smith county probably will be ready for the test within a few months.

Before the college will agree to make a test every hog owner in a territory must consent to co-operate and follow out the directions of the college. These directions will be mainly suggestions regarding sanitary conditions, feeding, etc. The owner must agree to have all his hogs vaccinated whether they are sick or not, and he must pay for the serum used. He must keep in close touch with the college and furnish information concerning the condition of the hogs.

The college will send a veterinary physician into the territory as often as may be necessary to vaccinate all the hogs and suggest such care in handling as he believes will be best. The salary and railroad fare of this veterinarian will be paid by the agricultural college, but the hog owners are expected to pay his other expenses.

RAIN SPOILS TWO GAMES

MISSOURI SERIES HERE WAS CALLED OFF.

AGGIES TO COLUMBIA TOMORROW

Play Tigers There Monday and Tuesday—Substitute Bethany and Five Games With Leaguer.

The baseball squad will leave Sunday morning for a two-game series with Missouri University at Columbia Monday and Tuesday. The Aggies were scheduled to play the Missourians at Manhattan last Wednesday and Thursday but owing to wet grounds Umpire Fred Moore was forced to call the first contest during the first half of the second inning and Coach Lowman called the second game off owing to the condition of the diamond.

Trade Six Games for Two.

Owing to the cancellation of the Missouri games, Coach Lowman has scheduled a game with the Bethany College team of Lindsborg. This game will be played May 10. The ticket in the athletic fee book for the second Missouri game will be accepted for the game with the Swedes. Coach Lowman also has arranged a series of five games with the Manhattan team of the Central Kansas league. The first of these games will be played this afternoon. Presentation of the athletic books will be necessary for admission. The other games will be played May 3, May 5, May 9, May 13.

Started After Helmrich.

In the inning that was played

Wednesday afternoon, the Aggies supported Pollock in the first inning and the Missourians were repulsed in order. The Aggies accumulated three runs in the home half and batted around. The Missourians came up for the second round and Helmrich, first up, nailed a two-bagger to left field. The weather man unloosed a little extra dampness and Mr. Moore came to the rescue and called off the contest.

Miss Woolsey Assists in Zoology.

Miss Carrie Woolsey has been engaged by the department of zoology to take the place of assistant in that department for the remainder of the college year. Miss Woolsey comes to Manhattan from the University of Kansas, where she has been taking graduate work. She is a graduate of the university. Miss Woolsey will have charge of laboratory classes here.

Don't Tear Out Tickets.

Don't tear out the ticket for the second Missouri game from the coupon book, says Coach Lowman. The Bethany game will be substituted for the second Missouri game and the game this afternoon is free to the student ticket holders. Simply show your coupon book. But do not tear out the ticket for the second Missouri game.

GIVE K.U. HARD FIGHT

AGGIE TRACK TEAM OPENS OUT-DOOR SEASON MAY 2.

JAYHAWKERS DOPE AS STRONGER

In the Running and Weight Events the Bryan Squad Will Count Many Points.

The outdoor track season for the Aggies will open next Friday, when the Aggie cinder patch aggregation meets the Jayhawker team at Lawrence. The chances of victory for the Bryan contingent are slight, although it is generally conceded that the men of Hamilton will be forced to the limit in many of the events which they carried off so easily last March. The outdoor season has brought on two more events which the Aggies, according to dope, should carry off for a total of 16 points.

Aggie Runners Strong.

In the running events the Aggies should take first and second in the 100 and the 220 dash events. They should also count in other events. This is a sweeping prediction, but to the close observer the work of Hancock and Gates in these two races is superior to anything that the Jayhawkers have shown so far this season. The 440 and 880 yard runs were easy points for the Lawrence cracks indoors but will be fought out on a more even basis next Friday. Stone should push Black of Kansas, or even Edwards if Hamilton chooses to use him, in the quarter dash. The half is as yet unsettled.

High Hopes in Hutto.

In the half, the mile, and the two-mile events, Captain Hutto is the best bet that the Aggies possess. Schneider and Collins are good for the mile and two mile events, but the half is a puzzler. Kaufman has shown up well on this race in practice and is a likely starter. The relay will bear watching. Musser, Stone, Jones and Gates are making the quarter in excellent time.

High Jumpers Are Absent.

The hurdles and the pole vault will call for a division of points between the two teams. Young is going good in the vault and should be an easy winner. In the hurdles, Root, Young, Stone and Welch are showing up the best, but none of these compare with Hazen, the Kansas crack. The Kansans should annex the high jump with ease as there is no one working out on the event for the Aggies who is eligible to compete. Both places in the shot, discuss and broad jump should go to the Aggies.

Girls Will Play Monday.

The girls' basket ball games have been postponed until Monday afternoon at 3:30. The seniors play the sophomores and the juniors play the freshmen. Only those holding tickets can be admitted. Each of the players has five "comps."

JUMP IN THE POOL!

Swimmin' Hole Will Be Ready Next Week.

Before long the welcome noise of high dives and water fights will live up the locker room of the men's gymnasium. Coach Lowman says that he will attend to having the pools filled as soon as he comes back from the Missouri trip. This is welcome news to the college swimmers.

The Subs' Officers.

The officers of the subfreshman class for the spring term were: President, J. B. Sweet. Vice-President, Doris McKee. Secretary, Edith M. Batchelor. Treasurer, Wilbur Wright. Marshal, John Linn. Assistant marshal, Paul Buchanan. Class historian, Sadie Harris. Member Student's Council, Oscar Davis. Baseball manager, W. G. Bruce.

FIRST INTER-COLLEGIATE TENNIS MATCH TODAY.

MEET SOUTHWESTERN IN THE PARK

First Contest Is Scheduled for 3:30 This Afternoon—No Admission Fee.

The first inter-collegiate tennis match of the season is scheduled for this afternoon at 3:30 in the Y. M. C. A. courts in the city park. The Aggies will contest with Southwestern College of Winfield. One match in doubles and two in singles will be played. No admission fee will be charged.

Hasn't Picked the Team.

Manager Young said yesterday morning that the Aggie team had not been picked. Rexroad, having won first claim in the tourney for the singles, is certain to meet one of the visitors in a single match. Wolcott and Hickok may play the doubles together. The choice for the other single place lies between J. Davidson and "Spin" Young.

Aggies Lack Practice.

The Aggies in the preliminary tourney for this first match showed, as a whole, lack of practice, though Hickok and Rexroad showed flashes of brilliant work. Hickok has improved something like 100 per cent over his work of last year and is playing in good form. Southwestern ranked high in the state meet at Baker last year and is making a trip over the state this week, playing Baker, the Aggies and Washburn while on the foreign voyage.

Talk of College and Church.

"The College and the Church" will be the topic for discussion at the Congregational church Sunday night. President Walters, C. O. Levine, the Rev. W. L. Goldsmith and the Rev. Dr. Holt will speak. The Aztex quartet will sing.

CADETS DRILL WELL, HE SAYS.

Captain Raymond Complimented Cadets After Inspection Tuesday.

The cadet corps made a creditable showing in every possible respect last Tuesday when Captain M. H. Raymond, General Staff, U. S. A., was here to inspect the cadets on behalf of the Department of War. The annual inspection always arouses interest and unrest until it is over. Captain Raymond complimented the members of the military department and Lieutenant Hill on the inspection. The cadets drill unusually well, he said, considering the fact that Lieutenant Hill has been here such a short time that the cadets had been unable to get much drill work outside. The cadets drill better than than average college cadets, said Captain Raymond. Until Lieutenant Hill came to take charge of the military department, Sergeant Claeren acted as commandant and to his efficient service much credit is due for the good condition of the department.

The cadets went through dress parade and the manual of arms. In all the movements the companies came up on line in good style and handled themselves well in the squad movements and the manual of arms.

CUT OUT JOURNALISM

BOARD OF ADMINISTRATION ANNOUNCES RADICAL CHANGES.

JOIN SCHOOL PRINTING PLANTS

Administrators Plan a Merger of the Newspaper Schools of K. S. A. C. and of K. U.

The board of administration, and Governor Hodges, made the announcement last Friday that the course of industrial journalism here would be abolished and that the printing plants of the agricultural college, the normal and the university would be combined in one large completely modern printing plant, located at one of the schools. The work in journalism here, the board announced, would be combined with the work at Lawrence. A state publicity agent, with headquarters in the state house at Topeka, would handle the publicity work of all the colleges. President Waters said Monday afternoon that up to that time the board had not notified the college of its action or when any changes would be made.

Haven't Located Printing Plant.

The board made the announcement of the change following a visit here and a conference with Governor Hodges. The location of the new school of printing has not been announced. It would seem that none of the colleges could offer as good possibilities for the establishment and most efficient work of such a school as the agricultural college. Printing being an industrial study, and this college being recognized by state and national authority as an industrial college, the school could not be better located than at Manhattan. The land grant act recognized printing as a subject properly within the scope of this college. While the faculty and students of this college would be the last to ask the removal of any department or any course from any of the state institutions, the printing school would find its best application here, if the combination is to be made.

A Successful Department.

The announcement of the abolishment of the work in industrial journalism has met with universal disfavor with the members of the faculty and the student body. The work that the department has done since Charles Dillon came to be its professor has been of incalculable value to the people of Kansas and the college here. The practical things that the department has accomplished in the past and those planned for the future cannot be reduced in every instance to tangible evidence, but they are nevertheless of great value. The work in journalism here was established in the fall of 1910 under the direction of Professor Dillon, and since that time has developed until the future could not have promised better success.

The Board's Announcement.

The board made this announcement last Friday: "The combination of the journalism schools of the University of Kansas and the agricultural college, the removal of the printing plants now at the schools to one and the establishment of a state educational publicity bureau in Topeka to advertise all the schools, is one of the plans of the state board of administration and Governor Hodges, to be put into effect at the opening of the new school year.

"The board already has announced the removal of the printing course from the agricultural college, and it is supposed the new and enlarged journalism and printing course will be taken to the university.

"This is one of the plans of this board to stop the duplication of work of the Kansas schools, increase the efficiency of the department and provide for equal publicity for all the schools," Governor Hodges said today.

"The details of the plan have not been entirely worked out. We don't know at which school the new printing course, which will be complete in every detail, and the new journalism course will be established. The printing plants at the agricultural college, the normal school and the university will be combined into one big, efficient and complete printing establishment.

"In Topeka, with an office in the state house, there will be an educational publicity bureau. We are hunting for the right man for that place. He will not teach, but will simply get out among the schools and dig up information about what is going on, what the schools are doing and put the news of the things the schools discover of value to Kansas into good English and see that it is properly distributed throughout the state. There will be no boosting of any one school. The bureau will give out all information worth while about all the schools."

Phi Gams Win From Aztex.

The Phi Gams won the second game on the Pan-Hell series of baseball Monday afternoon from the Aztex, 9 to 8. The batteries—Aztex, Rexroad and Graper and Root; Phi Gams, Baker and Bright.

STOCK FEEDERS GATHER

FRIDAY WILL BE A BIG DAY FOR 200 VISITORS.

Kansas Stock Men To Hear Results Of Experiments In Winter Maintenance Of Calves.

At the invitation of the college, the stock feeders of Kansas will gather here Friday morning to hear the results of important experiments in winter maintenance for calves. The college has been carrying on extensive experiments in this question, and is the only place in the country where such an experiment has been made. More than 200 stock feeders of Kansas and the adjoining states are expected to be here. Prof. W. A. Cochel says:

"We expect many to come but we cannot make a good estimate because we have not tried to ascertain exactly how many will be here. But there will be a representative from every county in the state. Members of the Live Stock Exchange, of Kansas City, will be here. We have received letters from persons outside of this state asking about the meeting and promising to come. The program is one that should interest all stock feeders and all students interested in this work."

The program will be given at the stock judging pavilion. The program, beginning at nine-thirty Friday morning, follows:

How An Animal Grows—President Waters.

Demonstration in Judging Fat Steers—Dr. C. W. McCampbell.

Afternoon, 1:30.

Silage for Fattening Steers—Prof. W. A. Cochel.

Results of Winter Maintenance Experiments—C. M. Vestal.

TIGERS WIN THE FIRST

AGGIES SCORE ONE IN OPENING ROUND.

GAME WAS FAST AND INTERESTING

Pollom Struck Out 8, Allowed 5 Hits —Angerer Fanned 10, Gave 4 Hits—Mac Sprains Ankle.

By Special Correspondent.

Columbia, Mo., April 29.—Missouri University won a close and interesting game here yesterday from the Kansas Aggies, 2 to 1. Pollom pitched in good form all the way, allowing only five hits and striking out eight men. Angerer allowed the Aggies only four hits and struck out ten of the Kansans. A batting rally that promised to tie the score was nipped in the bud by a great one-handed catch by Palfreyman, the Tiger third baseman, who nailed a line drive by Dresser for the third out.

Aggies Score in First.

The Aggies scored in the opening inning. McCallum, first up, singled to center and stole second. In sliding to second McCallum sprained an ankle and Agnew was put on to run for him. Beaman and Dresser took their three swings for strikeouts. Enns singled to right, scoring Agnew. Forsberg ended the inning by striking out.

Missouri scored twice in the third. Hornback walked. He was forced at second when Woolsey hit to Knaus. Woolsey stole second and scored when Gray hit a homer to left center. The next two Tigers up fanned.

Tried Hard in the Eighth.

Only great fielding by Missouri in the eighth kept the Aggies from scoring. McCallum hit a long fly to left but Taylor, the Missouri left fielder, made a great catch and robbed McCallum of a hit. Beaman grounded out to short. Dresser lined a hot one over third, but Palfreyman, the Tiger third baseman, made a sensational catch for the third out, ending the rally. The score: R. H. E. Missouri . . . 002 000 000—2 5 1 Aggies . . . 100 000 000—1 4 1 Batteries—Angerer and Hall; Pollom and Forsberg. Struck out—By Pollom 8; by Angerer 10. Hit by pitched ball—Bring, Knaus. Umpires—Heibel and Hackney.

ST. MARYS COMES FRIDAY.

Catholic Team Is Minus Peppery Quigley.

The St. Marys aggregation of baseball players will invade the Aggie camp Friday afternoon and endeavor to avenge themselves for the two defeats the Aggies handed the Quigley crowd last season. The St. Marys team, minus Quigley, is staggering along in fair style, winning a game here and there and causing much comment in general as to the noticeable lack of their old pep leader. The Aggies should take the St. Marys players into camp with ease.

NOTICE! ENGINEERS.

The engineers will meet Thursday the chapel hour in front of the shops. Important.

CHOOSE 8 LYCEUM NUMBERS

COMMITTEE HAS ANOTHER ATTRACTION TO SELECT.

Margaret Stahl and Ben Greet Players Give Return Engagements —Bangs Is Added.

The society lyceum committee has eight of the numbers for next year's course. One other number a band, is yet to be selected. The course is one of the strongest that has ever been here. Those who will be here are: John Kendrick Bangs, lecture on Salubrity I Have Met; Boston Musical Company, eight musicians; Margaret Stahl, reader, will have a return engagement; Thomas Brooks Fletcher, lecturer; Skovgaard, the greatest living Danish violinist, assisted by Alice McClung, pianist, and Mary Elliot-Heness, soprano; Ralph Parlette, lecturer; Ben Greet players, return engagement in new plays and several new players; Killarney Girls with Rita Rich, a company of seven girls who give a program of Irish songs, in costume.

The committee is still undecided over the band. Pat Conray's band, from Syracuse, and the Innes band, of Chicago, are being considered. Definite arrangements of the time of the numbers have not been made.

Floyd Nichols Returns to Camp.

Floyd Nichols, who was graduated last spring from this college and several different offices, was visiting with college friends the latter part of the week. He is now agricultural editor of the Farmer and Fruit Grower, published at St. Joseph, Mo.

Azbury Endacott will desert the P. S. B.s of the college. Az will leave today or soon for Tulsa, Okla., where he will work as draftsman.

BREAK EVEN IN TENNIS

AGGIES WIN DOUBLES; SOUTHWESTERN THE SINGLES.

PLAYED FIRST MATCH SATURDAY

Young and Wolcott Puled Out The Match In Doubles From A 5-2 Set.

The Aggies broke even in their first intercollegiate tennis match of the season here Saturday afternoon with the Southwestern team. The Aggies won the doubles, but lost both of the single matches. The games were played on the Y. M. C. A. courts in the city park. The courts were in fine condition and allowed fast playing.

The Aggies took the first match, in doubles, by superior all around work. Southwestern took the first set, Aggies winning only three games. The Aggies came stronger in the second set, ran it to deuce and pulled it out, 8-6. The third set Young and Wolcott won, 6-1. Southwestern won the fourth, leaving the fifth to decide the match. With the score 5-2 in the deciding round, the Aggie team forced the play and pulled the set out by a score of 7-5, five games straight to win the set and match. The Aggies played well to the net and forced the play and that won for them. Fisher and Warren played for Southwestern.

Vaughn's A State Champ

In the singles, Vaughn, who holds the state intercollegiate championship in the singles, was not pushed to win from Hickok, though Hickok played well and hard. Vaughn played safely all the way attempting very little close work at the net and winning the three sets 6-1, 6-3, 6-1.

In the match between Fisher and Rexroad, Fisher lobbed continually and Rexroad neglected his chances to smash, losing to Fisher on careless playing. Fisher won the match straight, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

Lack Of Practice Hurt.

The contest is rated as an even break. Although the Aggies would have liked to pull out the singles also, they made a surprisingly good showing for the practice they have had. The team was not picked until this week and that hindered the form of the men. Young has not been playing the doubles with Wolcott, though that did not seem to bother the Aggie double team, except that a lack of team work put them in a couple of bad holes that they pulled out of only on hard playing. Hickok played the best man in the state in collegiate circles, and displayed some brilliant flashes at times but was unable to maintain the consistently clean and sure work of his opponent. Rexroad was off form in his match and should have given Fisher a sterner fight for the sets. But the Aggies will now settle down to work and should come back from the State meet at Winfield with the doubles and perhaps a singles place. They have been handicapped by a lack of practice. The Y. M. C. A. courts are in great shape and with a little more care will be in the A1 class.

Played Baker and Ottawa.

Only a small crowd witnessed the contests. Southwestern played Ottawa and Baker before coming here, winning all the matches at Ottawa and losing the doubles to Baker. The scores:

Young and Wolcott, Aggies, won from Fisher and Warren, Southwestern, 3-6, 8-6, 6-1, 3-6, 7-5.

Vaughn, Southwestern, won from Hickok, Aggies, 6-1, 6-3, 6-1.

Fisher, Southwestern, won from Rexroad, Aggies, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

Harry Heinman, state student secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will speak at the association building Thursday night at 8:45. Mr. Heinman always has something worth while to hear.

EDITORIAL

INDUSTRIAL JOURNALISM.

The announcement of the board of administration that the course in industrial journalism here would be abolished has met with universal disfavor with the students of the college. The work has been important, and the people here have an intimate knowledge of the important things that this department has done in the past and had planned for the future. Doubtless the board is acting in all sincerity for what it believes to be the best interests of the people of the state, but with the stand that the board has taken the students here cannot agree.

Industrial journalism is not the preparation of students for work on city dailies. It does not conflict with the work of any other college. It is unique in its practical application of scientific knowledge to writing. It has received almost universal commendation from the papers and magazines of the country. Industrial journalism is the teaching of men and women to write in an interesting and correct way of the farm, the home and the industries. It is training in practical work, and for the workers of this profession there is an increasing demand. And this teaching has been done right where there is material for the work and where there are men and women who are interested in the work and know the things of which they write.

The work in industrial journalism has been filling a need. It has taken too important a place in the progress of the college that the announcement of its abolishment should come without comment and with satisfaction to the people here who understand its invaluable work. Professor Dillon has given his undoubted ability, wide knowledge and long experience faithfully to the work here and the results achieved could not be better. It has lived up to the chance that it has had. It would do so in the future. Industrial journalism has "produced the goods."

MECHANICS SEE K. C. SHOPS.

Three Teachers and Twelve Seniors Take Practical Trip.

Three teachers and twelve seniors of the mechanical engineering department made a trip to Kansas City last week, leaving Manhattan Wednesday and returning Friday. Prof. A. A. Potter was chaperon. The party studied the methods of the different manufacturing plants there, the kinds of machinery used and their arrangement and the construction of the buildings.

A stop was made at Bonner Springs also on the trip down. Here the Aggies inspected the cement plant. From there they went to the Turkey creek pumping station in Kansas City. The Metropolitan power plant, Armour's, The People's Ice Company and a sub-station of the Metropolitan formed the route list for Thursday. The Barton Bros. Shoe Company, Witte Iron Works, Loose-Wilds and the Striatt Iron Works were visited Friday. A visit to the Interstate Ice Company and the Kansas Structural Steel Company completed the program Saturday. The men say the trip was of much value to them for the practical knowledge gained there.

The following men made the trip: Prof. A. A. Potter, Prof. W. W. Carlson, Charles Yost, Lynn Harris, W. Baxter, T. A. Hall, R. R. Kimmel, R. R. Baird, J. R. Witmer, E. Keith, D. M. Perrill, L. E. Grube, E. Sanders, R. E. Wiseman, E. B. Schneider and W. A. Schuster.

LET CONTRACTS FOR THE MILL.

Machinery Is Being Purchased for Milling Department.

The contracts for the machinery to be used in equipping the model mill have been let. The Wolf Company, of Chambersburg, Pa., has the contracts for the rolls, sifters, etc. The Prince and Rau Company of Milwaukee, has the contract for furnishing the grain cleaners and other machinery. This announcement has been made by L. A. Fitz professor of milling industry.

E. T. Bauer, superintendent of the Kansas Milling Company, at Wichita, has been retained as advisory engineer. He left here a week ago for Chambersburg, where he is superintending the preparation of the equipment.

"We have only to work out the details," says Professor Fitz, who smiles when you talk to him of his pet mill of-the-future, "and decide if the money is going to buy all we need. Then we will have the small task of getting it all in shape and trying to get the mill ready to run next fall when college opens."

In speaking of the idea of a model mill for a college, the Milling and Grain News, published at Kansas City, Mo., says:

"This is an innovation in college tuition and should prove of estimable value not alone to the state of Kansas but to the United States in general."

The equipment will include: two double 7x14 corrugated rollers; four double 7x14 smooth rollers; two six-section sifters; one horizontal bran duster; two double special middlings pumps; one centrifugal reel; one first break feed governor; one receiving separator; one mill separator; two dust collectors; and one scourer.

ATE THOUSANDS OF EGGS.

More Than 150 Hamps and Ios Braved Cold Storage Fruit.

More than 150 Hamps and Ios enjoyed the annual egg-roast last Saturday afternoon. The traditional festival, held at Cedar Bend, will long be remembered by the members of the two societies as one of the best times of their college lives.

Three exciting games were scheduled and played. No scores were kept, but the Ios took the triple-header by about 43 to 18 in every contest. "Bobbie" Halbower, a right-hander, came near to pitching a shut-out game.

At sunset supper was served. It consisted of sandwiches, doughnuts, apples, coffee, cookies, ice cream and thousands of eggs, all the eggs being laid by the Hamp hens and preserved in cold storage.

After supper numerous bonfires were built and the party separated into groups around the fires. Marshmallows were toasted, songs were sung, yells were yelled. Numerous flashlights for the 1914 class book were taken.

It was after 10 o'clock when the Hamps and Ios started back to town. The party was chaperoned by Prof. and Mrs. L. A. Fitz and Prof. and Mrs. A. H. Leidigh.

MOTOR CAR STRUCK TWO GIRLS.

Louise Greenman and Corinne Myers, Students, Injured Saturday Night.

Miss Louise Greenman of Kansas City, Kan., and Miss Corinne Myers of Marion, O., were severely injured Saturday night when they were struck by a motor car driven by Fred Frank. The accident occurred just north of Poyntz on Juliette avenue about ten-thirty. Both girls were dragged some distance and when Mr. Frank succeeded in stopping the car, which was going slow when the accident happened, the car had to be lifted up to get the injured persons from under the car. They were taken to the hospital at once. Miss Greenman suffered a broken collarbone. Miss Myers was bruised severely. Miss Myers recovered sufficiently Sunday morning to be taken to the home of her uncle, William Aye. Miss Greenman will be at the hospital for some time. No one can be blamed for the accident.

The two girls cut across Juliette toward the Congregational church. Mr. Frank was driving west on Poyntz. When he sounded the horn the light from the car flashed to the left of the girls and they stepped back, expecting the car to go around them. Mr. Frank turned to the curb so as to be on the right side of the street and the car struck the girls.

The lights from other vehicles confused the girls also.

Miss Greenman is a member of the Phi Kappa Phi. Miss Myers is a recent pledge.

PICK GRAIN JUDGING TEAM?

College May Send One To Congress At Tulsa In October.

A grain judging enthusiast printed a sign and placed it on the bulletin board at the south entrance to Anderson Hall Thursday informing everyone that tryouts for the grain judging "team" should see Professor Fitz at once. If it had been a spelling contest the sign painter would not have had taken the first hurdle. But the idea that actuated the sign was better than the spelling.

Students in grain judging desire to see a team from this college represent the school at the grain judging contest at the International Dry Farming Congress, which will be held at Tulsa, Okla., in October. At this contest college teams from everywhere in the United States will enter competition and the Kansas Agricultural College should be one of those entered, say the pushers of the idea here.

To stimulate interest in the plan several students plan a tryout for a team here this term. Professor Fitz says that he is more than willing to help the students all that he can in getting samples and helping the students gain proficiency in judging. A number of students have shown interest and a team probably will be chosen.

The financing of the trip, if the team takes it, is uncertain. The Agricultural Association has considered the matter before this but never decided anything. The expense probably would be $15 or $20 for every man of the team. It is not known here what the number of men on a team is, but is probably three or five. Some means may be provided for raising money to pay part of the expenses and the contestants pay the rest for the pleasure of the trip.

How It Looks To Her.

This from the society reporter, Sister Grace, on the staff of the Daily Nebraskan:

At last! The baseball squads are drilling under our most beautiful and handsome coaches. They, I mean the players, have made the greatest progress the last week for they have been pitching in the rules of the game and catching.

You ought to see Jimmie Rodman and Becky Beckoff throw just as hard as they can at these boys standing up there with that club. Yesterday Jimmie hit one poor little freshman and made him cry. I felt so sorry for him that I wanted to go over and kiss him but Rolly wouldn't let me.

My but we have got a pretty captain. Max is awfully nice and I am sure all the girls will like him in his new ball suit. He is too cute for anything. Maybe you didn't know he is captain but really he is. He was elected last Monday night by that lively, vivacious athletic board.

We have two men that have lots of nerve. They are not afraid to stand up there right behind the man with the club and just grab those balls. My, but it takes lots of nerve. Harte is awfully good. The way in which the young enthusiast handles the mitt, face protector and bat is astonishing. (Some good words in that last sentence.)

Prospective players are being chosen early because there are not enough places on the team for all of the players and the first man out makes the team. The coaches have been worrying a lot these nights because none of the players have a whip with a long cracker.

The team is going to have a game with the poor freshmen today for they know they can beat them. They are afraid to play any seniors for fear they would be beaten. But we are strong for the freshmen.

They Run The Movies

The Women's Student Government Association at Lawrence was allowed the receipts of the movies one night this week to raise money to pay for the scholarship that the association offers. The ruling against week-night dates was suspended for the occasion.

Relay Decides A Track Meet.

Ames defeated the Nebraska track team last Saturday, the final score being 60 to 55 and the result hanging upon the relay. Not until the last lap of the relay was run was the meet decided.

SOPHS COMPLETE DRILL

A '15 MAN DRILLING NOW NOT HELD IN THE FALL.

A RAY OF HOPE FOR ATHLETES

Varsity Man With 1 Term or 2 Lc Could Substitute Work On Team.

The faculty recommendation to the administration board that in the future six terms of drill be required of all able-bodied men of the college, with no substitutions allowed, has caused much discussion and some worry among the athletes and the sophomores who will have finished their drill terms this spring. Here is the way it stands. Anyone who will, by the end of this term, have full filled the drill requirements as now in force, will not be held for drill next fall. For instance, a sophomore who has drilled three terms, will not have to drill next year. Athletes who have postponed drill but have one or two terms yet to drill will be allowed to substitute athletics for drill the same as at the present time. Those who are freshmen this year will have to drill until they have the six terms "killed."

All male students who enter next year, unless physically disabled, must drill six terms, with no substitution allowed for any other activity. At the present time substitution is allowed for orchestra, glee club and varsity athletics. Band is considered a part of the military department, and credit will be given for it the same as for carrying a gun. This year's freshmen varsity come under the new ruling and must therefore drill the six terms. The whole matter depends on the action of the administration board but as this is a matter of discipline rather than college policy that effects the other schools, the administration board probably will adopt the recommendation.

IT WILL RAIN MAY 10.

Franklins Set Engine Ride Date For That Day.

Keep your raincoat and umbrella handy, it's going to rain soon. The Franklin Literary Society has decided upon their annual engine ride. The Franklins never fail to bring a nice spring shower when they have their famous outing the spring term. The rain and engine ride will come May 10.

M. U. CADETS DRILLED EXTRA.

Rookies Cut For Ball Game—Result: 2 Hours Drill Added.

The poor rookies have their troubles in all schools about going to the ball game. The commandant at Missouri says that a ball game is not a duty and refused to allow the cadets to attend the game with the Chinese.

The whole cadet corp cut drill and went to the game. The next day they drilled from 4:30 until 7:30 without a stop for supper. At first they drilled on the golf links but when rain came they went to their hall where they went through the manual of arms. At Missouri it had become a custom to cut drill for ball games but the commandant says it will have to stop.

ELECT THE POPULAR ONES.

That Feature Added By May Festival Committee.

The committee in charge of the May Festival has announced the manner of election of the queen and others who will be voted upon. Beside the May Queen, who is to be chosen from the senior girls, the most popular boy and the most popular girl in every class will be decided by votes. This includes the sub-freshmen.

The election will take place several days before the festival, which is May 14. The purchase of a ticket, twenty-five cents, please, entitles the holder to a ballot, if the ticket is bought before the election has been held. The committee probably will have a place marked on the ballot to be punched when ballots are issued. This will put a damper on repeating and insure equal suffrage. Two prizes, $25 and $20, have been offered for the two best stunts put on by college organizations.

COMBINE STATION AND NORMAL

Administration Board Makes Important Changes at Hays.

A recent account of the plans of the board of administration was to the effect that the normal school at Hays and the experiment station there will be run as one institution, instead of separately, as in the past. The lands of the normal will be under the control of the experiment station heads. The agricultural college will help in the management of these lands. Pickens of the Hays Normal has resigned.

The board has decided to buy all manual training and domestic science supplies for all the schools at one time and has requested that the several colleges make estimates on the amounts of materials that will be needed. This will include other things also, as heating apparatus, sweeping compounds, chemicals, etc. etc.

The board has made a ruling with regard to the number of students in a department. There must be eighteen freshmen, twelve sophomores, and seven juniors or seniors before the board will authorize hiring a professor to teach that subject. The board is to make faculty appointments this summer.

The board has approved the plan for a three-year secondary school here next fall. The course was approved as prepared by the college faculty.

CHANGE CLASS BOOK RATING.

Except For 4, Royal Purple Offices In List II.

The student council has placed the members of the class book committee in list two offices. The chairman, assistant editor, business manager, and secretary will remain as first class officers. AGGIES WON A LISTLESS GAME SATURDAY, 2 TO 0.

MOORE'S MEN FAILED TO HIT 'EM

Thirty Giants Stepped to the Plate in Nine Innings—Scores in Third and Fifth.

The Aggies took a listless game from Moore's State leaguers Saturday afternoon on the college field, 2 to 0. The leaguers took things easy and showed that they were in poor shape, failing to display any interest in the contest except when Moore called for "a little noise." The leaguers gathered only three hits off Pollom and Bailey. Pollom pitched the first four innings and used some smoke and stuff that the leaguers could not solve. Bailey went in in the fifth, and with slower balls and some clever shoots kept the Giants away from the score box. One error was chalked up against the Aggies, and that was a hard chance. bad one that bounced in a funny way at Beaman and Beaman let it get away. But it was excusable.

"Vad's" Catch Featured.

Vadakin, armed with bluff and luck, pulled off the feature stunt of the afternoon's sport. Manager Moore felt as if he was the boy to redeem the day for his pets in the ninth inning and so stepped up as hitter. He bit at a couple first and then swung on one for a long sailer to left field. Vadakin had replaced Dresser out in left. Vadakin ran back, made a stab at the fly, bumped it up in the air, and then caught it on the way down. It was some catch. Moore almost fainted. Agnew made a good stop in the third of Crouder's ground ball, retiring his man at first. In the second Knaus went to the boundary of the lot after a foul fly, smothered it and threw to Briney to keep a Giant from taking third on the play. But the Giant runner thought that the caught fly made the third out and so hesitated between bases, allowing Briney to run him down on the way to second.

Only Thirty Giants Batted.

The Aggies scored in the third when Beaman got to first on an error. Dresser flew out. Briney hit to right. So did Enns, scoring Beaman. The Aggies scored again in the fifth when McCallum drew a walk. Beaman attempted a bunt but hit a popup to the pitcher. Dresser hit. Briney hit a sacrifice fly to center and Mac romped across the plate. The leaguers had just four men on bases during the progress of the game. Thirteen batters faced Pollom in four innings. Sixteen faced Bailey in five innings. When it was all over the teams practiced awhile longer.

Chapman won from Abilene in the annual Dickinson county high school track meet at Abilene Saturday by scoring 63 points. Abilene counted 59. For Abilene, Charles Brewer, track captain, starred. Brewer took five firsts and ran second in the low hurdles. Brewer will compete for Abilene in the state high school meet which will be held here May 17. Chapman, coached by Ed Isaacs, '12, won the meet by all-around good work. The Chapman men were good fillers and drew most of the seconds and thirds.

Ziegler Throws Javelin 148 Ft. 9 In.

The track season has opened throughout the state and many new men are showing form. In a triangular meet last Monday, Southwestern defeated Chilocco and Fairmount. Ziegler, Southwestern's crack all-around athlete, won the javelin event with a throw of 148 feet 9 inches. The javelin event is a year-old babe in Kansas circles. Ziegler set up the state record here last spring. Throwing in form, he should establish a much higher mark this season.

Fairmount Defeats Friends.

The Fairmount track team annexed six points in the Winfield triangular meet, defeating Friends University a few days later, 64 to 63. The two teams were so evenly matched that the relay race decided the meet.

MEET KANSAS FRIDAY

AGGIE TRACK MEN LEAVE FOR LAWRENCE TOMORROW.

COUNT OF POINTS TO BE CLOSE

Dope Sheet Figures Jayhawkers 9 Points in the Lead—Hurst Enters Vault Contest.

The Aggie track squad, piloted by Captain Bryan, will leave tomorrow afternoon over the Union Pacific for Lawrence, where the outdoor contest with the Jayhawkers is scheduled for Friday afternoon. This is the first outdoor meet with the Kansans since 1909, when one of the features of the meet was the winning of the 100-yard dash by Bob Christian over Cupid Haddock, the K. U. speeder. Barring Captain Hutto, the Aggies are in excellent shape, and with the right brand of pep up their sleeves should hold the Kansas aggregation to a close score. Captain Hutto is just recovering from a severely strained tendon in his left ankle and will be badly handicapped. The loss of Chang has necessitated the working out of a new quarter for the relay squad and the relay quartet will be a new combination.

Millers Will Feature.

The races of the meet will be the mile and the two-mile affairs. In these events Captain Hutto will meet the Kansas captain, Patterson, and his able teammate, Edwards. These two runners are rapidly gaining on the other distance runners in the valley circle and Hutto will more than have his hands full. Collins will probably be the Aggie mentor's choice for the two-mile run, and should give the Kansas distance men a good race.

Hurst Harts Young Chances.

The announcement that Hurst, the crack Kansas pole vaulter, has returned will cause the Aggies to figure the vault as a sure first for the Jayhawker squad. However, "Spin" Young will figure in the competition, as he has been clearing the bar close to 11 feet with ease in the outdoor workouts. The broad jump should go to the Aggies with Stone leaping in form. Kansas will take eight points in the high jumps as the Aggies are powerless to count in the event. The hurdles will go to the Kansas team also. Hazen defeated Young indoors with ease and should repeat outdoors Friday, as he has been clearing the high sticks in 15 4-5 this season. Marble, Stone and Smith should win 16 points in the weight events for the Aggies, judging on past performances.

Aggie Runners Are Strong.

Gates and Hancock are negotiating the short dashes in fast time and should be able to hold the Kansas sprinters. The quarter-mile event is up in the air on the Manhattan end of the line. Kansas has several speedy quarter-milers who have been making the distance in 53 seconds and less. Bryan's 440 men have been making good time and the crafty coach is contented with the workouts. Sutton, Taylor, Beard and Collins will compose the quartet from which the half-milers will be chosen. Sutton covered the distance in 2:07 in the interclass meet and was forced to front a heavy gale on the south stretch of the track on each round. The Aggie track followers figure it this way:

	K. U.	Aggies.
100-yard dash	3	5
220 dash	3	5
440 dash	5	3
880 run	5	3
Mile	3	5
2-mile	3	5
120 hurdles	8	0
220 hurdles	8	0
Vault	5	3
High jump	8	0
Broad jump	3	5
Shotput	0	8
Discus	0	8
Relay	5	0

LOST IN THE NINTH

HARD HIT BALL BOUNCED OVER McCALLUM'S HEAD.

MISSOURI TOOK THE SECOND GAME

With Two Down, Bailey Walked Hornbeck—Woolsey's Single Took a Bad Bound.

The Aggies lost both ends of a two-game series with Missouri at Columbia Monday and Tuesday. The first game went to the Tigers, 2 to 1, and the second, 4 to 3. The Tigers won the second game in the last of the ninth. With two gone, Bailey walked Hornbeck. Woolsey hit a clean one to McCallum in center field. The Aggie center fielder came up to handle the ground ball, but the ball took a bad bound in front of McCallum and soared over his head, rolling under the wire fence that surrounds the field, and allowing Hornbeck to cross the plate with the winning count.

Bailey Pitched Great Ball.

"We surely had hard luck in that second game, especially," said Coach Lowman on his return to Manhattan. Bailey pitched great ball in the second game and with the breaks at all his way would have won. He let Missouri down with four hits.

In the second game Coach Lowman changed his batting order considerably, sending Dresser to the lead-off, putting Enns at the third notch and Briney in the cleanup place. The combination worked well. McCallum was held up in speed by the ankle sprained in the Monday combat.

Tigers Start the Scoring.

Missouri scored first. In the fourth inning Hall and Helmrich hit safely. Hall scored on Gray's sacrifice. With two one and none down, Bailey whiffed the next three in order. The Aggies and the Columbia nine scored two each in the fifth. Enns, Briney and McCallum singled, Enns and Briney scoring on Forsberg's sacrifice. In the seventh, Bailey doubled over second and tied the score on Dresser's single to left. Not until the Tigers' half of the ninth was there a chance to score, and then with Hornbeck ahead of Woolsey's three sacker the Aggies' chances for an even break went soaring.

Breaks Favored Mizzou.

The Aggies played great ball. But the Tigers played just a trifle better and gained all of the breaks. The game was fast and clean, few errors being registered on either side. Bailey struck out 9 men and Helm whiffed 12. The warm weather seemed to favor the Missourians and their pitchers were "right."

CHANGE BANQUET TO MAY 30

FOR ATHLETES' SAKE, JUNIOR-SENIOR POSTPONED A WEEK.

Money Comes In, but Not the Dates—Committee Will Open Up Office.

The junior-senior banquet has been postponed until May 30. All the plans were set for May 23 but it was discovered that the members of the track team would have to go to Topeka the next day to the state meet and it would be impossible for them to attend the banquet. Since the banquet will be on Memorial day, it will give the committee a chance to work all day getting ready for the big event. The present date will stand.

The banquet should be a success as all the juniors are paying the assessment. All of the girls except about 20 have paid the $3. In all, 150 have paid up. The boys should get busy as there are not enough girls to go around and some one will get left. About 75 couples have been registered but there are a number of dates that have not been reported. Some junior boys report having been "stung" as many as four times by girls having dates that are not registered. When you get your date, register it.

The date committee has leased the office opposite the postoffice and will have headquarters there next week. The window will be open an hour each day so that dates can be registered and the assessment paid. The committee will assign dates after May 10.

G. C. Wheeler, of the extension division, is busy planning and supervising the construction of silos. He is now at Ellsworth and is dated until the latter part of June on this work.

AGGIES LOSE 27 TO 82

HAMILTON SQUAD EASILY OUT-POINTS BRYAN'S MEN.

GATES WINS THE 100-YARD DASH

A Windy Day and a Fast Track—Hutto Loses Mile to Patterson.

By Special Correspondence.

Lawrence, May 2.—The Aggies had no chance with Kansas here today on McCook Field, the Jayhawker squad winning easily, 82 to 27. It was a windy day, but the track was fast. Gates and Smith were the best point winners for the Aggies. A feature of the meet was the finish of the 440, when Davis of Kansas finished ahead of Cates of the Aggies. Exceptional time was made in the 120 hurdles. Hutto lost the mile to Patterson. In the hurdles the Kansas took high jump—Johnson, Kansas, winning the short dash in good time.

The summary:
100-yard dash—Gates, Aggies, first; Hilton, Kansas, second. Time, 10 2-5.
One mile run—Patterson, Kansas, first; Hutto, Aggies, second. Time, 4:41.

120-yard hurdles—Hazen, Kansas, first; Perry, Kansas, second. Time, 55 3-5.

Broad jump—Hirst, Kansas, first; Hazen, Kansas, second. Distance, 20 feet 10 1-2 inches.

DEBATERS IN SPOTLIGHT.

Tri-State Team's Arguments May Appear in Debaters' Annual.

The members of the tri-state debating squad have been asked to furnish copies of their debates to Professor Searson. He is trying to have the debates published in volume 4 of the Inter Collegiate Debates, an annual debating publication. This will be an honor, as debates from all leading universities are published in this book. Prof. E. R. Nichols of Beloit, Wis., is the editor. The book contains all of the big questions that have been debated during the year. Arguments of both sides are presented. This is the first attempt of the Aggies to break into the stronger debating circles. If the debates are used it will be the best boost for debating at K. S. A. C. that is possible.

ACCEPTS FELLOWSHIP.

Raymond Brink, '08, '09, Will Do Graduate at Cambridge.

Raymond W. Brink, son of Dean C. M. Brink, graduate in general science in 1908 and in electrical engineering in 1909, has recently been offered a scholarship in the University of Chicago and has been awarded a fellowship at Harvard. This is not a teaching fellowship, but one that will give him all his time for graduate work. Raymond is teaching mathematics in the University of Minnesota, and was offered an increase of salary to remain there, but has decided to accept the fellowship at Harvard instead.

W. E. Watkins, '08, a Hopper county farmer and former demonstration agent for the entomology department, has been appointed county agent for the extension division in Allen county, with headquarters at Iola, starting today.

CALL IT DENISON HALL NOW

PHYSICAL SCIENCE HALL GETS A NEW NAME.

The Rev. Joseph Denison, First President, Given Recognition in Name of Building.

Physical Science hall is no more. In its place stands Denison hall, so named in honor of the Rev. Joseph Denison, the first president of this college. Old alumni urged some time ago that one of the buildings on the hill be called Denison hall in recognition of the services of President Denison of Bluemont College, who retained the executive position when the college changed to a state institution from a Methodist Episcopal college. So the name of the physical science hall is now changed to Denison hall.

The history of the college, written by Dr. J. D. Walters, professor of architecture and drawing, contains interesting accounts of the college in early days. President Denison was born at Bernardston, Mass., in 1815. He was an able executive here and was instrumental in bringing about the change to a state institution in 1862. He resigned in 1873. He later became president of Baker University. He died at the home of his sister, in Manhattan, February 19, 1900. Burial was in Sunset cemetery.

Dr. Walters, in his history of the college, says: "The Reverend Denison is characterized by his collaborators as a man of conservative views with regard to education, politics and religion—a typical New Englander of the old school, a simple and solid character. Of the other pioneers who came with him from the east many accumulated considerable wealth—he worked in the vineyard of the Lord and had no time to make money."

JUST TOO MUCH POLLOM

ST. MARYS, FAILING TO HIT, LOSES TO AGGIES, 5 TO 2.

LOWMAN TEAM WON IT EASILY

Visitors Could Not Connect in the Pinches—Cleland Poled a Homer in the Seventh.

The Aggies outclassed St. Marys yesterday afternoon on the college field, winning in easy style, 5 to 2. The visitors found Polloom for more than one hit in only one inning, and then the score that came across was not earned. A bit of careless work in the last two innings gave the visitors two scores. But the rest of the game they never had a look in. The Aggies hit in good style, enough to win a ball game, and clouted them when they were needed. Despite the bad day, the game was well played, the pitchers having the edge on the hitters with the aid of a wind that forced itself against the pitchers' curves and made the breaks hard to connect with.

Counted Three in the Third.

The Aggies scored first, in the third inning, when four hits and a walk shoved three men across for clean runs. Beaman grounded out. Polloom singled to center. Cleland singled to center. Agnew flew out to pitcher. Dresser waited for a walk and got it. Briney singled, scoring Polloom and Cleland. Enns singled to right and Briney ambled home. The Aggies took two more in the seventh. Cleland poled a homer to right center and came home amid plaudits. Agnew hit a long one to center that Rozier judged poorly and then erred on, Agnew taking second on the play. Dresser flew out but Briney hit one safely to right and Agnew came home with the last score.

A 3-Base Hit, and an Error.

In the eighth, Gilganum—say this fast—smashed one to right that was too speedy for McCallum and Mac hobbled after it out into the vegetable garden, the St. Marys pitcher holding up at third. This was the first time that the visitors had looked dangerous, and he crowd got interested. Kelly and Brown went down, Polloom to Knaus, but Gilganum sneaked off third on the second play and started for home. Knaus threw to Forsberg but Swud failed to hang the pill and the score came across. In the ninth, the visitors made a half-hearted stand for the game, all the while packing their duds. Stack struck out, but Wrape singled. Ellis got on when Beaman mused a grounder. A passed ball shoved the two runners up a base. Another passed ball scored Wrape. But Gilganum, with two gone, fanned.

EDITORIAL

A CREDIT TO KANSAS.

When a big paper that goes into thousands of homes, a paper that is interested in farms and farmers, stops to commend the work of a smaller paper, thousands of miles away, for excellent work, the event is worth nothing. The following editorial is reprinted for two reasons: First, this college has an abiding faith in the function and success of industrial journalism; second, the editorial is a credit to this college. Here it is:

The Kansas Industrialist, which for 26 years has represented the Kansas Agricultural College and exploited Kansas agriculture, rather bewails its lot because there are no funds available for boom editions on special occasions. For instance, next June, when the agricultural college celebrates its fiftieth year of usefulness to the state, The Industrialist will not touch off any pyrotechnics in the guise of red ink and 50-page editions. But if the editor of The Industrialist could hear the commendatory words spoken of The Industrialist by newspaper men, and knew the antipathy which farmers entertain to all forms of spreadeagles in the papers which they read, he would be glad that his paper is just as it is.

For the purpose which it is meant to serve, The Industrialist is almost ideal in scope and style. No other agricultural college in the world has any such publication—most of them have nothing at all or merely a letter bulletin. The chances are that The Industrialist has a limited circulation. It carries no advertising and is wholly dependent on an annual appropriation for its maintenance. And yet for the Kansas farm home there is no better farm paper published. All the farm data published in The Industrialist is not only seasonable, but comes with the sanction and backing of one of the greatest agricultural colleges in existence, while the average farm paper is a rehash from the pens of more or less irresponsible authors.

If the farmers of Kansas want to read the latest deductions of science in regard to the matters in which they are vitally interested, they will get it first-hand in the Manhattan paper. It is a credit to the state.—The Drovers Telegram.

A SOURCE OF INFORMATION

If the board of administration desired to know the esteem in which the department of industrial journalism and The Kansas Industrialist are held by the newspapers of the west, it took the right way by which to find out when it announced the abolishment of the courses here. The following editorial is an example of the opinion of newspapers toward the department:

The Kansas Industrialist has been the official publication of the Kansas Agricultural College for more than a quarter of a century. It has been the medium of communication between the farmers of the state and the college. It has been the "advance sheets" of information which the Kansas newspapers have used to enlighten the Kansas readers, most of whom are farmers, as to the results of experiment work conducted by the state's agricultural school.

It is essential that a school of that kind have such a publication to interpret the work of the school in readable and understandable articles.

During the last two years the Industrialist under the editorship of Mr. Charles J. Dillon has been particularly efficient in filling that requirement.

Some extraordinary reason, therefore, ought to accompany the announcement of the new board of administration that the Industrialist is to be eliminated from the work of the school.

Without the Industrialist, or a similar publication, much of the college work will be nullified, and all of the college work will be greatly limited to comparison to the influence now given it by the school publication.

Inasmuch as the paper has reached such a high standard of efficiency, there seems to be only one reason that could be given for suspending it, and that is economy. The cost of issuing the Industrialist is about $2,000 a year. It is doubtful if the state has an investment of anything like that amount in any other field of state work that pays such big dividends as the Industrialist pays.

ends as the Industrialist pays.—Kansas City Star.

"OUR IDEAL."

University of Kansas women recently made out a list of requirements that would constitute the ideal qualities of "their man." The Kansan printed a story of it. Here is what Cornell has to say:

With Sir Walter Scott we say, "O woman! in our, hours of ease, uncertain, coy, and hard to please," when we cast our eyes over the "ideal" young man of the Kansas college girls. Height, 5 feet 11 inches; weight, 159 pounds; chest, 40 inches expanded, 34 inch contracted; waist 30 1/2 inches! not a dandy; true sportsman; not a flatterer; reverent of the aged; courteous; not a smoker or drinker; not a sneerer at religion; and who does not recognize a double standard.

For one thing we thank the Kansas connoisseurs, they are assuredly not dilettantes, and that is for the saving clause, "He must make a good appearance, but need not be handsome."

The news columns cover the case when they say—"Angel Wanted."—Cornell Daily Sun.

LIMITATION AND SCHOLARSHIP.

The student's interest committee has started a movement, evidently, to limit the number of activities and reduce the importance which they are beginning to assume in the eyes of the students. This is an awful good step in the right direction. It will aid somewhat in returning to the scholastic spirit—the spirit which makes the pursuit of one's studies enjoyable, and in all cases paramount. But there is lacking in this way of going at the problem a fundamental correction.

It is to be noticed that the professional men in the university have much less part in student activities than other students. Just in proportion as the men take their school work seriously, so are they refraining from activities. This would argue that the difficulty with the scholarship in other schools is not because of the number of activities and so forth but rather in the courses themselves.

It seems to be true that undergraduate energy must be used up by some sort of endeavor. If the school-work is such that it leaves a time—and—enthusiasm surplus in a young fellow he must naturally use it up in some sort of activity. Remove the wholesome activity and he must turn his energies to some other field, perhaps not so wholesome. The remedy then does not lie in doctoring the effects, the activities. The remedy lies in curing the cause.

Just how enthusiasm for scholarship is to be produced, we suppose, many educators would give much to know. This much is fairly sure. Where the student is forced to really worked to gain passing grades, he is generally, if not enthusiastic, at least serious, and, very industrious. As we said in a previous editorial, the University of Wisconsin must eventually raise its standard of requirements. If it does there will be fewer activities, better scholarship and fewer flunks.—Wisconsin Daily News.

THEY'RE "UNSCRAMBLEABLE."

Every afternoon about three o'clock in hundreds of cities sport writers begin to whittle on their pencils preparatory to unloosing on an unsuspecting public of the morrow a flood of language that shall tell the story of how the game went. Which calls to mind the vocabulary that a sport writer must perforce use—perforce being as good as any other word. But it is true that of all the atrocities of English, those of the sport writer have them all lashed to the mast. Writing sport calls for vividness, and there is nothing so vivid as the lingo of the baseball world, especially if the umpire is worse than usual today. But to write the stories of how the home team went down to a victory or how the locals rattled the boards with their long hits—writer must simply write as he felt at the ball game and at ball games one doesn't think in terms of classic prose or poetry. One thinks of the battle.

Yet people are always telling us that sport writing should be reformed, that the slang should be cut out—cut out is all right here, because that word, you know, has been accepted in the circles of polite English as filling a void—that writers should try to instruct the coming generation about the great baseball sport in cleaner cut language with more regard for "English as she ought to be spoke."

There is only one answer. Put one of those persons at a ball game, when a game is hotly contested, when strike outs, boneheads and brilliant plays chase each other through the game, and then when the game is over take the person to an office, stick a typewriter in front of him, and then tell him to go ahead and write a story without slang. Then he will either do something that has never been done—or he will go crazy. Try it sometime.

AN "AWFUL" NUMBER.

While the staff of the Daily Seabaskan was at Omaha recently, the cubs of the crowd got out an "awful" number of the paper. On the front page were the startling stories that the university was sold and that one of the faculty was held for murder. It was finally disclosed that the prof had murdered a fly in his soup and that the people who believed the headlines were the sold university. The editorial names were supplanted by a question mark.

KEEP YOU IN HEALTH

HERE'S HOW SICK BENEFIT FUND IS EXPENDED.

MEDICAL ATTENTION TO 1684

Colds Scored Heavily Winter Term—Fifty Cent Fees Prevent Spread of Contagions.

The advantages of the students' sick benefit fund are hard to estimate. But the number of persons who have taken advantage of the fund can be computed and has been. It shows that people were healthier in the fall than in the winter term. The cold and throat trouble during the winter term called for much medical attention, and the measles, also. For the payment of fifty cents a term students receive medical attention without other charge than for medicine, with certain limitations, and the attention of a trained nurse, if necessary. In the fall term, 480 certificates, certifying the holders to be entitled to treatment under the provision of the fund, were issued. In the winter term, 804 certificates were issued, making a total of 1684 for the first two terms of the college year.

The Fall Term List.

On the 480 certificates issued in the fall term, 159 were colds; 53, for digestive troubles; 8, for appen-

The regular physicians' fees turned in amounted to $881.50, the average charge being $1.90. The highest fee charged by any one physician for a case was 25. The lowest was $1. Fourteen physicians were consulted.

A Cold Crowd This Winter.

Of the 804 certificates issued in the winter term, 480 were issued for cold and throat trouble; for digestive troubles, 39; for appendicitis, 7; for ear troubles, 11; for eye troubles, 13; chicken pox, 3; for injuries, including those received in athletics, 75; for measles, 148; for pneumonia, two; others not classified. Thirteen physicians were consulted. The average charge was $3.10. The total bill amounted to $2484.

A DEPARTMENT WORTH WHILE.

Kansas Farmer Says That of Industrial Journalism.

The Kansas Agricultural College has a department of industrial journalism, of which Charles Dillon is the dean, and working with him is an able corps of assistants. Personally, we do not like the name—Industrial Journalism—because it does not accurately describe the character of work done by Mr. Dillon in this department. Although Dillon is an experienced and successful newspaper man, he is not through the above named department making an effort to turn out finished newspaper workers or editors, although some of his students have taken lucrative positions in such lines and are making good. It is the real object of the department to teach its students simple, plain, easy writing, and the department is actually teaching this. There is probably no other one accomplishment so valuable to so large a number of people in every walk of life as the ability to express one's thoughts clearly and easily in plain English. To accomplish students along this line is the object of Mr. Dillon's work. Every college course should include some work in this department, even though it be for a period not longer than necessary to teach good letter writing. Every boy or girl who attends the agricultural college, whether graduating therefrom or not, should be able to write a good letter. Parents whose boy or girl is attending the college should see that he or she has some work in Dillon's school.—The Kansas Farmer.

Professor Dickens Desires Addresses Of Alumni.

Professor Dickens will send out the third and last notice to the alumni of the college very soon. This is the last notice to the grads to send in their dollars and pedigrees so that the alumni bulletin may be prepared for the printers. An assessment of $1 has been levied to cover the expense and the alumni have been asked to pay the assessment, and send in an account of what they are doing also, so that the bulletin will be something that will be of interest to the graduates of the college.

The addresses of some of the alumni cannot be obtained. If you know any of the people in the list herewith printed, know where they are, know someone who knows where they are, or knows someone who knows someone else who knows where these people are, write a letter to Prof. Albert Dickens, K. AGGIES AND TIGERS MEET IN TRACK MAY 10.

MISSOURI HAS VETERAN SQUAD

Bryan Squad, Fearing Nicholson, Thatcher and Kirksey, Relies on Running Events.

The Missouri Tigers and the Aggie track men will tangle next Saturday at Columbia in the first dual track meet ever held between the two schools. Missouri has the strongest track team it has ever had and the Aggies will more than have their hands full. Coach Schulte has a team composed of veterans who are all point winners, and the hope of the Aggies lies in their chances of pulling down enough firsts and seconds to counterbalance the efforts of Nicholson, Thatcher, Kirksey and other Tiger stars. Kirksey holds the Western Conference record in the low hurdles. Thatcher is the All-American Intercollegiate discus thrower. Nicholson is known to all track followers in the country as being second to none in the high barriers. In speaking of the meet Coach Bryan says:

"The Aggies will be strong in the running events while the Tigers will have to rely upon their abilities in the field events. We do not entertain any hope of defeating Nicholson, Thatcher or Kirksey, but the Kansas athletes should show up well compared to the other Tiger track men."

With point winners such as the Missouri team carries great difficulty is encountered in winning a dual meet against a strong team. Missouri's three best men are able to pull a win out of a large meet where several first places, totaling 20 to 30 points, will take the meet. In a dual meet the points are not scattered among several institutions and the going is more difficult. Herein lies the hope of the Aggies. Coach Bryan has spent the past weeks preparing the Aggies for the test when they encounter the Missourians. The Aggie squad will have an opportunity to show the class that Bryan has imparted.

CHANGE FIELDER'S CHOICE.

Batter Will Receive a Hit In Certain Plays.

The major leagues and the Writers' Association have made an important change in the scoring rules. Hereafter in certain plays a batter will be given a hit when heretofore the play was scored as a fielder's choice. For instance, when a runner or more are on bases, the batter hits a ball to an infielder. The infielder handles the play cleanly, without error, and attempts to cut off the runner nearest home, but fails to do so. Then the batter would be credited with a hit, instead of a fielder's choice. But if the man cut off the runner nearest home, what would the play be credited? A fielder's choice, unless a scorer would choose to set a new rule and give the batter a stolen base. Here is something that will give the scorers some chance for arguments.

WILL BOOST THE MEET

COACH LOWMAN WILL PUSH HIGH SCHOOL TRACK.

PLANS FOR ENTERTAINING MAY 17

Congressional Committee Will Greet Visitors—Write To Home High School, Says Coach.

The state high school meet will be boomed now, says Coach Lowman. One of the first things that is to be done is the organization of the big entertainment committee composed of students from the eighth congressional districts of the state. Coach Lowman is planning to have four or five members from each congressional district on this committee and the committee will meet the athletes who will come here, help them in finding their way about, take them over the campus and see to it that they have a pleasant time here.

These Men are District Directors.

It will be easy to find out if your home high school will be entered in this meet. Detailed information can be obtained from the district directors of the Kansas High School Athletic Association. These directors are: First district, Supt. H. B. Ambrose, Wetmore; second, Supt. J. F. Barnhill, Paola; third, Prin. R. W. Titus, Galena; fourth, Prin. A. N. Thoroman, Cottonwood Falls; fifth, Prin. H. T. Steeper, Abilene; sixth, Prin. L. R. Light, Norton; seventh, Prin. S. L. Palmer, Hutchinson; eighth, H. C. Buck, Wichita. Supt. J. W. Shideler, of Junction City, is the president of the Kansas association and can give detailed information. These men know the teams that will enter and can give a good estimate of the number from every district that will be here for the meet.

Personal Letters Count.

It will help a whole lot, says coach Lowman, if students only will write home to their home high schools and urge the high school people to come. Let them come for the meet even if they do not compete. A personal letter will do much to increase the number here. Coach Lowman is holding open house over at Nichol's gym this week for students who volunteer to become members of the entertainment committee. Most of the districts have had their meet and the results will be sent to Coach Lowman as soon as they can be tabulated. The list will then be announced so that students can make even better use of the mails to get all the high school athletes here.

CHAMPIONSHIP TO THE AGGIES.

Sonders and Root All-Kansas Choices
—Mac Captains Seconds.

President Lund of Bethany, president of the Kansas Conference, has informed Coach Lowman that through default of the eligibility committee to report on the case of Zabel, Baker player, the state championship in basketball goes to the Kansas Aggies. Coach Lowman is chairman of the championship committee. The members of this committee are Quigley of St. Marys, Lowman of K. S. A. C., and Philipps of Southwestern. Upon Quigley's departure for the east President Lund appointed Coach Lowman chairman of the committee.

The championship committee met March 17. The committee decided that the basketball championship was a tie between Baker and the Aggies, subject to the ruling of the protest committee in regard to the eligibility of a member of Baker's team, the championship to go to the Aggies in case the protest committee found one of the Baker players ineligible. Even though the committee should report favorably upon the case of the player in question, the Aggies made claims to the championship because they had played one more Conference game than Baker, neither team having lost to a Conference team. The protest committee, of which Coach Schrer of Baker is the chairman, did not have a meeting and took no action on the report of the championship committee. In the judgment of President Lund the championship goes to the Aggies. The ultimate decision will be made May 24, when the Conference representatives meet at Topeka.

The championship committee announced these All-Kansas teams in basketball:

A BANQUET FOR 200 Y. W.'s.

Interest In The Summer Conference Increases.

Two hundred girls were present at the big Y. W. C. A. banquet Monday night in the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. building. The banquet was given to arouse interest in the conference of the association this year at Estes Park, Colo.

The gym was decorated with pennants and pine boughs, and a water fall arranged at one side of the room served as the Colorado setting. A four-course luncheon, served by the high school girls, as followed by toasts, Miss Estella Boot a toast-mistress. The toasts were: "Things That Abide," Ruth Gilbert; "When Good Fellows Get Together," Clarre Hoaglin; "Summer Conference" Miss Haass. The girls who attended the conference at Cascade last summer gave a stunt and sang the Cascade Song. The Rev. Dr. Holt gave a stereopticon lecture on Estes Park.

WIN THE LAST HALF.

Juniors and Sophs Tied When Juniors Defeated Freshmen.

The junior girls won from the freshman girls in basketball Monday afternoon in Nichols gym, 12 to 9. Munger starred for the juniors. The juniors were shut out in the first quarter, made only one score in the second quarter, changed their line-up in the last half and won easily. This ties the juniors and the sophs for second place. Meldrum played well for the freshmen. The score:

COMING BACK, ALUMNI?

MANY TO CELEBRATE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF K. S. A. C.

DICKENS PLANS ALUMNI BULLETIN

Commencement Week Will Bring Hosts of Graduates Back To Alma Mater.

Commencement Week this spring will mark the fiftieth anniversary of the graduations of students from the Kansas Agricultural College. Fifty years of struggle and accomplishment! To commemorate this half-century, many alumni expect to return to again enjoy Commencement Week. Within the next few weeks letters will go to all the graduates of the college whose addresses are available, urging them to come for the exercises of the week. And they will come. It will be a week when all classes of all the years will hold reunions. Added to the regular events of the week will be the presentation of "Inafore," by the music department of the college.

Replies From 1237 Grads.

The college alumni numbers 2201. Ninety-seven graduates of the college are dead. Professor Dickens has sent two notices to all alumni, asking them to send in a dollar to help publish the alumni bulletin and an account of where they are and of what they have done since graduation. Of the 2201 alumni, answers have been received from 963. The money paid in amounts to $1237.50. That extra fifty cents means that some of the alumni have paid more than the assessed fee. Professor Dickens said yesterday that he would send cut cards, the third and last call, to the alumni who have not replied to the letters.

Dickens Directs Alumni.

Prof. Albert Dickens, who has been a member of every alumni committee as far back as one's memory holds, and who is at present in charge of the Alumni Association work, is preparing to get all the graduates of the college here for the week. An assessment of $1 has been levied on every member of the Alumni Association to pay the cost of issuing the alumni bulletin this year. Professor Dickens says:

Up To The Grads.

"One might think that the alumni of the college were not very active. Some say that the graduates of the state colleges do not have that real college spirit that is possessed by the students of smaller colleges. But I doubt that. But it's true that a state school does not pay the same attention to keeping track of the alumni as do the smaller schools not a part of the state educational system. So it is up to the alumni themselves to keep up their own interests and keep track of their own members. I have already sent two letters to all alumni asking them to send in their dollar assessment and their pedigrees so that the bulletin will be complete in every way. We shall send out another soon, the third and last. We plan to make this fiftieth anniversary a big thing, and we expect the alumni to return in large numbers for the week."

Watch For The '12 Class.

The class of '12 plans to be here in force. E. C. Magill, who is at present assisting in the hort department, president of the class, will be in a campaign soon to obtain the promises of many members of the class of last spring to return here and show the college some of the old life.

WAS COMMANDANT HERE.

Capt. Alfred Todd, '72, Died in New York City.

Word has been received of the death of Capt. Alfred Todd, '72, of the coast artillery corps, at New York a few days ago. Captain Todd had not been in health for some time and had been to Italy and Switzerland to recuperate. Captain Todd was commandant of cadets here from 1881 to 1884. He also taught classes in history. He was of strong physique when at Manhattan. He was well liked by faculty and students. It was while at Manhattan that he wrote a textbook on strategy, "Campaigns of the Rebellion." The book was printed by the college department of printing and was illustrated with lithographic maps. It attracted much attention in military circles.

Former Student Will Marry.

The engagement of Thomas Parker, '11, and Cora Trimmer has been announced. Miss Trimmer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Trimmer, 1273 Polk Street, Topeka. The wedding will be May 14, at the Trimmer home. Miss Trimmer was a student here in 1907, and a member of the Phi Kappa Phi sorority. Mr. Parker is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon. They will live at Parsons, Kas., where Mr. Parker is in business.

ASKS REPORTS ON CHEATING

STUDENTS' COUNCIL DESIRES YOUR CO-OPERATION.

By Faculty and Council Regulations, The Teachers Should Be Notified Of Cribbing.

The Students' Council asks cooperation of students to suppress cheating. The faculty, last fall term, made regulations concerning cheating, and the council did the same. The council wishes to impress on the student body the fairness and necessity of reducing cheating to a minimum or doing away with it altogether. This statement is from the council:

The Students' Council wishes the co-operation of the entire student body with the faculty in observing the rules concerning examinations and quizzes. The present arrangement of reporting cheating during examinations and quizzes, as approved by the faculty and council, does not bring the person reporting the case, into the matter whatever.

All cases of cheating should be reported to the instructor at the time the cheating is going on. He, in turn, will report the matter to the head of the department, who may, if he sees fit, report the case at once to the discipline committee or take such action as seems fit. But in all cases a report must be made by the head of the department to the discipline committee, with the action taken. The discipline committee will keep a record of all cases reported as a guide for further action if the same case should be brought to them at some later time.

The Students' Council also wishes a report made of all property that is stolen and will do all it can to locate such property. It is for the general welfare of the student body that such rules must be enforced, and in order to enforce them, the faculty and council must have the support of every student in the college.

STUDENTS' COUNCIL.

CHOOSE MAY 17 AS DAY

MCCORMICK'S PROTEGES WILL TAKE CHARGE OF COLLEGE.

COMMITTEE IS MAKING PLANS

Direct Chapel, Sing and Play, Edit The Kansas Aggie, Give Big Parade at Night.

Saturday, May 17, will be Engineers' Day. The students of the engineering department will edit the issue of The Kansas Aggie, have charge of chapel exercises, the music to be furnished by an engineers band and quartet. The celebration will last all day, culminating in a grand procession at night with electrically lighted floats, through the main streets of Manhattan, if the city thinks it can stand the strain. Paul Jackson, electrical, is chairman of the committee on arrangements. The other members are: Professor Conrad, Professor Potter, J. C. Jones, civil; Stanley Smith, architectural; N. M. Hutchinson, mechanical; H. H. Coxen, printing.

The date was selected Monday. Dean McCormick promises the committee that it can demand anything within reason of the department, and the other members of the teaching force take the same attitude. The floats that will appear in the evening's parade will represent the various branches of the division of engineering. The wiring will be done by the electricals.

Engineers will wear the regulation shirts that day, without fail. Everything possible will be done to make the day one to be remembered as one when the engineers showed the rest of the college what the engineers really could do when they wished to. But the engineers will go to classes just the same. The pep will prevail everywhere, and the teachers will have to display their share of it.

BOARD MEETS THURSDAY.

Administrators May Decide Printing and Journalism Fate.

E. W. Hoch, Mrs. Cora G. Lewis and Ed P. Hackney, the members of the educational administration board, will be here Thursday of this week and will meet with President Waters. Although no statement probably will be given out, it is very probable that the fate of the printing and journalism courses will be decided. The college is urging upon the board the necessity of retaining these courses in the curriculum. State-wide comment on the proposed abolishment of the course has proved the esteem in which these courses are held by the publications of Kansas and other states. The outcome of the conference here will be awaited eagerly.

RAN AWAY; OVERTURNED RACK.

Horses, Frightened By Motor Car, Caused Excitement.

Dr. Orr, a Manhattan photographer, came out to the college Friday to get some pictures of the crowd at the live stock feeders' convention. He engaged a team and hay rack so as to have a position of vantage. After the program was completed, a number of visitors climbed into the rack for a ride back to the college. The horses pulled back on the lines, one mobile, and when the driver of the horses pulled back on the lines, the line broke and the team had its own way. The people in the rack began to leave without ceremony. Dr. Orr was one of the last. He got off before the horses had run the length of the road leading to the college from the poultry farm. The rack overturned near the vet building. One farmer was injured slightly and Dr. Orr's face was disfigured, in falling.

Subfreshmen, Take Notice.

All subfreshmen are hereby notified to make dates for the outdoor class party to be held Friday, May 16, before Monday, May 12, and to report all dates to committee. Beginning with May 12 assignments will be made.

By order of committee.

Miss Mildred Mills, of Topeka, visited college friends over Sunday.

TO GIVE A CONCERT MAY 23

Glee Club Makes Annual Appearance Then.

Song-fest Was Omitted Last Year—Divide Program In Two Parts—The Members.

Somebody has revived the Glee Club. To prove it the gleemen will give a concert May 23, in the Auditorium. The proceeds of the concert will go to the fund for a pipe-organ for the Auditorium.

Promise A Novel Act.

The program will be in two parts. The first part will be classical. The numbers have not been chosen, the Sextette from Lucia is sure of a place. The second part will contain popular music and a comedy stunt of some sort. The members are working hard to make the concert a good one. It was planned at first to bring a singer of national reputation to assist but the arrangements could not be made. The announcement of a concert will please college people, as the failure of the gleemen to give the annual concert last year was a disappointment. The club numbers 16. The personnel of the club:

The Club Members.

At the regular meeting of the Alpha Beta Literary Society Saturday night, the girls of the society invited the boys to assist them in disposing of some fudge and other confections next Friday night. The boys were not informed where the celebration was to be held or anything about it but were given to understand that the dates were to be made for them.

WHO SHALL BE QUEEN?

FESTIVAL RULER TO BE CHOSEN FRIDAY.

BUY TICKETS TO GET THE BALLOTS

Some Senior Girl Will Be Honored—Several Are Mentioned, but Little Campaigning.

Who will be the May Queen? Although the selection of the fair queen for the festival of May 14 is to be made Friday, campaigns for votes of co-ed favorites are late in starting. When they do come, they will come with a will. Every person who buys a ticket will be entitled to a vote for the queen, who must be a senior.

Several girls have been mentioned, but the campaigns will not be actively started until today or tomorrow. Miss Mildred Barr, Miss Lida Stoddard, Miss Katherine Van Noy and Miss Ruth Allen have been mentioned for the royal place. Doubtless others will be contenders in the campaign.

There will be no nominations. The unforeseen may occur.

Tickets for the festival of May 14 will be on sale Thursday, or else Friday morning. In one corner of the ticket will be a square marked "ticket." A punch will be made when a ballot is issued to the ticket holder. The ticket holders may vote also for the most popular persons in every class. Only one qualification is stipulated in the election of the queen: She must be a senior. Election places will be provided in Main hall.

BASEBALL TODAY, IF WEATHER

Jayhawkers Scheduled To Open Two-Game Series Here.

It all depends on the weather or not the Jayhawker baseball team and the Aggies will play their scheduled two-game series here today and tomorrow. If the weather permits, the games will be interesting. The Kansas team is feared. Bishop, the star heaver for the K Frank team, was too much for the Tigers in two successive games at Lawrence, letting the Missourians down with ten hits in the two games and running up a creditable strikeout record. In Summers the Kansas team has a nifty backstop. He is an ex-C. K. leaguer.

Can't Stop Wabaunsee Fun.

The Wabaunsee students planned a picnic for Saturday. Rain interfered, so the Wabaunsee people went to the home of Miss Emily Wilson, 819 Leavenworth, Saturday evening. The plan of a picnic supper was not interfered with at all, as the supper was held at Miss Wilson's. Dean and Mrs. Willard chaperoned.

The Wabaunsee club is one of the largest in college. The officers for this term are: President, Blanche Burt; vice-president, Archie Hodgson; secretary, Edythe Brennan, treasurer, Roy Appleton; marshal, Lawrence Brennan.

A Garcia Dance.

The Garcia Club gave a dance Friday night in Aggieville Hall. Professor and Mrs. Rudnick chaperoned. Thirty couples were present.

Webbs Will Tug Hamps.

The Websters have accepted the challenge of the Hamps to a tug of war. This was decided at the meeting Saturday night.

The Kappa Deltas entertained Sunday for Prof. and Mrs. Shafer. Miss Leta Means, Kansas City; Miss Alma Hoffman, Enterprise; Miss Georgia Sweet, Holton; Mrs. H. H. Hill, Wichita; Miss Helen Hornady, Miss Meta Sheaff, Miss Helen Robinson and Miss Bess Hoffman were guests.

William Orr, '10, an ex-Webster, visited the society Saturday night.

SPOIL AN INVESTMENT?

Industrial journalism and printing will make a last stand this week. The students and faculty of this college are hoping sincerely that the stand will be a continuous one, everlasting. It is up to the board. But it is to be hoped that the board will reconsider its decision, if it has made one that would deprive the college of those essential courses, and will allow them to continue their efficient and necessary work. It is not that the courses are doing good for only a few students. They are doing work for the many, for the college, for the state. Much in favor of the departments of printing and industrial journalism has been said by newspapers and magazines who understand the work that is done here and the requirements which people in the writing world must meet. The members of the board are eminently capable of performing their duties in the right way. The Aggie people sincerely believe that if the board really understands the need and work of the departments mentioned, that sober judgment will demand that the course be retained. The state has its right to be heard in this matter. The state asks the retention. The desire of the people here and elsewhere to retain the courses is not a selfish craving to have what does not rightfully belong here; it is simply an understanding and an appreciation of the fact that curtailing the highest efficiency of any department is not economy; it is spoiling a good investment. Journalism ought to stay.

TO SUPPLY THE DEMAND.

Kansas is pre-eminently an agricultural state. It must continue to be such. To do this there must be dissemination of the gospel of scientific agriculture. Who is going to do the writing? The writing must be done by those who combine with scientific knowledge of the industry the knowledge of how to give their information to the people of the state in concise and convincing English. Where could these writers be better trained than in a school of industrial journalism? The day has passed when an agricultural writer could glean his knowledge from Bailey's big book, though that book is highly important and efficient. But industrial writing nowadays requires first hand knowledge of the subject.

And the girls, too. What does a course in industrial journalism offer them? It offers the chance to write stories of the home, homemaking, homekeeping. It offers these things to those who are scientifically trained in home life. It offers the chance to supplant the syndicated columns on how to become beautiful with six applications of paste and varnish with articles on subjects of consequence—lightening the kitchen work, clothes, home decorations, how to cook new things, how to cook the old things in the best way—something real, supplanting the written stuff that has been outgrown by reading woman-kind.

Even As You and Me

"Roommate of mine, would you like to acquire a two-pound box of chocolates in a genteel, ladylike way?" sang out the Popular Girl as she tossed her English text and three note books on the shirtwaist box.

The R. M. turned from the mirror, with chamols in one hand and a powder can in the other and protested.

"If you don't learn to clean your shoes before coming into the house, we'll be out in the cold world, looking for a new rooming place. Hear the landlady downstairs sweeping out the mud you so kindly brought in?"

When two girls are roommates, one of them bears the responsibilities of the partnership, while the other follows the line of least resistance.

"If you don't crave chocolates I'll make it marshmallow sundaes. This excellent offer will be closed in one minute and a half. Speak, cherub, yes or no?" bartered the Popular Girl.

"Yes! A thousand times yes! My child, I'd do anything for chocolates. I could be made to read Vanity Fair or a Browning poem for a life size box of Hershey's best."

Moistening her eyebrows with the tips of her little fingers, the roommate faced about and the other began:

"Close the transom and I'll unfold the plot. This house must be absolutely devoid of landladies from 7:45 till 10:30 tonight—positively immune, do you hear?"

"I got you, Mr. Stevenson," murmured the other conspirator.

"The girl sitting with you in this room has a date!"

"Man?" queried the R. M.

"No, me love, not that—it's a young professor! A bosom friend of my chemistry prof. If I make a hit tonight I may not flunk in mid terms. If I don't, heaven protect the working girl! I intend to do some original research work on him," announced the Popular Girl.

"Have I taken four terms in N 26 and not learned human nature? The girl who wins his favor must be a just-a-song-at-twilight girl, a rose colored teapot girl, one that would shine her best in the sacred atmosphere of a home." The P. G. rolled her eyes and sighed.

"Trust me to do the home and mother acting alright provided you can help a little with the atmosphere and stage setting. The landlady has haunted the parlor every time a man has ventured into our Adamless Eden. Don't you remember the time she brought in doughnuts, and when she came in to read about the gospel meetings in progress down town?"

"If her chilling glance had been absent this winter who knows—we might have had a whole cushionful of frat pins and diamonds on every hand!"

A sigh magnified to ten times its original size came from the roommate.

"Now listen to your aunty while she tells her scheme. Girl's roommate invites landlady to go to concert. Girl turns clock ahead. Girl's roommate and landlady leave very early. Man enters later. Girl makes fudge and Welsh rarebit. Home Sweet Home is played softly throughout. MAN IS IMPRESSED and tells his chemical friend of the maiden's charms. Girl gets through chemistry with a G."

As the court house bell struck seven, the obliging roommate started downstairs, pulling on her gloves.

"Don't you think we'd better start? No reserved seats, you know," she asked with all the confidence of well concealed treachery.

The landlady looked up from the paper she was reading.

"Oh, we've plenty of time, just plenty. We'll take the car, you know. Time was when I could walk it real easy, but—"

"I don't believe you realize how fast the time's gone," the loyal roommate interrupted. "The clock says—the cl—"

The next minute she was upstairs, leaning against the bed post limp with daughter.

"Girl! Girl," she laughed, do you know—"she stopped to laugh. "Do you know—you turned the clock—"

What They Say About It . . . .

The Course In Industrial Journalism and the Printing Course are Too Good to Lose Say These Papers in Speaking of the Board's Contemplated Changes.

COLLIER'S WEEKLY SAYS:

Newspaper English, which has been more reviled for its flaws than thanked for its far commoner virtues of clearness and interest, has found in the Kansas Agricultural College a set of champions. "Industrial Journalism" is a group of courses taught by a corps of practical writers who, in a season's trial of the plan, have won many friends among the Kansas editors whose judgement in most instances is grounded on well weighed evidence. The Kansas Industrialist, the college paper which serves for laboratory work is uncommonly efficient. Charles Dillon, the professor in charge, formerly was assistant editor of the Kansas City Star. He is the right man for the place and the success of the course in journalism, as in any other department, depends very largely on the man at the head.

Collier's.

DROVER'S TELEGRAM THINKS:

There is said to be a probability that the new Kansas state board of education will combine the schools of journalism at Lawrence and Manhattan and locate the one school at Topeka. In which event, The Industrialist, published at Manhattan, likely would be suspended and a general publicity department centered at the Topeka school.

No one will question the right of the Kansas state board of education in this matter, but an outsider has an equal right to express an opinion. Mr. Coburn has been conducting a publicity department in conjunction with his regular duties of secretary of agriculture, and that publicity has spread the gospel of Kansas from Greenland's icy mountains to India's coral strand. On the other hand, The Industrialist carries the scientific data pertaining to farming and home making direct from the demas farmer. In other words, The Industrialist helps the farmer to achieve the ends that the publicity department exploits.

If The Industrialist were suppressed, the achievements of the Kansas experiment would lose somewhat of their potency in inadequate publication. This The Telegram is in position to declare unequivocally. Before The Industrialist assumed its present scope of disseminating technical news from the workshop at Manhattan The Telegram grew almost frantic over ineffectual attempts to procure such information for its farmer readers. Scan the Kansas country newspapers of five years ago and you will not be able to find a solitary article pertaining to the work at Manhattan. Today, no Kansas paper considers it has an up-to-date edition unless the mail has brought from Manhattan The Industrialist in time for the copying of one or more stories. And what is the result? Kansas farmers are camping right on the heels of scientific agriculture.

Is it the intention of the Kansas board of education to close up this fount of information? If so the publicity department will have less to blow about than in recent years.

EDITOR RANKIN'S OPINION.

If the plan of the board of administration of the state educational institutions to centralize the publicity departments of the various schools means the discontinuance of The Industrialist, it will cause a great deal of regret throughout the state. The Industrialist, published at the state agricultural college, differs from other college papers in that it is always filled with news and information that is of interest to a large per cent of the population of the state. During the last few years, it has been particularly interesting from the reader's standpoint and particularly valuable to the state as a disseminator of information on subjects in which the farmers, housewives and other citizens are vitally interested. Readers have come to look forward to the weekly visit of The Industrialist and there are many hoping that the rearrangement will not terminate the paper's usefulness.—Salina Journal.

FROM THE KANSAS FARMER:

It is the recommendation of Kansas Farmer that Governor Hodges look after his board of educational administration. It is his board. He is responsible for the law creating it. He appointed its members. The success or failure of his administration in so far as the management of the educational institutions of the state is concerned, depends upon the action of this board. According to newspaper reports of utterances of the governor and the several members of the board, it appears to Kansas Farmer that the efficiency of the educational institutions of Kansas may in two respects be seriously affected; first, by unwise changes in the interest of economy, and, second, by so unsettling conditions that neither the executives nor employees can do their best work. It should be kept in mind that 58 per cent of the state's taxes are paid by the farmers of Kansas, and it is the business of the governor and his board to see that the farmers' school—the Kansas Agricultural College—is so operated as to give the best service to those who contribute most to its support and who lean heaviest and depend most upon it. We are not so poor in Kansas that we need the saving of a few thousand dollars at the expense of less service, and smaller helpfulness from the greatest agricultural agency within the state.

The Kansas Agricultural College needs its printing office to get out its work—all sorts of small jobs which are absolutely necessary and which must be gotten out in a hurry. But Kansas has a state printing office. Yes, it has; but it has proven itself incapable of taking care of the whole printing needs of the Kansas Agricultural College. A dozen or more important farmers' bulletins are in the hands of department heads unpublished because the state printing office cannot do the work. Sure, the state banking department, the board of health, the labor commissioner, etc., must and can get their stuff, but the farmers' bulletins from the farmers' school must wait. Instead of depressing the printing facilities of the Agricultural College, the printing department should be allowed to run wide open and do all the work it can. Experiments, bulletins, etc., are of no value unless the results can be printed and circulated.

The Agricultural College printing office gets out The Kansas Industrialist, which last week celebrated its thirty-sixth birthday, and which in the judgment of Kansas Farmer is the most important college publication in the United States. It has always been such. The practice given students in the printing course results in the major portion of the work on The Industrialist being done by student labor. The editorial work on The Industrialist is done by those students who are receiving instruction in the course of industrial journalism. The Industrialist is a bulletin made up of seasonable articles reduced to their simplest and most practical terms and is mailed weekly to all newspaper in Kansas with the request that they reprint such material as they desire. Every other agricultural college in the United States maintains such bulletin service. Thus the material therein reaches a large number of readers throughout the state than any other method of distribution could possibly reach. This material while gathered in the various departments of the college, written and prepared by the student who is learning how to express his thought on paper plainly, easily, and in good English, must of course be gotten into shape for publication. So an editor is needed. Since The Industrialist must have an editor, it is both consistent and economical for this editor to direct the work of teaching students how to write.

WILL INVADE TIGERLAND

AGGIES MEET MISSOURI IN TRACK SATURDAY.

BETTER HOPES FOR THIS MEET

If in Form, Hutto Should Take Mile and Two-Mile—Happened at Lawrence.

The Aggie track team will meet the Missouri Tigers on the Missouri track next Saturday. According to dope, the Aggies should fare better than they did at the hands of the Jayhawkers. Should Captain Hutto regain his stride the Aggies should count two firsts in the mile and two-mile runs. In the half, the Missourians are weak and there is a possibility of points in that event for the Aggies. The Missouri quarter-milers will have the race of their lives defeating Gates.

Missouri is strong in the hurdles, weights, broad jump, high jump and pole vault. Young should be able to land a second in the high vault against Talbot and Floyd, the Tiger entries. The 220 should go to Kirksey, of Missouri, as he is one of the fastest low hurdlers over the 220-yard route in the business. C. L. Brewer, the Missouri coach, concedes the mile and two-mile races to Hutto. The Aggies will send practically the same entry list to Columbia that competed at Lawrence last Friday.

Friday's Meet Full of Thrills.
Many thrills were experienced by the spectators at the K. U.-Aggie meet which was held at Lawrence last Friday and in which the Aggies were trounced, 82 to 27. The high hurdle race was the best event on the calendar. Hazen and Perry were the Kansas entries. Young and Root ran for the Aggies. Hazen stepped into the limelight two seasons ago when he defeated Nicholson, of Missouri, in the 55-yard high barriers in Convention hall. Since that time he has come to the front steadily. Last Friday he manipulated the distance in 15 3-5 seconds, which is excellent time, considering the day. Perry finished on Hazen's heels and the Aggies entries finished third and fourth by three yards.

"Boxed" Collins in Two-Mile.
The two-mile run was uninteresting to the Aggie supporters, as Collins, the Aggie entry in this event, was "boxed" after the third round and the Kansas runners, Edwards and Malcomson, maneuvered the race to the finish in this manner. The time was announced as 10:39, but seemed much slower.

Gates sprang into the lead at the start of the 100-yard dash and never was headed. He picked up three feet on Hilton at the start and increased this lead to two yards at the finish. Hancock finished third. In the quarter, Gates finished so close to Davis, the Kansas runner, that the judges had difficulty in deciding who had won the race. The time, :51 4-5, was excellent considering the efforts of the wind to hinder the runners.

A Lambda—Freshmen Matinee.

The Lambda "freshmen," Miss Helen Robinson, Miss Ruth Hill, Miss Vivian Herron, Miss Velma Helfenstine, Miss Metta Sheaff and Miss Mary Whalen, pledge, gave a unique and enjoyable matinee dance Saturday in the Aggieville hall. It was a "sailor affair." The guests had to walk the plank in going up to the dance hall. Inside the hall was made into a deck, decorated with green, the sorority color. About the room the deck was set off with ropes, with the chairs facing the windows and the sea. Ship's streamers of green were hung about. Two green kegs in the center of the deck completed the setting.

The programs were steamer trunks with steamer tickets inside, the dances being marked as stops at various European and Asiatic points. As favors, the girls were given captain's megaphones and the boys, white sailor hats with a band of green.

The dancers were chaperoned by Mrs. Hill of Wichita, Mrs. Harshbarger, Miss Jennie V. Caton and Mr. Richard Losh. The out of town guests were: Miss Mildred Robinson, of Salina; Miss Lover Ershman, of Enterprise; Miss Gladys Gardner and Miss Mildred Mills, of Topeka; Miss Leta Mean, of Kansas City; Miss Alma Hoffman, of Enterprise; Miss Sweet, of Holton; Miss Jennie Flinn, of the Eta Beta Psi, and Miss Katherine Van Noy, of the Phi Kappa Phi, were guests. Sherbet and wafers were served at intermission.

THE KANSAS AGGIE

Vol. XVIII. Semi-Weekly.

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, MAY 10, 1913.

Saturday

NUMBER 60

MAY QUEEN IS CHOSEN

BUT YOU NEEDN'T KNOW WHO SHE IS.

VOTING WAS LIVELY ALL FRIDAY

A Faculty Track Meet Will Be Interesting—Deans Will Dash 100 Yards.

By this time the May Queen has been elected, but the results of the election will not be announced. You will know who the May Queen is next Wednesday, when the processional starts from the women's gym. Voting was lively Friday morning.

Friends of Miss Ida Worley sent out cards to everyone in college Thursday afternoon urging her selection. Miss Mildred Barr's candidacy found many supporters Friday morning. Prophesying the result is impossible.

The plans for the big festival next Wednesday are progressing well. The processional will be elaborate. In this will be several flower girls, 72 May dancers in costumes, the queen's attendants, the trumpeters, the flag bearer and the societies in costumes. Mrs. H. J. Waters will crown the May Queen.

Tug-of-War to Start It.

One of the big events of the afternoon will be the faculty track meet. Preceding this will be a tug-of-war with the faculty on one end and the seniors on the other—a chance to test how much a pull helps in getting through college. Following this, the stellar athletes of the teaching force will perform for the natives in a track meet. There was some hesitation at first on the part of the speed merchants of the faculty to appearing, since the admission fee is so much smaller than that usually charged to see these Olympic men compete, but when the purpose of the festival was explained they consented to show their athletic ability for a quarter. In the dash, which is open only to deans, utmost silence has been maintained in the training quarters of the home economics department.

"The Hitch and Kick."

A new event to be introduced in this track meet will be the hitch and kick, introduced by Prof. J. O. Hamilton, who says that a self-respecting track meet is not complete without it. The hitch and kick is a contest in kicking, in high kicking. The card of events for the track sports of the afternoon:

50-yard dash. Open to deans only.
Obstacle race.
100-yard dash.
Hitch and kick.
Relay.
16-pound shot put.

The divisions of agronomy, engineering, general science, home economics and extension will take part in the meet.

Where Festival Money Goes.

What's the reason for the May Festival and what is done with the money? you ask.

This year two big conferences will be in session at Estes Park, in July. Here the workers of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. meet and talk over their work, and incidentally have a good time. Leaders from all the colleges and universities are there. Many of those who attend borrow money to make the trip.

Right here is where the money received from the May Festival comes in. As the plan is here, the money from the festival is loaned to students, who are to pay it back after they graduate or leave college. This plan was established two years ago.

In 1911, the Y. W. made loans to eleven girls, totaling $95. Three girls have repaid the loan; the others are still in college.

In 1912, the Y. W. made loans amounting to $225. All the girls who borrowed money are still in college.

In 1913, only three young men were helped, their loans amounting to $100.

It will be seen that the fund is one that will grow every year as the money is paid back to the association.

Subfreshmen, Take Notice.

All subfreshmen are hereby notified to make dates for the outdoor class party to be held Friday, May 16, before Monday, May 12, and to report all dates to committee. Beginning with May 12 assignments will be made.

By order of committee.

Stagg Gets $8,000.

Chicago university pays Coach Stagg $8,000; $5,000 for his services as athletic director, and $3,000 as football coach.

YES, JOURNALISM WILL STAY

PRINTING DEPARTMENT WILL REMAIN HERE ALSO.

Printing Course Abolished, But Electives Will Be Offered—Some Appointments.

The department of industrial journalism will remain at this college, for the present. The printing department will stay, also, although the course in printing will be abolished. The work in the printing department will be offered as an elective in the other courses. The board of administration has announced the appointment of E. N. Rodell as acting superintendent of printing, the place he now holds. The board did not come to Manhattan, as was expected, but did the work at Topeka. Notification of the action of the board was received here Wednesday. The board also made these announcements of appointment:

William M. Jardine, to be dean of agriculture and director of the experiment station. When Dean Webster resigned last year, Professor Jardine became acting dean.

Prof. L. E. Call to be professor of agronomy, to succeed W. M. Jardine.

Prof. George A. Dean made head of the department of entomology, to succeed Dr. J. T. Headlee, resigned last year.

Dr. R. K. Nabours to be professor of zoology.

Miss Ula Dow to be associate professor of domestic science.

Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile reappointed dean of women to have general supervision of domestic science and art.

MEETING TIGERS TODAY.

Aggies Have Slight Hopes for Today's Contest.

Coach Bryan and his track proteges left yesterday noon for Columbia, where they will meet the Missouri Tigers this afternoon. Coach Bryan said yesterday that he entertained only slight hopes of scoring in many events. Captain Hutto will be the mainstay of the team.

OKLAHOMA HERE MONDAY.

Sooners Are Playing in Good Form This Year.

Oklahoma University will invade the Aggie baseball camp next Monday with one of the best teams that has represented that institution. The Sooners have won the majority of their games this season and are reputed to have a crack battery. Coach Bennie Owens has the privilege of playing freshmen at home, but will be required to bench two of his first year stars when the Sooners tackle the Aggies and the Missouri teams, who play under Valley rules. Ponder, pitcher, and Smizer, star receiver for the Oklahomans, will decorate the bench Monday. The Owens aggregation will play on the trip the Oklahoma Aggies, Chillico Indians, Kansas Aggies, St. Marys and the Missouri, two games.

Took Dairymen's Tests.

CADETS TAKE ANNUAL HIKE

LIEUTENANT HILL ANNOUNCES THE SPRING MANEUVERS.

His Command Will Be Ordered Out Some Time This Month for Extended Marches.

Lieutenant Hill, commandant of cadets, will order out his forces some time this spring for a hike to the woods and far away. Lieutenant Hill is certain of that, though the date has not been set. It will be some time this month.

The rookie hike is coming to be an annual affair. Last year the cadet corps, in command of Lieutenant Harbold, marched to the K. N. G. rifle range, several miles northwest of Manhattan, and there established military headquarters, naming it Camp Bolce, in honor of Lieutenant Harbold's predecessor here, Captain Charles Bolce, now in the Philippines. On the march, every soldier had to carry a certain amount of equipment, just as any other soldier off to the wars. Guards were posted at night, and sometimes when the alarm was turned in, cadets crawled out and, in undress uniform, repelled the enemy. Two cooks from Fort Riley went along and cooked for the cadets the same sort of food that the regulars receive. The hike lasted three days.

USE MODERN METHODS

PRES. WATERS URGES CHANGES IN CLASS BOOK MANAGEMENT.

ADDRESSED JUNIORS THURSDAY

Pay The Chairman a Salary. He Said, and The Committee's Expenses.

The juniors ought to pay the chairman of their class book committee a salary, President Waters told them, in class meeting Thursday morning. He outlined the faults of the present plan and showed how a better system ought and could be established. It is very probable that the class will take action along the line of President Waters' plan. The amount suggested for the chairman's salary is $200. The amounts paid at various colleges vary. The work that the chairman here has to do is heavy.

Present Plan Outgrown.

President Waters said: "The system that is used now in getting out the class book is the same system that has been used for twenty-five years. It gives opportunity for much suspicion. It gives an opportunity for knocking down to pay the expenses, having glorious time with the money. This system in the business world causes a large amount of graft. The whole country is having a general clean up and it is necessary to use modern business methods.

Use Modern Business Methods.

"A good man cannot afford to give his time for the honor and he must have some compensation. I hope, and believe, that the juniors will place the committee on such a basis that the actual expenses of the committee will be paid by the class, and any money that is spent by the committee in getting up a good annual will be paid by the class. The committee should receive something for its work. This system will eliminate all the thought of graft. I do not mean to reflect upon any of the committees in the past. I believe that the chairman should receive enough so that there will not be an expense to himself or the committee. It will be the modern business way. This system will eliminate all suspicion of any kind and I hope that the '14 class will start right.

"Pay the chairman a fair honorarium and have a strict accounting of all accounts by the college secretary. Every expense of making the annual should be born by the class."

JOBS HUNT THESE GRADS.

Engineers Are Planning to "Commence" Life.

Several of the graduates of this year's class have signed up for work this summer. Prof. J. O. Hamilton of the physics department says that these have been an unusual number of calls for graduates of this year's class to fill positions as teachers in high schools and take charge of work in actual practice.

The following men have signed up to work for the companies named as soon as commencement is over: G. S. Gillespie and F. H. Graham go to the Westinghouse company in New York. Carl Ipsen and W. G. James are to go to the General Electric company at Schenectady, N. Y. Otto Parker and V. D. Stone are due to go to Denver to the Denver Gas and Electric Company. The number of calls for graduates in the engineering course speaks highly for the grade of work done by the institution, and the fact that so many of the calls are from the same companies puts the work of this institution on a plane with any in the West.

A DATE CHAIRMAN'S DREAMS.

The limit has been reached. The chairman of the date committee for the junior-senior was called out of bed the other night at eleven o'clock to register a date for an impatient cuss. The man said that if he waited and someone saw that the girl did not have a date, the person would try to make a date and the girl could surely wish that she had waited.

Are the junior girls more popular than the sisters of the '13 class? One would think so, from the way the dates reported for the junior-senior annual line up. More junior girls are dated than senior co-eds.

Taking the two classes together, there are about 100 more girls than girls. The demand so far has not been greater than the supply, but the dates are narrowing down now, and many men come up to the office in Anderson Hall where the committee holds open hours. Many of the same men turn away, murmuring "Too late" and a softly swearing in a meaningless sort of way.

About 200 juniors have paid the assessment. Some who do not expect to attend the banquet seem to think it will not be necessary to pay. But it will be necessary for this fee to be paid before you get your face inside the covers of Royal Purple next year.

Some of the crowd are causing an awful lot of woe. Men keep coming up to the window and reporting that certain girls have been dated, although the books of the committee do not show registration of such dates. The office in Anderson Hall will be open until May 10. Step up.

NOW FOR THE ALUMNI.

Now's the time, Alumni! Plan to come for Commencement Week. You will have the best chance to see your classmates, and a reunion of all classes is particularly fitting at the fiftieth anniversary of the college. They're all coming back, all the old crowd. Plan to join them.

BUSINESS METHODS.

President Waters struck the right note when he told the juniors to use modern methods in running the class book next year. Modern methods expressed it. Pay the chairman a salary. Meet all the expenses of the committee without complaint after you have had correct accounting of the expenses and made the members of the committee responsible to the class. It is sensible and right. It is the only way that a class book ought to be run. The old way has been good in its way. The class books have been the right sort of publication. But the method is outgrown. It has been all right, but it has served its time. Bring on the new and put it in its place.

The manner in which the class book here has been run has attracted considerable attention and commendation. Part of the system is good; part of it is not good. Pick out the part that is not good and put the right thing in its place. No criticism of the management of past, present or future class books is intended or justified. But in the future, business methods from top to bottom ought to prevail. A chairman who will spend the time and work necessary to put out a good class book will earn more than the class will give him. But give him a fair salary. Results will justify it. Use business methods.

Even As You and Me

The man in the moon looked down on the tallest trees on Wildcat and winked. Sometimes the eyes of the man in the moon are sleepy and stupid; sometimes they are jolly. On the nights before examinations, when steak roasts are out of season, his eyes are positively lonesome, but on that particular night they were roguish, just wickedly roguish.

As the fair Co-ed and the Man sat on a rock to rest, the waters of Wildcat dimpled and smiled. A branch of the tree bent close to listen. They were both seniors. It didn't take the leaves long to discover that. They bent closer than ever after this, for they knew that two seniors on a moonlight night say the most interesting things to hear.

"Doesn't it give you a cold, clutchy feeling to realize that school will soon be over and we'll be really grown up?" she was saying.

"I don't feel any more grown up now than I did when I used to put on mother's long skirts and play school."

The girl sighed. Life seems such a tremendous proposition on a starry night.

"Gad, what gets my goat is leaving all the fellows—prob'ly never see most of them again you know—"

She did know. That was the very nicest thing about this girl; she had such a way of knowing. That's the reason he'd sort of fastened onto her for a pal, never was "crazy" about her, not at all, but she certainly could understand a fellow. The moon shot a bright glance at the man's frat pin. It glistened back suggestively.

Come to think of it, he'd never known a girl who had quite the sympathy and insight into one's nature that this one had. She was good-looking too, had just the kind of a face any man might be proud to carry in his watch.

"You know, girl," he began, a bit awkwardly, "I've always been stronger than—than horse radish for you."

Half absently, she threw a stone down the hill.

"If I was just sure there'd be someone in our old class who'd not quite forget—"

He glanced at her; such a thoughtful, appealing glance. The girl threw another stone down the hill. The water in Wildcat grew positively shiny with excitement, and the leaves didn't dare to whisper.

"Come on, we're going home," she said. The practical one jumped down and brushed her skirt with short vicious strokes. "You're the third man, actually the third man who has turned sentimental on this very rock this term? I've gone to parties and spent hours getting ready, and nothing's happened."

"But when I pull a measly white pillowslip of a hat on my head, splatter my last year's dress with mud and sit in the moonlight, men swear by me!"

"Er—er," he stuttered.

"What's the reason?"

The man climbing the path beside her couldn't answer but the man in the moon knew. Once more he winked at the cedar tree, and then the old fellow actually sighed, as he listened to her next question.

"Say, do your sisters use lemon juice or cold cream for freckles?"

K. U. TAKES TWO GAMES

AGGIES LOST FIRST, 0 TO 3; SECOND, 5 TO 6.

JUST TWICE TOO MUCH BISHOP

Wednesday's Contest a Pitchers' Duel—Thursday's, a Swatfest—K. S. A. C. Rally Was Nipped.

A batting rally in the ninth inning almost gave the Aggies the second game of the series with K. U. Thursday. Almost, you understand. But Captain Busick called Bishop from the brush, and that person, not satisfied with taking one game from the Aggies, managed to pull the game out of the fire with the Aggies one run behind. The first game went to the Jayhawkers, 3 to 0. The second one the Lawrence men took, 6 to 5.

The Finish Was Strong.

The Aggies made a strenuous, heart-rending bid for the game in the ninth session of the second game. Enns went in to bat for Pollom, waited for four bad ones and went to first by the Weston route. Cleland singled to right, and Enns rounded second and sped to third on the play. Then the Kansans called a peace congress to discuss the matter and Nick kept right on running, counting on the play. It was a nifty piece of work, but the Kansans surely slept kindly. Cleland reposed on second. Agnew tripled to right, Cleland scoring. By that time Busick was facing disaster and so he hiked to center field and sent Bishop in to save the day. Bishop struck Dresser out. McCallum singled to right and Agnew scored. Briney hit. Forsberg went out, pitcher to first, McCallum going to third and Briney to second. Knaus hit a weak one to Hicks that Hicks grabbed eagerly and nervously, and it was all over.

Hard Hitting Featured.

Both pitchers were hit hard after the opening innings. Pollom was found for consecutive hits in four of the innings and Busick was getting his bumps when he wisely sought the quiet spot in center. Sommers cleaned two triples and a single, McCallum got a triple, a double and a single. Agnew got a three-base clout. Busick rattled the left field fence with a hard one in the seventh. The Jayhawkers were credited with hits on several plays when the Aggie infield, on slow work, fielded ground balls in poor style.

Those Errors Hurt.

Errors by Briney and Beaman, a sacrifice and two hits gave K. U. two scores in the fourth. In the Aggies' half, McCallum doubled, Briney singled, scoring Mac. Briney scored on a passed ball. A double, a single, a sacrifice fly and another single gave K. U. two more in the seventh. In the ninth, Sommers tripled, scored on Hicks' hit, who scored on hits by De Lange and Bishop. Then in the last round came the Aggie hard fight for a tie or the game, but it went flat after a good effort.

When Judgment Was Lacking.

Errors in judgment hurt heavily. Dresser caught a foul fly that gave K. U. an easy chance to score a runner from third. Another time Beaman was caught in the infield several feet from a base. At other times neglect to keep alive and in the game was costly. But it was a great game and the crowd had no kicks coming when the battle was over.

THE FIRST GAME.

The opening contest with the Kansans was simply a case of too much Bishop, and the Lawrence team won from the Aggies, 3 to 0. Bishop was right. The Aggies could not find him at opportune times, while the Kansas team took advantage of every chance. Bailey, pitched superb ball for the Aggies but his support was wobbly at critical times. Each team fumbled once, the Aggie boot being the more costly. The Kansas battery starred. Bailey struck out nine Jayhawkers while Bishop whiffed five. Most of the time the Aggies hit weak ones, but good fielding by the Jayhawkers stopped several Aggie rallying attempts.

Only 2 Aggies Reached Third.

The Kansas team scored in the third when Briney gave Ebnothier a life by missing a popup. The Kansan stole second and took third on Forsberg's wild peg, scoring on an infield out. In the fifth, Sommers drew a walk after Bishop's hit to center and Bishop scored on Ward's hit to left. Bishop soaked one of Bailey's groove balls into the freshman diamond for a round trip. The Aggies had two men on third base throughout the contest, Enns' getting to third in the second and Dresser in the seventh. Enns died when Knaus struck out. Dresser was thrown out at home when Enns' weak one hit the plate and was recovered by Bishop in time to throw Hank out at the plate. The details of the game:

GIVE TODAY TO REVELRY

ANNUAL MAY FESTIVAL INTERESTS K. S. A. C. PEOPLE.

CAN YOU GUESS THE MAY QUEEN?

Until Coronation Procession Starts, Few Will Know the Ruler of the Fete.

This is May Day, friends. The annual festival of the college is listed for this afternoon on the campus. The May Queen will be crowned with due ceremony, the college organizations are due to present stunts for prizes and for the enjoyment of the crowd, other organizations will have refreshment booths to lure the nickels and dimes and quarters, the faculty will meet in a glorious track and field contest, the May pole will be wound tight and the celebration will be closed with a band concert to-night on the campus. This is all supposing that the weather man sees it as the people here do. Classes are to be excused after the fifth hour.

Mrs. Waters Crowns the Queen.

The strongest interest of the day will center in the crowning of the May Queen. Who the May Queen will be has caused much speculation and unlimited guessing among the college people since the election of Friday of last week. The way in which the election was conducted precluded good guessing as to the outcome. It was generally known that four or five girls were running close for the honor, but who will be the co-ed ruler of today is a mystery to most persons. Of course the queen's attendants have been chosen by the ruler, but aside from the attendants those who were on the election board and possibly one or two others, the question is unsolved. For this reason, the procession to the throne for the crowning of the queen will arouse unusual interest. Everyone will, of course, say "I told you so." Listen for that. Mrs. H. J. Waters is to crown the May Queen.

Supper, Then Drills and Concert.

Added features this year are the drills by Miss Enyart's girls by moonlight, if there is any moon, and the concert by the college band. Miss Enyart's drills and the band concerts never fail to please. Supper is to be served on the campus. The refreshment booths have made provision for that. The faculty track meet will be interesting and should result in breaking old records and setting new ones sky high. The other events of the day will add to an interest that is certain to be unusually strong.

Give Caponizing Demonstration.

There will be demonstrations in caponizing at the poultry farm Friday at 4 o'clock. These demonstrations are open to any students who care to attend.

SHOW MOVIES HERE MAY 28.

Film Shooters Arrived Monday on Time.

The movies came Monday and have been at work ever since. The last films will be prepared today at the festival. About 1,150 feet of films will be prepared here. The reel will be shown for the first time in Manhattan May 28 in one of the up-town theaters or air domes. Following the showing here, the pictures will be shown in 150 Kansas towns, then in St. Louis and other large cities in Missouri, in Illinois, Kentucky and elsewhere. The college is guaranteed a showing of 52 weeks. About 600 feet of films were prepared Monday.

J. C. Rickman who is now in active publishing business at Osage City, former superintendent of printing here, was in town Monday.

DILLON TO EDIT FARM PAPERS

PROFESSOR OF INDUSTRIAL JOURNALISM RESIGNS.

After July 1 He Will Be Managing Editor of Capper Farm Publications at Increased Salary.

Charles Dillon, professor of industrial journalism, has resigned from the faculty here, to take effect after July 1. He will be the managing editor of several farm papers owned by Arthur Capper of Topeka. The papers are: The Farmers' Mail and Breeze, the Missouri Valley Farmer, the Missouri Ruralist, The Oklahoma Farmer and the Nebraska Farm Journal. The papers of which Mr. Dillon will have charge have been managed by Arthur Nichols, who will retain management of other Capper publications.

Although the announcement of his resignation came as a surprise to many friends, Mr. Dillon has had the offer of Mr. Capper under consideration for several months and decided some time ago to accept. The salary Mr. Dillon will receive in his new work is higher than that which he receives here. Mr. Dillon's long experience in newspaper, special and feature, farm and magazine writing, and his knowledge of agricultural interests give him every qualification for the important position. Mr. Dillon is an exponent of advanced ideas in farm writing and has proved his ability to put his ideas into practice with best results.

TIGERS WIN 80 TO 29

AGGIES LOSE TRACK MEET AT COLUMBIA SATURDAY.

GATES WAS A STAR PERFORMER

Hutto Won the Mile, Finishing Second in Half—No Entries in Some Events.

With Gates running far ahead of expectations, the Aggies ran up a total of 29 points on the crack Missouri track team last Saturday at Columbia, losing the meet by a score of 80 to 29. Gates won the 100, 220 and 440-yard dashes and made good time in each, taking the weather into consideration. Captain Hutto won a slow mile and lost the half-mile event to Murphy in 2:06. Missouri took both places in the pole vault, discus, in the high and broad leaps and in both hurdle events.

Gates Was the Sensation.

The running of Gates was the sensation of the meet as he made a far better showing in this meet than elsewhere this season. In the 220 Gates ran away from Kirksey, the Western Conference champion, and won by yards in the good time of 22 3-5 seconds. In the quarter, he pulled away from Knobel and Hutsell, the Missouri cracks, and won in 52 2-5 seconds. The time in the 440 was the best of the meet, figuring in the weather conditions.

The Summary.

First place counted 5 points, second 3 points. The summary:

100-yard dash—Gates, Aggie, first; Lake, Missouri, second. Time, 10 1-5.

Pole vault—Floyd and Talbot of Missouri tied. Height, 10 feet 8.

Mile run—Hutto, Aggies, first; Wickam, Missouri, second. Time, 4:40 1-5.

Discus throw—Thatcher, Missouri, first; Drumm, Missouri, second. Distance, 126 feet.

120-yard high hurdles—Nicholson, Missouri, first; Groves, Missouri, second. Time, 15 3-5.

Running high jump—Nicholson and Groves of Missouri tied. Aggies had no entry.

Shot put—Thatcher, Missouri, first; Marble, Aggies, second. Distance, 43 feet.

Broad jump—Nicholson, Missouri, first; Kirksey, Missouri, second. Distance, 22 feet 4 inches.

440-yard dash—Gates, Aggies, first; Knobel, Missouri, second. Time, 52 2-5.

220-yard low hurdles—Kirksey, Missouri, first; Thatcher, Missouri, second. Time, 25 3-5.

Half-mile run—Murphy, Missouri, first; Hutto, Aggies, second. Time, 2:09.

220-yard dash—Gates, Aggies, first; Kirksey, Missouri, second. Time, 22 3-5.

Two-mile run—Terry, Missouri, first; Collins, Aggies, second. Time, 10:21.

Mile relay—Won by Missouri (Breckner, Hutsell, Murphy and Knobel). Time, 3:34 3-5.

LOST OUT IN SEMI-FINALS

AGGIES FAIL TO PLACE IN STATE TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

In Doubles, Baker Eliminated Wolcott and Rexroad—Hard Match With Vaughn.

The Aggies failed to place in the tennis tournament at Winfield Saturday. The Aggie team, Wolcott and Rexroad, was eliminated in the doubles by Baker. In the singles, both Aggies got into the semi-finals. Wolcott was defeated by Laury, of Baker two out of three. Rexroad gave Vaughn, holder of the state honors, a hard run, Vaughn winning after the hardest match of the tournament, most of the games going to deuce. Baker and K. U. were runners up in the doubles, but did not have time to play the finals. A match will be arranged soon. Laury, of Baker, and Vaughn, of Southwestern, are runners up for the singles and will play it off. Weather conditions compelled playing the matches in the Southwestern gym and the players were handicapped. Young went to Columbia to the track meet but was elected president of the tennis association for the ensuing year. Manhattan put in a bid for the meet next year. The scores: Wolcott and Rexroad lost to Baker, 6-1, 6-4. Wolcott won from Friends, 6-1, 7-5. Laury, of Baker, won from Wolcott, 6-2, 2-6, 6-2. Rexroad won from Friends, 6-1, 6-1. Vaughn, of Southwestern, won from Rexroad, 6-4, 6-3.

PLAN FOR A BIG CROWD

MANY HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES WILL BE HERE SATURDAY.

ANNUAL TRACK AND FIELD MEET

President Waters Grants Half-Holiday—More Than 150 of Kansas' Best Will Come.

The biggest state track meet ever held by the high schools of Kansas is scheduled for next Saturday on the college field. President Waters has granted a half-holiday so that all may attend and show the visitors what a good track meet crowd is. The meet is held under the auspices of the Kansas High School Athletic Association, coming to Manhattan by invitation. Superintendent Shideler of Junction City is president of the association. In every congressional district is a director and from these directors the entry lists are coming in. All of the preliminary meets have been held.

Last Entries Coming In.

By today almost all of the entries will have been made. In the first district, by default, the Topeka high school will represent the district. The same is true of Wichita of the eighth district. The lists from three other districts had been sent in Saturday and the others will be sent to Coach Lowman this week. The lists have been sent in from Hutchinson, Stafford, Scranton, Chase county, Peabody, Pittsburg, Fredonia, Chanute, Pratt, Coffeyville, Carbondale, Humboldt, Neodesha, Kingman, Great Bend, Alta Vista, Haven, Eureka, Bucklin, Reno, Caldwell.

Add 50-Yard Dash to List.

Coach Lowman believes that more than 150 athletes will be here next Saturday. Letters from many high schools and the district directors point to a large attendance. Thirty-three high schools were represented last year at Topeka, but more than that will send representatives here. The short sprints are expected to bring some classy youngsters here. The high school sprinters will run the 50-yard dash this year.

Arthur Capper Offers Prizes.

Arthur Capper, owner of the Capper publishing concerns and a former regent of this college, will give the prizes for the meet. He will give winners of first, second and third places in every event gold, silver and bronze medals; the individual point winner of the meet, a gold medal; the team scoring the highest number of points, a silver loving cup. The college offers a loving cup to the team winning the relay.

Urge the Home High Schools.

This is the last chance, says Coach Lowman, for college people to write home and urge the students in their home high schools to come for the meet. Personal letters will count heavy just at this time. College people will have a chance to show their best hospitality to the visitors next Saturday. The engineers will have their big stunts that day, but that will not interfere with the track meet. And don't forget that there will be no college Saturday afternoon.

WILL PRESENT "OUR WIVES."

Seniors Choose Play for Commencement Week.

The senior class play this year will be "Our Wives." The committee will pick the cast this week. It was intended to present the "Sultan of Sulu," but when the committee learned that the royalty on that play would be $40 and the use of the music would cost $50, the idea was abandoned. The committee in charge of the play this year is: E. W. Martin, May Anderson, Lida Stoddard, Lynne Hilsabeck and Clyde Drake. Prof. E. P. Johnston will drill the cast.

EDITORIAL

DILLON'S GOING TO GO.

Charles Dillon, after three years of prompt attendance at college, is getting ready to play hooky. He will become managing editor of a string of farm papers.

For the editor of this paper, who has come to know Mr. Dillon somewhat intimately, to write of the head of the department of journalism without employing "slop-over" adjectives is difficult. It would be useless, moreover, to say a lot of good things of Mr. Dillon, for that would be merely repetition of what many have said and a prophecy of what others will say. The students of the college, and especially those of the journalism department, have come to value highly the ready and kindly friendship of the "Chief."

Let it not be thought that this is Mr. Dillon's obituary. Far from that. His personality, which has been so apparent in The Industrialist, is not to be buried in, but rather expressed by, the management of the farm papers with which he has allied himself. Here is one bet that there will be no more independent farm papers in the country than those selfsame papers; and in them this college always may find a friend.

FIFTY YEARS, ALUMNI!

Coming back, Alumni! Coming back for Commencement Week? This year the college will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the first graduates of the Kansas Agricultural College. Shut up shop for a few days and come back. Bring Son John and Daughter Elizabeth with you and show them the best college. Alumni from all classes will be here. Reunions will come in rapid succession. Let the office people handle the work. Let the clerks take care of the business. Come back.

Don't forget that this marks the end of a half-century of inspiring work for this college. A half-century of ups and downs, struggle and accomplishment, but progress all the while. No institution can show a better record for its work in the past or in promise for the future. Come back for the week. There will be things to please you, old joys to renew, old friends to greet. Come back.

NEED MORE LIBRARIANS.

Demand For Collegians Who Take Further Training.

One profession is open to men and women which is not crowded, except at the bottom. The demand for college men as librarians is increasing. Only persons of high intelligence, broad education, and special training are now considered capable of filling many of the better library positions.

Since 1890, gifts and bequests aggregating about $85,000,000 have been made to libraries for buildings, books and equipment, and the value of the library plant in this country today is not far from $120,000,000. The numbers of libraries in the country has doubled in 25 years, the number of volumes multiplied by five, and their circulation has increased nearly tenfold. Where the library was an institution for the few and used only by the few, it is now a most democratic institution capable of serving all and used by the many.

Library work includes everything from the mechanical cutting of pages in a magazine, to the work of administering a great public library with hundreds of employees and several hundred thousand dollars income. A college graduate with library school training may become a cataloguer, a classifier, a reference librarian, a library organizer, or a head librarian. There are opportunities in college libraries and in social libraries. A college graduate with library school training may become a head librarian of a public library provided he possesses broad sympathies, good executive ability, a clear head for business, initiative, energy and enthusiasm. If possessed of executive ability but more scholarly than humanitarian in his tastes, the librarianship of the college library appeals to a college man. If his scholarly tastes are more conspicuous than business or executive ability, he could find congenial occupation as reference librarian or cataloguer, occupations calling for broad information and book sense. If his tastes are distinctly specialized, there are many kinds of special libraries waiting for the one who can bring to them knowledge of the subjects plus library training.

There is a definite demand for men in the library profession. Not only are there many administrative positions open to them but many of the more serious patrons of the big library systems are men, and men prefer to deal with men. The library school graduate who is also a college graduate and who has the personal qualities required may expect from $1,000 to $1,200 to begin with and has ahead of him much larger possible earnings. There are filled each year several positions paying from $1,500 to $3,000. In a few of the more responsible positions the returns are as high as $5,000 or $8,000 a year. The demand for men of ambition and energy far exceeds the supply.

The returns from library service are not altogether monetary. Men who do not feel called to church work or to strictly philanthropic fields still have a desire to serve the public and do something worth while. A man goes into a position as a public librarian or a librarian of a municipal or legislative reference library has almost unequalled opportunities for public service.

The most satisfactory entrance to the profession is through a course at a good library school. Catalogues and circulars may be obtained at the college library or from George B. Utley, secretary of the American Library Association, 78 E. Washington St., Chicago, Ill.

JUST WATCH THE ENGINEERS

THEY PLAN MANY EVENTS FOR A NOISY SATURDAY.

Two Parades, One Electrically Lighted At Night—Run Chapel, Edit The Aggie.

Next Saturday will be Engineers' Day, the first one in the history of the college. The committee in charge of the ceremonies of the day has plans all laid out, the program is completed, the committees in charge of the floats of the various departments have their scenery designed, and everything will be in readiness for the show.

Plenty Of Parading.

The plan is to give two parades, one in the morning at the college and the other one in the evening through the city business district. Chapel exercises will be another one of the features. The rest of the plans are being kept secret as the engineers want to spring a surprise when the time comes. The engineers' quartet has been picked: Bob Taylor, Mark Lindsey, Elmer Wilson and B. M. Andrews, and will be in chapel.

Seven Lighted Floats.

There will be seven floats in the parade. The civils, the mechanicals and the electricals each will have two and the architects will have one. The printers have decided to withdraw their float on account of the action of the board of administration in removing their course from this college. The departments are working hard on their floats but refuse to divulge any information. The Kansas Aggie of that day will contain many unusual features including cuts of the buildings, cartoons and so forth. The engineers will issue the paper. There will be about 200 extra copies issued that day. These will be sold at five cents a copy.

The engineers held a big "pep" meeting in their lecture room Monday and the yells and other things were passed out so that all of the engineers will be primed to do their "durstest" Saturday.

The senior engineers are requested to return the cards sent them last week in care of box 194. The information is for publication in Saturday's issue of The Aggies and must be on hand at once.

Max Wilson of Wichita, visited his sisters, Kathryn and Ina, the last of the week.

CIVILS' FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET.

Sporty Engineers Enjoy Spread At College Inn.

The civil engineers held a banquet at the College Inn last Friday night. The civils plan to make this event, the first being so enjoyable, an annual affair on the calendar for spring term.

The civils went to the movies first. Following the show, they went to the College Inn for the banquet. President Waters, Dean McCormick, Professor Conrad and Assistant Frazier made short and pleasing talks. The banquet was served in four courses.

Mrs. E. V. Miller left Sunday to spend the summer with Mr. Miller's parents in Riverside, California. Mrs. Miller is a member of the class of '13, having recently completed her work in the household economics course.

Watch The Chinchbugs—Dean.

Kansas farmers must watch the chinchbugs, and then kill them, says Prof. George A. Dean. This is the first time he says, that the chinchbugs have reigned in Kansas for five years at a stretch. Once before Kansas crops were besieged for three years straight, but this is the first year to make the fifth of serious attack.

SAYS WAR TALK'S A JOKE.

Carnegie Says to Be Safe, Enter Army or Navy.

Andrew Carnegie says war is a joke. He made this assertion to The Hague peace conference. He said: "If a man wished to select the safest life possible, the one freest from all dangers of violent death, let him enter our navy or army. There is not a workman attending machinery or erecting buildings, or a railway employe or a policeman—the soldier of civilization whose duty is never to attack, but always to protect—not one but runs far greater risk of sudden death or injury than the soldier or marine of our country does today."

Some Election Notes.

The candidates for May Queen were: Miss Kathryn Van Noy, Miss Reva Lint, Miss Addie Root, Miss Ada Worley, Miss Lyda Stoddard, Miss Ruth Allen, Miss Mildred Barr, Miss Lucile Berry, Miss Ethel Goheen and Miss Marguerite Dodd. Florence Carvin ran a good race for the most popular subfreshman girl. Tom Harris went strong as the most awkward subfreshman boy.

URGED USING WASHED COAL.

Dean McCormick Addressed Kansas Engineers' Association.

Dean McCormick, in an address to the Kansas Association of Stationary Engineers at Topeka last week, recommended the use of washed coal, after it has been crushed. A lengthy and careful experiment was made here to determine the gain or loss in efficiency by using washed coal. The washed coal increased the capacity of the boilers 20 per cent and their efficiency more than 10 per cent. Dean McCormick told the engineers at Topeka the results of the experiments here.

Baseball Finances Waver.

Baseball has not been a financial success. Both of the Missouri games, several games with Moore's leaguers and then the Bethany game had to be cancelled because of wet grounds. Bethany was here Saturday and Coach Lowman made arrangements to have the water fight on the league grounds, but the water was too deep in the outfield. So Bethany departed on the noon train.

Students Help Fight Fire.

Flames that threatened the destruction of the buildings of the University of Utah were checked by the combined efforts of firemen and students recently. A lab building was destroyed and the medical building damaged. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

Illinois U. Has Three New Ones.

Three new buildings, valued at $200,000, have been dedicated at the University of Illinois. All are engineering buildings.

Declare Against Graft.

Secretaries of nine eastern college bureaus of student employment held a conference at Columbia University March 22 to discuss methods of working through college. A plan for a central clearing house for positions was arranged. Official opposition to the exploitation of college men as book agents and canvassers during the summer months was expressed on the ground that they believe it generally results harmfully for the student.

OKLAHOMA GOT JUST A LONE HIT

Lowman Men Found Dunn For Only Three Safe Ones—At K.
U. Today.

Bailey pitched invincible ball Monday afternoon against the University of Oklahoma, and the Aggies won, 1 to 0, in a game that was well played despite the muddy field. Bailey allowed one hit, and that a scratch. Dunn was right stingy also, giving the Aggies three hits, one of them a scratch by Briney that brought in Enns in the fourth for the only run of the game. The field was slow and the ball dead. Both teams displayed plenty of ginger and kept the game lively. Bailey pitched steadily all the way and compelled the Sooners to hit easy ones to the infield or else pop them up high enough in the air so that the Aggie fielders covered them in good style. Cleland, in left, pulled several good catches.

Eighteen Sooners in Six Innings.
Oklahoma ate out of Bailey's hand. For six innings the Sooners had only three men at bat, Johnson had scratched an infield hit, but was caught off first when Clark's attempted sacrifice skied to Knaus, who doubled Johnson at first. Bailey gave one walk in the seventh, without harm. He gave one more in the eighth, but Swanson expired on second. Bailey gave one more base in the ninth, but that only gave zest to the game. The Aggies scored in the fourth when Enns hit, went to second when First Baseman Reeds dropped a throw from Dunn, and went to third when Dunn overthrew second. Briney hit one into the soft place at short and Nick came across.

TALK CLASS BOOK TOMORROW.

Juniors Will Discuss Royal Purple Matters.

When the juniors meet tomorrow, it is probable that the question of changing the system of getting out the class book will be considered. President Waters urges that the class pay the chairman a salary, all the committee's expenses and then require an itemized account of all receipts and expenditures. The salary proposed for the chairman is $200 and the class probably will adopt this. The system of class book management will be unchanged in other respects.

A MEET OF 43 SCHOOLS

KANSAS HIGH ATHLETES ARE HERE TODAY.

START FIRST EVENT AT 2 O'CLOCK

President Waters Grants Half-Holiday—Fast Time and Good Records Promised.

This is High School Day. This afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock, track athletes representing 43 high schools from the eight congressional districts of Kansas will compete for the high school championships of 1912. This meet will be the largest high school meet held in the state this season. President Waters has granted the students of the college a half-holiday this afternoon and the attendance will be large. Admission to the meet will be 25 cents.

Add 50-Yard Dash.
The 50-yard dash has been added to the regular list of track events, making 14 in all. The addition of these events will add interest to the meet, as there are several classy men entered.

New records in the pole vault and the dashes are looked for by close followers of the Kansas high school track men. Cassidy of Wichita vaulted 11 feet 4 inches in the Arkansas Valley meet, and is expected to do better today. In the hurdles, he has been going better than the state records and will show his speed today. Butler, the speedy negro runner from Hutchinson, has been running in good form all season and expects to break some records today.

What Is Required of K. S. A. C. Engineers?

K. S. A. C. trains professional engineers. The professional engineer must render service. He must assume a public responsibility in order to be classed among professional men.

To perform efficient service, the engineer must not only be strong in his chosen work, but he must have a thorough liberal education, exact knowledge of the fundamental sciences, and a practical knowledge of the economic as well as of the technical phases of his chosen specialty.

The engineer to be successful must be broad minded, well balanced and must cultivate such qualities as will enable him to gain and hold the respect of the community in which he lives and of his associates in his work.

The embryo engineer while at K. S. A. C. can gain most of the requirements for success after graduation, provided he does not neglect any studies or duties which will help him to form such habits as will aid him in meeting and solving not only problems relating to matter, but also those pertaining to life and to social as well as to the economic welfare of people.

A. A. POTTER,
Prof. of Steam and Gas Engrg., K.

Sigma Tau on Fishing Trip.

The Sigma Tau men are preparing for an outing to be taken a week from Saturday. Arrangements are being made for a fishing trip. The committee has made a preliminary survey of the surrounding country for the purpose of establishing a camp. Nothing has as yet been selected. The trip will be a three-day sojourn—from Saturday until Monday.

Hamps Meet Monday.

The regular program of the Hamilton Literary Society for Saturday, May 17, has been postponed to the Monday following. It will consist of music and orations by several members of the society. Visitors are cordially invited.

Papers of April 4?

Five cents an issue will be paid for copies of this paper of the issue of April 4. Bring them to The Aggie office.

MAY DAY WAS SUCCESS

BIG CROWD SAW LYDA STODDARD CROWNED QUEEN.

RAIN CUT SHORT SOME EVENTS

Ionian Stunt Took First Prize—Franklins Got Second Award—The Other Events.

The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. gave their third annual May Festival last Wednesday. At 4 o'clock the grand procession left the old gymnasium and started for the lower part of the campus, where the festivities were to be held. As the procession drew near there was much craning of necks to see who was to be this year's May Queen. The buglers headed the procession and after them came the flag bearer. Then eight little flower girls and the crown bearer preceded the queen of the day and her six attendants. Next came seventy-two May pole dancers with their escorts and the Brownings, Franklins, Eurodelphians, Ionians and Japanese girls in the order named.

Mrs. Waters Crowns the Queen.

After the procession, Mrs. H. J. Waters placed the crown of roses on Miss Lyda Stoddard and proclaimed her the Queen of the May. The band then played while the three May poles were wound, twenty-four girls winding each pole. The moving picture men were on the job and took pictures of this stunt. The Brownings then gave their rainbow frolic, followed by the Franklin sailor lads and lassies. The Japanese fantasy by Miss Enyart's drill was well given and thoroughly enjoyed. The Euros gave their stunt in the gym when rain interfered. The band concert had to be postponed. The Ionians won first place and the Franklins second.

When the Faculty Shone.

Next in the order of events came the faculty track meet. This was a surprise to all of the students in that none of the events could be forecasted. Not even the engineers would have believed that Dean McCormick could make the 100-yard dash in such fast time. The tug-of-war between the seniors and the faculty resulted in an easy victory for the pedagogs. Christian won the 100-yard dash after giving a handicap of 15 yards. The feature stunt of the track meet was the high kicking done by the high-pockets. This was won after much hard trying by Dr. L. D. Bushnell, but he was forced to kick 7 feet 6 inches, beating the old record of 7 feet 2 inches. The Hamp-Web tug-of-war was the closest of any of the contests, the Webs winning the first pull by a scant two feet and the second pull by four feet.

O! the Red, Red Pop!

Besides the society stunts in the exercises, the Alpha Beta society and the Athenian society had soda pop and ice cream. The Phi Phis and the Lambda Lambdas sold fudge and ice cream, while the Eta Beta P's sold lunches. The home-made engine by the engineers was also patrolling the grounds. A very merry time was enjoyed by all and another May Day Festival has passed.

ABOUT DEAN McCORMICK.

Something of the Head of the Division.

Edmund B. McCormick was born at Normal, Ill., November 24, 1870. He graduated from the Illinois University in 1889, and took up a four-year apprenticeship course as machinist in the C. & A. shops. He then went to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, America's foremost engineering school, graduating in 1897 with the S. B. degree in the mechanical engineering course. He busied himself until December of that year installing electric elevators and fountains in the New England states. He then accepted a position as assistant instructor, being later advanced to assistant professor, in the mechanical engineering division of the Montana State College, where he remained until 1901. Since 1901 he has spent his energy at this institution, first as a professor of mechanical engineering, and later as dean of the division. In addition to this he holds the office of consulting engineer with the United States office of public roads, Washington, D. C. He is at the present engaged in writing a series of texts and reference books on agricultural engineering for the McGraw-Hill Publishing Company.

Some idea of the growth of the division while under his supervision may be obtained from the fact that from a total of five graduates in 1902, the number has grown to 51 for the 1913 class. This makes a thousand per cent increase. This also shows that the engineering division must be in prime condition, and that it is an important part of this great school. We would say in further support of our dean, that is due to no small part of the efforts of this rugged man at the head of affairs. Honest and just, he gives a "square deal" to every student in the division. With such a leader and the good will of the people of the state and the student body, it is reasonable to expect that this division will continue to advance and perform its share of the building of the future of the college and the commonwealth which supports it.

IT'S A BIG DAY TODAY

JUST WATCH THE AGGIE ENGINEERS.

CHAPEL WILL SURELY INTEREST

An Electrically Lighted Parade Tonight—There's a Mystery About It, Too.

The Engineering Association of the Kansas State Agricultural College was organized in November, 1912. It has been the policy of the association to bring before the students of this college the department of engineering to keep up the engineering spirit and to maintain good fellowship among the students of the different divisions of engineering.

To develop this engineering spirit it was suggested that a day be set aside which was to be called Engineers' Day, and that this be made an annual event and one of the most eventful days of the college year. So it was that May 17, in the year 1913, is the First Annual Engineers' Day of the Kansas State Agricultural College and is being promoted by the Engineers' Association.

Everybody Favored It.

The committee appointed to prepare a program and make arrangements for the occasion immediately set to work. The first persons to conquer were the president and dean, and lo and behold, they were strongly in favor of it and did all in their power to help, and with their suggestions and those of other faculty members the committee began work. From this time on the Engineering Association was one large committee, as each man had a certain amount of work to do and he did it.

The first event of the day will be the publishing of The Kansas Aggie. The next thing was to have something doing in chapel. Well, there will be something doing. The regular opening services will be conducted as usual. The Rev. D. L. Fisher has kindly consented to lead the devotional services. This will be followed by a short talk by President H. J. Waters. The engineers then take charge of things. Their part of the services will consist of a mock chapel service to be held wholly on the stage. The program has been made to suit the occasion.

Watch This Parade.

While preparation was being made for this, other things were being considered. It was decided that in order to give the engineers a chance to "show off" there would have to be a parade. The city authorities were consulted in regard to a parade down town, and, like good city authorities should do, they readily agreed. Such men surely must be engineers. Then for the parade. What shall it be like? When shall it be? How can we pull it? And, how will it be arranged? Imagine, if you can, anyone but a bunch of 250 engineers answering such questions. The dean, being a wise and knowing brother, proceeded to help in the difficulty, and with his aid it was decided that each of the engineering divisions should have floats to represent its department; that the parade should be at night, forming on Fourteenth street, going down that street to Poyntz, then down Poyntz to Third, up that street to Bluemont, then up Bluemont to Manhattan avenue; that the parade should be electric lighted; that it be pulled by means of traction engines, and arranged as follows: First, the mighty engine which has so often pulled loads of such enormous size that the coughing could be heard for many blocks and remembered for many days, would be called upon to pull the power plant as prescribed by the electricals and the truss bridge as prescribed by the civils, and any other floats which they might be

YOUR WORK, GOOD PEOPLE!

This is the day when all, or practically all, of the high schools in the state send representatives here to compete in the field events and on the cinder path for the championship of Kansas. These young men and women are our guests and it is up to us to show them the best that we have, socially, educationally and in athletics. All of our visitors today will be prospective students who are looking for some place to attend college next fall, or in the future, and these men have the high school training that is of value to them and will be of value to the college they select to finish their course and prepare them for life's work.

If you know any of these men, get with them after or during the meet, show them about the campus, point out to them places of interest, take them through the department of your course, whether agriculture, engineering, domestic science or whatever it is, and show and explain the things that interest you; it will probably be of interest to them, too. If any of them are contemplating taking any particular work, here or anywhere else, take them to the head of the department and let them find out what we have to offer that is likely to find favor in their eyes. We have the greatest school in agriculture in the world, our engineers are in demand as soon as they finish their course, and our girls make the best housewives that can be had anywhere. Surely some of these things cannot fail to arouse interest and perhaps induce them to select this college for their higher education.

The men who take part in the field events of the day are the flower of Kansas manhood who will be our athletes or who will play against our teams in the future. If we can persuade these men to come here our future teams will have what they are sadly lacking now, the advantage of the high school training. Many of these men are prominent in other lines of activities. There are many high school athletes who also excel in debating and oratory. These men will find some place to further their knowledge of this work. The success of our debating teams in the debates held this winter argues eloquently for the efficiency of the instructors in charge of this work. Our social activities include anything that might be desired, from the most formal to the most informal. Certainly a prospective student must find something advantageous to himself in this array of talent. Whatever you do, treat them all with respect and courtesy and show them what college has done to help you yourself to be better for having attended here.

WATCH US TODAY.

This is the day set for the engineers of the college to exhibit their powers as entertainers. When you calculus, applied mechanics and theory of electricity that is the perennial lot of the engineer in college, there can be nothing but praise for the men that have taken this time to think of the work that has been put into the show, and this on top of the prepare a gala day and help the outsider to see the engineer as he sees himself (in the future). We will try to show the unsophisticated agriculturalist, the bugologist, horse doctor and the girls a sample of the mysteries that are propagated in mechanics' hall. If you do not think that engineers can be original the parade tonight will project that illusion into oblivion forever. After President Waters turns the chapel exercises over to the engineers, the rest of the college will have an idea of the way that chapel should be conducted. And be sure to see the exhibit in the main hall. Each department will have something to show that there is no chance for duplication. We want the unsuspecting outsiders to enjoy themselves today and all are invited to be happy.

OUR THANKS.

To those who have taken part in helping to prepare this program, and those who are taking part, to the faculty who have been willing to help, to the department of agriculture for your assistance, to the members of the band, to the editing staff of The Kansas Aggie, to the city authorities, and to the business men of the city, the committee takes this means to thank you for the assistance given. We appreciate the interest shown in preparing the program and helping to make this the one great day for engineers. And to the high school visitors and others the Engineers' Association extends you a glad hand and wishes you the best success.

AGGIES LOSE FIRST GAME.

Bishop Was Better Than Pollom, 5 to 3.

Lawrence, May 15.—Playing an errorless game, Kansas defeated the Aggies here this afternoon, 5 to 3. Kansas started the fireworks in the first inning, when Sommers drew a walk, Delongly and Ward singled and Wilson hit for two bases, scoring Sommers and Delongly. Kansas scored again in the fourth and sixth innings. Captain Busick came to bat in the eighth and knocked a home run through the left field fence. Bishop held the Aggies safe except in the fifth and ninth.

The Aggies had their only chance of winning in the ninth, when two walks and two hits scored one man and filled the bases. Bishop tightened up and forced the side out with hits to the infield. Coolidge, right fielder for Kansas, pulled two long hits off the fence, and made the feature plays of the game:

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Kansas ....200 101 010—5 10 0
Aggies ....000 020 001—3 5 2
Batteries—Bishop and Sommers; Pollom and Forsberg. Umpire—Plank.

On account of the engineers having Saturday, the Hamiltons will meet Monday evening instead of Saturday. The Websters have adjourned for two weeks. This is real loyalty on the part of the societies and the engineers take this means of expressing their thanks.

Turn In Football Suits.

All football men are requested to turn in their suits at once. This is made necessary by the poor condition of the locker rooms.

able to complete. This task will fall to the wonderful Big 4.

What's the Mystery?

Immediately following these great works of the country's best electrical and civil engineers, will be that machine which was designed to make better city streets and country roads, the great Case steam roller. The roller will serve two purposes: First, it will take the place of that musical instrument so often seen in good parades, for what parade would be complete without a steam calliope? Secondly, it will make the track on which is to run the immense locomotive designed by the mechanical engineers. This locomotive shall be made to pull the floats of the mechanicals, followed by the college band and the float which shows the work of art by architects. Last but not least in the parade will be a feature. Now just what this feature will be is known only to the committee and those who are working on it.

Board Controls Weir City School.

John S. Dawson, attorney general, has ruled that the new board of educational administration has entire charge of the Weir City School of Mines. The question of jurisdiction of the school at Weir City arose over the interpretation of the statute under which the school was established. The regents of the university were empowered to establish the college, and the question came up, when the new board was established, whether or not the new board, since it took over all the work of the regents, had charge of the new school, it being undecided as to whether the regents had charge of anything connected with the school other than its establishment. Attorney-General Dawson says the board controls.

Field Goes to Colorado.

O. F. Field, who has been baseball coach at the University of Missouri, has accepted the place of director of athletics at the University of Colorado, to succeed Frank Castleman, who is now director of athletics at Ohio State University.

Drake University women students admit that the young women have a great influence over the young man's conduct, but they assume no liability for his conduct.

Change Date of Reception.

The reception for senior men, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., announced for May 23, is postponed to Monday, June 2. All senior men are requested to observe the date and plan to attend the reception.

A big improvement has been going on at the college farm. Under the direction of the experimental department the creek has been changed and straightened. A big cut eight inches deep and 150 feet long has been made. This brings into cultivation about two and a half additional acres. This illustrates further the use of the engineer on the farm.

SONG OF THE SCREW.

A moving form or rigid mass,
Under whate'er conditions
Along successive screws must pass
Between each two positions.
It turns around and slide along—
This is the burden of my song.

The pitch of screw, if multiplied
By angle of rotation,
Will give the distance it must glide
In motion of translation.
Infinite pitch means pure translation
And zero pitch means pure rotation.

Two motions on two given screws,
With amplitudes at pleasure,
Into a third screw-motion fuse,
Whose amplitude we may measure
By parallelogram construction
(A very obvious deduction).

Rotation round a given line
Is like a force along.
If to say couple you incline,
You're clearly in the wrong;—
'Tis obvious, upon reflection,
A line is not a mere direction.

So couples with translations too
In all respects agree;
And thus there centers in the screw
A wondrous harmony
Of Kinematics and of Statics,—
The sweetest thing in mathematics.

Rotation now to force convert,
And force into rotation;
Unchanged the work, we can assert,
In spite of transformation.
And if two screws no work can claim,
Reciprocal will be their name.

But time would fail me to discourse
Of Order and Degree;
Of Impulse, Energy, and Force,
And Reciprocity.

All these and more, for motions small,
Have been discussed by Dr. Ball.

SLIPPED ONE OVER?

H. E. Girls May Cut Up Some Today.

Rumor has it that the girls are going the boys one better. The report is that a surprise is in store for the engineers. Where the report started, no one knows; but something is going to happen. At the D.
S. dinners one hears whispered conversations, sees secret signs, and learns of secret committees. But why? No one seems to know. Can it be that the girls are slipping one over the boys? We would hardly say that of our engineers, hardly.
Then, too, why all those girls looking for electrical appliances, and irons, toasters, heaters, percolators, storage cells, and lamps? Why all that bunting? We asked Reva Lint about it. She says "Wait and see."

While we wait we would advise everyone to be on the lookout for the big parade tonight. Mayhaps the girls are building a float. Who knows? Wait and see.

K. S. A. C. an Engineering School.

At a recent meeting it was decided that K. S. A. C. is an engineering school. Statistics of great value were produced in proof of the fact.
It was proven that 99 per cent of the students, male and female, were engineers. Data was forthcoming illustrating that it takes as much in-geniuty to operate a cook stove as it does an Avery tractor. Figures were read demonstrating that to control a refractory horse calls for as much skill as operating a White gasoline engine. The dressmaker, while more gentle in nature, uses as much engineering ability in decorating the human temple as does the architect in producing niches in walls and buildings similar to the auditorium doors.
The Ag in transferring a litter of Durocs from pen to pen uses the same amount of tact as does Dean
McCormick in handling unexcused.
In fact no one branch of instruction at the college can be classed other than engineering in nature.

The affirmative went so far as to recommend the establishment of another phase. At present the laboratory work is carried out with some degree of success, but the class work is a negative quantity. "Psy" Mc-Keever favors it, Professor Potter sees its possibilities, and enrollments might be obtained from the chemistry department. The class so much needed, declares the affirmative, is "Matrimonial Practices."

Why Engineers' Day.

An engineering student is a growing, complex quantity. He must express himself. Engineers' Day gives opportunity for co-operative expression. It gives the engineering student a chance to see his own work from new points of view. He cooperates with members of other courses and classes in the various features of the day. Outsiders get a new view of the work our boys are doing and are going to do. So much of our effort is without demonstration that those who are not closely in touch with it may forget or fail to realize the enormous amount of work that is being accomplished in the engineering laboratories and class rooms. It is due the citizens of Manhattan and Kansas to see something of our work. Engineers'
Day should be at least an annual event. M. R. BOWERMAN.

ENGLISH AND THE ENGINEER.

Some Good Advice by Harrington to Students.

The true value of the scholastic work is not realized. It is frequent to hear objections on the part of the student to this or that study because it is not practical; because, so far as he can discern, it has no bearing upon designing and constructing engineering works, which in his opinion constitute the sum total of engineering. The study of English is especially subject to such criticism;
just as though it were not necessary to employ the language understandingly in the preparation of specifications, contracts, and advertisements;
in instructions to other engineers, to contractors, and to foremen; in technical papers and books; in business correspondence, prospectuses, estimates, reports, and other business papers, as well as in the social relations. It is singular how prevalent is the idea that this, the instrument most commonly used of all, the one upon the quality of which all others depend, should be considered of little consequence. If you have neither knowledge to gain nor thought to convey, the study of English is evidently useless; but, in that event, so is the study of every other subject.

TIED UP ON A BOX CAR.

Then Railroad Company Hauled a Bench Mark Away.

A good story is told on the civil engineering students at Rolla, Mo., the home of the Missouri School of Mines. A party of juniors was running a line of levels from Rolla to a small town about ten miles away and was about half way there when darkness caught it and obliged the engineers to tie up for the night and return to town. They selected a bench mark near a siding, intending to return the next day and finish the job. The next day they returned but were unable to find any trace of the bench mark. During the night the thoughtless railroad company had taken it away. They had tied up on a box car.

GET READY FOR STATE MEET.

Kansas Conference Meets at Topeka May 24.

Inclement weather is not bothering Coach Bryan and his "B. V. D." squad very greatly. The track team is in fine shape as a whole and ready for the state intercollegiate meet, which will be held in Topeka next Saturday under the auspices of Washburn college. Captain Hutto is taking matters easily now and resting his wrenched ankle. Hutto is expected to pull down at least 10 points in the state meet if his ankle holds up.

The sprint races will bring together the fastest bunch of runners that have assembled at the starting line in a K. A. I. A. meet for many years. Kelly, the St. Marys speederino; Granger, the College of Emporia's 10-second man; Parker of Baker and Gates, Coach Bryan's find, will be the four men to place in the century dash. Southwestern has a good sprinter but he is not as fast as this bunch and should be eliminated in the semi-finals. Washburn's line of sprinters has dwindled under careless handling and 11 flat is now the fastest time the Blue runners can make.

Should Captain Hutto enter the 880 at Topeka next Saturday he will measure strides with the best 880 man the state has produced in many moons, Horn of Baker. Horn has not been pushed in any race this season but has been running in remarkable time in every meet. Barring the possibility of Hutto's finishing out the race, Horn should clip off another second or so from the state record held by himself. The mile and the two-mile events should go to the Aggie captain easily, though Washburn has a clever runner in O'Brien, who should place well after Hutto.

The hurdle races should prove very interesting. Young and Root, the Aggie entries, will meet as their most formidable opponents, Bearg of Washburn and Parker and Redman of Baker. These men are all fast timber toppers and the races will bear watching.

Knights Templar Spoke.

At chapel exercises Wednesday the students had a chance to hear the grand prelate of the Knights Templar of Kansas, the Rev. Dr. Westwood of Great Bend. Mr. Lester G. Brown, the enminent commander of the Knights Templar of Kansas, also spoke. His speech was delivered on the installment plan owing to interruption occasioned by the entrance of the D. S. girls.

Do You Sell Your Books?

Many a student, instead of taking pride in the growing row of books on his shelf, sells even his text books as soon as he has received his credits in the subjects of which they treat. He burns his bridges behind him and makes certain that whatever he has not learned from his books will remain unknown, whatever was not clear will remain obscure, whatever he forgets will remain forgotten. When, in his later work, either before or after graduation, his memory needs refreshing or a point puzzles him, he cannot turn to the familiar pages and satisfy his needs. Instead, in fear and trembling he puts on a bold face and endeavors to convince his instructors or employers that he knows what he does not know. If he succeeds, he has cheated both himself and them and has acquired a dishonest habit. If he fails, and he generally does, though he may not know it, he not only acquires the dishonest habit and cheats himself, but he fails in his work and falls behind in the race. No other books will ever supply the desired information so readily as those he pored over in school.

HARRINGTON.

Sure, They Can Work.

President Wilson recently told this story on college men:

"We no longer hear," he declared, "stories like that of Gobsa Golde."

"When Gobsa Golde's son Scattergood," he explained, "desired to go to Princeton he said to the old man:

"Pater, is it true that boys who go to college are unfit for work afterward?"

"Of course it ain't true!" snorted the old man indignantly. "Why, I've got a Princeton graduate runnin' my freight elevator, two of my best coal heavers are Harvard A. B.'s, and a Yale B. S. is my star truck driver."

It Met Requirements.

Advices Dropping Freshman Year.

President Judson, of the University of Chicago, advocates that the college courses be shortened from four to three years, dropping the freshman year altogether. It is mostly duplication anyway, thinks President Judson, and if high school work is properly insisted upon before students come to college, there is no necessity for four years of work for graduation with efficiency.

MOVIES BUSY THREE DAYS.

College Activities Were Caught This Week.

The "movies" were actually here this week and proceeded to take pictures of almost everything that would be likely to interest anyone. If you didn't get your face in them it was your own fault. From the time of their arrival Monday until Wednesday they were persistently snapping something. The first picture taken was a parade of the engines from the department of engineering. After that the barns came in for their share of dress parade and the grand finale was executed at chapel Wednesday. All of the girls were cornered in the Domestic Science building and then were pictured as they went over to chapel. After the chapel exercises the machine was placed east of the Auditorium and pictures taken as the students left the building. Then again in front of Anderson hall another picture was taken, followed by a panoramic view of the entire student body. Most of the students were more interested in watching the machine "go round" than in looking as if they had something to do.

WHEATLEY TO THE ENGINEERS.

Kansas City Engine Man Illustrated Lecture.

F. L. Wheatley, demonstrator for the De Lavernne company, makers of oil engines, of Kansas City, gave a talk to the engineers in the amphitheater Wednesday, third and fourth hours. He illustrated his lecture very clearly and brought out many points that are usually not considered by the college student. This is the lecture that was postponed some time ago on account of his not being able to make connections and get here on the time specified.

Broke Up A "Hip" Show.

M. L. Pearsons, '11, a loyal alumnus who spells it with a big "A," sends an interesting clipping from The Statesman, Austin, Texas. It has to do with the way 400 students of the Texas U. showed their disapproval of a fake hypnotist show. The students went to the show armed with ancient eggs and apples, and came away with the ammunition all gone. It seems that "The Great Griffith," a wondrous hypnotist, was putting a series of shows at a theater. The students went down one night with much ammunition and when the great hypnotist was well started, they let fly. The subjects were game for a few minutes but after the magic master had fled in fear the subjects could stand it no longer and they hiked off the stage. Policemen checked the shower of eggs, but not the flow. Nobody was hurt, but fake hypnotists probably will dodge Austin, Tex., in the future.

Georgia to Michigan for Baseball.

The baseball team of the University of Georgia traveled all the way up to East Lansing, Mich., to play the Michigan agriculturalists. The trip agreed with the Georgians, evidently, as they won their game.

The engineering students attended chapel in a body on Wednesday and great was the noise thereof.

DI-ETHYL-METHYL-PEP!
IT CURES SPRING FEVER.

A Godsend To Suffering Students DOSE—For students—One teaspoonful every hour.

For Deans—Three teaspoonspoonfuls.

For Deans—Three teaspoon-fuls.

So read the label on the bottle. Resourceful One had discovered it—he just had to discover something, something that would bring in a little money and bring it quick. He was sure of the market, and knew the college needed it. So, filled with firm convictions and other necessities, he deliberately went into his eighth hour class and made it.

A few days later a professor went into his morning class to meet a roomful of the conventional shining faces. As he began the discourse every member of the class started taking notes. The bewildered man clung to the desk for support while he read a lecture on "The Relation of Photosynthesis to the higher life." After his discussion the meeting was thrown open for question. Usually the students had welcomed this lull at the end of the lecture as a convenient time to plan their chapel hour, but that morning the worn professor was swept off his feet by a volley of pressing questions, live, snappy questions. As the first bell rang, the firing quit. To the astonishment of the already over-astonished professor, every student produced a large, brown bottle. One by one they clutched at their throats. Their faces grew red as they tugged at their collars. A girl on the front row, who wore a very high stiff collar, gave a gasp, then triumphantly pulled from hidden depths, a collapsible teaspoon, strung on a fine silver chain. By the time the second bell had rang, everyone had partaken and the bottles had disappeared.

The professor whispered a hoarse, "Excused," but was altogether too weak to talk to those who gathered about his desk after class for information. Usually he had picked up his notes and slunk into the adjoining office, alone and unnoticed, but today the students thronged after him.

Such A Change.

They upset his dictionary stand in endeavor to copy the list of references he had tacked on the door two terms before.

"Professor, is there any way I might get graduate work in this course? I feel myself taking a keener interest in it than—"

"Just when did you say that paper would be due? I want to be on time with—"

"Will you be up here—"

In the distance a bell rang. The next second the room was empty. As the professor followed into the hall he found the building deserted. Stepping to the door, the worried man saw scores of students rushing past, some trotting, some frisking, some scurrying, all in the same direction, and all carrying bottles.

The professor sniffed. He stepped outside and sniffed again but he detected not one trace of smoke. He looked at his watch and promptly collapsed. Horrors of horrors! These students were going to chapel. Struggling to his feet, he started toward the Auditorium.

"Clear the way! Man hurt! Man hurt!" came to his ears.

Down the walk came a body of students carrying a man on an improvised stretcher. To the professor's horror, he beheld a horticulture professor he had known and loved.

"Got run over—not as spry as usual—badly trampled—" was all he could gather. While yet afar off, the Prof. saw the walls of the Auditorium tremble as the mighty chorus of "We salute thee, our chieftain," rolled and swelled from within.

What!—Chapel Full?

He stood in the outer hall amazed. The Auditorium was full. Students stood cheering and shouting while the Resourceful One walked humbly across the platform. Then the professor gasped as his eyes fell on a magnificent pipe organ which filled the back of the stage.

On it hung a card, which read: "Fund started before breakfast." Had the students gone mad? He looked about him for a staid professor to confirm his theory but was startled to find the place absolutely devoid of professors, not one to be seen anywhere.

He watched the Resourceful One face the audience.

"Fellow students—" began the R. S. Thunderous applause interrupted his words.

"I have made a terrible mistake." The applause sickened and died down.

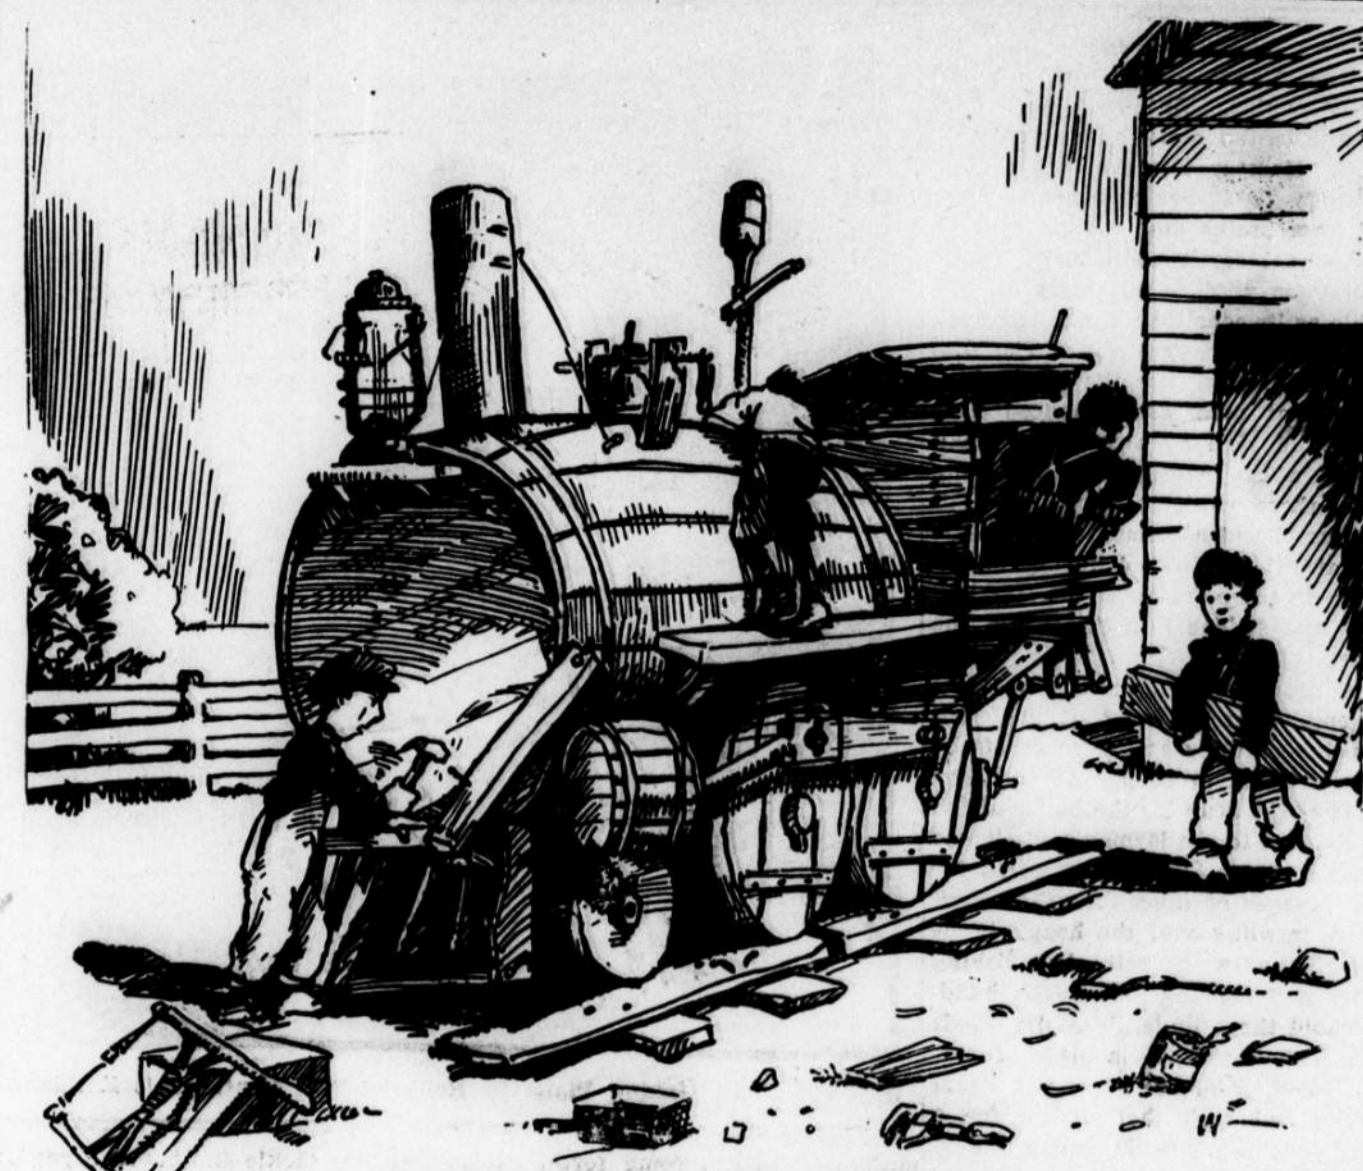

"The labels were wrong. Our faculty has taken too much Di-Ethyl-M. Pep. They are sick men and women. They are listless and languid. Yes, more than that," his voice was just a whisper now. "They are really lazy!"

The professor darted into the fresh air. The Popular Girl dashed past him.

"Come on, room mate, we're going over to found the cafeteria—got to have it running by noon—students starving—wild to eat—"In a moment they were out of sight.

"What rhymes with jump, chap?" drawled a voice from behind some shrubbery. The professor turned, and there, stretched in the shade, was a formerly inergetic zoologist.

"Man, what's wrong?" asked the

This Is the Famous Casey Jones, Limited.

professor as he edged delicately to the other side of the walk.

"Oh nothing—just writing a little—killin' time, such a lazy sort of day. It's going to be an ode to a grasshopper—used to be quite interested in them."

Down Lover's Lane wandered two persons, persons who even yet inspired a little fear in the professorial breast. Was it possible? The lawyer's hand was out his pocket and in it was a life-sized fishing pole! By the little bridge outside the gateway, a woman sat. As the men approached she beamed on them wearily.

"It's hard work to be sure—haven't much strength today," she yawned. "But you'll admit—I'm handy at digging bait!"

Students Live On Food Capsules.

The noon hour was an eventful one. Students thronged to the new cafeteria and went away, every one with a small capsule. The Popular Girl had manufactured hundreds of food capsules the fourth hour, to do away with the old fashioned cumbersome method of eating. Just a capsule, a drink of water, a teaspoonful of Di-Ethyl-Methyl - PEP, and the noon meal was over. By 1:30 a rapid transit street car system was running to all parts of the city and coal for next winter was unloaded from the new switch.

As the last bell rang, weary faculty members emerged from the shade of trees and trudged up the hill to their eager classes. Only two of them were fit for service. One was the hero of the of the morning and the other a cautious man who had taken only one third the prescribed amount.

Settle Browning In A Half Hour.

The wrok his class did was marvelous. They read, discussed and thoroughly digested, Othello Browning's complete works, Wordsworth's poems and many other valuable bits during the first half of the hour. The remaining time was given over the reciting favorite passages. The instructor was delighted to find many had learned whole pages, and one bright student recited "Caliban upon Setebos," both backward and forward with remarkable dramatic interpretation.

After one day of this, the immune professor had an idea. The next day it brought results. As Harvey W. Wiley's special train puffed into the station in answer to his appeal for help, the professor fairly fell on the bounteous bosom of the benefactor.

Then Doc Wiley Spoils It All.

The rest is soon told. The sale of Di-Ethyl-Methyl-PEP and to the convalescent faculty and students was prohibited by law. For the particular benefit of the Popular Girl, Harvey delivered his famous lecture, "Hail To The Cook Stove!" As he neared the climax, he stepped to the back of the platform and drew the red, white and blue covering from an easel, and then, just to show his everlasting good will, he presented for perpetual inspiration to the students of Manhattan, to the faculty of this school, and to the new board as well, a crayon portrait of his baby.

The "Casey Jones."

The "Casey Jones" was and is a great engine. But even more wonderful is the story of its construction. Hampered by the lack of sufficient funds, it was constructed mostly from brains and genius, with an occasional small addition of braun. This was used as sparingly as possible as its constitution was too weak to stand a heavy strain. The first step, of course, was the idea. This important part was produced near Fairchild Hall by a couple of engineers whose names shall live long after these words are forgotten. For a time the idea seemed about to die a natural death, but during chapel hour on the morning of the May Day life was suddenly instilled into the inert thing.

A group of determined engineers assembled at the west of the engineering building at the verge of the enormous scrap heap. At the very edge of the heap lay the boiler of the engine, but to the layman's eye it was simply a barrel much the worse for the ravages of time. Another engineer, crawling over the heap, stands upright with a yell, brandishing aloft a paint keg from each hand. "Behold the cylinder." A dry goods box formed the cab, a piece of pipe the stack, a bucket made the steam dome, and with the cowbell for a ding-dong she is ready to run. Alack, the wheels. An idea! From parts unknown comes two large wooden wheels—drivers sure—and promptly runs one engineer after a pair of cultivator wheels at home. But no cultivator wheels come forth. But nothing daunts the engineer. A member of the gang throws the head end onto a wheelbarrow, and away she goes.

Slowly but surely she moves. Oh, the future for "Casey Jones." A piece of oily waste within her stack secured, a match applied, green stug and dirt are added, and the smokes belches from her flue pipe. Loving hands aid and guide her on the way. The bell jangling, the human whistle screaming, she dashes madly across the arena of her short life. Through the body of reveling students she careens, down to the long walk. Thence back to the place of birth where she now peacefully reposes. Thus grew, lived, and died the "Casey Jones." But who shall deny, "She was some engine."

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES BROKE TWELVE TRACK RECORDS.

HUTCHINSON WAS CLOSE SECOND

Butler, Salt City Negro, Won Individual Honors With 23 Points —A Fast Meet.

Wichita won the third annual state high school track and field meet which was held last Saturday afternoon on the college field with 39 points. Hutchinson was second in the final count with 35 points, 23 of which were won by Butler, the speedy negro athlete from the salt city, who carried away individual honors. Stockton came in third with 11 points, Norton fourth with 10, Alta Vista, Irving and Kensington tied for fifth place and 8 points each. The others placed: Dickinson county, 7; Great Bend, 7; Iola, 7; Concordia, 3; Bucklin, 3; Wamego, 3; Rossville, 2; Junction City, 2.

The smashing of records started in the 50-yard sprint, which Butler won in 5 3-5 seconds. He also won the 100-yard dash, the shot put and the low hurdles. In the broad jump, Darnand of Stockton outstripped the Great Bend and Hutchinson negroes and set up a new state record on his sixth try. Dodkey of Irving made a good race out of the half-mile event and won in 2:06 2-5. Cassidy of Wichita did not come up to form in the pole vault and lost to Patterson of Hutchinson at 10 feet 10 inches. Treweeke was a dark horse in the high jump and won at 5 feet 8 1/2 inches. The poorest event of the meet was the discus throw; which was won at a lower figure than the record. The summary:

GROOMS 'EM FOR STATE MEET

AGGIES COMPETE AT WASHBURN NEXT SATURDAY.

With Proper Setting, Conference Records May Be Smashed by the Speedy Kansans.

The Aggie track team will close the 1913 season at Topeka next Saturday, competing in the state intercollegiate meet. The meet will be given under the auspices of Washburn College. If the running track is in proper condition and the weather man dishes out the right kind of settings, every promise of a fast meet is offered. State records have been approached in several meets this spring and one has been smashed. Granger, the College of Emporia's sprinter, won the 220 in a quadrangular meet between Haskell, Baker and the two Emporia schools last week in 22 seconds. The best he could make in the 1912 meet on the college field was :24 flat. Gates will have a tough nut to crack in the Hargiss runner.

Captain Hutto will close his career on the Aggie track squad in Saturday's meet. Coach Bryan has been priming this lean runner to set up a new state record and as his recent injury is rapidly vanishing the Topeka fans should see one of the fastest mile races that has ever been run off in that locality. Hutto looks like a good wager for 15 points in the K. A. I. A. program Saturday. Nothing in the state can touch him in the mile race and the two-mile event. In the half, Horn of Baker is some speedster and will sprint with the best of them. Should Bryan use Hutto in the 880, Horn will be forced to break his 1912 record to win.

SUPT. E. N. RODELL RESIGNS

PRINTING HEAD WILL ENTER ACTIVE BUSINESS.

Northwest Will Gain Able Newspaper Man—Contemplated Change for Some Time.

E. N. Rodell, who has been acting superintendent of printing since J. D. Rickman resigned from the superintendency to go into active business, has resigned to take effect at the end of the present college year. Mr. Rodell will enter the newspaper business, probably in one of the states of the northwest.

Mr. Rodell was graduated from the department of printing here in 1903. While in college he was student assistant in the department and after graduation became a member of the teaching force and has since continued as assistant until on the recent resignation the regents appointed Mr. Rodell acting superintendent. The new board of administration reappointed Mr. Rodell acting superintendent.

Mr. Rodell has contemplated a change for some time, but only recently decided to enter active business.

Mr. Rodell formerly was general manager of athletics and for the past few years has been treasurer of the athletic association. In the financial management of athletics Mr. Rodell's work has been highly efficient. For some time Mr. Rodell has been ready to resign as treasurer but the association has not been ready to allow him to give up the work. Mr. Rodell formerly was editor of The Students' Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dudley of Kansas City were visiting here last week.

PARADE FURNISHED ITS LIGHT

"Juice" Generated as Parade Progressed—D. S. Girls Made a Big Hit and Cookies.

Engineers' Day could not have been more successful. From the time the engineers took charge of chapel until the parade was over Saturday night, everything was carried out without a hitch. Casey Jones spluttered at times, but that was to be expected of such an arisocratic machine. The announcement of an electrically lighted pageant for Saturday night brought the largest crowd in years up town. No circus ever had so much success in getting out the people to see the world's greatest parade and fiercest lions. The best of the parade was the fact that the parade generated its own electricity, every other float having a small gas engine and a generator.

Tractors Pulled the Floats.

The parade, being a parade, was a trifle late. The sidewalks were jammed to capacity with impatient crowds. When the first float was discernible behind the big tractor, the electricals were seen at work in a power plant, with all sorts of electrical appliances. The band had a float of its own and played engineering airs, Casey Jones being the battle song.

When the Cookies Arrived.

The mechanicals, in addition to the gas engine and the generator, had other appliances and several mechanicals to show how things were done and to see that they were done. The civils had one float on which were steel bridge trusses illustrating the strength of their course, and another float, a campfire scene with a bunch of surveyors sitting around the fire, supposedly after a day's work.

The float that the crowd paid most attention to was that of the domestic engineers, the home economic engineers.

Here two girls managed a range and took crisp, brown cookies out of the oven. Two more girls tossed the cookies out to the crowd. It is said that the ag students followed that float all over town. H. H. Fenton was sitting at a table, but nobody figured out just what he was doing there, unless he had stopped at the back door for a bite while on the way to California to visit a sick and dying relative. The girls tossed out to the hungry crowd more than 500 cookies.

A Bust While You Wait.

The architectural float was a good one. A bust had been covered over with soft clay, and when the float went through the main streets Russell Williamson was busy scraping off this clay and, so far as many of the crowd thought, modeling a bust in rapid fire time.

The ag engineering float brought up the rear of the procession. The float was pulled by a Rocky mountain canary. Two small boys rode on the cart.

EDITORIAL

A GREAT BOOK, SAYS DR. BRINK.

I have been reading a great book, recently placed in the college library. Its author is Dr. Walter Rauschenbusch, professor of church history in the Rochester Theological Seminary. The title of the book is "Christianizing the Social Order." It might with almost equal propriety be called "The Socialization of Christianity." As its title implies, the book is a discussion of what socialism may be expected to do for the world when the world becomes wholly Christian. Or, better, it is a presentation of the fact that when Christianity and its great doctrine of human brotherhood shall permeate and saturate human society, then and only then will the recognized evils that now burden and curse human society, especially the evils whose roots are the outgrowth of human greed and whose fruits manifest themselves in "man's inhumanity to man," be done away. It is an optimistic book, for it shows beyond cavil that the Christian churches are already awaking to the fact that not only individual men but man in his associated capacity must be saved by the application to the problems of society of the principles set forth by the Great Teacher.

No review of the book can here be attempted, for an adequate presentation would require nothing less than the quotation of the entire work. Every sentence is packed with thought and filled with suggestion. The book has, also, a remarkable style—strong, virile, incisive—that reminds one of Carlyle at his best. It is a great book, on a great question, by a great man. It may well be recommended to all our students. It is full of meat and pepper.

C. M. BRINK.

ENGINEERS' DAY.

Engineers' Day served its purpose. It showed the college people and the people of Manhattan that the college has a crowd of engineers who can do things if they wish to; and last Saturday they wished to. The chapel exercises were well planned and well carried out. The fun was pointed, but not barbed. The rest of the celebration was equally good. The parade was the first of its kind and it will be hard for future pageants to surpass it in originality of design. For a pageant to carry its own electricity generators is unique. Of course the people who saw the parade and are not conversant with the work of the department of engineering, the floats could get only the merest haze of an idea of the work done by students in that department. But it did show people that the engineers are capable of carrying out some plan and of giving practical application of the things they learn on the hill.

Give all credit to the engineers for the success of the day. Considerable work was connected with the annual celebration, but the results justified it.

It is to be regretted that a lack of space kept some readable stories on engineering subjects out of The Kansas Aggie, but the paper was interesting for all that and livened up with cuts and illustrations. Too much cannot be said in appreciation of the good work of the engineers. Every year the Engineers' Day will be welcomed.

PETTY SWIPING.

The lights at the south entrance to the campus have been placed on the college circuit. The persons who have been taking these lights and using them will be unable to use them now. These vandals ought to be run out of town, but no one has been caught. Several of the glass prisms have been broken by stones and the lights taken. The engineering department has replaced these and will use the college power. A more careful watch will be kept and some one may be surprised. These lights are college property and anyone who will take a light should be reported to the Students' Council. Every student ought to have enough pride in the college to help stop this petty swiping on the campus.

GET READY, ALUMNI.

Get ready for Commencement Week, Alumni. At that time the fiftieth class will receive degrees from the college. There will be more things than ever to interest the grads, and Commencement and the reunions are always of first interest to graduates and former students. Plan for the week. Reunions of many of the classes will be held. Pinafore is a new attraction. The address will be given by a man of considerable reputation. The class play and the class exercises will interest you. Plan to come back for the week. The week begins Monday, June 16.

Now that the engineers have splurged with such success, will someone else have sufficient pep to do likewise. Too many celebrations of the sort that the engineers gave us cannot be held. Bring on the next. Is it the age?

The Athenian-Browning owl bake, after various misfortunes, was held at Hackberry Glen Friday evening. The ball game for the pennant was won by the Brownings by a score of 4 to 2. The feature of the bake was Curry's swim. A shower interrupted the fun but not in time to save a terrible slaughter of owls.

Argumentative Squad Feasts at the College Inn.

Prof. and Mrs. J. W. Searson entertained last Thursday night at the College Inn with an elaborate 6 o'clock dinner in honor of the success of the debating team this season.

The place cards were pen sketches, by the hostess, of the Forum Owl and the motto. Beautiful red peonies were the table decorations. The guests were: President and Mrs. H. J. Waters, Prof. and Mrs. J. E. Kammer, Prof. and Mrs. R. R. Price, Prof. and Mrs. E. P. Johnston, Prof. Carl Ostrum, and Miss Grace Derby, Miss Blanche Burt, Miss Kathryn Justin, Messrs. Grimes, Collins, Harris, Sumner, Hamilton, Sweet, Single, Hawkins, Matson, Curry and Gill.

Toasts were given by some of the faculty and by some of the debating squad. President Waters spoke on "The Value of Debating in an Agricultural College."

REQUIRE EXPERIENCE.

Faculty Has Made Important Recommendation to Administrators.

The faculty has recommended to the board of administration that in the future all students who wish to be graduated from an agricultural course must have had six months' practical farm experience. It is probable that the board will adopt the recommendation. This means that city boys will not be able to qualify as graduates from the agricultural courses who have not had practical experience. Farmer boys will not be affected by the new plan, if it is adopted.

ENGINEERS RAN CHAPEL.

Sang "Hail, Hail"—Yes, the Words Were Different.

The engineers staged a mock chapel on the stage Saturday morning, marching in to the tune of "Casey Jones," played by an engineers' orchestra. The faculty came in first, each with a big card on his back to make his identity plain. The chapel attendants came filling in. W. A. Shuster, as President Waters, read the announcements and said that he would leave it to Dr. Brink, who was a lifelong friend of the morning, to introduce the speaker. Then Thomas James Brink in a short fifteen-minute speech made known the speaker to the audience. M. D. Collins spoke freely of the teaching force of the engineering division, and then the chapel joke, the bell, started to ring. President Waters and Dean Brink made futile jabs at the silencer, but in bucked. The engineers' quartet sang two numbers that were appreciated.

As an introductory ceremony, the partakers of the mock chapel sang "Hail, Hail," under the leadership of Professor "Blondy" Gray, alias Valley. The response was as hearty as it ever is.

J. S. McBride led the yells. Casey Jones, played as the closing number, sent the audience that was down below outside. Other characters of the morning were: J. D. Walters, C. A. Hooker; B. L. Remick, C. W. Hickok; A. A. Potter, R. R. Kimmel; W. W. Carlson, C. J. Klauman; Dean McCormick, Otto Lowe, coming in late, as usual; L. E. Conrad, M. M. Hutchinson; W. C. Lane, W. G. James; J. O. ## IN STATE MEET TODAY

TRACK SQUAD CONTESTS AT TOPEKA THIS AFTERNOON.

AGGIES HOPE DIVISION OF POINTS

With Hutto and Gates in Form, The Bryan Team Should Score Heavy.

The Aggies track team will compete in the annual state track and field championships meet at the fair grounds in Topeka this afternoon. The recent inclement weather has hindered the workouts of Coach Bryan's men but they are all in good shape. This afternoon's meet is anyone's meet from the present forecast. The points will be well scattered and the Aggies have a splendid chance to win. There are no particularly well balanced track teams in the state this season, but all have several stars on their rosters that keep their respective teams in the front rank. The Aggies are particularly strong in the sprints and the distance runs, and hoping to win out this afternoon through these. The following men made the trip: Coach Bryan, Coach Lowman, Captain Hutto, Gates, Jones, Hancock, Stone, Marble, Root, Williams, Collins, Baird, Schneider and Welch.

Rely On Gates and Hutto.

Captain Hutto has recovered from his recent injury and is prepared to run three hard races at Topeka this afternoon if he is called upon to do so. Hutto is a likely winner in the mile and two-mile events. In the half-mile run, Horn, of Baker University, holder of the state record, will be the strongest opponent for the Aggie captain. Gates should get away good if the track is in shape. The sprints will be fast but the Aggie speed merchant is traveling well this season and should close the year's work in great style. Kelly, St. Marys, Parker, Baker, Granger, the College of Emporia and Randels, Southwestern are proven runners this season. The 100-yard event will be well worth watching. In the 440, Martin, of Baker, the state record holder, will be the stiffest competition for Gates.

Baker Strong in Relay.

The chances of the Aggies in the field events are slim. Marble should place well in the shot and Stone should bring in a few points in the discus. The Aggies have no competent javelin thrower. Young has been vaulting in good style this season and should place in the high vault. Points in the high and the broad jumps are impossibilities to the Aggies and will go to other institutions. Young and Root will hurdle each should get places. The relay honors are well pointed toward Baker. The Baldwin athletes won their relay in the K. C. A. C. indoor meet this spring in the fastest time of the meet. The Bakerites have had a fast relay quartet for many years. They lost to "Bobbie" Burns 1912 four by a scant margin. . . .

DAIRY STUDENTS TAKE TRIP.

Visit Topeka Dairies on Their Annual Jaunt Today.

The students in advanced dairy judging are in Topeka today inspecting the dairies there. They will return tonight. Those who made the trip are: Prof. J. B. Fitch, W. D. Cusic, W. D. Brigham, H. C. Stockwell, Vic Stewe, W. G. Davis, E. H. Clark, R. H. Musser, R. M. Phillips, C. S. Goldsmith. This trip is an annual affair. They will make a trip to Holton May 31.

Boots and Saddles For Cadets.

Cadets at the University of California will be trained for cavalry service. They will have a mounted detachment corresponding to a similar body of regulars. Students must furnish their own mounts. Only second year men in drill are eligible.

TRAINING SWIMMERS IN GYM.

Old Hole Resounds With Contestants' Splashes.

Swimming is occupying class time in the gymnasium now. Every class is being given swimming instructions by Instructor Holliday. A swimming tournament will be held among the six gym classes the first week in June. All formal gym work will end this week. A program of events for the tournament follows: 2-yard dash, 40-yard dash, 20-yard dash on back, dive for distance, fancy diving, a 40-yard relay. Competition is limited to six men from each division. A tournament with the University of Kansas swimmers was contemplated but owing to the lateness of the season the idea has been abandoned for this year.

Wheeler a Live Stock Editor.

George C. Wheeler, who has been connected with the college for the last eleven years, has resigned and will accept a position as live stock editor of the Kansas Farmer. Mr. Wheeler is now a lecturer for the extension department on farm management. Before this he was an assistant in the animal husbandry department.

Conrad Chaperons Senior Civils.

Prof. L. F. Conrad and the senior civils left Thursday for an inspection trip to last the rest of the week. They will visit the Santa Fe shops at Topeka, the Bonner Springs cement plant and various works in Kansas City.

Vets Are Looking at Meat.

Dr. Rogers and the seniors in meat inspection class are off to Kansas City for an inspection trip.

REUNION YEAR FOR 3S AND 8S

BUT THAT NEEDN'T KEEP OTHER ALUMNI AWAY.

Classes of 1908, 1903, 1898, 1893 and So On Are Due to Gather Here.

The 3s and 8s will have their reunions here Commencement week. This means that this year the classes of 1908, 1903, 1898, 1893, 1888, 1883 and so on will be due for reunions here when the final week of the term rolls around. Just how many alumni will be here is hard to tell. But that the crowd will be larger than ever this year is practically certain. Since this is the fiftieth anniversary, more sentiment than usual is connected with the graduations and the affairs of Commencement week.

The Manhattan alumni will meet May 30 for their annual picnic. At this time plans will be talked over concerning the entertainment of out of town alumni Commencement week. The president and vice president of the local association, E. H. Webster, former dean of agriculture, and Gus Kimball, former editor of the Mercury, being both absent, Miss the tournament follows: 20-yard is left in charge of the affair, with Dean Willard and Professor Dickens, directors.

HE'S H. J. WATERS, LL. D.

NEW HAMPSHIRE CONFERS DEGREE ON K. S. A. C. HEAD.

WAS AT DURHAM, N. H. WEDNESDAY

The President Was Notified a Few Days Ago—E. T. Fairchild Was Inaugurated.

The degree of LL. D. was conferred upon President H. J. Waters by the New Hampshire Agricultural College at Durham, N. H., Wednesday. President Waters expected to attend the inauguration of E. T. Fairchild, former Kansas superintendent of public instruction, as president of the New Hampshire college, but was not informed until shortly before his departure for the East that the doctor's degree would be conferred upon him.

The conferring of this degree is a recognition of the work of President Waters in the field of agriculture. Although most of President Waters' activities have been confined to the West, he is known and appreciated in the East, as the granting of this degree bears signal testimony. While the things that President Waters has done, and the things that have been done under his direction, for American agriculture are not to be measured in degrees alone, this degree is a marked testimony of the appreciation of his work and the esteem in which he is held by educators and educational institutions everywhere.

SENIOR LIGHTS BURN JUNE 18.

Four 14-Foot Posts and Lamps Are Ordered.

Senior lights will be burning the night of June 18. The contracts have been let. The lights are the memorial to be left here by the class of 1913. Four 14-foot posts of the white way variety were ordered Monday. Two will be placed in front of the main north entrance to the gym and one at each of the other two north entrances. Each post will be copper plated. The bases will be capped with cut stone, on which will be a copper plate bearing the class numerals.

A Memorial For Needy Students.

Here's an new idea in memorials. Six hundred seniors of the University of Wisconsin have decided to take out a life insurance policy of $100 each in the state's new life fund, the payments to run for 20 years and then be made into a fund for supporting needy students. At the end of 20 years, the fund would amount to about $40,000.

Two More I. H. C. Engines.

The mechanical department has received two new engines from the International Harvester company for use in the department and for demonstration purposes. One of them is a 15 horsepower portable engine that burns fuel oil. The other one is a 30 horsepower kerosene, two-cylinder, air-start tractor. The tractor is the I. H. C. machine named Titan.

Movies Caught.

The University of Nebraska also broke into the movies recently. A thousand feet of films were prepared there.

A $100 DEBATE SCHOLARSHIP

MODEST FRIEND OF COLLEGE OFFERS IT FOR 1913-14.

Donor Leaves Details of Award to Faculty, Coaches and Council—Withholds Name.

A $100 scholarship in debating has been offered to this college for next fall. If accepted, it will be known as the Forum Scholarship in Debate. The donor of the scholarship wishes his name withheld. The scholarship applies for only one year. It has been endorsed by the Forum at a recent meeting. It will be endorsed by the literary societies tonight. The scholarship may be won by any debater in competition. No details for awarding it have been made, but there is left to the faculty, coaches and the debating council. It may be divided among two or more persons.

"This comes in recognition of the work that the debaters have been doing," says Professor Searson, to whom the offer was made. "It comes, moreover, at the close of a successful year in debating. If the college shows the right spirit, the scholarship is assured, and it ought to be. This is the only scholarship of its kind that has come to my notice anywhere in the country."

BAKER WON IN TENNIS

YOUNG WON HIS SINGLES FROM PENLY.

AGGIES LOST THE DOUBLES MATCH

Rexroad Was Defeated by Laury in Straight Sets—Good Playing Livencr' It.

Baker was better than the Aggies in tennis last Wednesday afternoon on the Y. M. C. A. courts in the city park.

In the match between Rexroad of the Aggies and Laury of Baker, Rexroad lost in straight sets to the Baker crack, 6-4, 6-3, 6-1.

Young's Headwork Counted.

The other singles match proved more interesting. Penly did excellent work at the net and forced the play until Young diagnosed the Baker man's play and began to lolly them into the back court, and here Penly was unable to keep up with the steady and consistently safe game that Young displayed. Young won the first two sets, 6-1, 6-2. Penly came back and won a set in 9-7. Young took the fourth by continued steadiness, 6-2.

The doubles were well played and interesting. In the first set the Aggies took the lead until they had run up three games to Baker's one, when the visitors braced and took several games straight. With the score 5-4, Young and Wolcott deuced the set, took the ad, but lost it. The set seasawed back and forth, the Aggies continually gaining the advantage and then promptly losing it, until with the score 10 and, Baker took two straight.

Doubles Closely Contested.

The Aggies won two straight, though not without a fight. Baker took the third, 6-4, and the last, 6-3. The match was close throughout. Penly's serve, though not consistently good, was hard to handle when it hit the square. His net play was strong. Laury was good when well up in the court. The Aggies held the advantage in the back court and with consistent playing well toward the back line might have had better luck. But the Aggies played first class tennis and should have had a better crowd of supporters than came out for the meet.

Help in Philippine Question.

A list of material that may be obtained free, relative to independence of the Philippines has been compiled by the reference department in the library and may be consulted there by those who wish to prepare for the debates on this question.

Bates Returns To Fairmount.

"Bill" Bates, former coach at Fairmount, will return to the Wichita school next fall to handle the football stuff. Coach Long, coach at Fairmount last season, has resigned.

Alumni Plan For Stadium.

Wisconsin alumni plan to give their college a mammoth stadium and are preparing to raise $1,000,000 to finance the project.

Graduate 400 at Nebraska.

More than 400 students will be graduated from the University of Nebraska this spring.

Prof. E. P. Johnston will go to Natoma Friday to speak at the commencement exercises. He returned from La Harpe Tuesday, where he spoke.

R. E. Turner, assistant creamery man at the dairy, has resigned and will go to Colorado, where he will take charge of Colonel Dodge's dairy farm just outside of Denver.

Prof. E. P. Johnston was in Chapman recently to act as judge in a literary contest there.

THE PURPOSE OF SIGMA TAU.

aware that there is a reward for diligence. The fact is that the engineers at K. S. A. C. are under a watchful eye from the time they become sophomores. At this time about twenty men are watching the underclass engineers. On May 16, '12, an honorary fraternity, Sigma Tau, was established at this institution. None but engineers are eligible. Only one-third of the upper-class engineers are eligible. At the same time, scholarship is not the only requisite. To be elected, the engineer must have some practical ability and be able to meet people as a man should. One-sided men are not considered favorably. He must be an all-round man who enters its portals. It is a national order and every engineering student should endeavor to receive attention. The work of the student is watched from his sophomore year. It is the purpose of the fraternity to lift the engineering standard and to aid in bringing the graduate man to the fore.

A HEALTHY WORK.

The students' medical association is doing, in a healthy sort or way, a good work and one that is of vital importance to the student body. For the payment of a nominal fee of fifty cents a term a student is guaranteed, with certain limitations, medical attention without further charge other than for medicines and the attention of a trained nurse, if such care is needed. The report of the expenditure of the funds shows that the work is highly important. Students receive efficient treatment at lower rates; those who might not be able to pay doctor's bills and yet stay in college receive proper attention.

But there is a bigger and larger work that the association is doing. It is preventing, to a large extent, the spread of contagion. Certainly the association cannot eliminate contagion and danger altogether. But no one can doubt that the present system of safeguarding the health of the student is of value. Cases that may develop into contagious illnesses are noted at once and the proper precautions taken to prevent other persons from being exposed to the disease. That is the best service that such a department can give to the college. That it is doing it we may not doubt. The only thing to be regretted is that the resources of the association are as limited as they are.

Washburn Review published an "awful" number that was some number. On the first page are those two headlines, set in heavy, frenzied type: "ROBBED OF $30; PREP IN DESPAIR," and "DEUCES WON OVER TREYS IN POKER GAME AT EMPORIA." Inside, you learn that "Curly Locks Will Grow on Baldest Ivory Bean." "Latest Rag Played at College Funeral" is another. Laury Jean Dippy gives you advice also. This awful number has all the rest of the awful numbers lashed to the mast.

THE DEBATING SCHOLARSHIP.

The Kansas Aggie wishes to go on record in endorsement of the scholarship in debating. Not because it is new, or because it is something for the college to boast of. But the work in debating deserves every impetus that it can get, and this offer is a good way to boost. It means that some debater, or more than one, will be able to devote much time, more than is usually the lot of the member of the squad, and in this way, in developing bibliography works, the other debaters will be helped. It will be an impetus for advance in debating. It is to be hoped that the faculty will accept the scholarship, as doubtless it will.

THE SOPHOMORE'S DREAM.

(Dedicated to the engineering students.)
The other night, with brain perplexed,
Disheartened, wearied, languid, vexed,
I bravely strove with firm resolve,
The "probs" of Calculus to solve.

But all in vain, in vain I sought
To follow out the subtle thought;
So, in disgust my book I flung,
And soon in Slumber's arms I hung.

But still no peace was to be found;
A hundred circles wheeled around
Before my eyes, with bristling lines
Of secants, tangents and cosines.

Amazed, I lay and saw, with dread,
My table had its angels shed,
And, leaving not a trace of chips,
Assumed the shape of an eclipse.

My bed, which I had just resumed,
A parabolic form assumed;
My chum, with sorrow I observe,
Becomes a logarithmic curve.

Upon the wall, the picture frame
A huge parabola became;
The stove, a cone; and, by the fire
The poker straight, behold! a spire.

And as I gazed on these collections
Of cycloids, curves and conic sections,
My eyes beheld, O awful sight!
A monster, horrid, black as night.

His head a circle seemed; his lips
A grinning, oval-shaped ellipsoid;
And, from his brow, two horns there shot
Like branches of an evolute.

His eyeballs gleamed like fiery spheres,
Two large hyperbolas, his ears;
And in the rear—the heathen Baal;
He switched about a fiery tail.

He wagged his parabolic chin,
And gave a diabolic grin;
His trident then he lifted high,
And thundered out: "Prepare to die."

In terror then I looked around;
What means of safety could be found?
I shut my eyes and held my breath
And ran for very life and death.

When next I opened them I found
That I was running round and round
Within a circle, and behind
The imp was coming like the wind.

And then commenced a race for life,
He gaining on me in the strife;
I dodged about among the lines,
The tangents, radii and sines.

Up a hyperbola next I flew;
An asymptote appeared in view;
Down this I slid, lit on my head,
And found I'd tumbled out of bed.

Coach Lowman's pastimers walloped St. Marys last Wednesday afternoon at St. Marys, 6 to 1. Bailey worked well for the Aggies. Gilgan-non was not effective and the Aggies pounded him at will. The feature of the game was the sensational fielding of Braun, right fielder for the St.
Marys crew.

The Aggies scored in the first round. Enns singled and scored on McCallum's two-base clout to center.
In the fourth, Knaus scored on Balley's sacrifice fly to center. Beaman's two-bagger put Briney over the pan in the seventh, and Briney in turn brought in Enns and McCallum in the eighth on his two-base blow.
Knaus scored the final count in the ninth on a personal injury and a succession of bonehead plays.

Vol. XVIII. Semi-Weekly.

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, MAY 28, 1913.

WEDNESDAY.

NUMBER 65

WON BY A BIG MARGIN

AGGIE TRACK MEN COUNTED 56 1/2 IN STATE MEET.

HUTTO WAS THE INDIVIDUAL STAR

K. S. A. C. Captain Took Two Firsts and a Second—Southwestern Was Second, 32 1/2.

The Aggies won the annual state intercollegiate track and field meet at Topeka last Saturday, scoring 56 1/2 points. Southwestern came in second with 32 1/2 points, and Baker third with 29 3/4 points. The Manual Training Normal, of Pittsburg, tied the State Normals, of Emporia, for the fourth position with 10 points. The College of Emporia annexed 9 3/4 points; Bethany, 4; Fairmount, 2 1/2; Cooper, of Sterling, 2. Captain Hutto was the individual star of the meet with 13 points to his credit. Firsts in the mile and two-mile events and second in the half gave the Aggie runner his points. McGinnis of the Manual Training Normal was second high man for individual honors, winning the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Baker Men Set Up Two Records.

Horn of Baker was compelled to lower his 880 record to beat Hutto. In the mile and two-mile events Hutto had "easy pickings." Martin of Baker won the high hurdles in 15 3/5 seconds, setting up a new state record. The star Baker hurdler was completely exhausted at the finish of the quarter, which Gates won for the Aggies in good time considering the quality of the track. Ziegler, Southwestern, raised the javelin record to 154 feet 5 inches, and Robinson of the same school tied the pole vault record at 11 feet.

Gates Had to Run "Cold."

The preliminaries were run off in the morning but were not completed until after 12 o'clock and the Aggies barely had time to return from dinner when the starter called for the 100-yard men. The third whistle had blown when Bryan's men arrived at the track and the officials were requested to hold the event until the Aggie entries could dress. This request was granted but the Manhattan entrants in the first dash were compelled to run without any preliminary warming up and were nosed out at the tape in very poor time.

Following are the results in the track and field events:

VACATIONS FOR U.S. DEFENSE

WAR DEPARTMENT PLANS INSTRUCTION CAMPS.

At Small Cost, Men May Have Six-Week Outings—See Lieutenant Hill.

The department of war offers cheap vacations to college men this summer. Military instruction camps for college men will be established for the first time at Gettysburg National Park, Pennsylvania, lasting from July 7 to August 15, and at the Presidio of Monterey, Cal., July 7 to August 8. The cost to students is slight. Students who are more than 17 years old, and who are physically qualified, will be accepted. They must pay the cost of transportation to and from camp, pay about $5 for the necessary uniform unless they already have one, and $1.75 a week for board. But the board won't be of the $1.75 variety.

The government provides all other necessities. Lieutenant Hill, commandant of cadets, hopes to send several men from this college and desires all who like the plan to talk it over with him. Some of the cadets already have spoken to him and probably a group will take advantage of the chance.

This is a plan of the government to strengthen the national defense in training young men to be leaders if need arise. Those who go must remain the full time unless necessity compels them to leave. They will be under military discipline, the mornings devoted to instruction, including target practice, and the afternoons largely at the disposal of the men. Some cavalry training will be offered. Regulars will be there with hospital equipment to assure best medical attention if required. The offer is open to students of all colleges. The training aims to give an understanding of principles rather than practice in precision in manual of arms.

INSTALLED AS SIGMA NU

LOCAL FRAT OBTAINS CHAPTER IN NATIONAL ORDER.

THIRTEEN ALUMNI WERE INITIATED

Twenty Actives Joined—Two National Officers and 27 K. U. Members Were Here.

Kappa Delta Pi, the local fraternity established here in 1901, became the Beta Kappa chapter of Sigma Nu last Friday. A special car brought 27 Sigma Nus from Lawrence here Friday for installation. Thirteen alumni were initiated Friday and 20 active members Saturday. Two national officers, F. W. Niedemyer, Columbia, Mo., installing officer, and Burton P. Sears, Chicago, historian of the fraternity, were here.

An installation dance was given Friday night at the Elks' hall. Sixty couples attended. The hall was decorated with Sigma Nu and Kappa Delta colors. Refreshments at intermission and a luncheon following the dance were served at the College Inn. Among the guests were Professor and Mrs. Jardine, Mrs. Bassler, local matron; Mrs. Young, matron at Lawrence; Prof. W. A. Lippincott, Sigma Nu at Ames; Mrs. Robinson of Manhattan, Mrs. H. J. Waters.

First Sigma Nu Banquet.

Seventy persons attended the banquet at the Elks' hall Saturday night. The tables were decorated with the fraternity colors and flower, the white rose. F. W. Niedemyer was toastmaster. Talks were made by John Coddling, A. R. Losh, Prof. W. M. Jardine, Prof. W. A. Lippincott, Webster Halloway, Burton P. Sears, A. Davidson, R. E. Karper.

The Initiates.

The alumni members initiated were: Paul Winnie, R. E. Hunt, A. E. Wright, William A. Pulver, L. B. Barber, Russel Dodderidge, Elmer Samson, A. R. Losh, R. V. Christian, E. C. Magill, Harold O'Brien, Tom Bartlett, Arthur White.

The active men initiated: A. P. Immenschuh, O. M. Low, G. R. Gray, R. E. Karper, A. P. Davidson, P. H. Lambert, R. T. Wilson, B. W. Whitlock, John A. Vohringer, C. H. Shaw, J. D. Colt, Jr., L. E. Hobbs, R. N. Schafer, C. F. Buck, Paul King, L. B. Mann, H. C. Ewers, H. H. Haymaker, H. L. Hurtt, H. B. Dudley.

PICK 8 DEBATERS THIS TERM.

Will Prepare for Ames and South Dakota Contest.

A squad of eight debaters will be chosen this term for the contests with South Dakota and Ames during the fall term. Elimination contests will be held in the societies before June 2, at which every society will choose three representatives. An elimination contest will be held June 2 to pick three members. Five more will be chosen in another contest. Six debaters are to be used. The question will be Philippine independence. Members of the team of this year will try for places.

CHOOSE DRESSER, '14, CAPTAIN.

Thirteen Ks Granted to Baseball Aggies This Year.

The baseball team elected Henry Dresser of Manhattan captain of the 1914 team. The election was held at Coach Lowman's last Monday night. Only those players to whom Ks were granted voted.

The K men in baseball are: Forsberg, Scanlon, Pollom, Bailey, Knaus, Agnew, Briney, Beaman, enns, Dresser, Cleland, Dryden and McCallum. Forsberg, Pollom, Cleland, Beaman and McCallum have finished their allotted time of three years on the team.

Before the election Coach Lowman gave the men a short talk on the team and the hard luck that followed it this season. Afterward Mrs. Lowman served ice cream, strawberries and cake. This was followed by cigars and an informal rehearsal of the sad and happy incidents occurring during the season. The whole baseball squad of about 25 was present to enjoy the evening.

ANNUAL GLEEMEN'S CONCERT.

Small Crowd Heard Musical Program Friday Night.

A small crowd enjoyed the Glee Club concert last Friday night in the Auditorium. A well varied program was well sung, though marred slightly by poor management. The Glee Club opened the program with the "Song of Ossian," which was well received. M. A. Lindsay's baritone solo received appreciation. The tenor solo by E. W. Wilson pleased. Mr. Wilson gave an encore. A quartet arrangement of the sextet from Lucia concluded the first part of the entertainment.

A beer garden, except that the gleemen drank harmless looking liquids, was the setting for the second part. A series of short, comic songs made a hit. The reading from "Quo Vadis" by E. O. Graper was unusually well given, excellently, in fact. Wilson and Taylor, tramps, costumes and all, sang "The Two Beggars." The setting was good and the singing as well. A noteworthy feature was the solo work of Miss Hungerford. Miss Grace Marty played the accompaniments.

Athenians Endorse Debate.

The Athenians endorsed the debating scholarship, which had been offered to the college, at the meeting Saturday.

Miss Weeks gave an interesting talk to the Browning Society on "Art in the Home" at the meeting Saturday.

K. I. A. A. WOULDN'T LET GO

AGGIES WILL REMAIN IN KANSAS CONFERENCE ATHLETICS.

When Lowman Offered to Withdraw, Directors Asked K. S. A. C. to Stay in the Clique.

The Aggies remain in the Kansas conference. This was decided by the conference coaches and athletic directors at their annual meeting at Topeka last Saturday night. Coach Lowman handed in the withdrawal of the agricultural school and was immediately asked why the Aggies were quitting the Kansas clique. The coach told the board that he thought that the Kansas conference would not allow the Aggies to be members of the Missouri Valley and Kansas conferences at the same time. The board very promptly informed Coach Lowman that the Aggies were as welcome in the K. I. A. A. as ever. The resignation was withdrawn. The 1914 meet will be at Emporia.

The athletic board devised a new eligibility standard for the smaller schools, but this will in no way affect the Aggies, as they will play under the rulings of the Missouri Valley. The baseball championship for the 1913 season was awarded to Coach Crispin's State Normal nine. The Normals played ten conference games and won nine. The Aggies played five in the Kansas circle and were defeated once. A heated controversy over the Zazel eligibility and 1913 state basketball championship matter was brought before the meeting but no action was taken.

Inactivity Killed Dance Motion.

At the last meeting of the sophas a motion to have a class dance was killed because adjournment came before a motion to lay the matter on the table had been acted upon.

The underclass Websters presented a good program Saturday night. Mr. Wilkinson and R. Harris were visitors.

IN HONOR OF '13 CLASS

Following the farce the banquet will be given on the main court of Nichols gym. As the guests enter the east door, pages will take tickets. Don't forget your tickets. The committee on decorations, under Russel Williamson, has planned a more elaborate system than has ever been seen here.

The program: "Address of Welcome to the Seniors," Alma Halbower, vice president of the juniors; "Response," Reva Lint, president of the seniors; "To the Senior Class," Karl Knaus; "To the Junior Class," Carl Ipsen; "Roast on the Seniors," Raymond Schafer; "Roast on the Juniors," W. ## EDITORIAL

A golden text for orchardists: Let us spray.—The Industrialist.

The call of the wild is beginning to get C. J. Dillon's goat. Word from the far north assures Mr. Dillon that the fish up there are lined up on the bank waiting to grab on to the Dillon line.

Luther McCarty fought many battles. Yet when in his last one he took the whole count the man who administered the blow was arrested. They always wait until someone is killed. McCarty took his chances.

The Students' Council is on the war path against cheating "i. quizzes and examinations." Why limit it to these two opportunities? Why not include cheating in classroom work? Doesn't that count? Or is it on the free list?

A bunch of engineers were surveying out across the way. Six of them had set up several of the "peeping" instruments and had them aimed over toward the east. A woman came out of a house on the far side of the road, saw the engineers looking eastward, hurried in the house and pulled down the curtains on all the windows in the front part of the house.

The Denver Clarion says that the brightest senior class that ever left the university will be graduated this spring. Funny how that same thing is happening all over the country.

ESTABLISHED, IT'S EASY NOW.

The absence of objection to the payment of the fifty cents a term fee for medical attention brings to mind the fact there would be the same absence of objection if a compulsory fee for athletics was made a part of the incidental fee of the college. Speed the day.

A CHANGE AT EMPORIA.

"Bill" Hargiss has resigned his place as athletic director at the College of Emporia. Wayne Granger has been chosen to succeed to the place. Granger will be graduated from the college this spring. While a student, he has mixed in about all the athletics that have been in circulation and has won honor and respect for the college and for himself. In Hargiss' regime at Emporia he had been considered highly as a coach and true sportsman. The college loses a good coach and a man who has made the college teams feared for their prowess and respected for their sportsmanship.

THE CAMPUS OF A SUNDAY.

The campus never loses its attractiveness, not even on the first day of the week. One would think that six days in the week would prime college people to keep away from the campus, yet last Sunday a considerable number of those who were on the campus in the afternoon were college people. Townspeople were there with baby buggies and lunches. The winding roads about the college buildings made a good speedway for motor cars and for "pokey" horses. The campus holds its charm all the time as one of the prettiest landscapes that any college can boast and possessing a full measure of attractiveness.

Professor Ostrum will deliver the commencement address at the Bethany Academy Wednesday evening. He will stay there until Thursday and give a toast at the alumni banquet at Bethany College.

LOCAL NEWS.

Another shipment of wide open end ties just in. All shades and patterns. Entirely the latest. Knostman's.

Professor Fitz and the advanced dairy stock judging team visited different dairy herds near Topeka last Saturday.

As soon as they come on the market you can get them if practical and right. Furnishings for men. Knostman's.

Lost—Waterman's safety fountain pen. Finder please leave at college postoffice or notify Alma Halbower, 1020 Bluemont.

Mrs. Grace (Tucker) Hopper died at Boise, Idaho, May 18. She and her husband, W. A. Hopper, were graduated in 1910.

Mrs. M. S. Collins of Wichita is visiting in Manhattan this week. She was formerly Miss Helen Huse and a member of the D. S. faculty.

The Phi Gamma Thetas gave a picnic at Rocky Ford all day Sunday. About forty were present. They made the trip on two hay racks.

The Manhattan alumni will meet in Lovers' Lane at 4:30 Friday afternoon for a picnic supper. A business meeting will be held also. Miss Alice Melton is secretary of the local association.

Come On, Subs, Shell Out!

Unless delinquent subs pay up class dues, the class may have to dissolve some debts at the same time that the class is put out of business by the new entrance requirement ruling.

Kansas Wins Valley Pennant.

Kansas won the valley rag in baseball from Missouri at Columbia last Friday, 2 to 1. Missouri took the second game, but would have had to take both contests to nose the Jayhawkers out of first place.

Rogers, '85, Is Going to Come.

Frederick J. Rogers, '85, associate professor of physics at Leland Stanford Jr. University, will be here for commencement. His college gives its professors one year in seven for leave of absence, and this is Professor Rogers' sabbatical year. So he includes Manhattan on the list of places to be visited.

GIVE 10 PER CENT REBATE.

Coops Met Monday—Elected Lewis and Bailey Directors.

The Students' Co-operative Association stockholders met in the Coop building Monday night. They decided to give a rebate of 10 per cent this term instead of the usual 5 per cent. The following members of the board were elected: George Bailey, secretary; D. E. Lewis, re-elected third member of the board.

FRANKS TOOK ENGINE RIDE.

They Successfully Eluded Rain Saturday Night.

The Franklins "put one across" on the weather man last Saturday night, when they successfully carried out their annual engine ride. One of the big I. H. C. tractors pulled a couple of hay racks, in one a small gas engine and the necessary equipment to generate the electric lights needed. The itinerary included many places of interest on the way to Rocky Ford, and the trip was made without breakdown. Supper was eaten at the ford. The big tractor puffed into town about midnight after another enjoyable annual ride. Mr. and Mrs. Moorehead chaperoned.

Y. M. AND Y. W. WILL EDIT.

Editor Berry Will Direct Issue of The Aggie.

The Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. will have charge of The Kansas Aggie for one of the earlier issues of next month, probably that of June 4. The association number will contain stories of the work that the associations have accomplished this year and their plans for next year, the summer conferences and many other things of especial interest in connection with the results of organization work. Cuts will be a feature. Miss Lucille Berry will be the editor.

FODDER FOR TENNIS FANS.

An All-College Tournament Friday and Saturday.

An all-college tennis tournament, open to all men and women of the college, will be played Friday and Saturday on the Y. M. C. A. courts in the city park. Entry names should be handed to Secretary McLean or George Siefkin. Matches in singles for men and women, mixed doubles, and doubles for men will be played. The Y. M. courts are in excellent shape. This is the first chance for a real tryout that has come the way of college people and will attract a number of entries.

John "Zippy" Martin, '11, is now manager of the Fairmount Water Company, a branch of the Pacific Building Company of San Diego, Cal., for which "Zippy" has been working.

"Bunt" Speer will attend summer school, taking special work in manual training.

WIN THE FINAL GAME

AGGIES DEFEATED HASKELL FRIDAY, 7 TO 0.

POLLUM EFFECTIVE THROUGHOUT

Good Support and Good Pitching Closed the Season With an Easy Victory.

Pollom proved to be too much for the Haskell Indians last Friday and the Aggies took the closing game of the 1913 season, 7 to 0. The Braves hit the ball frequently and gave the outfielders plenty of opportunities. Pollom's support was air-tight and the Indians ate out of his hand in the pinches. Enns featured in the field with four clever catches. Lester Pollom pitched his last intercollegiate game for the college after three years of effective work.

Aggies Slept on First.

The Indians flew out in order in the first inning. Cleland, first up for the Aggies, walked, but was picked off the initial sack by a clever throw from the Indian pitcher, Apekaum, who then struck out Agnew. Enns singled and took second on an over-throw at first. McCallum flied out to Mziektento. Briney was safe at first on Paison's error at third in the second and scored on Forsberg's single. Knaus scoring Forsberg with a single to center. Forsberg singled in the sixth and was sacrificed around by Knaus and Beaman. Four hits netted the Aggies four runs in the eighth round. The Indians had two men as far as third, but were never able to pass that sack.

Announcement Party.

Miss Gay Perry invited girl friends to bring their fancywork and spend Monday afternoon with her at her home on Humboldt street.

The girls sitting out on the lawn under the trees had no idea that the green pail which hung above their heads had any connection with an important announcement which was to be made a little later.

Soon after Miss Perry had gone into the house the temporary bottom of the pail and the contents, roses, fell out. A Cupid, suspended on the same string which had been used by Miss Perry in the house to loose the bottom, descended and a card suspended on a string connecting the arms of Cupid bore the announcement, "Perry-Seaton, June 26." Refreshments of cherry sherbet and macaroons were served in baskets, each bearing a card with the name of one of the girls and a hand painted sketch suitable to the occasion of June 26.

THIS FOR YOU, ALUMNI!

DON'T MISS THE BUSINESS MEETING COMMENCEMENT WEEK.

NOTES OF OTHER ASSOCIATIONS

Fifty-Three Secretaries Report—Loose Union Among Graduates of That Many Colleges.

They say that in June a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love; but in June an alumnus' thoughts turn to commencement week, or they ought to, anyway. Many of the alumni of this college will come to Manhattan for the week; many have written that they will be here, and others will decide to come when they learn of all the good things of the week. Aside from the senior events the alumni will hold their business meeting.

Dues Here Are Moderate.

Reports that Albert Dickens has received from 53 secretaries of alumni associations show that there is little regularity in the organization of the various associations, and that many associations are not well organized. It seems to be hard to keep track of the alumni, though this college is succeeding far better than many others. These reports will be interesting to many alumni. Dues of the associations vary from 50 cents to $5 a year. Some are voluntary. Membership in the alumni organizations varies from 25 to 95 per cent of the total number who have been graduated from the institutions.

Colleges are beginning to admit former students to their alumni bodies. The largest circulation list of an alumni magazine is that of Northwestern, 13,500. Some associations send the student paper to the alumni. Some send their own magazine. Some do both.

Secretaries Work for Love.

Alumni secretaries must have the persistency of laundymen to collect the association dues, according to the lamentations of these 53 secretaries. Michigan and Wisconsin use sight drafts on members when all entreaties are in vain. Professor Dickens has had his share of dunning to do, but at that the alumni have responded well. The assessment this year has been $1 to cover the expense of getting out the alumni bulletin. In almost all the cases the work of the secretaries is a labor of love, solely and everlasting.

CAMPUS CONCERT DREW.

College Band Played Enjoyable Program Wednesday Night.

Several hundred persons, including 348 middy blouses, were in attendance at the band concert on the campus Wednesday night. Though a lively wind tried to carry away the music and even the music stands, the quality of the musicians' work was not lowered. A good program of moderately heavy and rollicking, light pieces pleased. This is one time when campus lab classes were not confined to college people. Manhattan families moved up there for the evening.

Campers Hike to Wilds.

Camping time is here now. Mr. and Mrs. "Mike" Ahearn are chaperoning a camping party, near the second Rock Island bridge, composed of these people: Misses Mildred Morse, Drusilla Halleck, Sarah Drake, Lucile Berry, Julia Wolcott, Grace Wolcott, Louise Young, and "Spin" Young, Frank Root, Henry Plumb, John Hancock, David Shull and Gaylor dHancock.

Drake Needs Men.

Drake is overrun with women. The president of the college is sending out calls for more men. The girls at the college outnumber the men now and next year the proportion will be even more in favor of the co-eds.

SOPHS VOTE FOR A DANCE.

Freshmen Killed a Motion for a Class Hop.

While the junior and senior classes have been occupied with the Junior-Senior banquet, the two lower classes have been stirring up excitement.

The sophs voted to give a class dance, last Thursday, at the regular weekly meeting. No committee was appointed and not a great deal of interest shown in the matter. A motion to dance failed at the meeting a week previous.

A motion for a freshman class dance failed at the Thursday meeting, when a motion for a recount was killed because of adjournment.

Juniors Win From Seniors, 3 to 2.

The juniors won from the seniors Thursday afternoon on the college field in an interesting 3 to 2 game. Two double plays by the senior team added interest. The batteries were: Seniors, Blake and Stahl; Juniors, Rhodes and Hobbs.

Japanese Endow History Chair.

Wealthy Japanese residents of California have endowed a chair of Japanese history and government at Leland Stanford. This is the fourth of its kind in the country.

Freshmen Had a Picnic.

The freshman class had a picnic at Cedar Bend Friday night. Plenty to eat and plenty of fun made the affair enjoyable. Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Harris chaperoned.

May Give Another Campus Concert.

"We may give another concert next week on the campus," says Burr H. Ozment, band leader. "We probably will unless we go on the hike; then I am sure we cannot give one."

Miss Louise Young is visiting her brother, "Spin," for a few days.

Miss Alma Levengood, '12, was in town this week.

TWO AGGIES WILL RUN TODAY

HUTTO AND GATES IN MISSOURI VALLEY MEET TODAY.

Bryan and His Pair of Stars Should Take Points in Dashes and Distances.

The Aggies will be represented in the Missouri Valley track and field meet today at St. Louis by Captain Hutto and Sprinter Gates. Coach Bryan took the two track men to St. Louis Thursday. The preliminaries in the sprints were held on the Washington University field yesterday afternoon. To qualify for this afternoon's finals Gates would be compelled to place yesterday. This he should do as the valley sprinters are not of the best quality this season and a good runner should clean up at least ten points today.

Hutto is running in the best form of the season and should bring back some points. He has defeated the best distance men in this part of the country this season. Although handicapped with a sprained ankle early in the outdoor season, he has recovered from this injury and is running in good style. At the state meet last Saturday Hutto was not compelled to run to win the two events in which he stars, but was completely fooled in the stride in the half, loafing until too late to win. Hutto's head work has cost him several points this season, but today he runs under the coach's eye.

Frost-Johnson.

Roy M. Johnson, '10, of Mankato, and Miss Goldie Frost, of Esbon, were married at the home of the Rev. C. O. Kimball Wednesday evening at 7:30. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were guests of the Aztex Thursday and left that evening for Mankato, where Mr. Johnson has a dairy farm.

HONOR 12 TRACK MEN

THAT MANY GET KS—ELECT WARD GATES 1914 CAPTAIN.

HUTTO WAS HIGH MAN IN POINTS

Aggie Captain, Stone, Young and Hancock Will Be Missing From the 1914 Squad.

Track Ks were awarded last Tuesday to Captain Hutto, Gates, Stone, Marble, Jones, T. Collins, L. Collins, Root, Young, Hancock, Welch and Smith, they being the favored athletes. A picture of the team was taken at Wolf's studio, following which Ward Gates was chosen captain of the 1914 squad. Gates has been second only to Captain Hutto as a point winner this season. Smith, competing in two intercollegiate meets, placed third among the point winners, with Marble, Young, Stone and Hancock placing in the order named.

Bryan Did Good Work.

The 1913 track season was given a grand finish at the K. I. A. meet at Topeka last Saturday, this being the only meet that the Aggies won during the season. The indoor meet against K. U. was disastrous owing to the short period of coaching that the men had received and because of the lack of material that had turned out for work. The indoor meet at Kansas City brought out the best that was in the men who entered there and the Aggies made a very creditable showing. Kansas outdoors merely measured the supremacy of the Jayhawkers over the Aggies, with no one to blame for the loss. Missouri was a repetition of the Kansas fray. The annual state meet found the Bryan contingent in the best shape of the season and the result wiped out of the losses of the year. Beginning with so green a bunch of material and turning out a winning track team has been a hard task for Captain Bryan, yet he turned the trick and the credit should go where it is merited.

First-Year Stuff Is Good.

Track prospects for '14 look particularly bright owing to the quantity of good material in the freshman ranks. Helt, Frizzell and Teeters appear to be the cream of the first year stuff and the outlook is for a cracking good team in 1914. Captain Hutto, Stone, Young and Hancock have served their time on the Aggie team and will be lost to further competition after this season. The K men on the team this season have gained good experience and should be able to aid greatly in building up a winning team next season.

TENNIS MEN PLAY TWO SCHOOLS

Aggies Meet Washburn Monday, St. Marys Tuesday.

The last tennis trip of the season will be next Monday and Tuesday, when the Aggie team will go to Washburn for matches the first day and stop at St. Marys on the way back for a tourney with the Catholics. Earlier in the season the Aggies won from Washburn in tennis, at Manhattan. St. Marys' strength is unknown. Only two men will take the trip and they probably will be Rexroad and Wolcott. Young will be unable to go. Two matches in singles and one in doubles will be played at both places.

College a Manhattan Asset.

This college recently "landed" on the front page of the Christian Science Monitor in a story that says that the city of Manhattan rates this college as one of its strongest assets.

An Ahearn Thesis on Carnation Rust.

M. F. Ahearn, meaning "Mike," is preparing a thesis on "Carnation Rust" for presentation toward a degree of M. S. He is a candidate for that degree this term.

LAST PRACTICE WEDNESDAY.

Baseball Men Closed Their Season With Gentle Contest.

The last baseball practice of the year for the Aggie tossers was held Wednesday afternoon out in that gentle sunshine. Coach Lowman wished to have a chance to look over the freshman stuff at the close of this year and get some idea of what would be available for next year. Some of the freshman material is promising, but even at that a considerable number of the squad this year will be back for work again next spring when the talks turn to .300 hitters and poor umpires.

More Complete Supervision.

The boys and girls of Kansas are to have more complete supervision and encouragement in their agricultural, sewing and cooking clubs and prize contests. This is to be brought about by a franking privilege obtained by the United States department of agriculture for the use of C. D. Steiner, who has charge of this work at the Kansas Agricultural college. He will now be able to send, by mail, all the necessary information and encouragement needed by each local organization. This will also mean a saving of several hundred dollars for Mr. Steiner's use for traveling expenses, which will mean more personal touch with his work in encouraging the young people of Kansas in agricultural and economic pursuits.

A Sorority for Fat Girls.

A new sorority has been organized at Syracuse called "Eta Beta Nuthun." Its members are fifteen co-eds who discovered that they were getting fat. Its purposes is to discuss reducing, help reduce and to reduce.

Rookie Hike Date Uncertain.

The date for the rookie hike has not been set. It may be about June 6, 7 and 8.

MANY '12 GRADS TO RETURN

PRESIDENT MAGILL PLANS FOR COMMENCEMENT WEEK.

A Campus Breakfast a Feature—May Establish Class Custom—The Year's History.

The class of 1912 is planning for a big reunion here commencement week. E. C. Magill, the president of the class, says:

"We now have 21 members of the class in Manhattan and with the help of all we expect to get many others here for the reunion. We are making plans for entertainment. Wednesday and Thursday will be the big days. The class will have a breakfast on the campus, probably Wednesday morning, and a business meeting to follow. Then we want to start some sort of custom, a tree-planting or something else that the class will do every year when it comes back. A small assessment probably will be made to cover the expenses. We have kept a pretty good history of the class of last spring, including marriages and other jokes. The final gathering will be at the alumni banquet Thursday noon."

Letters will be sent out to all of the '12s. Members of the class are requested to write to E. C. Magill, care of the horticultural department, the college.

Good Pitching Featured a Game.

The sophs won from the subs in baseball, 4 to 3. Yim, soph twirler, allowed only one hit while Brickhouser of the subs allowed only three. The batteries were: Sophs, Yim and Wilson; Subs, Brickhouser and Cleland.

C. C. Woods winning the singles and Woods and Gene Swarts the doubles.

ABOUT THE NEW SCHOOL

SECONDARY AGRICULTURAL INSTITUTION OPENS NEXT FALL.

WORK GIVES 4 1-2 UNITS A YEAR

That Would Admit Graduates to College With 1 1/2 Unit Deficiency—The Courses Offered.

Four and one-half units a year will be given for work in the School of Agriculture that will be started here next fall. This means that students who are graduated from the School of Agriculture may enter the college proper with a deficiency of one and one-half units, the requirement for entrance next fall being fifteen units. Graduates of the new school who enter the college must make up the deficiency in the first year or two in the college.

The School of Agriculture, so named recently by the board of administration, is not intended to be a preparatory school for the college, but will be a separate school. The entrance requirements will not be rigid. Persons who are at least 14 years of age and who have completed the first eight grades of the public schools will be admitted without examinations. Persons who are 14 years old but who have not completed the work of the eighth grade in the public schools may be admitted upon passing examinations.

Fees Will Be Same as College.

The fees for the new school will be the same as for the college, $3.50 a term. All the courses taught will be under the supervision of heads of departments in the college.

The purpose of the school is to train young people in the arts and sciences that are close to the work of the farms, the homes and the shops of Kansas. The agricultural courses that will be offered are: Agronomy, animal husbandry, dairying, poultry, horticulture.

The mechanic arts courses to be offered are carpentry, blacksmithing, cement work, steam engines, gas engines, traction engines.

Includes Courses for Girls.

The courses in home economics to be offered are: Cooking, sewing and allied subjects.

New subjects to be offered are those of vocational guidance and trade practice. In these subjects students will learn of the requirements needed for success in various vocations, the economic possibilities they offer. This includes practical work in the shops also.

Send Here for Speakers.

Summer picnic committees send in hundreds of requests every year for speakers from the Kansas Agricultural college. The extension division which has charge of such work for the college has agreed to furnish speakers, but has found it necessary to make the requirement that hereafter all distracting noises and counter attractions at the picnic be stopped during the speaker's talk. The college furnishes these men without charge except for traveling expenses. If a talk on any particular subject is desired for such an occasion, the extension department should be notified at once.

Will Give Demonstration.

Probably the most valuable part of the program of the meeting of the State Poultry Federation at the Kansas Agricultural college, June 25 and 26, will be a caponizing demonstration. George Deoy of Cedarvale, Kan., is to give this practical exhibition. He is said to be one of the greatest experts in the United States and therefore his part of the program will be of very great value to all poultry men who desire instruction and enlightenment in caponizing.

Miss Reva Lint will teach in the high school at Concordia next fall.

EDITORIAL

This summer students of Columbia University will tour Europe under the personal supervision of President Butler. Meanwhile some Kansas college men will be working in the harvest fields.

College politics is a good thing, in its place. But the city authorities of Columbia, Mo., are afraid that Tiger students have violated precedents and voted illegally in city elections. A professor was elected councilman from a Columbia ward and now the election is contested because it is feared that some student votes should not have been cast.

Washburn may try out a new idea. Dancing clubs would be abolished, and in their place a dance given on the campus every two weeks, to which all college people could go. The Washburn Review withholds criticism or approval until time presents the answer to the question of whether or not it will be beneficial.

SENIOR LIGHTS.

The senior class has done wisely in giving to the college a memorial of its efforts here in pursuit of light. The gymnasium is in need of some sort of a lighting system and the lights to be placed there by the seniors will be remembered all the year through by members of literary societies and especially by everyone in college when the basketball season is on.

DON'T BE A HERMIT.

Do you think that you can make a date? If you are so confident, just try it a few times. Many of the fellows fail to realize the value of some experience in a social way. You are here primarily to study, but you must realize that some familiarity with society is necessary. Just because you are taking the course in agriculture or engineering and fail to meet some of the girls in your classes is no reason for being a hermit. The time will come when you will wish that you could not only make a date, but after getting your date, be entertaining and not feel out of place. Many of the men when they are being urged to go to a class party say that they don't know any of the girls. It's a pretty poor excuse. It is not necessary to get a divorce from your books to go with a girl in moderation. There's no need of campus lab and library lab for every day in the week and all day on Sunday. Go out among 'em once in a while.

Y. M. AND Y. W. CAPITAL.

The capital stocks of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. are identical—purposeful sincerity and working memberships. Neither association can declare actual or exact dividends. Yet these organizations are rated, and properly rated, as two of the best assets that this college possesses.

This year has been a year of growth for the associations. Much of this success has resulted from the efficient and consistent work of the student members and faculty advisers and the help of the citizens of Manhattan; and particularly has it been due to the earnest and far-sighted work of the secretaries, Miss Lily K. Haass and W. W. McLean. Under their leadership the work of both associations has expanded in scope and effectiveness. Some of the things that these organizations have done this year and some of the things that are planned for the coming college year will be told in the next issue of The Kansas Aggie by those who are best qualified—by the two associations themselves, through student writers.

Signs have been put up in Lovers' Lane to the effect that the speed limit is 12 miles an hour. Does that mean that the walkers here are too speedy or should keep up to that 12 miles an hour limit?

Even As You and I

(This happened in a rooming house in Manhattan. The story is not fiction, but an accurate account of the troubles of a prominent Manhattan citizen.)

"Martha," said Mr. Brown to his wife, who had just gone to bed, "I can't find my union suit."

"It's there in your bureau drawer," replied Mrs. Brown from the covers. "I put it there this morning."

"But it isn't my union suit," protested father from the next room. "It's too small for me. I wish you would come and find mine for me."

"I'm not going to get up again," stoutly maintained Mrs. Brown. "I know your union suit is there in the bureau drawer."

She heard him rummaging around in his room and saying all sorts of uncomplimentary things. She also heard him slam the door as she dozed off to sleep.

Mr. Brown was half way down the stairs in his dressing gown before he remembered that his daughter had company. He called her to the foot of the stairs and in a voice supposed to be inaudible to her company said: "May, have you seen my union suit? I must have one of yours." He lifted the hem of his bath robe to show her how the garment left off just below the knee. "See, they're too small and too short."

"Why, father, of course they're not mine," replied May, flushing with embarrassment. "Please go back up stairs."

"But, May," persisted Mr. Brown. "I can't find my own suit. Won't you please look in your room and see if mine could have been taken in there by mistake?"

"Father!" pleaded his daughter, on the verge of tears. "Please go back. Don't you know that they—" indicating the company—"are listening and hearing every word you say?"

Father went back up stairs unsatisfied. He then went to the room of one of the students who roomed in the house and asked if by chance he happened to have received the wrong union suit in his laundry. Much to Mr. Brown's seeming disappointment the student persisted that he did not wear union suits. So father again sought his room and attempted once more to persuade Mrs. Brown to get up and find the missing garment. But Mrs. Brown was sleepy and refused. Several times during the night she heard him rolling and tumbling restlessly, whereas he usually slept very quietly.

Next morning she was awakened by her husband's voice. "Martha, won't you please get up and find my union suit for me?"

"My goodness, haven't you found that suit yet?" exclaimed his wife, slipping out of bed. She drew back the covers from over Mr. Brown.

"Let's see what you have on," she said, peering at his raiment. Father had his union suit on upside down.

Moral: Pajamas are best.

"Billy Bob" Always Smiled.

The largest Kansas university town is in mourning today because "Billy Bob" is dead, says the Wichita Beacon. Who is he? Billy Bob was a dear, laughing little boy who had more friends than he knew or could count.

A week ago Billy Bob fell into the Kansas river at Lawrence and to his death.

Billy Bob didn't know the cross ways this world has. He had never met sorrow. The best impulses and desires had never been sacrificed so he could see them and wonder. Reality's merciless stamp of fighting for a living had never robbed his face of a smile or warped the warm little heart.

A sunny disposition mellowed through him attracting everyone. He absorbed the perfume of rose and the sparkle of dew and with his enthusiasm for living distilled them into a hopeful, tender happiness. Billy Bob didn't look for roses expecting the thorns. His desire to find the happy led him to the blossoms.

All of us one time were like Billy Bob. We laughed and romped as he. Has the old world taken away our sunny disposition? Has it the right to keep it away from us? Or is our capacity to cheer just covered up?

If it is, let's uncover it. Let's be more like Billy Bob. We'll find our sunny natures are still here if we try making our associates like us for smiles and our cheery words. These count more than importance in worldly affairs.

Y. M. HAS TWO IDEALS

TO HELP MEN—TO HELP THEM
HELP OTHERS.

A REVIEW OF THE YEAR'S WORK

Association Employment Bureau Important—All Bills Met Promptly, and Some Old Ones.

The Y. M. C. A. has aimed this past year to be of some service to every man in college and to enlist him in some form of service for others. That this ideal was not attained goes without saying. Probably the association came nearer to realizing the first part of its aim than the second part. In this brief review of the year's work the effort will be made to show how the Y. M. C. A. was of service to men this past year.

A Haven For New Students.

There are certain association principles and practices that have proved themselves so effective that they are used from year to year without very many modifications. The work for new students falls under this head. Very few students enter without in some way being brought in contact with the association. Many new students write during the summer asking for work or for some information. The majority of them come to the Y. M. C. A. to secure aid in finding a room. Nearly every new student carries one of the neat handbooks issued by the association and containing much information of value. During the first lonesome days before acquaintances are made the doors of the association are always open to the new student. It is his home for the time being.

Those lines of work were all carried on last year with the customary receptions to men and later to men and women. By these means the association served the majority of students even though in a small way. The building has been used by men as a social center and common meeting ground.

Finding Help For Students.

The opportunities that the association had last year for securing permanent positions were limited. Twenty-five of these positions were filled. Many men, while not wishing to work steadily, still need occasional work. In one term 228 "odd jobs" were supplied. The association is the clearing house for the employer and the student.

Last year the association co-operated with the churches in the enrollment of Sunday school classes and supplemented their work by special courses. The lack of qualified leaders prevented a very large development of this form of activity, 60 men being enrolled. In addition to these courses a course in the study of South American Problems and one in the Challenge of the Country were offered with an enrollment of about fourteen each.

The association has tried to be of help to men through its Thursday evening meetings. It has given to earnest and thoughtful students an opportunity to discuss vital moral and religious problems. It brought to Manhattan a number of prominent speakers who are specialists in work for students. While the average attendance at the regular meetings has only been fair—about 85—yet the aggregate number has been large and the special meetings have been well attended.

How The Support Comes.

The current expenses of the association have all been met promptly and in addition about $400 in old bills paid. There is enough money due now to carry the association safely through the fiscal year which ends September 1. The largest single item of expense is the care and upkeep of the building while the largest source of income—$2,000—is from room rents. Outside of the students the other sources of income are Faculty, $475; alumni, $292; business men, $310. The students paid in for the support of the local work $881 and their support probably will reach the $1,000 mark. Five hundred and forty men filled out membership blanks.

Volunteer Help A Big Factor. Nobody realizes more than the leaders that the association did not fully occupy the field. It may be that the fault lies with the program of the association which does not appeal to some students. Yet this program can be enlarged or modified by the members. The work is largely carried on by volunteer help and the success or failure of the work must lie with the students.

A Breakfast to Senior Friends.

Miss Margaret Blanchard gave a breakfast Monday morning at her home on Fairchild avenue for some of the senior girls. Those present were Florence Carvin, Mildred Barr, Madge Rowley, Vesta Smith, Reva Lint, Ramona Norton, Marguerite Dodd, Ola Young, Georgia Baldwin, Lynne Hilsabeck, Ruth Allen, Charlotte Spier, Lucille Berry, Jennie Flinn, Lyda Stoddard, Elsie Adams and Helen Rannels.

Sigma Nus Cop the Rag.

The Sigma Nus won from the Sig Alphas Saturday, 16 to 2. The batteries—Sigma Nus, Hurtt and Hobbs; Sig Alphas, Hunter and Bergier, Jones. The Sigma Nus have the rag cinched now with five won and none lost.

Death of Earl McNeil.

Earl McNeil of Centralia, a former student, died Friday, May 30. Mr. McNeil was a senior in 1911 and had to leave college on account of health. He had many friends and was well liked by everyone who knew him.

WHEN SENIORS CAME BACK

JUNIORS AT ANNUAL BANQUET, IMPERSONATED '13 CLASS.

More Than 400 Persons Attended Yearly Affair Friday Night—Roasts and Toasts.

More than 400 juniors and seniors enjoyed the annual junior-senior banquet last Friday night. The banquet was preceded by a reception in the society halls in the east wing of the gym. The farce was a hit. The take offs were exceptionally good. The plot hinged on the fact that the senior class came back for another period of four years during which time each person was to do the things that he failed to do before. The dance question was introduced with E. W. Martin as the manager of the Monday night dances.

The banquet was a big success. The tables were beautiful, and the banquet was bountiful and well served. The decorations represented a Grecian temple with hangings of Royal Purple and white marble columns. T. J. Harris as toastmaster presided over the "feast of reason and flow of soul." Dr. Brink gave a short talk on Memorial Day. The toasts and roasts were good. W. E. Grimes, in his roast on the juniors, took a fling at the dress suits that were worn by a few of the juniors. The crook was present by Graper to Sweet the junior custodian. President Waters gave a talk praising the decorations and requesting that they remain for the alumni banquet at Commencement.

Helen Evans, Eva Townsend and Veryl Cravens were the debaters chosen from the Eurodelphian society Saturday.

Miss Ruth Bright of Albuquerque, N. M., will visit college friends until after Commencement.

Mrs. A. D. Fink has been visiting her son, Raymond.

TO ESTES PARK FOR $45

YOU CAN ATTEND THE Y. W. CONFERENCE FOR THAT.

LIVE OUT OF DOORS FOR AWHILE

Substitute for "Kansas the Torrid" in August Moderate Days and Cool Nights.

Can I afford to go to Estes Park next August? This question comes up like the giant in Pilgrim's Progress. It costs $45 to go to the Estes Park Y. W. conference. This includes car fare, transportation after you get there, board, registration fee—in fact, the bare necessities. The Outdoor Life Appeals.

When one thinks of the value derived, it seems a cheap vacation. While in Estes Park, one lives out of doors, sleeping at night in comfortable tents with board floors. The climate is ideal, the nights are cool. In Kansas everything is scorching hot in August, while in Colorado a person enjoys the cool nights and moderate days.

As to clothes, take two suit cases and fill with care. Wool dresses are very comfortable and our clothes are by far the best for hikes. Estes Park is in no sense a fashionable summer resort. It is well to have a thin dress that will answer for a reception or for Stunt Day.

Here's an Itemized Account.

If you wish to climb mountains or go on hikes, be sure to have good heavy shoes. A heavy wool sweater is a very desirable wrap. Don't forget your kodak, if you have one, for a great deal of pleasure is stored up for future use in one. Here is just what the expense is:

Car fare, sleeper .....	$22.00
Registration fee .....	5.00
Board .....	12.50
Auto trip .....	6.00
A good vacation .....	$45.50

"DAD ELLIOTT HITS HARD.

He Oversees Student Work West of Chicago.

A. J. Elliott, "Dad," as he is affectionately known, is responsible for the oversight of the student work in our colleges and universities situated west of Chicago. Mr. Elliott is not a Kansan, but he would have made a good one had he been so fortunate as to have been born here. He would fit in well with the long line of Kansas reformers. For "Dad" is a fighter and strikes hard at the wrongs of student life. Born in Illinois, he later betook himself to that good M. E. university, Northwestern. While we have no historical data on the point, yet it would be a pretty safe risk to wager that the sophs did not put anything over Dad. He soon found himself and became a leader along all lines of student activity. He was better known—to the outside world, at least—for his football prowess. But to those who knew him at the university he was recognized as an enthusiastic and earnest Christian leader, active in the fight against student evils.

After graduation Mr. Elliott became religious work director in the Brooklyn City Association. While his work there was eminently successful, yet students feel that he found his proper sphere when he took up his present position. Dad is "trouble" man for a wide territory. That is, if there is some particular disagreeable piece of work to be done which is too delicate for the local or state secretaries to handle he is called. He is much sought after to lead campaigns for the moral and spiritual uplift of the big men. It's a big job for a big man.

Richard Harris, '12, left Monday for Chanute where he has a position on a surveying crew of the Santa Fe.

G. P. Campbell, '12, was in town Sunday. "Cam" is now located on a surveying crew with the Rock Island in Nebraska.

Webbs Endorse Debate Scholarship.

The Websters endorsed the debating scholarship, which has been offered here, at their meeting Saturday night. In the preliminary debates Archie Marble won first place; Loomis, second; Anderson, fourth.

Meyers-Wermelskirchen.

Velma Meyers and Louis Wermelskirchen, both of the class of 1912 were married at the home of the bride's parents, last Thursday evening.

G. P. Campbell, '12, passed the examination for U. S. surveyor held last February. He got fourth place and has been offered a place with the government in Colorado.

This Notice for K Men.

K men of all sports will meet Thursday at 10 o'clock in the Old Chapel. Important.

Miss Ruth Allen gave a "kitchen shower" for Miss Gay Perry, whose marriage to Mr. Ray A. Seaton will take place June 26.

HUTTO SCORES 7 AT ST. LOUIS

AGGIE CAPTAIN WON THE MILE IN 4:30 2-5.

He Placed Third In Two Mile—Gates Lost To Man He Defeated Earlier.

Captain-Elect Gates was entered in the sprints but lost to men whom he had defeated earlier in the season. Kirksey, of Missouri, who fell before the '14 captain in the Aggie-Missouri dual tangle at Columbia May 10, took second place in the finals of the century dash, Applegate, of Purdue, winning the race in 10 1-5 seconds. In the 220, as in the 100, Gates drew a poor lane and was nosed out in preliminaries that went in slower time than he is capable of making on a good track. Coaches Lowman and Bryan accompanied the team and were well satisfied with the work of the two Aggie entries and with the meet.

Captain Hutto ran well in the annual Missouri Valley meet held at St. Louis last Saturday and won first place in the mile event and third in the two-mile. Hutto's victory in the mile run was easily earned although the time, 4:30 2-5 seconds, is the fastest that he has ever made. In the two-mile event, Wickham, of Missouri, and Ward, of Ames, took an early lead and finished ahead of Hutto in 9:50 2-5 seconds.

THE CONFERENCE DATES.

The Young Men's Christian Association will have its conference at Estes Park from June 10 to 19.

The conference for young women comes later, from August 22 to September 1. Strong speakers and good leaders are features of both.

BAND CONCERT TONIGHT.

The college band will give a concert on the campus tonight at 8 o'clock.

TO MEET FALL TRAINS

WHEN COLLEGE OPENS, NEW GIRLS WILL BE AIDED.

OFFICERS FOR 1913-14 CHOSEN

Start of September Term Will Find Association Ready for Year of Progress.

The Young Women's Christian Association is well organized for the work it is doing. Plans have been made for next fall, so that the force will be ready to begin work as soon as students arrive in September.

Miss Stella Manley is the new president. Her work on the various committees of which she has had charge has been excellent, showing rare executive ability.

The new vice-president is Ruth Gilbert. She was a member of the cabinet last year and is well trained for her new work. Lora Miller is the secretary of the association. Valeda Downing is treasurer.

The committee chairmen are: Lina Tulloss, Eva Allemann, Alma Halborner, Bess Walsh, Edith Glasscock, J. H. Wolcott, Laura Wingfield, Winifred Neubaum and Ruth Brown. Miss Haas has shown herself an efficient leader of the cabinet.

The advisory board is made up of women who are friends of the association. They confer with the cabinet on matters of importance. Mrs. R. R. Price is the president of the organization. The other members are: Mrs. Pfuetze, Dean Van Zile, Mrs. H. J. Waters, Mrs. J. O. Hamilton, Mrs. C. M. Brink, Miss Lillian Weeks, Mrs. J. T. Willard, Mrs. Lantz, Mrs. John Coons, Miss Estella Bott, Miss Carlotta Ford and Mrs. E. L. Holt. Two cabinet members, Miss Stella Manley and Miss Valeda Downing, act with them.

A Dozen Will Go From Here.

The men who plan to go to Estes Park are: C. O. Levine, Jesse Frey, R. H. Van Scoik, A. H. Gilles, Lawrence O'Brien, Elmer Bird, Roy Gwin, Harry Bird, Thomas Spring, W. E. Palmer, Roy Hagans, Secretary McLean. It is possible that one or two others may go. The conference means four things to the men who go—recreation, fellowship, education and inspiration.

No delegate can get the most from the conference unless he enters heartily in the program of sports. The work of the morning and evening is strenuous and taxing on one's nervous energy. In order to keep intellectually keen, physical relaxation must have its place. Baseball, tennis, track meets, fishing and long trips for sight seeing will be features. Yet recreation is not the main object of the conference and should only be incidental to its real purposes.

The third strong point of this conference is its educational and training value. There is a direct training in association methods which is of extreme importance to the association leader, eager to become efficient in the work. The problems of the work are discussed frankly, failures admitted and the experience of other schools brought out to be used in the local association with the modifications that may be necessary to meet different needs.

While the recognized leader, John R. Mott, will not be there, we shall have the man who is his close rival among the students in the far east, George Sherwood Eddy, a Kansas man, who from close contact with students here and in Oriental countries will present some of the results of his observations. Another real leader, E. T. Colton, formerly on the traveling work for western students and now with the foreign department of the Int. Com., will deliver several addresses. Then we shall have beloved "Dad" Elliott and many another leader of students.

EDITORIAL

DEVELOPE ENJOYMENT POWERS.

A well balanced man is one who has developed his powers of enjoyment; a man who can take delight in a scientific treatise, a book, a poem, a lecture, a picture, a walk or a fishing trip.

At the end of the four years a student spends here studying science, his scientific nature will be developed. But how about the rest?

What better broadening influence can come to him than a trip to the mountains, seeing new things and thinking new thoughts for a few weeks? Cosines, tangents, atoms and molecules are useful articles, but when a man becomes a slave to them, he's to be pitied. Happy is the one who can make them dance at his will, while he enjoys life to its fullest extent.

WHY NOT BE DOERS?

When it comes to the Estes Park proposition, there are three kinds of people: The kind who are going; the kind who can't go; and the kind who would like to go. There are not many who just cannot go, but there are some summer school individuals and some aluminum ware persons who might be pardoned. The kind who would like to go are in the majority. Isn't it time we ceased just liking to do thing, and begin to do them?

This funny old world is made up of a few people who are doing things and a great many who would "just love to, but——." A little cool calm nerve and enthusiasm would make doers of lots of these.

Manhattan will have a good delegation to Estes Park and they'll come back sunburned and happy. Why can't lots more of the people who would "just love to" pack their suit cases and go. Let's show the conference that most of the students at K. S. A. C. are the sort who do things.

PRODUCED HERE, WORKS HERE.

H. L. Heinzman, State Student Secretary, Has Made Good.

H. L. Heinzman, state student secretary is a Kansas product—the kind of which Kansas has a right to boast. A graduate of K. S. A. C.'s bitterest rival in athletics and yet withal a dear friend in other respects. Mr. Heinzman while at K. U. helped the football team win many a victory. Not only did he make a name for himself in athletics but he also showed his leadership in the battle for the moral and spiritual uplift of his fellow students. For that reason he was selected to take charge of the boys' work of the Topeka city association. Later, Mr. Heinzman served the student association at the University of Iowa and was then called back to take up the traveling work among the students of Kansas.

In this work he has showed his ability to a marked extent. He is in demand throughout the state and in several neighboring states, at the big universities. Mr. Heinzman has been found this past year giving valuable aid. He is one of five men who now give their time to the supervision of the work in Kansas. The state secretary, John E. Manley, a brother of the president of the Y. W. C. A., is a former student of K. S. A. C. His duties and those of an assistant, Chas. A. Musselman, lie chiefly with the work among the city and railroad associations. Fred D. Pierce, another state worker, is in charge of the county work, while Mr. Lawrence C. Hall supervises the high school associations. These five men are doing a great work throughout the state and K. S. A. C. is glad to help them a little. K. S. A. C.'s part of the financial support is $100, and it's money well spent.

Even As You and I

The Playful One, be it understood, did not believe in stealing, cheating, envying or lying, but for once—just once, mind you—she had moved that all rules be suspended. The girl who had come to spend the night was a feminine grafter and the P. O. knew it.

"What a good looking kimona—a cap to match too! So glad I didn't bring mine. How do I look?" asked the Feminine Grafter as she touched her frizzly hair under the edges of ribbon and lace.

"Just dandy," returned the Playful One, in the earnest tone girls muster for such an occasion.

"Do you know, we have two new girls in the house, girls fresh from home with two suit cases absolutely full of eats," lied the Playful One rather timidly. She had caught just one glimpse of the new roomers and that glance had been for once, always and ever, sufficient. The tall stenographic dames had sent dignified thrills down her back as they had demanded to know the way to the bath room.

The Playful One chuckled demurely at the next question from the F. G. "Did they look lonesome and—a little generous too?"

"Indeed they did. They're just the kind of girls who'd empty their hearts, pocket books or suit cases to one who'd show interest in them—not so young, you know, but just starved for friendship," glibly prevaricated the P. O.

"Here's where I visit them," said the Grafter.

"I well remember how lonesome I used to be when I was a freshman, and the food I carried into Manhattan with me, too," continued the F. G. rummaging in the collar and tie drawer the Playful One had just straightened.

"My dear, where do you keep your Y. W. badges and jewelry?" the visitor demanded.

"Right there in the tray on the dressing table—yes he really is a good looking man—he had them taken last summer—my brother you know," responded the hostess.

"How do they show off? Would you notice them at once? I just can't get this safety catch fastened—here! With one eye fixed surely on the box under the bed I shall steadily approach them, tell them my name, welcome them into our great institution of learning. Then I'll ask about the folks back in Siwash county—always softens them so to be re-moulded of the home folks, you know. Auf wiedersehen" So saying the Feminine Grafter crossed the hall, tapped on the door. In response to a chilly "Come," she stepped in boldly.

After a moment of gleeful suspense, the Playful One slips into the hall. Through the open transom she heard the conversation distinctly.

"We girls always make it a point to visit the new girls. We are so eager to have them get acquainted. It makes such a difference whether you get in with the right set, don't you know?"—came the Grafter's voice. "We are always glad to have you attend our meetings, don't you know. It really doesn't take much time and it's worth it, don't you?"

"I think you have made a mistake," interrupted an icy voice—"Now don't you begin saying things like that," laughed the F. G. "It doesn't make the least difference what church you belong to. That's the nice thing about it all, so democratic, you know. Everyone is on a level with everyone else, all creeds and doctrines forgotten."

"But Miss—"

"Have your trunks come? I see they haven't. So hard to get them delivered. Always is. I see you're from Bloomwell. I used to know some girls from there. Smith was the name—such nice girls. We used to have the grandest spreads. One gets so tired of boarding about this time of year, don't you know?"

"Really I think—"

"You see their mother was a perfectly grand cook and she used to send things. Home cooking does taste so good when you're away from home," went on the Grafter.

"Why dear girl," an authoritative voice broke in, "you see we aren't students, especially those interested those interested in the work you represent. We are distributing agents for the Kansas Temperance Order. When does your organization meet?"

"Why, after supper — on — on Tuesday afternoon," floated the weak, bewildered answer from the F. G.

"A girl of your type can do so much for the young manhood of the state. In this box we have little printed pledges for the girls to sign. In the right hand corner at the bottom is the place. This card reads 'I do hereby promise'—well you see the rest. If every girl in your school would sign that, there would not be a cigar store in your town. Think what it would mean! Bright young faces, strong sturdy men, happy mothers, a regenerated race."

No words were forth coming from the Grafter.

"We will need some one to introduce us to the girls and help us a little. I'm sure a girl who is so keenly alive to the needs of college society as you would be willing to be of assistance in so worthy a cause."

"I believe I hear the telephone—will you just excuse—"

The Playful One scudded to the bath room.

Y. W. C. A. WORK IN 1912

A REVIEW OF THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF THE YEAR.

MEMBERSHIP LIST MOUNTS TO 500

The Association Goes Forward Under Direction of Miss Haas, Who Declines Credit.

On the standstill? Hardly. The Y. W. C. A. has 500 members this year—more than it ever has had before. It ranks among the largest college associations. Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile made the initiation address which welcomed 150 new girls as members last fall.

The past year has meant not only large membership but also large accomplishments. In October, the convention of all the student associations in the state met here. Twenty different schools were represented by 150 enthusiastic girls. The inspiration of their visit had not worn off when November brought the World's Week of Prayer. For 30 minutes every noon one of the college instructors talked with the girls about what the association was accomplishing in some foreign land. Every girl felt just a little closer to her far-off sisters as she prayed for their betterment.

County Fair Was a Success.

The girls hadn't forgotten the association during the summer, for when they packed their trunks in the fall several pretty hand-made bazaar trinkets were tucked in. The County Fair in December gave each a chance to display her dainty fancywork in the bazaar booth. The busy seniors eagerly bought all there were for Christmas gifts. That was not all there was at the fair. There was plenty of candy, marvelous side shows put on by various college societies, clowns and a dancing bear—in fact, the big crowd laughed itself $200 worth.

They Met for a Purpose.

The association began the new year with a series of special meetings in January, led by Miss Oolooah Burner, one of the national secretaries. This wasn't so much a membership campaign as an effort to strengthen the religious life of all the college girls. Throughout the winter term the women instructors led a special series of meetings on college girls' problems. These meetings brought the students into close touch with their teachers in a very effective way. One of the most enjoyable was an experience meeting in which several of the home economics teachers spoke on "The Biggest Thing in College."

It was in the winter term, too, that the girls were busy in mission and Bible study classes. Ten Bible study classes on different lines and nine mission classes gave them an opportunity to choose just the work they wished. Something new this year was a helpful series of lectures by faculty members from the viewpoint of a young girl.

Foreign Pageant Opens Spring Term.

Spring term started well with the Foreign Pageant, in April. This was acted out by some of the girls, in costumes of the women of foreign land, who told of the work in the various nations. Five of the new cabinet members went to the council meeting in Topeka this term. They are: Stella Manley, Ruth Gilbert, Bess Walsh, Nina Tulloss and Julia Wolcott. The Estes Park banquet, the May Festival and the sales of ice cream and sandwiches are so fresh in the minds of the students that they could almost pass a quiz on the dates.

Much Credit to Miss Haas.

Miss Haas won't take any of the credit for the successful year. To talk to her you would think associations just naturally "grewed" that way. Perhaps they do grow well in the scientific atmosphere of an agricultural college, but Miss Haas has certainly known just when to speak the encouraging word or make the helpful suggestion. She has the ball rolling now. There are plenty to push. So watch Y. W. C. A. next year.

WHEN THE ALUMNI RETURN.

Commencement Week Will Be a Very Busy One.

Commencement week offers an unusually interesting series of events. Just a short time off, too. One week from Sunday the first event of the closing week of the college year will be the sermon to the class of 1913 by W. O. Shephard, bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church of Kansas City, Kan. Through the week the alumni and seniors will find much pleasure in renewing old acquaintanceships while the other students grind for final examinations and the teachers plan summer vacations. The list of events for the week follows:

SPRING FEVER.

I think when March winds start to blow
And skys become less drab,
If I could choose my course again,
I'd major in campus lab.

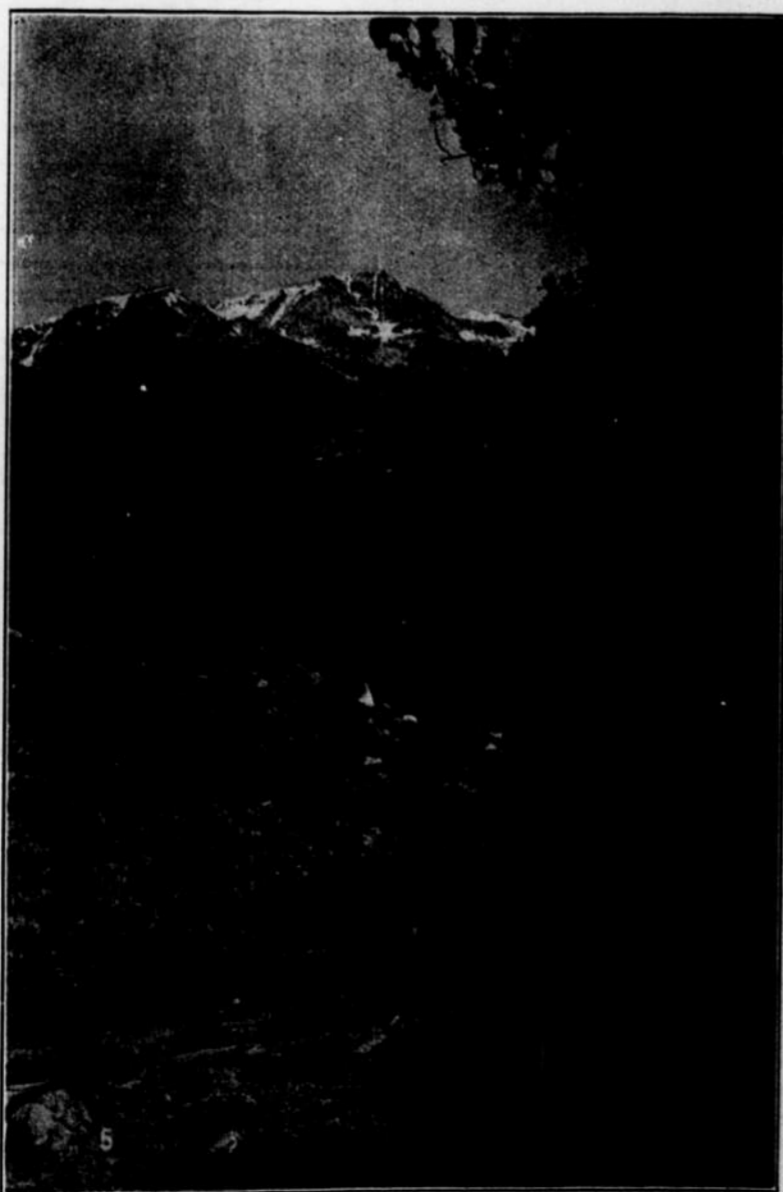

And then when April showers come down,
And slickers gray we grab,
I still insist if I'd my way,
I'd major in campus lab.

On bright May days when man and girl
Go fishing for fish—and crab—
I think how much they learned when they Both majored in campus lab.

And on commencement night in June
It gives my heart a stab,
To think what really might have been
Had I majored in campus lab.

L'Envoi.

But why this flow of briny tears,
And why this senseless gab,
When every one in college knows
I majored in campus lab?

VACATION.

By Florence Carvin.

Vacation is here with its pleasures,
Well, yes, perhaps pleasures for some,
But well do I know what awaits me,
Ah, well do I know what will come.

I'll spend three hot weeks with the modiste,
I'll shop every day until noon,
I'll wear myself thin buying trifles
The style of which changes so soon.

I'll sit on a hotel piazza
And gossip of things I don't know,
Where the merry mosquitoes meander
And the festive flea flits to and fro.

I'll think of poor John in the office
And hope he can come out next week,
I'll think of the children at mother's
And pray they won't fall in the creek.

And when the two weeks are over,
And I'm tired of it all, then I fear,
I'll go home to John and the children,
And put up fruit for next year.

MIX STUDY AND PLEASURE.

Colorado Offers Best Opportunities for Both.

What there is to do at the Estes Park Y. W. conference may be so puzzling to some. It is a safe prophecy to say "You will have the best time ever," for the days are crowded with interesting programs and good times.

The mornings are set aside for study and are divided into four periods. The first period is devoted to Bible study. Classes in The Social Message of Jesus, The Prophets and
The Life of Christ are offered under competent leaders. The second hour is devoted to mission and community study; the third, to local topics. A lecture course is offered fourth hour on Christian Faith and Funda-mentals, by Dr. William Merrill of New York City.

The afternoons are devoted to pleasure. In Estes Park, in the very heart of the Rocky Mountains, one need not hunt far for pleasure.
Mountain climbing, horseback riding, in fact all outdoor sports may be indulged in. A recreation chairman will organize tennis and basketball teams. Hikes are decidedly in style at Estes Park.

One of the most enjoyable affairs is Stunt Day, when all the colleges put on special stunts, every one trying to have the most original and novel stunt. In the evening there are platform addresses by noted people. Among these are: Bishop Francis J. McConnell, D. D., of Colorado;
Bishop Nathaniel S. Thomas of Wyoming, the Rev. Timothy Stone,
D. D., of Chicago.

MAY FESTIVAL MAD, $400.

Both Associations Were Benefited
May 14.

Those who planned the May festival this year were indeed successful. An undertaking of this sort means work for students who are too often already overworked. More money was cleared than ever before, both associations receiving about $100. Miss Claire Hoaglin was the girl behind the gun. The new feature was in keeping the results of the election a secret.

The stunt which took the first place was "The Opening of the Rose-bud," given by the girls of the Ionian Literary Society. It was a number showing originality as well as hard work.

The Franklins came next with their "Sailor Lads and Lassies." The "Dance of the Spring Song" by the Euradelphians was hindered because of costumes which failed to arrive.

If those in charge of the festival had been full fledged weather men and weather women, there would have been no rain on May Day; but rain there was. It was courteous enough to come after most of the program had been given, however,
and no damage was done.

WILL WORK IN FOREIGN FIELDS. THEY DO REAL SOCIAL SERVICE.

Student Volunteers Prepare Here for Mission Work.

One does not hear much of the Student Volunteer Band at K. S. A.
C., but it is a live force nevertheless.
It is made up of persons who expect to become foreign missionaries at some time, being a joint organization of the young men's and young women's associations. Special missionary courses are studied and preparatory work is done.

A number of students attended the volunteer convention in Topeka in December. The Student Volunteers furnished the leaders for the young people's meetings in the churches on the day of prayer in February. The Chinese students of the college were entertained at the home of Mr. Mc-Lean recently.

An unusual opportunity will be afforded to those interested in this work during the next Christmas holidays. A convention of Student Volunteers of the United States and Canada meets at that time in Kansas City. This convention meets only once in four years, once every student generation. In 1910 it met at Rochester. There will be 4,000 delegates at Kansas City. As the number is limited, this school will probably be allowed about 15 delegates.
The Student Volunteers are: Claire Hoaglin, Margaret Jones, Edith Schowalter, Anna Searl, Edna Gulick, Edith Skinner, Janet McKee, Nellie Reed, Miss Haas, Mr. Hawkins, Mr.
Lillard and Mr. McLean.

MISS HAAS AT LAKE MOHONK.

Y. W. Secretary One of 44 at World's Meeting.

Miss Libby K. Haas, secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, left Manhattan last Thursday to attend the conference of the World's Student Christian Federation. Only 44 women in the world are permitted to be present at this conference. It is a federation of all student Christian organizations not only in this country but in 40 nations.

The 300 delegates meet from June 2 to 8 at Lake Mohonk, in the Hudson valley in New York.

Y. W. Helps the Ill, Cares for Needy, Strengthens the Weak.

The Young Women's Christian Association has taken up a new line of work recently. The new committee is called the social service committee.
Its purpose is to improve social conditions, not only of the college girls but of the town, too. Miss Julia Wolcott has charge of the work.
Flowers are sent to college girls who are ill. These are furnished to the association by the board of regents.
Miss Mann, a member of the committee, will have a physical training class at the Odd Fellows' home at Eureka. Mrs. Kate E. Pierson has been of great help to the girls in finding cases where assistance is needed. Mrs. Pierson has had ex-

A Chinese student from Honolulu, Foo Kau Lee, is winner of the prize offered by the Funk & Wagnalls Co. for the student making the best grades in the course given by the library department in Methods of Study. The prize is a copy of the New Standard Dictionary, which will soon be issued at a price of $30.00. This work is a complete revision of the Standard Dictionary and will contain any new and valuable features.

Librarian Smith has received a letter from the publishers authorizing him to offer the same prize for the coming year.

News of the Kansas Agricultural College does spread, surely. Now the Pelto Ja Koti, a Swedish publication, has a story about the K. S. A. ## With the Y. M. C. A. In The Foreign Fields.

Secretary W. W. McLean Tells How Association Work Is Carried On In Other Countries. K. S. A. C. Organization Will Help Support Work In Mexico City, Mexico, Next Year.

The North American Young Men's Christian Associations have now 140 secretaries at work in foreign countries. Fifty-two of these are located in China, in India and Ceylon, 20 in South America, and smaller groups in the other countries. These men have demonstrated the value and the methods of association work in every country where they have gone and have won for the association the recognition of the thoughtful leaders ported by associations, groups of associations and by individuals.

The largest amount contributed by any one association was $16,000. The policy of the foreign work committee calls for sending out and maintaining of 200 trained secretaries at a cost of $500,000 annually. All current expenses, salaries of native secretaries, money to buy land for buildings and athletic fields must be provided by the men in the cities organized. L. Wilbur Messer, money and methods by extending their cooperation and support to all men of all lands."

Our local Y. M. C. A. will undertake next year the support or part support of Mr. L. Torregrosa who has charge of the student work in Mexico City. Mr. Torregrosa is a graduate of Chicago University. He is well equipped for his very important work among the 4000 government students of the city. If work among our students in this country is needed, how much more it is needed in those lands where the students have to meet all of the temptations of student life without the restraining influences that surround our young men. The association will publish next fall a pamphlet describing more fully the work that is being done in Mexico and our own relation to it.

of the nations who now look upon it as a mighty factor in the building up of high ideals of character.

Last year the budget for the support of the foreign work amounted to $354,000. Secretaries are sup-general secretary of the Chicago association, says, "The North American associations are obliged to share their unparalleled resources of men,

Estes Park The Beautiful.

Inspiration And Enjoyment Come To Those Who Visit The Picturesque Place Chosen By The Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. For Their Summer Conferences.

"I can't see why the Christian Association spent so much money to send delegates to a playground, and then call it religion" was the skeptical remark of a student who learned for the first time of the Estes Park Conferences. He was an honest student who knew little of the plans and purposes of these meetings. But he was right when he called Estes Park a playground. This park is situated only a short distance from Denver, and is easily reached by automobile stage from the railroad stations of Boulder, Longmont, Lyons and Loveland. Once in the park, the traveler finds a veritable "Garden of Eden, a lovely natural park without peer or rival, ramparted with a wall of rugged mountains that encircle it like a gigantic crooked arm flung out from the main range of the Rockies, the Continental Divide. The charm of the place is not to be catalogued, since it is born of the clear, rare air of the hills, of the glorious freedom of the great mountains, and of cool summer breezes and rippling water." One may fish along enticing trout streams, hunt deer in neighboring forests, or climb from fields of mariposa lilies to great beds of everlasting snow.

The Christian Association conference grounds are situated in one of the most picturesque parts of the park and comprise three hundred and seventy-five acres of mountains, stream and woodland. These grounds are well equipped with a large dining hall, a conference pavilion, administration halls, and sleeping cottages. In addition, there are excellent athletic grounds, the convenient tennis courts and golf links.

Whoever attends these conferences held amid such picturesque surroundings, must receive a two-fold benefit. He must feel the uplift and true inspiration of the conference meetings. He must also catch the resistless spirit of such charming natural surroundings—the spirit which makes his broader and better as he asks, "Who owns the mountains?" and feels the inarticulate answer sink into his soul.

Yes, Estes Park is a playground, the finest anywhere, but it is a playground where, in these helpful conferences and in communion with nature in her forms of grandeur and beauty, the thoughtful student may catch visions of the divine.

ROYAL PURPLE APPEARS

THE 1913 CLASS BOOK FULFILLS EXPECTATIONS.

TELLS 1912-13 STORY; 300 PAGES

Pay Dedication Tribute to H. H. King —Many Snaps Keep Up the Interest.

Royal Purple, Vol. V., dedicated to H. H. King, appeared this week. The committee established headquarters in the old postoffice and a long line of buyers pushed up to the window all week. Manager Jones ordered more than 100 extra books, and from the sale of these probably $200 or more will be turned over to the class treasurer. Not all of the organizations have paid their class book bills. About 1,130 books were ordered. Of these, about 100 went to alumni; President Waters took 100 to send to high schools; 1,000 were guaranteed by Manhattan people. The extra copies have been selling rapidly this week, and any that are not sold before Commencement will be disposed of without trouble when the alumni who did not buy early see the book. It is more than worth the money. The expenses for the book alone amounted to about $4,000. There are 300 pages in the book.

Snaps Are Plentiful.

Two editions were made, one cloth bound, selling at $1.75; and one of leather, $2.25. The printing of the book is good. The cut work is above par. One of the best things about the book is the absence of long articles to tire readers who wish summarized accounts and a reflection of the year's events at college. The strongest point in the book is the wealth of snap shots taken from here and there, stolen and manufactured, but all of them in the book.

The drawings are excellent. Most of the work was done by B. W. Whitlock, artist of the committee. H. McNamara has some good ones also. The organizations were cared for in proper style and arranged well. The arrangement of the book could not have been better. Slipping in a couple of pages and snaps between the various divisions of the book added much to its attractiveness. The department headings are clever and artistic.

The artists and humorists took shots at the dancers and anti-dancers, rapped the faculty, played up "the cases," mentioned some of the foolish things of a college life, and throughout the book added enough of spice to make the book one to be read through, and then once more, and more.

CUBS GIVE FAREWELL BANQUET

Dillon and Rodell Guests Of Honor Monday Night.

The Cub Club gave a banquet Monday night at the College Inn for Charles Dillon and E. N. Rodell, both of whom have resigned to enter active publishing work. The club is composed of students of journalism and was organized largely through the efforts of Mr. Dillon. The banquet was given without professorial titles to either of the guests of honor and was thoroughly enjoyable.

Following the banquet, Pres. H. M. Ziegler called on Roy Davis to talk on "The Experience of a Cub Reporter in a Small Town." Mr. Davis has been with The Mercury for some time. What Mr. Dillon had taught them, he said, would be appreciated more when they went into active newspaper work.

E. N. Rodell spoke on "The Value of Mechanical Excellence to a Newspaper." This is one branch of the business that is often underrated. You cannot please your readers if you do not have mechanical worth—good makeup and good typographical work—and if you do not please your readers you might as well get out of the business.

In prefacing a talk on "What a Young Man Can Do in Farm Journalism," Mr. Dillon reviewed briefly his three years at Manhattan. He has taken much pleasure in his work here, he said, and had circumstances shaped themselves differently, he might have remained at the agricultural college, although at a monetary sacrifice. The Capper publications offer more salary than the state pay, but for all that he will leave his work here with much regret. "I have had to keep on making good all my life," he said. "I had to make good when I started as a telegraph operator, and I had to make good when I went to the Star. I have tried to make good here." Of Mr. Dillon's making good here there is no question in the minds of Manhattan people.

Two things are essential to a young man who wishes to enter farm journalism, Mr. Dillon says. He must know agriculture, if he would succeed; and he must know something of the newspaper business—type, handling copy, makeup—if he is to get ahead. For the young man who has this knowledge there are plenty of good jobs. But where, asks Mr. Dillon, can young men who know agriculture scientifically be trained to write in newspaper style if not in schools of industrial journalism?

The banquet was not only a farewell to Mr. Rodell and Mr. Dillon, but also to several members of the club who will not be here next year.

TWO WOMEN CAUSE TROUBLE

THAT'S NOT A PROVERB BUT THE SENIOR PLAY PLOT.

Two Hubbies' Infatuation For Another's Wife Keeps Things Stirring In "Our Wives."

Because Mrs. Deveau, married, arouses the infatuation of Mr. Chandler and Mr. Blair, both married, the wives of the last named persons cause trouble. Just what this trouble is and how it ends form the plot of the play, "Our Wives," that will be presented by the seniors at their annual play Tuesday night of Commencement Week. The cast is being drilled by Miss Stolla Morrison.

Herr Seibel interested several Americans in his comic opera, "The Flower de Lis," which is to be presented in New Jersey. Mrs. Deveau is the leading lady and Mr. Chandler and Mr. Blair go wild about her. Their wives make trouble, and so does Mr. Deveau. The wives hire a detective to lead roughs in breaking up the show. So does Mr. Deveau. Then the wives find out that their husbands own the show. The cast is:

Mrs. Deveau, Ivy Fuller; Mr. Chandler, Robert Barnum; Mr. Blair, H. H. Fenton; Mrs. Chandler, Claire Hoaglin; Mrs. Blair, Neva Colville; Mr. Deveau, R. N. Allen; Herr Seibel, W. P. Hayes; Maid Julia, Elsie Adams; reporter, C. C. Hamilton; detective, J. H. Gill.

The committee in charge of the play is: E. W. Martin, Lynn Hilsabeck, Lyda Stoddard, Clyde Drake, Maye Anderson.

ASK THE PROFS TO TALK

A FEATURE ADDED TO SENIOR CLASS DAY EXERCISES.

CAMPUS BREAKFAST WEDNESDAY

Class Of 1913 Plan An Eventful Commencement Week—A Chapel Program, Too.

A feature of the senior exercises of Commencement Week will be the pilgrimage that the class will make Wednesday morning. It will happen this way. The seniors will take breakfast on the campus Wednesday morning, early, and then make the rounds of campus buildings, calling professors from their classes to speak to the visitors. This is an innovation here.

The Senior Chapel.

The seniors will have charge of chapel Wednesday morning. The program will be: Devotional, Mildred Barr; President's Speech, Reva Lint; Class Prophecy, W. P. Hayes; Class Will, H. H. Fenton. Wednesday evening, Pinafore will be played by the music students.

A week from tomorrow Bishop W. O. Shepard of Kansas City, Kas., will preach the baccalaureate sermon in the Auditorium at 4 o'clock.

All seniors, President Lint says, are expected to attend the alumni banquet in Nichols gym Thursday noon. Many alumni will be here for this. The tax is 50 cents a plate. The class memorial lights will glow for the first time Commencement Week.

The Senior Committees.

Some of the committees having charge of the senior exercises for the week are:

Class day—Gaylord Hancock, Addie Root, A. V. Norlin, Bertha Schwab and Harriet Dunn.

Caps and gowns—E. B. Myers and Edna Lawton.

LOWERED TWO TRACK RECORDS.

Hutto Set Mile Mark—Gates Beat Christian's 220 Record.

Two varsity track records fell this year. Captain Hutto lowered his own record in the mile at the Missouri Valley meet last Saturday, going the distance in 4:30 2-5 seconds. Captain-elect Gates ran the 220-yard dash in 22 2-5 seconds, which knocks 1-5 of a second from the old record made by "Bobbie" Christian against Nebraska Wesleyan in 1910.

TENNIS MEN LOSE ON A TRIP.

Broke Even With Washburn, But St. Marys Won.

The Aggie tennis men broke even with Washburn at Topeka Monday and lost all matches to St. Marys at St. Marys Tuesday.

At Topeka, Rexroad, Aggie, won from Trobert, Washburn, in an exciting match, 6-3, 6-3, 13-15, 6-4. In the doubles, Ream and Trobert were better than Wolcott and Rexroad to the tune of 6-3, 6-4.

At St. Marys, Kelly won from Rexroad in one of the best played matches of the season. Rexroad had a lead of 5-2 in the first set, but Kelly overcome it and ran the set out, 8-6. Rexroad took the second, 6-0, but lost the third, 5-7. Wolcott lost to Ricker, 6-3, 6-4. The Aggies played their best match of the year in the doubles. St. Marys won the first set, 6-3, and the Aggies the second, 6-3. In the second set, Wolcott broke his racket but was compelled to finish with it. St. Marys took the last set, 6-4. A return match may be arranged for Commencement Week.

ANY ROYAL PURPLE SNAPS?

Chairman Harris Is After Them For Volume VI.

The Royal Purple committee for next year is after snap shots. Many snaps this year were refused because of being offered late, and some of these are held by seniors. T. J. Harris or Russell Williamson are on the lookout for the snaps, so you may get rid of the pictures you offered late.

Drill, Then a Plunge In The Pool.

Swimming is great now. The drill crowd fill the pool every afternoon at 4:30. The lack of efficient diving apparatus is keenly felt. Coach Lowman hopes to be able to equip the pool with a good board this summer. The water in the pool has been kept at good temperature this spring and very few colds have resulted.

K MEN WILL GIVE A BANQUET

PLAN TO MAKE THIS AN ANNUAL EVENT.

Athletes Will "Spread" at College Inn Next Week—May Found K Fraternity.

The K men will have their first annual banquet at the College Inn next Thursday or Friday night. A meeting was held Thursday in the Old Chapel. Coach Lowman presided and proposed the plans for a banquet and a better organization of the K men of the school. He wishes the K men to form a K fraternity as athletes at other schools have done. This probably will be done as the K men favor it. A committee of "Shorty" Fowler, Don McCallum, Ward Gates, Henry Dresser and Raymond Schafer is making the banquet arrangements. Thirty K men met Thursday.

All letter men are expected to be present at the banquet. On presentation of one dollar to Henry Dresser the athletes will be entered in the final event of the year.

Formal presentation of the letters for basketball, track and baseball will be made at the banquet.

CLASS GAMES IN A MUDDLE.

Standing Of Teams Uncertain—Managers Will Meet.

Interclass baseball is in a muddle. That is, the standing of the teams is a sadly tangled mess. Coach Lowman has called a meeting of the class managers for baseball and the matter will be thoroughly thrashed out at that time. It is thought that the juniors and the freshmen have the first call on the highest honors, each of these teams having defeated the other.

WATERS HAS A FAST ONE

HE WILL PITCH ANNUAL FACULTY-SENIOR GAME MONDAY.

TEACHERS HAVE A SQUAD OF 36

Batter Up at 3:30—Here's a Championship Game Between Scintillating Stars.

"Christy" Mathewson will have nothing on Pres. H. J. Waters after Monday afternoon. "Prexy" Waters is slated to open the annual faculty-senior baseball contest on the slab. Those who have come in contact with some of his hefty deliveries say that the "H. B. P." route to the initial sack is painful indeed. The game will start at 3:30 sharp and Coach Lowman says that it should start at 1:30, but the public has been carefully thought of and the time limit has been placed at 3:30 to allow all dinners to settle. Lowman, formerly of the World's Champs, manages the faculty hops.

A Faculty Squad of 36 Stars.

The team that takes the field the first inning for the faculty will be composed of as many of the deans as can be persuaded to don gloves and heave the pill. This is the way they are lined up for the first inning: Waters, pitcher; Price, catcher; Walters, second base; McCormick, first base; Jardine, third base; Kammer, shortstop; Schoenleber, left field; Willard, center field; Brink, right field. The following are the substitutes who will be used to recuperate the losses of the first few innings: Dickens, Scott, McKeever, Cortelyou, Dean, Andrews, Cochel, Conrad, Dillon, Roberts, Searson, Read, Holton, Hamilton, Remick, Lippincott, Bushnell, Call, Fitz, Lowman, King, Nabours, Roberts, Ahern, Whelan and A. B. Smith.

Seniors Are "Loaded."

The seniors have been laying for this game for some time and have a fairly good club, considering the various "knives" the faculty has been applying in order that the best men may not be eligible for the fray. The following is the batting order for the seniors: Baker, second; Davidson, first; Alexander, shortstop; Stahl, catcher; Buck, left field; Grimes, center field; Schuster, third; Hoover, right field; and Blake, pitcher. Buck is the senior manager.

The name of the umpire probably will be kept a secret so that he may not have a chance to accept bribes.

NO HUTTO IN WESTERN MEET.

Track Captain Had a Good Chance To Win At Madison.

The Aggies will not be represented in the Western Conference track and field championships meet today at Madison, Wisconsin. Captain Hutto was entered in the mile and two-mile events but was forced to leave town Tuesday and forfeit his chance of going to the largest western meet of the year. His chances of winning at least one of the distance races in this meet were considered excellent. Coach Lowman received a letter from Coach Brewer, of Missouri, Wednesday saying that he considered Hutto a likely winner in the mile event in the big northern meet.

FARMERS' UNION MEETS TODAY.

President Waters Speaks On Co-operation This Afternoon.

An open meeting of the college branch of the Farmers' Union will be held this afternoon at 3:30, either in the east basement of Fairchild Hall or in the Old Chapel. Announcement will be made on the bulletin board. President Waters will speak on co-operation. Everyone is invited.

Phi Gamma Theta has announced Harold Coble, Sidney R. Vandenberg and Henry Otto as pledges.

A DILLON-RODELL BATTERY.

A good battery is mighty nigh a whole team.

With Dillon pitching and Rodell catching, the Kedzie battery has worked well, fanned opponents, struck 'em out—scored shutouts; not grandstanders, they have swatted the stuffing out of the ball and slid home with many earned runs. Credit must be given J. D. Rickman, former superintendant of printing, for teaching Rodell the rules of the game. It is to be regretted that the board of administration is not composed of fans.

A banquet for Mr. Rodell and Mr. Dillon, without professional titles, is a reminder that neither of these men will be here next year. Aside from his efficient work in printing, Mr. Rodell has been a force in college athletics for many years, first as manager and then as treasurer under the Lowman regime. His value in intercollegiate sports has been high. Besides he has been strong for the college and college people and college teams. He will be missed.

Mr. Dillon's relations with his students have been closer than those of class room acquaintances. He has gone into the cubs' troubles and yanked them out with regularity. The friendship of his students and the head of the department has stood three years of wear, and without fraying.

Even As You and I

WHAT'S YOUR NAME?

Mr. Time Spender decides to talk to Mr. Wastelt. He picks up the telephone and this is the way he does it: "Number, please," answers central.

"Hello. Is this central?"

"Number, please."

"Hello. I'd like 812 green, central, please."

In a moment (?) Miss Fussy, office girl for Mr. Wastelt, answers: "Hello."

"Hello. Who is this talking, please?"

"This is 812 green," replies Miss Fussy.

"Is this the department of Lost Motion?" asks Mr. T. S. trying another tack.

"Yes, this is the department of Lost Motion," is all the information Miss Fussy deems to impart.

"Is this Mr. Wastelt?"

"No," seriously answers Miss Fussy. "Did you wish to speak to Mr. Wastelt?"

"Yes, please."

Miss Fussy trips into Mr. Wastelt's office and tells him that someone wishes to speak to him on the 'phone. Mr. Wastelt picks up the instrument. "Hello."

"Hello. Is this Mr. Wastelt?"

"Yes, this is Mr. Wastelt."

"Well, this is Mr. T. Spender."

And after five minutes Mr. T. S. manages to convey to Mr. Wastelt that he will be over to see him very soon. After profuse "good-byes" Mr. T. S. hangs up with a remark to his stenographer: "I tell you that man Wastelt is a nice fellow. And so is Miss Fussy just as nice as she can be." Then he remembers that he must inform Mr. Savelt of the meeting of the Commercial Club. After several attempts to get central, he begins to call:

"Central, Oh Central—Hello—Hello, Hello central—"

"Number, please," comes the quiet voice of the operator. In a short time after he has managed to apprise the girl of the number he wishes, Mr. Busy, secretary to Mr. Savelt, answers:

"Department of Efficiency."

No answer from Mr. T. S. Mr. Busy repeats, more sharply, "Department of Efficiency."

"Hello, is this the Department of Efficiency?"

"It is."

"Is this Mr. Savelt?"

"No. I'll call him."

While Mr. Busy is pressing the button for Mr. Savelt's office, Mr. T. S. is having a fit in his transmitter to this effect:

"Hello—Hello—Is this Mr. Savelt? Hello—Is this Mr. Savelt—Hello—"

Mr. Busy, hearing his frantic cries, attempts to soothe him with: "Just a moment, please."

When Mr. Savelt hears the buzzer, he answers with:

"This is Mr. Savelt."

"Hello. Is this Mr. Savelt?" in-anely inquires Mr. T. S.

"Yes, this is he."

"Hello. Is this Mr. Savelt?" persists Mr. T. S., who cannot understand such plain and correct English.

"Yes, this is Mr. Savelt."

"Oh!" says Mr. T. S., with a surprised look in his voice. "Oh, yes. Why, Mr. Savelt, this is Mr. T. S."

Mr. Savelt manages to grasp the gentleman's message in about twenty seconds and promptly thanks him and hangs up.

But Mr. T. S. hangs up with the remark to the inoffensive stenographer that "that efficiency bunch is a disagreeable lot."

A. B. Alumni to Give Program.

The Alpha Beta alumni will give a program in A. B. hall tonight. Geo. H. Failyer, '77, will preside. The program: Devotion, F. A. Marlatt, '87; music, Mrs. Adelaide McCollough, '98; paper, "Alpha Betas I Have Known," Mrs. A. E. Dickens, '94; music, Mr. and Mrs. Hutto, '92; reading, Helen W. Lewis, '07; music, Frank Harris, '08; paper, Catherine Justin, '12; music, D. E. Lewis, '10; Gleaner, Ed Hungerford, '12.

Movies Came and Went.

The movies of the college and Manhattan were shown at Warehouse Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Crowds jammed the theater the first two nights and fair audiences were present Wednesday. Although some were disappointed because they did not appear especially prominent in the pictures, the college views were good and the subject matter well chosen. The lot will be cut to one reel when sent on the road.

When Carruth Was a Sportsman.

An editorial writer of the Kansas City Star relates an incident of W. H. Carruth, who is to leave K. U. soon to go to Leland Stanford Jr. University. Carruth was refereeing a football game at Lawrence and toward the close of the game made a decision, and a fair one, that destroyed K. U.'s chance of winning. When the mob protested vociferously, Carruth walked out of the field and up to his home on the slope of Mt. Oread. He never spoke a word, but preached a sermon.

Stahl Lands a Good Job.

Elmer Etahl, senior electrical, has landed a good job. He will be superintendent of the municipal light plant of Topeka.

CHOSE DEBATERS THIS WEEK.

Three Were Picked Monday, Five Yesterday Afternoon.

The first set of finals for the choice of debaters to compete against South Dakota and Iowa next fall was held Monday afternoon. Eighteen competed and from these three were picked as regulars. From the twelve best remaining, five more debaters were chosen yesterday afternoon, after press time. The three chosen Monday are: W. H. Sweet, Athenian; Carl Mattson, Franklin; James McArthur, Alpha Beta. The first two were members of the squad this year. Competition was keener this time than ever before, says Professor Ostrum.

Shine on, Old Top, shine on!
Across the realms of space
Shine on!
What though I'm in a sorry case?
What though my collar is a wreck?
And hangs a rag about my neck?
What though at food I can but peck?
Never you mind, shine on!

Shine on, Old Top, shine on!
Though leagues of lifeless air
Shine on!
It's true I've no more shirts to wear,
My underwear is soaked, 'tis true,
My gullet is a red hot flue—
But don't let that unsettle you!
Never you mind!
Shine on! (It shines on.)

PATRONIZE AGGIE ADVERTISERS

THE KANSAS AGGIE

Vol. XVIII.

Semi-Weekly.

MANHATTAN, KANSAS. JUNE 11, 1913.

WEDNESDAY.

NUMBER 69

SET MARK AT 13 UNITS

WITH 15 REQUIRED, STUDENTS MAY ENTER 2 CREDITS SHY.

PROVIDE FOR THE SUB-FRESHMEN

They Will Be Accepted in the College, Making up Five Units as Time Permits.

Although the requirement for entrance as freshman in full standing next fall will be 15 units, this does not affect present students who will have attained the rank of sophomores or better by the opening of the fall term. The changes in the courses will apply only to those entering as freshmen. Old students will continue under the old courses.

Give Subs in Ag. School 54 Credits.

Provision has been made for the present subfreshmen to enter the college. Those who have completed the two years of subfreshman work will be given ten credit units for the work and accepted into the college as freshmen with a deficiency of five units. Persons entering under this provision will not be required to make up the deficiencies the first year, as new freshmen entering under the 15 unit requirement will have to do. For a year's work in the secondary school the subfreshmen will be given 54 credit hours. They may take some of the work in which they are deficient in the college and some in the School of Agriculture. If they take the work in the college they will receive added credit.

Raise Deficiencies First Year.

New students will be accepted next fall under the 15-unit requirement, and will be allowed to enter with a deficiency of two units, which must be made up before the beginning of the sophomore year. For several reasons students may enter as freshmen in the college with only 13 units to offer. One is that a high school, being a local institution, is adapted to the needs of the local community and is not always readily adjustable to a college requirement laid down without chance of modification.

No foreign language is required. The required units are: English, 3; mathematics, 2, except when students desire to take engineering, architecture or general science, when 3 units are required; natural science, 1 (physical); social science, 1. This makes seven units of required subjects, or eight if a student desires to take general science, engineering or architecture. To complete the 15 units elective subjects will be accepted.

"All Young Men Drill Two Years."

A notable thing about the new announcement pamphlets that the college has issued is the clause that "Military drill is required for two years of all young men in college courses." The faculty made a recommendation concerning this to the board of administration some time ago. The board also has recommended that credit be given for drill and no substitution allowed for it. Credit will be given also for work on The Kansas Aggie, for orchestra, glee club, oratory and debate, and physical training. Work in the band is considered a part of the military drill and credit given for it.

Carrie Gates, '10, Goes to Texas.

Miss Carrie M. Gates, '10, will teach in a Baptist college at Brownwood, Tex., next fall. She was re-elected head of the home economics department at Altamont, Kan., but resigned to accept the Texas position, which pays $100 a month, $150 more a year than the Altamont place.

Miss Marie Katels, a K. U. student, will be here Saturday to visit until after Commencement with Miss Mary Turner.

The Ios unanimously endorsed the debating scholarship. They will have contestants in the try-out next fall.

ATHENIANS ORATE FOR PRIZES.

Curry and Sweet Won Honors Saturday Night.

The Athenians held an oratorical contest in the Auditorium Saturday night. First place was won by W. R. Curry with an oration on "Government Money." W. L. Sweet was second with "The Rural Problem." Marion Wadley was third with "International Peace." Prizes were presented to the winners.

Missouri Lost Western Meet.

Missouri sadly upset all hope in the western track meet at Madison, Wis., last Saturday, counting only 14 1/2 points, and with that fifth place. Illinois was first with 47 1/2 points. Thacher was the only consistent Tiger winner, tying with Parker of Chicago University for individual honors. Nicholson was defeated by Case in the high hurdles, Hazen of Kansas City taking second. Gold of Wisconsin set a new pole vault record at 12 feet 8 1-4 inches. Shattuck of California set a new hammer record with a throw of 160 feet 4 inches.

Camped Out at Pillsbury.

Several college people had an enjoyable camping trip over Sunday at Pillsbury Crossing.

They were chaperoned by Professor and Mrs. Floyd. The other participants were: The Misses Laughlin, Miss Inez Hepler, Miss Ada Wicker, Miss Helen Bower, Miss Edna Ross, Miss Mary Guernsey, Miss Annette Perry, Mr. James Laughlin, Mr. John Hepler, Mr. Jean Martin, Mr. Clarence Jones, Mr. Earl Hammond, Mr. Harry Allen, Mr. Walker, Mr. Brooks and Mr. Anderson.

A Few Royal Purples Left.

Manager Jones still has about 100 class books for sale. They will be on sale all week at the seventh hour in the old postoffice room in the main hall.

YOU CAN HELP GET STUDENTS

REPORT NAMES OF PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS TO DEAN MILLER.

Catalogues Have Been Sent to 1913 High School Graduates—Two Pamphlets Are Ready.

You can do the college a service by leaving at the office of Dean Miller of the extension division the names of prospective students so that catalogues may be sent them at once. The catalogues of the college already have been sent to the 1913 graduates of Kansas high schools, but there may be more persons who would be influenced in coming here if they had catalogues. The college also has for distribution a pamphlet on the School of Agriculture and one on Collegiate Courses. The pamphlet about the new school explains the three-year courses. It will be sent to those who complete only common school courses. The pamphlet, Collegiate Courses, gives the revised courses of the college work. The pamphlets may be obtained at Dean Miller's office, A 33.

Catalogues will be mailed about the last of June to all students who have been enrolled this year at the addresses given at the secretary's office. If students desire the catalogues sent to other addresses, they should leave the address with the secretary. The pamphlet on the School of Agriculture will be sent to those who have completed only the common school courses. The pamphlet, Collegiate Courses, has been mailed to all 1913 graduates of Kansas high schools.

Made Bishop Shepard a LL.D.

Upon W. O. Shepard, bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church of Kansas City, Kas., the degree of LL.D. was conferred by the Kansas Wesleyan University, at Salina, recently. Bishop Shepard is to deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the Class of 1913 here Sunday afternoon.

VALLEY SIGNS A CREW

GOOD SHIP PINAFORE PATCHED FOR FINAL VOYAGE.

CONCORDIA DAMAGES REMEDIED

Makes Last Trip Wednesday Night—Start Made From the Auditorium Wharf.

Captain Olaf Valley has manned the life boats and with his rejuvenated crew is nobly standing by the reefed ship Pinafore. The Good Ship Pinafore was caught in a financial storm while on a voyage to Concordia March 14, but the crew stood nobly by the pumps and kept the ship from the clutches of the salvage leeches. The ship will sail into the Auditorium port next Wednesday night for the final trip of the year with a slightly different crew.

Elmer Wilson will be among those missing from the second presentation of the opera. Wilson has been suffering from throat trouble and will not be seen in the production. Dick Williams, who pleased in the part of Dick Deadeye, has dropped out of school and the part of the drunken sailor lad will be passed to another. Several others have dropped out but the hull has been patched up.

AN OPENING FOR PREP PLAYERS.

Some Kansas College Can Use Them, by New Ruling.

The eligibility rules for college in the Kansas athletic conference were changed materially this year, though the change will not, of course, make any change in the eligibility standards here, as the Aggies are governed, and have been for some time, by Missouri conference rulings. This is the new eligibility clause:

"1. In schools or colleges having an enrollment of 500 or more in the college department, no student shall be eligible to participate who has not reached the rank of sophomore.

"2. In schools or colleges having an enrollment of 150 or more, and less than 500, students who have reached the rank of freshmen shall be eligible.

"3. In schools and colleges having an enrollment of less than 150 in the college department, preparatory or academy students shall be eligible, providing the student shall have been in residence and made full credit for the work of a term of not less than eighteen weeks previous to the term or semester in which the sport is held."

The latter part of this rule allows Cooper, Fairmount, Kansas Wesleyan and one or two others to use their prep students.

The effect on the Aggies is this: Some school may have some likely freshmen and some phenom preps and can start the reason with them in the lineup, and a better-rounded team is the result. This means that the Aggies will have to guard against one of the state teams that the Aggies meet early in any season slipping up and pushing the Aggies over the brink before the Aggie team is well in shape. Incidentally, it will make some of the Kansas conference games more interesting.

Carl Irwin, '12, Will Marry.

Invitations have been sent out announcing the marriage of Minnie Mabel Gardner and Carl Irwin, '11, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Gardner, north of Salina. The bride-to-be formerly attended the Kansas Wesleyan. Carl Irwin and his father have a large fruit ranch near Twin Falls, Idaho.

Miss Stella Mathers, who will be graduated this spring, will teach domestic art in the high school at San Diego, Cal., next fall.

First Class Board: Mrs. C. Worrel, 910 Bluemont, Ralph Musser, Mgr.

AND THE POOL RAN DRY.

Board of Health Objects to Water Chasing Through Street.

Through the action of the Manhattan board of health the swimming pool has been closed. Don't be alarmed. It's not half so bad as you think. The water from the swimming pool has been emptied into the gully that runs along Anderson avenue, as the pool is not connected with the city sewer. In the course of the water down to the river, the kiddies on Bluemont avenue constructed such a series of dikes and dams that the city authorities thought that the presence of standing water in the streets due to these dikes and dams was dangerous to public health. And so that is how the swimming pool, so welcome to scorched rookies, has been emptied. Dean McCormick is figuring on the cost of connecting the pool with the sewer but it is not likely that the pool will be filled again this term.

Topeka Author Visits Here.

Miss Effie Graham, author of the "Passin' On Party," was in Manhattan the first of the week. Miss Graham is professor of mathematics in the Topeka high school and has won recognition as a woman of talent. The short story, "The Passin' On Party," has had a big sale since it appeared last fall and has been highly praised by competent critics as a work that will last. It is a short story, with something of the general style in its hold on the interest as "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch;" that is, it is one of these "homey" stories. Miss Graham has a personal interest in this college because of many friends here. A niece, Miss Elsie Mulford, was graduated last spring.

Miss Clara Lewallen, who has been teaching in the high school at Marion, is home for the summer.

TO CONTEST IN DRILL FRIDAY

ANNUAL CADET COMPETITION WILL BE THEN.

Captain of the Winning Rookies Will Receive a Sword From M. C. Lilly Co.

The annual competitive drill for the four companies of the cadet corps will be held Friday. Lieutenant Hill says: "The competitive drill will be held Friday afternoon at the drill hour. Officers of the Kansas National Guards, Company I, who live in Manhattan will be the judges. That will be the only change in the management. I would like to have some individual competition in the manual of arms, although that has never been done here. If we had a prize to offer for that drill it would stimulate the interest and would add considerably to the interest in the competition as a whole. The captain of the winning company will, as usual, receive a sword from the M. C. Lilly Company, the firm has the contract for the cadet uniforms."

The annual competitive drill is always of unusual interest to the college people. Then is shown the real worth of the cadets—their ability to drill in competition with each other. To win the sword a captain must have not only a company of cadets well drilled but he must have cadets who work together for the good of the company. Four companies will drill. The battalion was cut from six to four companies some time ago, at the beginning of the spring term. The drill begins at 3:30.

The Sig Alphas won from the Phi Gams last Saturday, 11 to 6, on the city league diamond, thereby upsetting some of the frat league dope. Changes in the Sig Alpha lineup instilled more pep into the Bluemont crowd. The batteries were: Sig Alphas, Lovett and Hunter; Phi Gams, Fellows, Baker and Bright.

K FRATERNITY IS PROBABLE.

Athletes Favor the Proposal—May Adopt Ames Idea.

That an organization of the K men of the college will be perfected in the near future is the opinion of almost every letter man in school. The necessity of such an organization is obvious. It is needed to bring the letter men closer together and to aid in the development of varsity athletics. Such organizations have been successfully developed in other schools throughout the country. One of the best examples is that of the Iowa Agricultural College, at Ames. The Ames organization is known as the "A Club." Athletes having won their letter for the first time are admitted to the single "A" class of the formation. After winning their letters a second time they are admitted to the "A A" class. All men are eager to win their "A A," this being awarded to all athletes earning more than one letter and also being the highest honor an athlete may attain in athletic branches.

While at Alabama University, Coach Lowman formed an "A" organization in that school which resulted in the general betterment of athletics. A "K" club would mean much to athletics in K. S. A. C. If the organization is not formed this term, it will be in the first few weeks of the fall term. The K men will have their annual banquet at the College Inn Thursday night, at which time the formal presentation of letters won in basketball, baseball and track this year will be made. Henry Dresser is acting as treasurer and reports the K men enthusiastic with support and dollars.

Io's Camp Out Saturday.

The Ionian camp has been postponed until Saturday, June 14. The camp will be located on Wild Cat. This is the annual picnic given for the senior Ios by the underclassmen. There are 28 senior Ios. Professor and Mrs. Ahearn will be the chaperons.

KEEP IT UP, K MEN.

The plan of the K men to hold a banquet, and make it an annual event, is a good thing, and ought to be carried out successfully. A K ought to be made something to be cherished even more than it is.

If the founding of a K fraternity will unite more closely the letter men of this college, then found the fraternity. It ought to do a lot of good and stimulate interest in athletics and encourage men to try out for the college teams. Making a college team and winning a K are not the sole objects of athletics, but making the K a high honor to attain and more of a mark of distinction will serve to bring the best men into competition.

Surveying Stockdale SOCIALLY

If you ever pine for excitement and exercise just go on community survey. It will bring plenty of both to whoever is brave enough to try.

Three of us got up to catch a Blue Valley train. W. R. came by about three in the morning so that we got to the train on time. It left at seven. After the motor had puffed around a while, just to encourage the passengers, it started off. There is plenty of excitement on riding that motor. When you swing around the river the car leans over so as to be on a level with the river.

Stockdale is a good community, but it is no place for a community survey. There's too much country up there and the hills are too hilly. But we started out, anyway, when we reached there. All the way up Mac, who had been foolish before regaled us with bits of stories of how farmers' dogs have chased him country blocks and then jumped at conclusions. But we started out anyway.

Wall-paper Salesmen?

The first place we stopped, W. R. did the talking. He sold aluminum one summer and so he was certain to make the proper impression. He introduced himself as a seeker after knowledge when the farmer's wife came to the door, and was getting along fine until he unrolled the long paper blank that contained the questions that have to be asked in community surveying. There are 302 of these questions to ask. When W. R. unrolled that paper the woman thought he was selling rugs or some sort of quick-applying wall paper and he started to let the door swing on its hinges. But he reassured her and we proceeded with the inquisition. She managed to stick it out, though her breath was coming in short gasps when she finished telling us the names and ages of the family and herself, too, mind you. Well, we finished that, and then went on to the next place.

Warning The Country Side.

There was one notable thing about that trip. The whole countryside knew we were on the way. They phoned ahead. When it comes to spreading the alarm those people could give Paul Revere a head start and then pass him on the first turn. We would be at a house and would just reach that ninety-eighth quiz, "Do you prefer Grape-Nuts or grape fruit for breakfast?" When someone in the house would answer the phone and then shout in a whisper, "Yes, they're here now." One place we stopped as we were filling out the blanks the person we were questioning said to her son, "John call up the Jones and tell them." When we got to the Jones' the dogs seemed to be hungry and we passed right on by.

Everyone seemed quite willing to answer our questions, except that when one farmer told us he had several daughters and we asked him their names and ages he said, "What's this dang stuff for anyhow? Why do you want to know how old my gals is?" We didn't press the question very hard after that. Along about noon—we had breakfast at 6:30—we began to think about dinner. But that was all we did about it. We got no closer than those filling thoughts. When we stopped at farm houses they looked us over and said that they never ate dinner, didn't have time. After we had circled around the country like a couple of buzzards for several hours, we gave up thoughts about dinner and went on surveying. We cut across fields and climbed up in the air a good many miles in loping over the hills. We got back to dear old Stockdale, bought grub at a store, and then had a royal feast in the depot. When we finished that we went up town and asked for the hotel.

Surveyors, All Right.

The hotel, they said—and they spell it with a big H—is up there on the main street, two doors beyond the school house. When supper time came around we went up to the hotel and finally found it. Waiting for supper, W. R. read a Designer while I followed the fortunes of Beautiful Mabel and Daring Harold through several pages of the Chicago Ledger. It was one of the old-time hotels, with signs on the walls, "What Is Home Without a Mother," and "What Is Home Without a Father," done in colors. Supper came and went. After that the trip was uneventful, except when one of the citizens asked what we were selling. We said we were not salesmen, but community surveyors.

"What you surveying for? Going to run a railroad through here?"

Jones said he wasn't sure, but he thought that there ought to be one up in the hills there somewhere, and a restaurant along the way somewhere.

Mac was across the river, and we picked him up on the way home. One thing else is worth mentioning. The prof. was the wisest one in town that day. He stayed at home.

..Note—After we got to Manhattan, one man called us up to say that we had forgotten one question, and that he always put on his right shoe first when he got up in the morning.

They tell this one on the stock judges who went up to Stockdale fall term. Down at the depot Kirkpatrick and D. Branson became thirsty and were referred to the pump outside. But Glen Paddleford, who used to go to college here, told them to ask the station agent for the key. Kirkpatrick asked the agent, all right. Imagine a town pump that needed a key.

Miss Lois Gist, '12, is home for the summer.

SENIORS BEAT THE PROFS.
Breese, '86, Couldn't Win for Faculty Nine.

By a score of 39 to 38 3-4 the valiant men of the class of '13 defeated the faculty and the umpire Monday afternoon on the college field in the annual baseball game. The greatest hit of the contest was staged in the fifth inning, when "Sunny Jim" McKeever was sent to center field equipped with a bug-catcher and a plug hat. While thus armed, the psychology prof was chalked up with 16 errors. Coach Lowman faced the senior sluggers bravely, his gameness being due in a great measure to the varsity workouts of this spring, in which his "lobbing 'em" over for batting practice greatly aided him.

Glaring errors were made by both teams. Kammeyer showed lack of practice and the poor work of "Mike" Ahearn was instrumental in the run-getting of the seniors. The teams lined up as follows in the first round: Faculty—Conrad, 1f; Reed, cf; Cunningham, rf; Jardine, 3b; King, ss; Kammeyer, 2b; McCormick, 1b; Lowman, p; Ahearn, c. Seniors—Hults, 1f; Norlin, cf; Blake, rf; Hoover, 3b; Alexander, ss; Shuster, 2b; Davidson, 1b; Buck, p; Baker, c. Umpire—Breese, '86.

A letter to The Aggie contains the information that Arthur Bentley, '10, and Louise Jennison were married at Vinton, Miss., June 4. They will be at home at Valhalla, Kan. Bentley will be remembered for his football prowess.

HISTORY IN STONES

CLASS MEMORIALS BEGAN HERE LONG AGO.

TRADITIONS OF COLLEGE HALLS

Class Of 1892 Was First—Old Smoke Stack came In For Its Share.

BY HAROLD THACKREY.
A college cherishes the campus memorials that successive classes of graduates have left to make firm their memory. And especially are these memorials cherished when there are stories connected with them. Perhaps you do not know of the places around this college that have a historic attraction to students of former days who hunt them out when they return for Commencement or reunions. The most notable, in point of stories, are the class stones. The first class stone here was that of 1892, when the class of that year, represented by John E. Thackrey, now a minister in Oklahoma, placed a stone at the left of the main entrance to Fairchild Hall.

Trouble in Placing '00 Stone.
But the next stone did not go in without some excitement. It was placed at the southwest corner of the old agricultural hall, Custodian Lewis says, and he ought to know because he had a hand in some of the strenuous times in that day and age. The class of 1900 had trouble getting that stone placed. It was trimmed in a shop up town and brought up to the college one afternoon, and was to be placed the following day. That night the '01s broke the stone and poured tar over the pieces, just as a sort of black hand reminder. Another stone was ordered, but the "naughty ones" broke into the shop where the stone was and carried it off into the south part of town. It's down there somewhere now. The '00s obtained the co-operation of the faculty and the '01s were promised expulsion if they kept on. The third time was charmed and the stone went in.

Mining the Auditorium.
The class of 1902 has its stone at the southwest corner of Denison Hall. The 1904 class had a stone smoothed off for themselves right above the main entrance to the Auditorium. One dark night the '05s strung ropes from above and hanging by these drilled holes in the stone in the form of '05 and filled the holes with red paint. But this was fixed by the '04s. Jens Nygard, who is now farming respectably, was one of the ringleaders, and the '04s caught him up town with his pals of the adventure and took revenge.

The 1906 class has a place on the west side of Horticultural Hall. The 1908 stone is on the east side of the Domestic Science and Art Hall. Reuben Alleman placed the 1994 stone in position in the engineering building.

Painted the Old Smoke Stack.
Other classes showed spirit in different ways. The 1901 class painted numerals on the old smoke stack, but Sleuth Lewis painted over the numbers. In recent years the Lewis decorative art has gradually worn away and the '01 work is coming to light.

The 1905 class has a tree planted somewhere on the campus, but no one except those who put it out knows where it is. This was the only successful tree planting done by any class, though others tried it. Some way, they could not find trees that would stay in place for more than 48 hours.

Usefulness Supplants Ornamentation.
In later years useful things have supplanted purely sentimental memorials. The 1908 class decided to start a new custom of leaving a useful memorial, and so placed the drinking fountain in front of the domestic science building. The 1911s built the large pillars, topped with lights, at the south entrance to the campus.

The 1912 class placed lights in front of the Auditorium and the civil engineers of 1912 designed and constructed the concrete bridge across the gully on the way down to the athletic. The 1913 class will place lights in front of Nichols Gymnasium.

I don't know where Effie Graham got that title, "The Passin' On Party," but it is the best title that has been bestowed on a book in 1912. It is not beyond the realms of possibility that the title and the book itself will become a classic.—Topeka Daily Capital.

I regard Miss Graham as one of the most talented women in Kansas.—Arthur Capper.

OFFER SECOND SCHOLARSHIP

SECOND $100 INDUCEMENT MADE FOR DEBATERS.

Modest Friend Acts Through Professor Searson—Action Rests With The Board.

At the meeting of the Forum Wednesday, Professor Searson announced that he had secured another scholarship of $100 to be awarded to the one doing the best work on the debating team next year. Like the first, the scholarship is offered by a friend of Professor Searson who is too modest to allow his name to be used. This is the second scholarship that has been received this year to be used in the work in debating. The other scholarship will be awarded next year to the best debater.

Action on these two scholarships rests with the board of administration. It is the desire of the literary societies that these scholarships be known as the Forum Debating Scholarships. The winners of the scholarships will be picked by the debating coach, the faculty, debating council and the president.

TO HELP LOWMAN COACH

CARL J. MERNER, IOWA TEACHERS' COLLEGE, HERE NEXT FALL

WAS AN ALL-STATE FOOTBALL END

Instructor in Physical Training Will Assist In Departmental Work and Coaching.

Coach Lowman will have an assistant in coaching football next fall. The board of administration has appointed Carl J. Merner, a graduate of the Iowa State Teachers' College, instructor in physical training. Mr. Merner will help in the class work of the department and will assist Coach Lowman in whipping into shape the football, basketball and track teams.

Fast in His Togs.

"I have known Mr. Merner in an athletic way for eight years now," says Coach Lowman. "He played on the Springfield Training school teams with the men who were entering that school as I went out. I know that he is a first class man and just the man we want here. We need someone who can help in the departmental work and assist in the coaching also. Mr. Merner while at the Iowa Teachers' College was an All-Iowa end and considered the fastest man in football togs in the state. While at Springfield, Mass., in the training college he played on the football team for two years and in basketball was high point scorer. His Iowa record in the quarter stands. I am glad we have obtained him."

Mr. Merner's home is at Home Lakeside, Wash. He stands six feet high and has his 182 pounds of beef to use in sports. While at the Iowa State College he was a member for three years of the football, basketball and track teams. He was on the all-state team in football in 1910. At college he was student instructor in gymnastics. Then he went to the Springfield Training School. He has done considerable coaching and comes well prepared in every way for the place.

Merner Will Coach Backs.

This means that when the football season rolls around, Coach Lowman will give his attention to the linemen principally and let Mr. Merner take care of the backfield men. Heretofore Professor Lowman has had both coaching and departmental work to do and more of both than he would like to have to get best results. Mr. Merner's qualifications for coaching and for handling gym classes are just what are needed here.

FILLED THE DEBATE SQUAD.

Eight Men Divided Into 2 Training Squads.

The debaters for the contests with South Dakota and Ames next fall have been chosen. The squad has been divided into two groups, four on the affirmative and four on the negative. Those on the affirmative are: Ivan Mattson, Joe Sweet, Wellington Brink and Lush; on the negative, W. L. Sweet, Roy Gwin, McArthur and W. A. Sumner.

Three of the men on the team were on the team last year. The Athenians were the only society to place all the three men from the society. The team will be much stronger this year than it was last. Ames and Dakota have a long record of victories and it will be a hard fight to beat them. During the summer the debaters will do individual work but as soon as the school starts next fall they will start training.

The debate will be upon the independence of the Philippine Islands.

A '12 REUNION WEDNESDAY.

Many Of Last Year's Class Will Come for It.

The class of '12 will hold reunion here next Wednesday, says Pres E. C. Magill. Many of the class will be here then. A considerable number is in Manhattan now. Others who will be here are: George Young, Syracuse, Neb.; George Barnard, Alma; Ed Isaacs, Chapman; M. E. McDonald, Oklahoma City; Alice M. True, Topeka. "Red" Young, in writing his intention to return, says that he is building a large block cement infirmary at Syracuse.

Sigma Nus Stand at 1,000.

The Sigma Nus shut out the Aztex Wednesday at the league park, 3 to 0. This gives the Sigma Nus a percentage of 1,000 in the inter-frat league and the banquet. The Sigma Nus won the pennant last year.

The score:

Sigma Nus .....111 000 0-3
Aztex .....000 000 0-0

Batteries—Sigma Nus, Hurtt and Hobbs; Aztex, Rexroad and Stahl.

Mrs. Harriet Thackrey Reece, '98, of Valentine, Neb., arrived Wednesday for a visit with relatives. She will stay until after Commencement.

H. B. Walker, of the engineer's office, has just returned from Wellington where he condemned 10 carloads of defective drain tile.

LET THE HOME FOLKS KNOW

COUNCIL ASKS NOTIFICATION IF STUDENT'S WORK IS POOR.

Parents Don't Realize When They Make Needless Sacrifices For Lazy People.

The Students' Council at its last meeting passed a recommendation, that a closer relationship be established between the poor student and his parents or guardian. Some instances are known where students have been sent to college by their parents at a sacrifice, and these same students have been doing very poor work. In one case a student failed in practically all his studies and at the present time the college makes no official notification. The Students' Council thinks that the college should make poor records and conduct of a student known to the home folks. It is no more than fair to those that bear the expense of keeping a student in college that they should know the record of that student. Such a measure might act as an incentive for some students to do better work.

K MEN HOLD WASSAIL

FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET THURSDAY NIGHT.

SMOKES AND JOKES AND EATS

Forty-Five Letter Athletes and the Board Were Present—Toasts Between Courses.

The K men of the college held their first annual banquet at the College Inn Thursday night. Forty-five letter men and the members of the athletic board were there, enjoyed the banquet, made speeches, smoked a lot of cigars—for athletes, anyway—and wound it all up with a Jay Rah that rocked the building. The first annual event was a success and is certain to be an institution from now on.

Between courses and following the banquet came good speeches. I. L. Fowler was toastmaster. Speeches were made by Coach Lowman, Dean McCormick, Professor Hamilton, E. N. Rodell, Raymond Schafer, E. G. Stahl, "Bunt" Speer and J. H. Welch. In the final talk of the evening President Waters made formal presentation of the Ks earned this year.

-Paid Pitchers $5 a Game.

Professor Hamilton, speaking on "Retrospection," advocated gathering the names of all the old time athletes and rewarding these old supporters of the Purple and White the official letter. Professor Hamilton also told of the days of the old "Topeka Conference," or rather, of the days before then, when the Aggies used to play such schools as Chapman high school and many times were defeated, and of the days when the athletic board thought nothing of paying the college pitcher $5 to work in a game. Dean McCormick urged that the athletes "work well and play well," this being the happiest combination of the scholastic and athletic fields.

Taft Should Have Played Football.

President Waters spoke on the "Value of the Letter" and relating the recent controversy about Dr. Wiley, the government pure food expert, whose case came before President Taft, said:

"Had it been that Mr. Taft, instead of being a golf player, had been a football player, his decision would have been rapid and the country would look upon it with appreciation. Athletics makes quick thinking. Deliberation is just and right in the court room, but in everyday life the man who thinks the quickest lands the place every time. The new board of administration favors athletics and has authorized the hiring of a new coach to assist Coach Lowman." President Waters added that the matter of resurfacing the athletic field was being considered and would probably be attended to this summer. The following letter men were present:

Fowler, Speer, Stack, Christian, Vale, Gates, Stone, Schuster, Enns, Rexroad, Wolcott, Dryden, Coxen, Cleland, McCallum, Werhle, McNall, R. Jones, Knaus, Shull, Beaman, Smith, G. Jones, Briney, Detwiler, Welch, Schafer, L. Collins, T. Collins, Cusic, Hutto, Bailey, Dresser, Sidorfsky, Agnew, Scanlon, Broberg, Moss, Root, Marble, Pollom, Hancock, Young and Stahl.

Many Will Attend Commencement.

If present indications count for anything at all, the college will be host to more people at Commencement than ever before. Already many have come to Manhattan to be here for the graduation of the fiftieth class from this institution. Parents of the graduates of this spring will be here, as well as many alumni and many friends and former students.

The Aztex announce John Elliot and William Werhle as pledges.

Student renters of our typewriters may be able to buy the typewriter they have (or any other make) for a great discount in price from regular commercial prices. This is because we do not want to carry so many over until next fall, when we again buy new machines. Come in and see us; bring your parents in when they are here for commencement and let's talk over this typewriter business; you need one—the typewriter, which is the leader of all modern mechanical appliances.

"LEARN TO USE THE TYPEWRITER"

is a slogan that you should not forget while in college or any line of business. NOW is the time when you can buy that machine RIGHT. Come in and let us show you just for once. Don't forget us next term or year—better see us NOW. Yours for a pleasant vacation,

THE PASSIN' ON PARTY

By EFFIE GRAHAM

A short story of the philosophy of Unk Jerry and Aunt June two, negroes of old type, with a love plot of young white people interwoven.

The little book will soon be known all over the country.—Walt Mason.

The little book deserves a place with "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."—Topeka State Journal.

PRESS COMMENTS

A laugh and a lesson.—W. Y. Morgan, Hutchinson News.

I have never read a story with a sweeter, softer strain and I have run through many in my time.—Chicago World.

"The Passin' On Party" would make a mighty fine gift book. It is a charming story full of human interest. It sparkles with good humor, yet is mellowed with a tender pathos. Laughter and tears attend its reading. It deserves a place among the best of Kansas books.—E. W. Hoch.

I don't know where Effie Graham got that title, "The Passin' On Party," but it is the best title that has been bestowed on a book in 1912. It is not beyond the realms of possibility that the title and the book itself will become a classic.—Topeka Daily Capital.

I regard Miss Graham as one of the most talented women in Kansas.—Arthur Capper.

One of the best told stories of the year.—Simmons Magazine, New York.

Quaint, sweet, dainty, charming—these are only a few of the adjectives that may properly be applied to it.—Boston Globe.

LIVE UNSELFISH LIVES

BISHOP SHEPARD PREACHED
BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

THERE'S NO TIME LIKE THE PRESENT

I'm an Incurable Optimist and I
Want You to Be the Same,
He Said.

With an appeal for unselfish lives, the Rt. Rev. W. O. Shepard, bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, closed his baccalaureate sermon to the Class of 1913 Sunday afternoon in the Auditorium. There is need for unselfish lives, he said. There are some things that need to be done that can be done by the church alone, and the church must keep up with the times. Bishop Shepard emphasized the importance of the laymen's movement, and said that it had only begun.

Bigger Than Darwin's Theory.

So far as religion is concerned, he said, the Darwinian theory does not matter, nor does the disputed question of the higher catechism. They do not matter to religion because there are so many more vital things that demand consideration, and to these the church must give heed.

"I am an incurable optimist, and I want you to be the same," he said. "Go out with the spirit of optimism. God cannot use two men: the self-satisfied man and the discouraged man. People keep calling for the good old times, and the older the zooder. But that is not so. There was never so good a time as the present. There never was a better day than today. People may point to cities where life reeks and rots. Though I cannot answer I know that things are better. We know the best things just because we know them."

Civilization Demands Advance.

The United States must contribute to civilization as every county has done. What, then, is this country to do? The church points the way. Science might do the ignorant Africans good, but would the scientist go? No, he wouldn't, but the missionary would. Two things are necessary for the advance of civilization into new lands: the power to do things, and the missionary spirit. The churchman has the missionary spirit.

The laymen's movemest is a missionary movement, and it has only begun. With the opening of the Panama Canal, civilization's greatest step is to be taken. And Kansas and this part of the country is to be the theater.

"A stone is a stone," Bishop Shepard said, "and need not be related to other stones. But a spirit must be related. You must have unselfish lives. You must have the kind of love Christ had."

KAMMEYER'S CRANBERRY TIME.

Director of Week's Program Is a Busy Man.

"This is my cranberry season," says Prof. J. E. Kammeyer, under whose able management the Commencement program has been worked out and carried out well. What with arranging the processions and the seating, attending the reservations and the many other things that go along with the managing of the program, Professor Kammeyer has been busy all of the week. "I heard from Professor Commons again and he will be here on time," says Professor Kammeyer.

Tau Omegas Have New House.

The Tau Omega Sigmas will be in the Episcopal rectory next fall, the large stone house near the Episcopal church on Poyntz avenue. The house is a large one and well adapted for a frat house.

Miss Lulu Williams, '12, is here for Commencement.

THE FINAL WORD.

President Waters Writes a Greeting and a Good-bye to the Graduates, the Visiting Alumni and the Students.

I have often been interested in noting the variety of sentiments indicated among the students as Commencement time approaches. The successful man's face shines with anticipation as he thinks of the work before him in a world where every failure carries its full penalty, where he will have no chance to go over his lesson again. The careless student is fearful of the future. He begins sincerely to regret his wasted hours. He thinks much of chances lost. Some faces are grave and some are happy with anticipation; and in every heart is the gloom, so serious to young people, which comes at the breaking of pleasant associations. Some who go out tomorrow will not come back. For these I wish the happiness they deserve, and from these I urge the loyalty the college has a right to expect from its alumni. Come back when you can to the old campus and keep its memory constant.

The visiting alumni, some of them from distant points, are entitled to the thanks of the faculty and of every student in the college, for the example they set is of great importance.

The students returning to their homes for the summer have my best wishes for a pleasant vacation, and added to these wishes the hope that they will resume their college work in the fall refreshed and eager and ambitious.

HENRY JACKSON WATERS.

PINAFORE SAILS TONIGHT.

Valley's Bark Is In Port, Ready For Last Trip.

Pinafore, with the Royal Purple at the masthead, will start its last journey tonight from the Auditorium, at 8:15, with a strong crew and many cabin passengers. The success of Pinafore as presented here earlier this year by the students of the department of music encouraged the management to produce the opera again Commencement Week. The play will be of special interest to alumni and visitors, as well as to the students. Governor Hodges will be here, and has made a reservation of eight seats for his party. The cast that will appear tonight:

Sir Joseph Porter.....E. W. Martin
Capt. Corcoran.....R. J. Taylor
Ralph Rackstraw.....E. M. Peck
Dick Deadeye.....R. B. Hood
Bill Bobstay.....E. R. Martin
Bob Becket.....R. H. Whitenack
Tom Tucker.....H. R. Johnson
Josephine.....Lucille Berry
Hebe.....Ruth Allen
Little Buttercup.....Ruth Blevens

The principals and the chorus have unusual singing talent and will close their season with a success.

Eta Beta Morning Dance.

The Eta Beta Pi girls gave a morning dance Monday at Aggieville hall. Mr. and Mrs. Walker, Miss Baum and Dr. Jackley chaperoned. Herbert Gribble and Bud Harrison, of Topeka played. Out of town guests were: Miss Edna Pugh, of Junction City; Miss Edith Gilbert, of Wichita; Miss Gladys Hoffman, of Newton; Miss Gertrude Wiley and Mrs. Blevins, of Arkansas City. Miss Charlotte Spier was a guest from the Lambda Lambda Thetas and Miss Eva Armstrong from the Phi Kappa Phis.

S. A. E. Dance Tonight.

The S. A. E's. will dance tonight at Aggieville hall. Gribble's orchestra of Topeka will play. Dr. and Mrs. Dykstra will chaperon. Guests will be: Mr. George Kirkpatrick, Mr. Fred Loomis, Mr. Leslie Shaw, Mr. Bob Mackey, Mr. Scott McDonald, Miss Ruth Taylor of Chapman and Miss Marie Ober of Salina.

W. A. Sumner left last Friday for Lawrence to attend the summer school there. He probably will return here next year to complete his course.

OLD STARS WILL RETURN.

Varsity - Alumni Game Tomorrow
Will Be Fast.

The annual alumni-varsity baseball game will be played on the college field tomorrow afternoon at 4:30. This contest is a feature of Commencement Week. The old stars always put forth every effort to win. H. E. Porter, '07, is managing the alumni team and expects many of the old timers to return.

"Red" Young has written his intentions of returning for the ame and this will insure the alumni a cracking good first-sacker. "Mike" Ahern having just completed the necessary work to receive his M. S. degree will be eligible and in case "Bunt" Speer's throwing arm is out of condition, "Mike" will probably do the receiving. Judd Stack and D. E. Lewis will do the pitching for the alumni. Leo Price has written that he will return for the game and the old timers should have a fast scrappy line-up for the varsity men to buck.

Alumni Teachers Chase Schools.

Some of the alumni will teach in new places this fall. Among those are: Marcia Storey, '12, who will teach at Abilene; Lucy Needham, '08, at Peabody; Florine Fate, '11, Girard; Mrs. McGuire, La Harpe; Mabel Broberg, '12, Frankfort; Emma Kammeyer, '12, Sterling; Clare Lewallen, '11, Marion.

Class of '12 Reunites

The members of the '12 class met this morning in Lovers' Lane for breakfast. Following the love feast, speeches will be made by some of the old political crowd present. The class of '12 bore the distinction of having more politicians than a nominating convention. The class will go to chapel today in a body.

The Phi Kappa Phi girls danced at the Elks' Club Saturday night. They were chaperoned by Prof. and Mrs. Dillon, Miss Enyart and Mr. Heilman and Prof. and Mrs. Holton. Sherbert and wafers were served. Out of town visiting girls were: Miss Louring and Miss Fennell, Pi Phis from Lawrence, Miss Ritter and Miss Thompson of Junction City, Miss Augle and Miss Armstrong of Bellville and Miss Myrtle Easley.

Miss Nealle Harbaugh is here for Commencement.

HUTTO TO RUN FOR K. C. A. C.

Wears Blue Diamond Colors in St.
Louis Saturday.

When Louis Hutto runs next Saturday in the Western Amateur Athletic Union's meet at St. Louis, he will wear the colors of the Kansas City Athletic Club and not those of K. S. A. C. Hutto will be the second Aggie graduate star who has been drafted by Dr. Reilly for the benefit of the Blue Diamonds. "Bob" Christian ran for the Reilly aggregation in '11. Christian ran against Guy Reed of Nebraska University in the century dash and was defeated in 9 4-5 seconds.

Hutto pronounces himself in tip-top shape and Dr. Reilly expects the ex-captain of the Aggies to clean up at least one of the distances. Hutto stands an excellent chance of winning the mile event, but will be up against some of the best half-milers and two-milers in the middle west and will be forced to run his best to win.

Want The Catalogue?

The catalogue of the college will be published about the first of July. It will be mailed to all students at the address recorded in the secretary's office. If the students wished the catalogue mailed to another address the change should be made at the secretary's office.

Former Webs Made Speeches.

The Webster society had its annual spring oratorical contest Saturday night. Wesley Bruce won first place; W. N. Skourup, second; V. E. Bundy, third. Good talks were made by John Davis, '90, and James A. Correll, '03, both former Webs.

The Tau Omega Sigmas will dance at the Elks' Club tonight. Among out of town guests will be: Mr. Cave of Santa Ana, Calif., Mr. Russell Cave, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wilson, Champaign, Ill., Mr. Willis Hubbard of Chicago, Ill., Mr. George Wooley and Mr. Henry Sidorfaky.

The Lambda Lambda Thetas gave a thimble party Monday afternoon honoring their senior members. Among those present were: Mrs. Carvin of Wichita, Mrs. Rowley and Miss Hess.

Mrs. Maude Harris Gastin, '08, is here for Commencement.

THEY'LL REALLY COMMENCE LIFE

EDITORIAL

Last call for alumni these next few days and last chance for students to write home for the folks to come down and see the place. Use the chance.

The Kansas Industrialist laments the "bonehead" of the reporter of the Kansas City Star who referred to the Eta Betas home as a fraternity house.

The statisticians of Northwest University say that a college education is worth $25,000. Now the class of 1913 will please cash in. Subscribe for The Aggie.

The graduating effusions of the sweet high school graduates are tiresome, it is true. But they do not compare with the long drawn out walls of the editors of the college papers over the country who are now "laying down their pens."

If Kansas History is taught fall term, or any term, better take the study. Kansas' History is rich in interest and achievement; and it is particularly interesting when it is taught by one so thoroughly versed in the story of Kansas as Raymond S. Taylor.

The best campus there is, says Charles A. Scott, state forester, who now has charge of the campus. Men and teams have been at work grading the ground about Nichols Gymnasium for some time. The ground back of the gym will be sloped off gradually so as to appear well from Anderson avenue. On the east side, there must be some grading and some filling in to make the slope the same at the back and on the east side of the building and this probably will necessitate adding a step or two at the bottom of the east entrance.

In the closing issue of University Life, published at Friends University, the editor says that it is "with a feeling of joy commingled with sadness that we experience as we sit down to write our last editorial for the Life." Which, we take it, means that he is durned glad to be through. Same here.

LOOKING FORWARD.

A fifteen-unit entrance requirement.

The Aggies full-fledged members of the Missouri Valley Conference. The opening of the new school of agriculture.

The college's best year. The biggest enrollment of the institution's half-century of existence. With all these things on the list for 1913, who can say that next year will not be a great year for the college.

THE GOVERNOR'S COMING.

Governor Hodges is expected to be here today and tomorrow for Commencement events. The faculty and students ought to and will, pay him the honor and respect due the highest executive in the state. It is to the advantage of Governor Hodges and the college that he keep in close personal touch with the institution and will in this way better understand the college's need and work. More than that, it will give the governor a chance to meet those who have made good: The alumni of the college.

GOOD-BYE, SUBS!

The closing of the college year means the passing of the subfreshman. No more can he be referred to as a sub or a scrubfreshman. Because the subfreshman will either drop the first syllable and become a freshman in good standing or he will enter the School of Agriculture. Either way, there will be no more subfreshmen.

As a member of the student body, you'll have to give it to the subfreshman. He's had the pep. Nobody has been more loyal in support of athletic teams and no one has fought defeat harder from the sidelines than the loyal sub. Good-bye, subs! Long life!

Swingle to Algiers.

Manhattan people will be interested in the following dispatch from Washington, which was printed in the metropolitan papers yesterday:

"Prof. Walter Swingle of Manhattan, Kan., for many years one of the globe-trotter experts of the department of agriculture, has been ordered to Algiers, for which country he will start in about six weeks, in connection with the importation of dates to the United States. Much interest has been aroused recently in date culture in the arid sections of the southwest. Excellent dates have been raised there and private individuals and commercial concerns have wished to introduce other varieties from North Africa.

"There has been considerable doubt as to plant disease and possible insect pests inflicting the date offshoots. It is to straighten out these questions bearing on plant quarantine regulations that Prof. Swingle has been ordered to make the date investigation.

"Prof. Swingle and Prof. David Fairchild, also of Manhattan, have introduced more new plants, trees and vegetables from foreign countries than any experts in the employ of Uncle Sam. They are now recognized as the highest authority on these subjects."

Prof. Walter Swingle is the son of J. F. Swingle of this city. Mr. Swingle stated today that his son had been away from Manhattan for about twenty years but comes back on an occasional visit. He was here last year.

WHELAN GOES TO K. U.

Popular Chem. Prof. Will Teach There.

J. B. Whelan, of the Chemistry department, will be an instructor in Chemistr at the University of Kansas next fall. The appointment has just been announced by the board.

Miss Ola Young will teach in the high school at Colby, Kan., next fall.

Why Not "Stone" Blumont?

On a mountainside overlooking the University of Utah is a huge stone "U," placed there by the students of the university and cherished as one of the historic places of the institution. Every year, about housecleaning time, the big U is scrubbed and scraped and then given a good coat of white paint. The U is 100 feet long, 100 feet wide, and each side of the letter is 20 feet wide.

A subscriber who sends a card to The Aggie showing the big U suggests that the same thing might be done on Blumont. There is plenty of room there, certainly, and plenty of rock to make the letters. A big K or K. S. A. C. would show up for some miles.

SMASH THOSE FINALS.

Buck up, underclassmen! Only a few hurdles left to take and the three terms of the college year will go down in history as well spent and successfully used. Lucky seniors, privileged seniors, had their finals a week early, and now all the pros can set to to increase underclassmen flunks. So buck up, and pull through.
